GREEN BAY PACKERS FOUNDATION

The Green Bay Packers have always had a special bond with their fans and with the community – a bond which dates back to 1919, when Curly Lambeau and George Calhoun brought together athletes and organized a football team. The community supported the team in times of need, by "passing the hat" at games and by buying stock in 1923, 1935, 1950 and 1997, among other ways. To give back to the community, the Packers organization extended its hand to the needy in the state of Wisconsin with the development of the Green Bay Packers Foundation on December 30, 1986.

"Our unique ownership structure gives us a strong link with fans and the community, who have supported us for so many years," says Green Bay Packers President and CEO Bob Harlan. "We have fans not just in Green Bay, but throughout the state, and the Foundation is a great way to give something back."

The Foundation assists in a wide variety of activities and programs which benefit education, civic affairs, health services, human services and youth-related programs. It is a non-profit organization created to assist charitable and worthwhile causes throughout the state of Wisconsin. All grant recipients must be public charities exempt from taxation under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Not all funding requests can be filled, and there are areas that do not fit the Foundation's established guidelines. Among the types of requests which cannot be filled are those for building construction, endowments, political campaigns and activities, individuals (including loans and scholarships), advertising, multi-year grant requests and projects/programs from outside Wisconsin.

The brainchild of The Honorable Robert J. Parins, the team's president from 1982-89, the Foundation has awarded over $600,000 in grants, including a record amount of $123,000 to 58 organizations in 1998. Contributions to individual organizations made by the Foundation range from between $1,000 to $5,000. The money donated comes from the interest accrued from a trust fund established in 1988 and donations made to the Foundation from outside sources. The trust fund is the same fund which now would receive whatever monies remained after the payment of all expenses in the event that the Packers franchise would ever be sold.

The recipients of the grants are decided on by a five-person committee, made up from the club's board of directors, including a member of the seven-person executive committee. The Foundation committee, which is appointed by the president of the Green Bay Packers, meets in August and December. Completed applications must be received each year by November 1. Grants are awarded at the December meeting. Organizations awarded grants, after legal process, receive funds in March.

Organizations in Wisconsin interested in applying for a Foundation grant should request a guideline application letter in writing on their organization's letterhead. All requests should be sent to: Phillip A. Pioneke, Secretary; Green Bay Packers Foundation; P.O. Box 10628; Green Bay, WI 54307-0628.

The Green Bay Packers as an organization also make financial contributions to various projects, in addition to donating items for charity raffles and auctions at schools, churches, hospitals and other philanthropic groups. Such requests should be directed to: Jeanne McKenna, Assistant Director of Family Programs, at the above address. Last year, items donated by the Packers raised over one million dollars for charities across Wisconsin.

BOB HARLAN

President and Chief Executive Officer

Having guided the Packers organization through one of the most eventful decades in its long history with a sure and steady hand, Bob Harlan enters his eleventh year as the team's president and chief executive officer with an imposing list of accomplishments — one that has earned him respect throughout the National Football League as a visionary and aggressive leader.

Well-suited to his role in the demanding era of free agency and the salary cap, he has responded swiftly and decisively to the diverse and complex challenges it has presented.

The record is both substantial and impressive. Since assuming his current responsibilities in June of 1989, he has:

- Brought in Ron Wolf as executive vice president/general manager, triggering an on-field renaissance that has seen the Packers post seven consecutive winning seasons, a record six consecutive playoff appearances and a Super Bowl victory;
- Presided over a historic move — the 1994 decision to leave Milwaukee, ending a 63-year stay, and play all home games in Green Bay;
- Initiated plans, in 1992, for a 20,000-square foot addition to the team's administration building and training quarters;
- Authorized the construction of the Don Hutson Center, the team's "state-of-the-art" indoor practice facility, built at a cost of roughly $4.7 million in 1994;
- Launched the fourth stock sale in the club's history, in 1997, a mechanism which produced $24 million in "new money" and more than 100,000 new shareholders; and
- Scheduled and presided over, in 1998, one of the largest shareholders' meetings in the history of the nation's corporate business, a conclave held, appropriately enough, in Green Bay's hallowed Lambeau Field and attended by more than 18,000 shareholders and guests.

In the sweeping and constructive process, Harlan has proved to be a man of his word.

When he was elected president and chief executive officer of the Green Bay Packers, Inc., in June of 1989, he promptly established an ambitious agenda for himself and the organization, announcing, "I want to move this franchise ahead in every area.

"We've got to be successful from top to bottom to succeed. And," he promised, "we're going to succeed."

Succeed, assuredly, he and the Packers have — beyond all reasonable expectations, both corporately and competitively. The organization he heads up today — currently being cited as a model for franchises across the entire spectrum of professional sports — reigns as one of the NFL's elite, the standard of professional football.

Thus, in a decade as team president, Harlan has taken his place among the most productive and accomplished chief executives in the Green Bay Packers' long and storied history.

The crowning achievement of his administration to date, clearly, has been the return of the Lombardi Trophy to Green Bay — which became a long-awaited reality in January of 1997 when the Packers triumphed over New England in Super Bowl XXXI. He also is respected throughout the NFL for the extensive and innovative agenda he has implemented since taking over the office of president and chief executive officer.

A member of the club's front office since 1971, the veteran Packer official made two major and historic decisions late in the 1991 season, moves that have had a profoundly positive effect upon the Green Bay franchise and its future. Convinced the organization was merely treading water competitively, he first relieved then-executive vice president Tom Braatz of his responsibilities November 20, 1991, and, one week later, named former Raiders personnel chief Ron Wolf as executive vice president and general manager, with total authority over football operations.

In the light of subsequent events, the latter decision already ranks among the most significant in the 80-year history of the Packers, the NFL's only publicly-owned franchise. Wolf was chosen 'NFL Executive of the Year' following his first full season with the Packers, which saw him hire ex-49ers offensive coordinator Mike Holmgren to replace Lindy Infante as head coach and acquire Pro Bowl quarterback Brett Favre in pro football's most acclaimed trade of 1992. He subsequently 'recruited' perennial Pro Bowl defensive end Reggie White, the game's most sought-after unrestricted free agent, in 1993.

During the productive interim, which saw Favre and White provide the foundation for success, the Packers have advanced to the playoffs each of the last six years — the first such accomplishment in franchise history — climaxing their 1996 achievements by reaching and winning the Super Bowl for the first time in 29 years and following that singular achievement by returning to the Super Bowl in January of 1998.

Holmgren had responded to his original challenge by directing the Packers to a 9-7 record — a five-victory improvement over '91 — in his first season, one in which Favre established himself as the Packers' field general, and to two more 9-and-7 marks in both 1993 and 1994, thus bringing Green Bay three consecutive winning seasons for the first time since 1965-66-67 and the 'Lombardi Era.' He next led the Green and Gold to an 11-5 record in 1995 and their first NFC Central Division title since 1972, surpassed that considerable achievement by escorting them to a record-tying, 13-3 regular-season record in 1996 and the team's first Super Bowl title since 1967, then escorted his defending champions to another 13-3 season en route to a third straight division title in 1997 and a return trip to the Super Bowl. Holmgren closed out his seven-year tenure in Green Bay by leading the Packers to a sixth straight playoff berth in 1998 before resigning to head up the football operations of the Seattle Seahawks.

Although the hiring of Wolf subsequently was to become the centerpiece in a series of key moves Harlan has effected over the past decade, he lost little time initiating his first major project once he was elected, during the organization's annual shareholders' meeting June 5, 1989. Just ten weeks later, in late August of 1989, he announced plans to construct 1,920 club seats — a historic first in Lambeau Field — and 36 new private boxes, an $8,263,000 expansion. It was completed in time for the start of 1990 preseason play.

A firm believer in the importance of ongoing, person-to-person dialogue with the team's fans, Harlan also scheduled and staged the first 'Breakfast with the Packers' functions in club history, gatherings for fans selected at random by computer, at which he invited questions and feedback from them about the Packers organization.

Committed to making the fans' day at the stadium as enjoyable as possible, he in 1990 also directed the formation of a comprehensive program designed to encourage responsible drinking by fans in Lambeau Field, and in 1993 implemented a no-smoking policy in the stadium seating areas at all home games. Results in the first nine years of the responsible drinking program's existence indicate it has been a success, with arrests for misconduct down appreciably from previous years.

A year earlier, while still executive vice president of administration, Harlan was the catalyst in the implementation and development of a long-term marketing program, launched with the hiring of a director of marketing and the opening of an official outlet store in the Packers' administration building, a project which has become a solid success in the intervening 10 years and has produced even greater dividends following a major expansion of the team pro shop and on the heels of the team's recent success.

In 1992, he initiated plans for a comprehensive upgrade and expansion of the team's administration building and training quarters — a 20,000-square foot addition, encompassing a 74-by-80 foot gymnasium with a suspended running track as well as new public relations and marketing offices. The project, completed in time for the opening of 1993 training camp, also permitted enlargement of the team pro shop to 2,000 square feet — six times its original size.

Two years later, in 1994, Harlan authorized and directed the construction of The Don Hutson Center — the finest such indoor practice structure in professional football — which was completed in time for use during the '94 season.

Also in 1994, he presided over a momentous move — the decision to leave Milwaukee and play all home games in Green Bay, a potentially sensitive issue since the Packers had had a 62-year presence in the state's largest city since 1933. But as a condition of the transfer, necessitated by addressing an annual

$2.5 million disparity in income which resulted from playing games in County Stadium, Harlan made sure Milwaukee's fans were not forgotten, offering them a three-game ticket package in Lambeau Field.

The latter expressed their appreciation in highly positive terms, 96 percent of Milwaukee's 48,000 season ticket holders subsequently availing themselves of the opportunity.

Four years ago, he facilitated two other major additions to the Packer complex — 90 new private boxes spanning the north end zone of Lambeau Field and the construction of an auxiliary press box to enhance the stadium's accommodations for the media.

In 1997, convinced that the organization was in need of additional capital reserves to be competitive well into the 21st century — via improvements to Lambeau Field and the team's training facilities — he launched the team's first stock sale since 1950. More than 100,000 shares, at $200 per share, were sold during the offering, initiated in mid-November and concluded on March 16, 1998.

At the time of his election in 1989, Harlan had addressed what he termed the two key "bottom lines...Obviously, one is winning football games, and the other is keeping the organization financially solvent and strong so it can always remain in Green Bay and compete with the other clubs in this league."

Becoming president of the Green Bay Packers, he also revealed on that historic day, had exceeded his fondest dreams.

"In 1960, when I had just graduated from Marquette University and was working as sports information director at Marquette, just getting started in public relations, I attended a Packer game at Milwaukee County Stadium," he told members of the media following his election. "I made a comment to my wife then that I hope I can grow in the public relations field and become competent enough that some day I can become the public relations director for the Green Bay Packers. When the opportunity came along 11 years later to join this fine organization, I jumped at it...To be associated with the NFL and the Packers, I have been highly honored...That honor has reached a new and incredible level."

The ninth president in the team's 80-year existence, Harlan is the team's first CEO to come up through the ranks. All previous presidents of the NFL's only publicly-owned franchise had come from the business and professional areas of the community as members of the board of directors.

The affable Iowan, who has been involved in every area of the club's operations over the course of his 28-year Green Bay career, joined the organization as assistant general manager on June 1, 1971, after serving as director of public relations for the St. Louis baseball Cardinals. He later was named corporate general manager in 1975, corporate assistant to the president in 1981 and executive vice president of administration on February 16, 1988.

In the latter role, he had been responsible for team travel, negotiating radio and preseason television contracts, front office personnel, ticket office operations, purchasing, the leasing of Lambeau Field's private boxes, insurance, game-day entertainment and the scheduling of preseason games.

Prior to 1985, he also had negotiated all player contracts for 14 years.

A rare CEO who answers his own telephone, the 62-year-old Harlan already is the third-longest tenured chief executive officer in Packers history. Only Dominic Olejniczak, who served 24 years (1958-82), and Lee H. Joannes, 17 years (1930-47), have headed the corporation longer.

Harlan, who earned a B.S. degree in journalism from Marquette in 1958, had a brief tour of duty in the U.S. Army before spending six months as a general reporter for United Press International in Milwaukee. He subsequently became sports information director at Marquette in 1959, serving six years in that capacity, after which he joined the St. Louis baseball Cardinals in 1965, serving as director of community relations and the speakers' bureau for two years and as director of public relations for three-and-a-half years before coming to the Packers.

Born Robert Ernest Harlan in Des Moines, Iowa, on September 9, 1936, he is active in the greater Green Bay community as a member of the board of trustees of St. Norbert College and the advisory board of Firstar Bank of Green Bay. He also is a member of the executive board of the 65 Roses Sports Club, which was created to generate awareness of cystic fibrosis and to raise money for research to find a cure for the dreaded disease.

In 1993, he was honored by the Green Bay Rotary Club with its 'Free Enterprise Award' for his numerous contributions to the community, both individually and on behalf of the Packer Corporation. In 1996, he was presented with the Green Bay Visitor and Convention Bureau's annual 'Tourism Recognition Award' for "outstanding contributions to the Green Bay area tourism industry," as well as being saluted as Northeastern Wisconsin's 'Executive of the Year' by Marketplace magazine.

In 1997, he was thrice honored by his alma mater, Marquette University. He was presented with the 1997 Marquette University 'Alumni Community Service Award' during the alumni association's National Awards Week (April 25-27), presented with an honorary doctor of laws degree at the institution's commencement exercises May 18 and, on June 3, saluted as "Master of the Game" by Marquette's National Sports Law Institute at its annual awards dinner in Milwaukee in recognition of his "humanitarian efforts, commitment to public service, great sense of ethics and integrity as a professional within the sports field."

In 1998, he was presented with the 'Distinguished Service Award' at the first Lee Remmel Sports Awards Banquet for leading the Packers' franchise out of mediocrity to professional football's heights.

Bob and his wife, Madeline, have three sons — Kevin, 39, who is a play-by-play broadcaster on telecasts of NFL games for CBS Sports and also 'voices' NCAA Tournament basketball games for the network, as well as NBA games for TNT; Bryan, 37, who is director of public relations for the Chicago Bears; and Michael, 30, a sales executive who is manager of the Milwaukee Brewers' Gold Club.

An avid golfer, Harlan also is an "involved" fan, closely monitoring the athletic fortunes of the Milwaukee Brewers and Milwaukee Bucks as well as those of the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay, the University of Wisconsin-Madison and his alma mater, Marquette.

RON WOLF

Executive Vice President and General Manager

Professionally speaking, Ron Wolf has done it all.

In seven highly productive years as the Packers' executive vice president and general manager, he has presided over one of the most comprehensive turnabouts in National Football League history, converting the Green and Gold from perennial also-rans into consistent winners, Super Bowl champions and the standard of the pro football world.

A remarkably prosperous period by any measure, his tenure has been punctuated by seven straight winning seasons — the Packers' first such parlay since the 1960s — and a club-record six consecutive berths in the NFL playoffs.

Since those successes were achieved in partnership with Mike Holmgren, now general manager and head coach of the Seattle Seahawks, Wolf in 1999 takes on the challenge of following that stellar "act" with a new partner...Ray Rhodes...who returns as head coach after having served as the team's defensive coordinator during the 1992 and '93 seasons.

As one who had helped San Francisco win five Super Bowls, Rhodes readily met one of Wolf's key criteria in his process for selecting Holmgren's successor: "somebody who has been there — has been a champion."

He also owns one other prime requisite in Wolf's job description.

"I think it was very important to have someone who had head coaching experience come in here and assume the role," Wolf said, "because these are huge shoes to fill."

Admittedly, the seven-year record under the Wolf-Holmgren tandem is impressively clear. In addition to the aforementioned seven consecutive winning seasons and six straight playoff appearances, it has included:

- Back-to-back Super Bowl appearances (1996 and 1997) and Green Bay's first Super Bowl championship in 29 years (1996);
- Back-to-back NFC Championships (1996 and 1997);
- Three consecutive NFC Central Division titles (1995-96-97);
- The first string of four double-digit winning regular seasons for a Green Bay team since 1929-32 (11-5 in 1995, 13-3 in both 1996 and 1997 and 11-5 in 1998);

- The first 16-victory campaign in the Packers' 80-year history (1996);
- The second-longest home-field winning streak in NFL history, 25 straight regular-season games; and
- An amazing 44 wins in the last 46 games — including playoffs — in the team's Lambeau Field home.

In the history-making process, Wolf — tireless, aggressive and uncommonly resourceful — has emphatically fulfilled the commitment he made in taking over the Packers' football operations in late November of 1991, launching the renaissance of a franchise that had had only four winning seasons during a 24-year span.

And, in so doing, he has made a more profound impact upon the Packers organization and its artistic fortunes than anyone since the arrival of the legendary Vince Lombardi upon the Green Bay scene 40 years ago.

During a 1992 speaking appearance, early in his Packers tenure, Wolf had succinctly delineated the challenge he accepted in taking over his current responsibilities by declaring with characteristic brevity, "I was brought here to win."

As the recent record eloquently suggests, seldom has anyone responded to a challenge with greater celerity than the man who earlier had played a major role in developing the Oakland/Los Angeles Raiders into one of professional football's most successful franchises.

The inexhaustible Wolf, who spends countless hours grinding video of college players and NFL free agents — an ongoing process which he supplements by frequently venturing into the field each fall to personally scout players at colleges and universities throughout the nation — has delivered a consistent contender and, in 1996, a Super Bowl champion, with the aid of the initial head coach he selected to direct the on-field operations, Holmgren, the former 49ers offensive coordinator.

In appreciation for his considerable achievements, Wolf twice has been rewarded with three-year extensions of his original five-year contract — the first in 1994 and the most recent on April 7, 1997. The latest document will have him presiding over the Packers' competitive fortunes through the year 2002.

Packers President Bob Harlan paid tribute to Wolf's accomplishments in announcing the most recent extension, asserting, "I think Ron is the best general manager in the National Football League, and he obviously has done a remarkable job in the past seven years to put us back on top in the league.

"I also think continuity and stability in that position are vitally important. And this is a way for us to show our appreciation for his accomplishments."

Wolf, in turn, calls his "the ultimate job" in his profession, "particularly (for) a person at my level. Green Bay is it, as far as I'm concerned, for that very reason. There isn't an owner whose ego needs to be stroked. You're given everything you need to do the job. To me, that's so important. Nobody has denied us anything."

A man with a deep appreciation for the game and its history — and the Packers' history and tradition, in particular — he said at the announcement of his second contract extension, "To me, it's a distinct honor to be able to continue my association with professional football's most historic and traditional franchise, the Green Bay Packers. It's an honor and a privilege."

Wolf's highly successful rebuilding program began with the signing of Holmgren, his first major hire after taking over the Packers' football operation, one which proved to be a master stroke.

In the months that followed, Wolf supplemented that contribution by executing two significant trades, later with a series of shrewd acquisitions via the waiver wire and free agent market.

The key transaction saw him acquire Brett Favre, a highly-talented young quarterback, from the Atlanta Falcons with a first-round draft choice, a move that has paid spectacular dividends, Favre having presided over the offense in each of those seven consecutive winning seasons and been acclaimed as the NFL's 'Most Valuable Player' for a record three consecutive years (1995, 1996 and 1997) while leading the Packers to a Super Bowl victory in 1996 and a return to pro football's ultimate game in 1997.

Wolf subsequently added center/guard Frank Winters, signed from the Kansas City Chiefs in Plan B, who has been a key performer in the offensive line, moving from center to shore up the left guard position each season from 1992-94 when injuries felled successive starters Rich Moran and Guy McIntyre.

These, and several other timely and profitable moves, helped the Packers to forge their second-best record since 1972, a 9-7 mark that saw them remain in the NFC Central Division race until the final game of the '92 season.

In the wake of that remarkable turnaround — the Packers had been 4-and-12 in 1991 after going 6-and-10 in 1990 — Wolf was saluted as 'NFL Executive of the Year' by The Sporting News, thus becoming the first Packer executive ever to be so honored.

Wolf, who came to the Packers from the New York Jets, typically deflected credit from himself, preferring to generalize in labeling the Sporting News award "a great honor for the Packer organization."

But Harlan, the Packers' chief executive officer — and the man who hired him — offers a more specific analysis.

"I think I can tell you, Ron Wolf spends every minute of every waking hour thinking about what he can do to make this football team better," Harlan said. "He's dedicated and working at it so constantly. With that work ethic, you think, 'We're going to make it.'"

In 1993, Wolf further bolstered the team's talent level by venturing aggressively into the free agent market, following the advent of unrestricted free agency, bringing in Reggie White, considered by many the greatest defensive end in pro football history, and starting guard Harry Galbreath, among others.

Again, the moves paid immediate dividends. The Packers repeated 1992's 9-7 record against a much more demanding schedule — it included six playoff teams — and not only qualified for the playoffs for the first time since 1982 but advanced to the second round, defeating the Detroit Lions (28-24) in their first postseason assignment before falling to the Super Bowl champion Dallas Cowboys (27-17) in a divisional playoff.

In 1994, Wolf moved quickly to offset the free agency loss of linebacker Tony Bennett by signing defensive end Sean Jones of the Houston Oilers, who proceeded to lead the Green Bay defense in quarterback sacks. He also added ex-Viking Fred Strickland to step in for the retired Johnny Holland at inside linebacker, former Bear Steve McMichael to upgrade the defensive line and converted the departure of left guard Doug Widell — who moved to the Detroit Lions as a free agent — into a plus by signing five-time Pro Bowler McIntyre, who shook off an early blood clot problem to spearhead a much-improved Packer running game over the last 10 weeks of the season.

Holmgren, skillfully melding these new elements into the overall mix, then led the Packers to a third consecutive 9-7 record, capping the regular season with three straight victories to qualify for the playoffs for the second year in a row. They followed with a fourth straight triumph in their opening postseason test, turning back the Lions, 16-12, before bowing to the Cowboys at Dallas in another divisional playoff.

In 1995, Wolf upgraded the secondary, drafting cornerback Craig Newsome from Arizona State in the first round. Newsome, a tough, physical corner, went on to earn NFL all-rookie honors and trigger the Packers' divisional playoff victory over the defending Super Bowl champion 49ers, scooping up an Adam Walker fumble and returning it 31 yards for a touchdown which shot Green Bay into an early and permanent lead.

That 27-17 victory propelled the Packers into the NFC Championship Game, for the first time since 1967, before the Green and Gold's Super Bowl quest ended in Dallas — one step removed from Super Bowl XXX.

Already recognized throughout the National Football League for triggering the Packers' return to prominence during his tenure in the organization, Wolf also was saluted in 1996 for his skill and cooperation in another, related area, when he was honored by the Pro Football Writers of America for his contributions to their professional efforts. The PFWA announced that Wolf had been selected to receive the organization's prestigious 'Horrigan Award,' presented annually "to the league official or player for his or her professional style in helping football writers do their job." The award is named in honor of the late Jack Horrigan, former publicity director of the American Football League and vice president of public relations for the Buffalo Bills.

Then, in 1996, came the coupe de grace — the culmination of Wolf's quest for pro football's ultimate prize. Aware his team was close to the coveted goal, he added three key performers to the personnel mix — free safety Eugene Robinson by way of an offseason trade and defensive tackle Santana Dotson and punt returner Desmond Howard as unrestricted free agents. Under Holmgren's shrewd and demanding tutelage, all three played major roles as Favre, the NFL's 'Most Valuable Player' for the second year in a row, and the charismatic White led the Packers to their first Super Bowl title since 1967, despite playing the league's most demanding schedule.

With the formula firmly in place, the pattern of success continued in 1997, Favre leading the Packers to another 13-3 record, a second consecutive NFC Championship and a second straight Super Bowl appearance. Two important moves made by Wolf that offseason helped guarantee the team's continued success. Wolf first drafted Iowa's Ross Verba in the first round to solidify the uncertain left tackle position, then plucked unknown Ryan Longwell, who would stabilize the Packers' placekicking fortunes, off the waiver wire right before the start of training camp.

In the interim, Wolf has been honored by the National Quarterback Club for his multiple contributions to the Packers' artistic renaissance. He was presented with the organization's 'Lifetime Achievement Award' at its annual recognition dinner (June 4, 1998).

He also was saluted in 1998 by the Anti-Defamation League, which presented him with its 'World of Difference Award.'

Wolf helped to ensure the team's record sixth playoff appearance in a row by making several important moves heading into the 1998 season as well as during it. Prior to training camp, he filled the punting vacancy created by the free agency departure of Craig Hentrich by signing NFL veteran Sean Landeta, who went on to establish club single-season records for net average and punts 'Inside the 20.' The Packers' general manager also traded for steady Vaughn Booker, whose presence allowed White, his All-Pro defensive end, to not have to play every down. But perhaps the crowning achievement of Wolf was the acumen he showed in landing defensive end Vonnie Holliday of North Carolina, runner-up for 'Rookie of the Year' honors last season, with the 19th pick in the draft, trading up 10 spots in the round hours before the draft had begun.

He later traded for Buffalo Bills running back Darick Holmes early in the season after his Pro Bowl running back, Dorsey Levens, suffered a broken leg which kept him out for half the year. Holmes provided 100-yard rushing efforts at a pair of critical junctures in the season and went on to lead the team in rushing.

Another significant recognition has come to Wolf this year. Pro Football Weekly's annual NFL preview publication has named him — as one who does not also coach — the league's "best general manager."

The Packers' dramatic turnaround since Wolf's arrival, accompanied by increasingly high expectations from the team's excited loyalists, has documented Harlan's decision to bring him in late in 1991 with total authority over the organization's football operation.

"When we started the search to fill the position," Harlan said at the time of the announcement, "we put together a list of eight names. Ron's name was at the top of the list."

Wolf, who previously had spent 25 years in the front office of the Raiders, took over a position new to the Packers' organizational structure in terms of authority and responsibility, said authority including hiring and supervising the head coach and the scouting staff, conducting the draft and making all football decisions for the organization.

With the sweeping mandate, Wolf moved swiftly. He made his first major decision in a span of 24 days after his appointment, dismissing Lindy Infante as head coach on December 22, 1991, his second in hiring Holmgren as Infante's successor just 20 days later — January 11, 1992.

The 60-year-old executive, who agreed to a five-year contract in leaving the New York Jets to join the Packers, credits his long experience in the Raiders' front office with preparing him for his current responsibilities.

"I had an opportunity to learn from — to me — the greatest figure in the game today, Al Davis," he said. "He knows every aspect of the game of professional football — not just the X's and O's but from the business standpoint and the talent standpoint. He is totally involved, and he taught me. I was very, very fortunate to work for him."

Wolf launched his professional football career under Davis in 1963 when he joined the then-fledgling Raiders as a talent scout.

Subsequently, when Davis was named American Football League commissioner in 1966, Wolf accompanied him to the league office as the AFL's coordinator of talent. He returned to the Raiders with Davis prior to the opening of the 1966 season and played a major role in the club's personnel operation until the spring of 1975.

At that time, the then 37-year-old Wolf was named to oversee the formation of the newly-franchised Tampa Bay Buccaneers of the NFL as vice president of operations. He remained in that capacity until 1978, when he re-joined the Raiders, for whom he headed up player personnel operations until he signed on with the Jets organization in June of 1990.

His efforts in behalf of the Tampa Bay franchise bore fruit in 1979 when the players Wolf assembled carried the Buccaneers to the NFC Central title and, in the playoffs, as far as the National Football Conference Championship Game before they bowed to the then-Los Angeles Rams in a defensive struggle, 9-0.

Born in New Freedom, Pa., on December 30, 1938, Wolf attended the University of Oklahoma, where he majored in history. He earlier had served with Army Intelligence in Europe for three years.

Wolf has said he decided he wanted to make professional football his life's work "when I was in the service in '58 or '59, and I was stationed in Berlin, Germany. I think that appealed to me as something I would really like to do if I could do it. I never thought I'd be able to get my foot in the door."

His first job in the field was with Pro Football Illustrated, a publication based in Chicago, in 1961. He subsequently returned to the University of Oklahoma in 1962, he said, "and then Al Davis called me in 1963, after I'd taken my last final examination at Oklahoma...The very day, he called me."

On those rare occasions when he is not immersed in football operations today, Wolf can be found reading. "I like to read novels — and when I really get serious — I like to delve into the Civil War or World War II," he says of himself. "That's when I get into a serious mode, which runs for about two weeks...Then I get off it."

Wolf, who has a corollary and highly developed interest in the lives of legendary military leaders, such as George S. Patton, George Custer and Douglas MacArthur, et al, said, "What fascinates me — and I can't pin the answer down — is where do all these people come from...the great people that emerge in time of crisis? Where have they been? Why do they suddenly appear on the scene at the precise moment of history?"

Ron's family includes his wife, Edie, and five children — daughters Saralyn, Celli and Joan, and two sons, Jonathan, attending William & Mary as a freshman, and Eliot, a senior at Green Bay's Notre Dame Academy. Mrs. Wolf is a psychologist who has established a practice in Green Bay.

JOHN JONES

Senior Vice President of Administration

John Jones, the Packers' new senior vice president of administration, is a veteran executive with wide and varied experience in management at the National Football League's highest levels.

Named to his position by President/CEO Bob Harlan February 10, 1999, Jones comes to the role following a 10-year tenure at the NFL Management Council — with extensive knowledge of the salary cap, an element critical to success in today's NFL, and significant experience as both a negotiator and administrator.

In that process, Jones was a member of the league's negotiating team which secured a global settlement of player lawsuits against the NFL in January of 1993, and therefrom subsequently forged the Collective Bargaining Agreement and created the salary cap system.

In his new role, the 47-year-old Jones is responsible for salary cap management, including compliance with the 1993 CBA, and contract management — as well as supervision of all of the organization's non-football departments.

One of the architects of the salary cap computer software now employed by all NFL clubs, Jones trained executives from every club in the league in using the new technology to manage the cap. More recently, he spearheaded the Management Council's development of an intranet site on the World Wide Web, providing a broad range of salary cap and club management information to club executives, and with it a new electronic contract reporting system now used to report player signings by e-mail.

Jones began his 10-year, two-stage career with the Management Council in 1987 as director of public relations, serving as spokesman for the NFL during the player strike of that year. Later, after Paul Tagliabue became commissioner in 1989, he was named director of operations for the Council.

He left the NFLMC in 1994 to become executive director of administration for the Jacksonville Jaguars, then entering the league as an expansion team. He returned to the Management Council in 1996 as director of administration and information, the post he held when invited to join the Packers organization.

Prior to entering employment in the NFL office, Jones spent 11 years as a teacher and journalist following graduation from Loyola University of the South in New Orleans, from which he received a degree in journalism in 1973. He attended graduate journalism school at the University of Wisconsin before returning to New Orleans to serve as an instructor of journalism at Loyola from 1976 to 1978.

Jones subsequently embarked on a journalistic career with the New Orleans Times-Picayune, earning a dozen first-place awards from the Louisiana Sports Writers' Association for writing, editing and design over a nine-year span.

While at the University of Wisconsin, Jones developed early ties to the Packers, leaving school in 1974 to become editor of Packer Report, the team's official newspaper, a position he held through 1975.

Born February 6, 1952, in New Orleans, Jones' family has other Wisconsin connections. John's wife, Cindy, is a native of Cedarburg, Wis.; daughter Sarah, 24, is a 1996 graduate of the UW in political science (she currently is a third-year law student at NYU law school); and son Blake, 18, a 1999 graduate of Irvington (N.Y.) High School, will attend Wisconsin this fall.

A long distance runner during leisure time, Jones has run three marathons. He also enjoys reading — "history and fiction."

LANCE LOPES

Vice President/General Counsel

Lance Lopes, the Packer Corporation's general counsel since 1993, has taken on new and additional responsibilities in the organization's front office for the second year in succession.

Previously named assistant vice president in 1998, he was promoted to vice president/general counsel by Bob Harlan, the Packers' president and chief executive officer, on February 16, 1999.

In his expanded role, the 35-year-old Nevada native handles all legal matters for the organization, assists in player contract negotiations, salary cap and front office administration and also represents the corporation at league meetings.

Lopes, an attorney since 1989, was a key figure in orchestration of the Packers' latest stock sale, launched in November of 1997. He was instrumental in obtaining approval from securities officials and the National Football League, and also designed and administered the distribution plan and helped coordinate the marketing activities, which concluded in March of 1998 following the sale of more than $24 million in stock.

Prior to joining the Packer Corporation, Lopes was in the private civil practice of law from 1989 until 1993 — for two years in Honolulu and three years in Seattle.

An honors graduate of Linfield College (McMinville, Ore.) with a B.A. degree, he subsequently earned his law degree at the University of Oregon in 1988.

Earlier an accomplished athlete at Lowry High School in Winnemucca, Nev., he claimed 10 letters playing varsity football, basketball, baseball and golf. A tight end, he then went on to play for two NAIA Division II national championship football teams at Linfield College.

Born in Winnemucca September 20, 1963, Lopes is married — his wife, Mari, currently practices law part-time — and they have three children: Katie (born 6/21/93), Sydney (born 5/6/96) and Peter (born 4/30/98).

Lance lists golf, skiing and travel as his favorite hobbies.

KEN HEROCK

Vice President of Personnel

Ken Herock, the Packers' new vice president of personnel, has been in professional football for more than 35 years as a player, coach, scout and personnel executive.

Respected throughout the National Football League for his expertise as a talent hunter, Herock was named to his position by Executive Vice President/General Manager Ron Wolf on April 26, 1999.

A member of Oakland's 1967 Super Bowl team as a tight end from West Virginia University, the 58-year-old Herock launched his front office career with the Raiders in 1970 as a combination personnel scout and special teams coach on the heels of a seven-season pro playing career with Oakland (1963-65, 1967), the

THE ADMINISTRATION

Cincinnati Bengals (1968) and Boston Patriots (1969). He made 64 receptions for 924 yards and 4 touchdowns as a professional.

Named the Raiders' director of player personnel in 1975, he became the first director of player personnel for the then-fledgling Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 1976. Within three years, he helped build the Bucs into a playoff contender — one which advanced to the NFC Championship Game in 1979 — while remaining with Tampa Bay through the 1983 campaign.

Herock subsequently returned to the Raiders' personnel department for a second, three-year period (1984-86). Later named director of college player personnel for Atlanta in 1987, he became the team's director of player personnel in 1989 and vice president of player personnel a year later, a position he held through the 1996 season. During his 10 years with the Falcons, Herock procured a number of key players for the franchise, including Jamal Anderson, Cornelius Bennett, Bert Emanuel, Deion Sanders and Bob Whitfield.

He returned to the Raiders for a third tenure in 1997, leaving the Oakland organization following the 1998 season.

As a collegian at West Virginia, Herock earned all-conference honors as both a tight end and linebacker, and since has been named to the school's hall of fame.

Born July 16, 1941, in Munhall, Pa., Ken and his wife, Barry, have two sons. One of them, Shaun, 29, is a member of the Packers' college scouting staff and thus now works for his father. The other, Kenny, 35, resides in Atlanta.

TED THOMPSON

Director of Player Personnel

Possessor of an extensive resume that has included a 10-year playing career in the National Football League, Ted Thompson is in his eighth year in the Packers' player personnel operation, the focal point of the organization.

Director of pro personnel from 1993 until 1997, Thompson was promoted to director of player personnel by Executive Vice President/General Manager Ron Wolf on May 30, 1997, to "oversee all of our college and pro scouting operations."

In his latest role, Thompson is responsible for supervising the college scouting staff as well as the pro scouting activities, coordinated by Reggie McKenzie, director of pro personnel.

A native of Atlanta, Texas, the 46-year-old Thompson joined the Packers organization January 15, 1992, following 10 seasons with the Houston Oilers as a 'nickel' linebacker. A graduate of Southern Methodist University, where he was a three-year starting linebacker, he closed out his pro career at the end of the 1984 NFL season.

One of the most durable players in Oilers history, he played in 146 regular-season games, missing only one contest during his 10 seasons. He also played in seven playoff games following the 1978-80 seasons. A reserve kicker in addition to his linebacker duties, he made 4 of 4 PATs against the New York Jets in an emergency situation during the 1981 season.

Thompson, born in Atlanta, Texas, January 17, 1953, earned a bachelor's degree in business administration at SMU, where he gained Academic All-Southwest Conference honors. He operated his own investment business in Houston prior to signing on with the Packers as assistant director of pro personnel in 1992.

REGGIE MCKENZIE

Director of Pro Personnel

Reggie McKenzie, possessor of five years experience in Green Bay's pro personnel department and a seven-year National Football League playing career at linebacker, begins his third year as director of pro personnel for the Packers in 1999.

McKenzie, a pro personnel assistant since joining the Packers in 1994, was promoted to director of pro personnel by Executive Vice President/General Manager Ron Wolf in May of 1997.

A 10th-round draft choice out of the University of Tennessee in 1985 by the then-Los Angeles Raiders, McKenzie went on to win all-rookie honors and was the team's second-leading tackler during each of his first two seasons. After four years with the Raiders (1985-88), McKenzie spent two seasons (1989-90) with the Arizona Cardinals and one year (1992) with the San Francisco 49ers before a knee injury forced him to retire. Prior to signing with the 49ers, he played with the World League's Montreal Machine in the spring of 1992.

While out of football in 1991, McKenzie spent a season as a defensive coach for Dorsey High School in South Central Los Angeles. Led by Sharman Shah, who would later change his name to Karim Abdul-Jabbar and become a Miami Dolphins running back, the school captured the league championship.

McKenzie returned to Tennessee and served as an assistant under head coach Phil Fulmer in 1993. While back in Knoxville, he also pursued a master's degree in education administration.

Born in Knoxville, Tenn., February 8, 1963, McKenzie earned a bachelor's degree in business administration with an emphasis in personnel management at Tennessee. A two-way football star at Austin East High School in Knoxville, McKenzie was valedictorian of his 1981 graduating class. A twin brother, Raleigh, also attended Tennessee and is now enjoying his 15th season of professional football, having signed with the Packers as an unrestricted free agent this past offseason.

McKenzie is the president of the 'McKenzie Foundation,' a non-profit youth foundation in Knoxville. The organization awards academic scholarships to graduating seniors at Austin East High School. During the NFL's offseason, he also operates an annual three-day football clinic in Knoxville.

McKenzie and his wife, June, a Green Bay attorney, have two daughters, Jasmin (born 1/28/92) and Mahkayla (born 8/7/93), and two sons, Reginald Kahlil (born 1/3/97) and Jalen Elijah (born 7/10/99).

In his spare time, McKenzie enjoys spending time with his family.

ANDREW BRANDT

Director of Player Finance/Football Operations

Andrew Brandt brings an extensive background in player representation and management of a professional football team to his role as director of player finance/football operations, a new position in the Packers' organizational structure.

Brandt, named to the post by Executive Vice President/General Manager Ron Wolf on February 16, 1999, has primary responsibility in the Packers organization for negotiating player contracts and dealing with player representatives. In conjunction with senior vice president of administration John Jones, Brandt also is responsible for managing the team's salary cap and serving as a liaison with the NFL Management Council. He also assists Wolf in many other aspects of the team's football operations.

A native of Washington, D.C., Brandt began his professional career with ProServ, Inc., one of the nation's leading sports management and marketing firms, after graduating cum laude from both Stanford University and Georgetown University Law School. While at ProServ, he managed a number of NBA and NFL players, among them Michael Jordan, Patrick Ewing, James Lofton, Boomer Esiason and Chris Doleman.

In 1992, Brandt became the first general manager of the Barcelona Dragons of the World League of American Football, then becoming the youngest general manager in a major professional sports league. In that position, he was responsible for all aspects of the franchise — contracts, player personnel, marketing and public relations, among others. During his tenure, the Dragons were the league's winningest and most successful franchise, with an average attendance of 30,000.

Brandt subsequently taught Sports Law and Sports Business at George Washington and American universities in Washington, D.C., and created and designed a program in Sports Management/Sports Law at the University of Illinois, a program that now serves as a model for the Big Ten Conference.

In 1996, Brandt became vice president of Bob Woolf Associates, a leading player representation firm located in Boston and, in that role, was responsible for the football and basketball divisions.

Over the years, he has made frequent radio and television appearances as a commentator on contract and negotiating issues. Brandt previously appeared on the One-On-One Sports radio network every Saturday in over 3,500 markets nationwide and also has been a frequent commentator on CNN, discussing business and legal issues in sports. In addition, he has hosted "The Business of Sports" on the World Wide Web and has been a regular columnist for Street & Smith's Sports Business Journal.

Professionally, Brandt remains a member of the Sports Lawyers Association and the Entertainment and Sports Committee of the American Bar Association.

A member of two NCAA champion tennis teams while at Stanford, he still plays competitive tennis and enjoys hiking, biking and golf. Brandt also is an accomplished jazz pianist and is active with the American Heart Association. Born in Washington, D.C., Andrew and his wife, Lisa, have a son, Samuel (born 2/27/97).

LEE REMMEL

Executive Director of Public Relations

Lee Remmel enters his 26th year as a member of the Packers' front office in 1999, having served previously as director of public relations in 1974 and from 1980 through 1988, and as director of publicity from 1975 through 1979.

He was named executive director of public relations in March of 1989 by Bob Harlan, then executive vice president of administration, with responsibility for overseeing the public relations, marketing and community relations areas. Prior to joining the Packer organization on March 24, 1974, Remmel was a sports writer and columnist for the Green Bay Press-Gazette for 29½ years.

In the course of his two "careers," he has been involved in staffing all 33 Super Bowls played to date, the first eight representing the Press-Gazette, the next 22 as a member of the National Football League's auxiliary media relations staff, the 1996-97 seasons with the Packers' front office and again last year with the NFL.

Remmel also has been a member of the NFL public relations directors' Professional Football Writers of America liaison, statistics and NFL Films committees.

While at the Press-Gazette, he was the only sports writer in Wisconsin to have been directly involved in coverage of the Packers throughout all of the team's coaching regimes to that point, beginning with

THE ADMINISTRATION

Packers founder E.L. 'Curly' Lambeau and continuing until the naming of Bart Starr in 1975. His personal longevity may be best illustrated by the fact that he witnessed his 100th Packer-Bear game on November 12, 1995, in the 150th regular-season meeting of the arch enemies.

Rommel's half-century of close association with the Packers was duly recognized on March 30, 1996, when he was inducted into the Green Bay Packer Hall of Fame.

In 1967, he was voted Wisconsin 'Sports Writer of the Year.' He also is a past president of the former Wisconsin Pro Football Writers' Association.

Rommel, a native of Shawano, Wis., where he was born June 30, 1924, began his career as the sports editor of a weekly newspaper while a Shawano High School freshman. He and his wife, Noreen, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on August 21, 1998.

Active in the community, the annual Lee Rommel Sports Awards Banquet, honoring Wisconsin professional, collegiate, amateur and prep athletes, has been held the past two Aprils, raising over $34,000 for scholarship funds at the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay, St. Norbert College and area high schools.

He also is a member of the executive committee of the Brown County Civic Music Association, along with his wife, as well as of the executive board of the 65 Roses Sports Club (cystic fibrosis). He additionally is a member of the St. Norbert College Fine Arts Committee, the Green Bay School/Business/Industry Partnership Council and the board of directors of the Green Bay Packer Hall of Fame.

Inside 1265 and Inside 1265 — The Ray Rhodes Show are the official television programs of the Green Bay Packers. Both provide fans a behind-the-scenes look at what is happening with their favorite team from within the Packers' offices at 1265 Lombardi Avenue in Green Bay.

The original, hour-long, magazine-style show, Inside 1265, which debuted near the end of the 1997 season and airs periodically throughout the year, is co-hosted by Jessie Garcia, sportscaster at WTMJ-TV in Milwaukee, and Packer Hall of Famer Larry McCarren, sports director at Green Bay's WFRV-TV.

The program regularly boasts exclusive, one-on-one interviews with the Packers' hierarchy, including President and CEO Bob Harlan, Executive Vice President/General Manager Ron Wolf and Head Coach Ray Rhodes.

Other recent stories on Inside 1265 have included a behind-the-scenes look at Wolf on draft day, capturing his thoughts and emotions as the rounds unfolded; introductory interviews with the Packers' new assistant coaches; a chalk talk with offensive line coach Larry Beightol on the intricacies of line play and on-going video diaries with tight end Mark Chmura and draft choices Fred Vinson and Josh Bidwell.

The show also includes a special 'strategy' session, where McCarren provides viewers with an in-depth look at a specific player and an aspect of his game. Recent strategy topics have consisted of cornerback Tyrone Williams demonstrating the nuances of bump-and-run pass coverage and linebacker Bernardo Harris talking about how he plays the run.

New this year is Inside 1265 — The Ray Rhodes Show. Hosts Wayne Larrivee, the team's new radio play-by-play voice, and McCarren join the Packers' head coach each week during the season for a one-half hour program. Segments on team news, the upcoming opponent and the last game comprise much of the show, which also will include special player/coach guests, a chalk talk with McCarren, an award to the high school coach of the week, viewer questions and other stories.

Both programs air on a state-wide basis on WTMJ-TV (Ch. 4) in Milwaukee, WFRV-TV (Ch. 5) in Green Bay, WISC-TV (Ch. 3) in Madison, WSAW-TV (Ch. 7) in Wausau and on three different stations in La Crosse, with air dates and times varying by market. Inside 1265 — The Ray Rhodes Show also will air each week on Midwest Sports Channel.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Now in their 81st season of professional football, the Green Bay Packers are a team and an organization unique in both structure and accomplishment. They represent — from an organizational standpoint — the only publicly-owned franchise in the 31-club National Football League. On the field, they have won more championships — twelve — than any other team in the NFL's 79-year history.

Green Bay Packers, Inc., was founded as a non-profit corporation in 1922 under the leadership of A.B. Turnbull, then publisher of the Green Bay Press-Gazette, who became the organization's first president. There are 4,746,901 shares of stock owned by 111,031 stockholders. The corporation is governed by a seven-member Executive Committee, elected from a 45-person board of directors.

RAY RHODES
Head Coach

Fiery Raymond Earl Rhodes, a battle-tested veteran of the pro football wars, was the first...and only...choice to be the twelfth head coach in the Green Bay Packers' storied history.

Because, General Manager Ron Wolf promptly made clear in announcing his selection to succeed Mike Holmgren on January 11, 1999, "He understands what winning is all about...Plus, he has a tremendous record of success."

And an imposing record it is. The 48-year-old Texan, becoming the Packers' field leader after four years as head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles, has an impressive list of coaching credits:

- He is a veteran of five Super Bowl victories over an 18-year coaching career;
- He has been on the winning side in 19 of 27 playoff games, a lofty .704 percentage;
- He, in 12 seasons as an assistant with San Francisco, helped the 49ers capture postseason berths ten times and reach the NFC Championship Game on seven occasions; and
- He has been in the playoffs in all but five of his 18 seasons as an NFL coach.

Little wonder, then, that Wolf termed his decision "a very, very easy hire."

Rhodes, he asserted by way of documentation, "is a genuine leader, he's extremely knowledgeable and he's a darn good football coach. And that's what this is all about — him being a darn good football coach."

He added, "What appealed to me is that he's been through the meat grinder. He's man enough to handle it (following the highly-successful Holmgren). He's been through all that a person can be through as a head coach."

Wolf also let it be known that once Rhodes became available, the die was cast.

"I've had my eye on Ray for a long time," he said of the tireless University of Tulsa alumnus, who previously had served as the Packers' defensive coordinator under Holmgren in 1992 and 1993. "When the Eagles let go of Ray and terminated his contract, my list had one name on it — and that was Ray Rhodes — from that point forward.

"I think what Ray brings is a certain sense of credibility," Wolf asserted in underscoring his decision. "I don't believe there's anyone better to turn the ship over to than Ray."

Rhodes, signed to a four-year contract that will take him through the season of 2003, expressed mutual satisfaction with his new post, declaring, "I have a tremendous amount of respect for this football team and the things they have accomplished over the last several years, winning a Super Bowl and NFC championships. It is a standard that has been set here and a standard that I want to make sure that we maintain."

The plain-spoken mentor, intense and demanding, had experienced substantial success himself in his first two years at Philadelphia, leading the Eagles to matching 10-and-6 records and back-to-back playoff appearances in 1995 and 1996, thus becoming the first head coach in club history to take the Birds into the postseason in his first two years at the helm.

In the process, he was accorded consensus acclaim as the NFL's 'Coach of the Year' in 1995 — a rare honor for a first-year NFL head coach.

Rhodes also punctuated that '95 postseason by escorting the Eagles to a record-setting, 58-37 victory over the Detroit Lions in an NFC Wild Card playoff game.

Subsequently beset by quarterback and major injury problems, he saw his 1997 and 1998 Philadelphia teams post 6-9-1 and 3-13 marks, leaving his four-year regular-season record at 29-34-1 (30-36-1 overall) in the wake of that promising and productive 20-12 "beginning."

HEAD COACH

Wolf had prior knowledge of Rhodes and his coaching credentials, having had an opportunity to observe the Packers' new field leader at close hand when he earlier served as Green Bay's defensive coordinator. Taking over a unit that had ranked tenth in the NFL in 1991, Rhodes' intense, committed approach elevated the Green Bay platoon to second place by the end of his second and final season (1993) in that role, helping the Packers gain their first playoff appearance since 1982. The team also sent a pair of defenders to the Pro Bowl for the first time in 15 years.

Originally drafted out of Tulsa as a wide receiver by the New York Giants in 1974, Rhodes entered the coaching arena in 1981 as assistant defensive backfield coach for San Francisco, under secondary coach George Seifert, following a seven-year playing career he had concluded with the 49ers a year earlier.

In that first season as an assistant, Rhodes gained the confidence of then-Head Coach Bill Walsh by helping the 49ers win Super Bowl XVI with three rookies in the starting defensive backfield — cornerbacks Ronnie Lott and Eric Wright and safety Carlton Williamson. As a coach of the 49ers' secondary through 1991, assuming full responsibility in 1983 when Seifert became defensive coordinator, he saw those three defenders — plus safety Dwight Hicks — earn multiple Pro Bowl selections over the decade of the '80s.

He also earned the open admiration and respect of the highly successful Walsh, who had given him his first coaching job. "What I liked about Ray," Walsh has said of his former aide, "was that he was completely committed. He demanded of himself and his men. He would have made a great general. Men respect him, because he's a no-nonsense guy who cuts right to the issue."

Rhodes returned to San Francisco in 1994 for one season as defensive coordinator. Installing six new starters on defense, his troops had 35 take-aways, including five defensive touchdowns. Rhodes' final year with the 49ers was culminated with a 49-26 triumph over San Diego in Super Bowl XXIX, making him one of only four coaches to have served on the staff of all five of San Francisco's Super Bowl championship teams — 1981, 1984, 1988-89, 1994 (Seifert, Bill McPherson and Bobb McKittrick are the others).

Four days later (February 2, 1995), he was named as the 19th head coach in the Eagles' history.

The Packers' new field leader also is known for having an exceptional ability to relate to his players — and to read and understand how much a player can give him.

Lott, the former 49ers All-Pro defensive back who played under Rhodes in San Francisco for 10 seasons, has said, "Ray can tell if a player has heart, or if a player has jive. He can really look at a player and say, 'That guy can play.' Not so much because of the player's ability, but because of what's inside."

Packers President Bob Harlan, who had noted Rhodes' success in relating to his charges while Green Bay's defensive coordinator in the early '90s, says of him, "One of the things that impressed me very much was that he was very tough with the players and very demanding with the players. They had great respect for him. But yet, late Friday afternoon is always a kind of neat time because everything kind of tapers down at the end of the week. Every once in a while, I would walk through the locker room on Friday afternoons and there would be four or five of the defensive players and Ray Rhodes sitting down playing dominoes in the locker room."

"That was very interesting — the relationship that he had with the players both on the field and off the field. I didn't see a lot of other coaches ever doing that. There was a closeness there that I think he develops with the players that is very important."

Rhodes, a man accustomed to overcoming obstacles and dealing with challenges throughout his life, says of himself, "You know what drives me? Not money...Not ego...Fear of failure...You've got to have that fear."

He also will tell you, "Nobody gave me anything my whole life. I've had to scratch, claw and fight for everything I ever got. I'm still that way and I don't want to ever lose that feeling."

At the same time, he will acknowledge, "I have been winning my whole life...(And) it hurts — it hurts badly when I lose. I dread that feeling after a loss. It burns me up inside...Failure is not an option."

It is a motivation which evolved while Rhodes was growing up, in modest circumstances, in a small Texas town, Mexia (pronounced "muh-HAY-uh"), located in eastern Texas, 40 miles east of Waco and 90 miles south of Dallas.

It was there that he met and conquered one of the biggest challenges of his life, leaving the town's Dunbar High School before becoming one of the first minorities to integrate Mexia High at the start of his junior year. "There was a lot of unrest going on around the country," he recalls. "Being one of the first, it was important to me to encourage everyone to get along. I knew there would be some hard times, but with the upbringing I had, I felt I could get along with anybody. My parents would tell me, 'Ray, you're no better than anybody else, but nobody is better than you, either.'"

Rhodes takes the same direct, even-handed approach to the fact that he has become the first head coach of African-American origin in the Packers' 80-year history. "I just look at myself as a head coach," he says with impressive equanimity. "I don't get caught up in a lot of those things."

Wolf expressed a similar view. "That is just a little piece of history for the Green Bay Packers," he said. "What I tried to do here was hire in my opinion the best man available, and that is what I did."

Overall, his "fear of failure" has spurred Rhodes throughout a 25-year NFL career, the first seven seasons as a player. A 10th-round draft selection of the New York Giants in the 1974 draft, he played wide receiver during his first three NFL seasons and, typically, made an impact in that role, leading all NFC receivers with a 20.7 yards-per-catch average in 1975.

Two years later, he was switched to defense and won a starting job at cornerback. In 1979, a bright professional coaching future was just over the horizon when he was traded to San Francisco as part of four-player transaction which also included Tony Dungy, current head coach of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

Rhodes ended up with 51 career receptions for 980 yards and 7 touchdowns during his seven seasons (1974-80) as an NFL player, while also intercepting 8 passes.

As a collegian, Rhodes had begun his playing career as a running back at Texas Christian University (1969-70), later closing it out at the University of Tulsa (1972-73) as a wide receiver, running back and kick returner. He also earned letters in track and field at Tulsa.

Born in Mexia, Texas, on October 20, 1950, Ray won all-state honors in football at Mexia High School as a running back/defensive back and lettered in basketball and track as well, helping the school reach the state finals in basketball along the way.

Rhodes and his wife, Carmen, live in Green Bay and have four daughters: Detra (born 11/4/70), Candra (born 5/25/76), Tynesha (born 9/10/79) and Raven (born 5/23/85). He counts playing golf and fishing among his hobbies.

SHERMAN LEWIS

Offensive Coordinator

NFL Exp.: 17th Season

Packers Exp.: 8th Season

Sherman Lewis, now in his eighth season as the Packers' offensive coordinator, looks to continue the impressive recent performance of Green Bay's offense for new Head Coach Ray Rhodes while assuming the team's play-calling duties on a full-time basis.

Lewis, who in the offseason publicly expressed his desire to employ a more vertical passing game as well as a willingness to try new things, such as the shotgun formation, intends to utilize the continuity that remains on an offense which returns nearly all of its starters from recent record-breaking seasons.

Since joining the club in 1992, Lewis has overseen the sure and steady development of an offense that now has become one of the league's most consistently innovative and productive machines over the past several seasons.

In 1998, the Packers' offense under Lewis scored more than 400 points for the fourth consecutive season and witnessed the breakout year of wide receiver Antonio Freeman, who led the league with 1,424 receiving yards and earned his first trip to the Pro Bowl. Quarterback Brett Favre also furthered his record-breaking career under Lewis last season, extending five of his existing Green Bay records, establishing another and setting two NFL records, including the mark for most seasons with 30-or-more touchdown passes with five.

Lewis' work earlier reached an explosive peak in the 1996 season, one in which the offense amassed 456 points to establish a new club standard en route to winning Super Bowl XXXI and the National Football League championship.

Green Bay's 56 touchdowns and 456 points in '96 also were NFL highs, marking the first time that the Packers had led the league in points since 1962 (and only the fifth time overall).

In breaking the club scoring record in '96, the Packers routinely demonstrated a quick-strike capability with 12 regular-season touchdowns coming from 50 yards or more, the most in a season by any team since 1970, a statistic punctuated during the playoffs by four additional scores of 50-plus yards, including three in the Super Bowl.

The offense followed that record season with another league-leading performance in 1997, pacing the NFC in scoring with 422 points — an average of 26.4 points per game — and also topping the conference in touchdowns with 50.

Green Bay's offense had invaded the record book two years earlier under Lewis' direction, rolling up 5,750 yards in 1995, the third-highest such total in the team's long National Football League history. A key element in mounting that impressive figure was a league-leading third down efficiency percentage, 49.1.

Lewis' expertise paid immediate and practical dividends in 1992, his first season as overseer of the offense, when the Packers' attack he coordinated proceeded to produce 4,786 yards, the most by a Green Bay offensive unit since 1989. Moving the chains consistently, the Packers registered 291 first downs along the way, compared to 259 a year earlier.

Named to the Packers staff on January 18, 1992, Lewis came to Green Bay from San Francisco, where he was a member of the 49ers' staff for nine seasons, the first six as running backs coach, tutoring such outstanding performers as perennial Pro Bowl running back Roger Craig and fullback Tom Rathman. Lewis subsequently coached the wide receivers during his final three seasons in San Francisco and helped hone the skills of Jerry Rice and John Taylor, who have been selected to a combined 14 Pro Bowls.

Lewis brought an impressive coaching pedigree with him to Green Bay, having helped the 49ers develop one of the most productive attacks in the National Football League under Bill Walsh en route to three Super Bowl victories during the '80s.

His responsibilities during his first season on the Green Bay staff also included coaching the receivers, duties he turned over to Jon Gruden prior to the 1993 season.

The 57-year-old Kentucky native had been an assistant coach at his alma mater, Michigan State, for 14 seasons prior to joining the 49ers, serving as assistant head coach and defensive coordinator for his final three years at MSU. Originally hired by the late Hugh 'Duffy' Dougherty, he later served on the staffs of

ASSISTANT COACHES

Denny Stolz, Darryl Rodgers and Frank 'Muddy' Waters.

During his tenure in East Lansing, Lewis first recruited and later tutored new Green Bay wide receivers coach Charlie Baggett. Baggett had attended the University of North Carolina for a year before transferring to Michigan State in 1972, he later became a three-year starter for the Spartans.

Lewis himself earlier had been a two-way All-America halfback at Michigan State, where he was second runner-up for the 1963 Heisman Trophy (behind Roger Staubach of Navy and Billy Lothridge of Georgia Tech) and named college football's 'Player of the Year' by Football News.

Lewis, who earned his master's degree in education administration from MSU in 1974, also was a stand-out track and field performer for the Spartans.

Born in Louisville, Ky., June 29, 1942, Lewis and his wife, Toni, live in Green Bay. The couple has two sons, Kip (born 2/6/67), a former University of Arizona football player who now is a sports anchor/reporter for Cincinnati's NBC affiliate, WLWT-TV, and Eric (born 1/2/76), who closed out his college football career last year at San Diego State after spending four years as a starting cornerback for the Aztecs and who now is a stockbroker with Dean Witter in San Diego.

EMMITT THOMAS

Defensive Coordinator

NFL Exp.: 19th Season

Packers Exp.: 1st Season

A defensive innovator, known for his aggressive and masterful tactics, Emmitt Thomas joins the Green Bay Packers in 1999 as the club's defensive coordinator after serving in the same capacity for the Philadelphia Eagles the past four seasons.

Named to Head Coach Ray Rhodes' staff on January 18, 1999, Thomas brings to his position 36 years of experience as both a player and coach at the college and professional levels.

Thomas' 1998 Eagles defense finished as the NFL's number-one ranked unit against the pass, also finishing third in the league in sack percentage. It marked the fourth straight season that Philadelphia's defenders had ranked in the top 10 in passing yards allowed.

Earlier, in 1995, Thomas' first year as a defensive coordinator, Philadelphia ranked second in the league in sacks (48) and third in take-aways (38), as the defense finished fourth overall in yards surrendered and the team went 10-6 and won a playoff game. His 1996 defense ranked fifth in the league overall and helped produce another 10-6 record and subsequent playoff berth.

Thomas' Philadelphia defenses sent two players to the Pro Bowl — linebacker William Thomas and defensive end William Fuller — and four other players earned all-rookie honors.

Prior to landing in Philadelphia, Thomas spent nine years (1986-94) on the staff of the Washington Redskins. He coached wide receivers his first season in the nation's capital, before moving over to the opposite side of the ball and tutoring defensive backs starting in 1987. During his time with the Redskins, Thomas made five trips to the playoffs, captured two NFC Championships and earned victories in each subsequent Super Bowl — XXII and XXVI.

Thomas made his NFL coaching debut in 1981 with the then-St. Louis Cardinals, with his receiving corps leading the NFC in catches.

Thomas' coaching acumen was gleaned in large part from his 13-year pro playing career as a defensive back with the Kansas City Chiefs (1966-78). During his 181-game career, Thomas made five Pro Bowl appearances and played in Super Bowls I and IV. He finished his career with 58 interceptions — still the eighth-highest total in NFL history — and led the league twice, including a career-high 12 in 1974. He also posted five touchdowns on interception runbacks.

In addition, Thomas nabbed five postseason interceptions, including a theft in the Chiefs' victory over Minnesota in Super Bowl IV, an interception which turned out to be the last ever by an AFL player as the AFL and NFL merged the next season. He was inducted into the Chiefs' Hall of Fame in 1985.

A three-year letter winner (1963-65) as a quarterback and receiver at Bishop College in Dallas, Thomas made the successful switch to defensive back after signing with Kansas City as an undrafted free agent.

Born June 3, 1943, in Angleton, Texas, Thomas attended the city's Marshall High School. He and his wife, Jacqui, live in Green Bay. He has two grown children, a son Derek (born 9/10/66), who is an assistant basketball coach at St. Louis University, and a daughter, Dedra (born 3/10/72).

CHARLIE BAGGETT

Wide Receivers

NFL Exp.: 3rd Season

Packers Exp.: 1st Season

Charlie Baggett, possessor of 22 years of offensive coaching experience at both the college and pro levels, joins the Packers' staff in 1999 as wide receivers coach.

Baggett, named to his position February 8, 1999, comes to Green Bay after his second stint at Michigan State, where he had coached since 1995, serving as associate head coach and also tutoring the wide receivers. Before returning to Michigan State, Baggett served two years as receivers coach with the Houston Oilers (1993-94).

Prior to his work at Houston, Baggett enjoyed 10 seasons at Michigan State (1983-92) under then-Head Coach George Perles, overseeing wide receivers for seven years and running backs for three. Among the future NFL players he coached at State were All-Americans Lorenzo White and Andre Rison, in addition to Mark Ingram and Courtney Hawkins. Baggett coached nine bowl teams altogether during his two stints at Michigan State.

Baggett embarked upon his coaching career at Bowling Green, where he worked from 1977 to 1980, and then moved on to Minnesota (1980-81), before landing on campus in East Lansing.

A one-time player himself for the Spartans, Baggett was a three-year starter (1973-75) at quarterback and graduated as the school's all-time leader in total offense with 2,334 yards, earning All-Big Ten Conference honors from the Chicago Tribune as a junior after posting 1,713 total yards and 21 touchdowns (11 rushing, 10 passing). He earned a B.S. degree in food management from Michigan State in 1975.

Baggett, an All-America prep quarterback at E.E. Smith High School in Fayetteville, N.C., was recruited to

ASSISTANT COACHES

Michigan State by current Packers offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis, then an assistant coach at the school. After a freshman year at the nearby University of North Carolina, Baggett transferred to Michigan State and joined Lewis and the rest of the Spartans after redshirting in 1972.

Among Baggett's other NFL connections is Kansas City Chiefs offensive coordinator Jimmy Raye, the two having grown up next door to each other in Fayetteville, N.C.

Born January 21, 1953, in Fayetteville, N.C., Baggett married the former Lisa Chavis this past May 29. He has one daughter, Camille (born 4/1/88). In his spare time, Baggett enjoys playing golf and fishing. The Baggetts live in Green Bay.

LARRY BEIGHTOL

Offensive Line

NFL Exp.: 15th Season

Packers Exp.: 1st Season

One of the deans among National Football League offensive line coaches, Larry Beightol begins his 15th season in the league in 1999, his first season with the Green Bay Packers. Including his 17 years in the college ranks, Beightol this season will celebrate his 32nd year in coaching.

First of the new Green Bay coaches to join Head Coach Ray Rhodes' staff, Beightol was named to his position January 16, 1999, after spending the past three seasons with the Miami Dolphins.

Beightol (pronounced BECK-tull), known throughout the league as an excellent teacher of the nuances in the offensive line, comes off a successful stint with the Dolphins. In 1997, his offensive linemen gave up only 22 sacks, the second-lowest yield in the NFL. His 1998 squad surrendered only 24 QB drops, the league's third-fewest total. In 1996, his linemen helped pave the way for 1,116 rushing yards from Karim Abdul-Jabbar, a Dolphins rookie rushing record and the first Miami 1,000-yard ground total since 1978.

Prior to joining the Dolphins, Beightol enjoyed tenures with five other NFL teams — the Atlanta Falcons (1985-86), Tampa Bay Buccaneers (1987-88), San Diego Chargers (1989), New York Jets (1990-94) and the then-Houston Oilers (1995). During his 1989 season with the Chargers, he also served as offensive coordinator, in addition to offensive line coach.

In 1993, his New York Jets offensive line surrendered a league-low 21 sacks and did not allow a quarterback takedown in a club-record eight of 16 games, an impressive reduction from its total of 62 sacks in 1989, the year before Beightol took over.

Before breaking into the NFL with Atlanta in 1985, Beightol coached 17 years at the collegiate level, practicing his trade at William & Mary (1968-71), North Carolina State (1972-75), Auburn (1976), Arkansas (1977-78 and, later, 1980-82), Louisiana Tech (1979 — as head coach) and Missouri (1983-84).

Beightol, a guard and linebacker himself as a collegian, played at Catawba College in Salisbury, N.C., from 1960-63, serving as team captain. A two-time all-conference and all-region selection, he was inducted into

ASSISTANT COACHES

Catawba's sports Hall of Fame in 1993. After earning a B.S. degree in physical education from Catawba in 1963, Beightol went on to William & Mary and earned a master's degree in education in 1967, beginning his coaching career at the school a year later.

Earlier, Beightol had enjoyed a highly-successful prep football career at West Branch High School in Morrisdale, Pa., earning induction into the Pennsylvania Sports Hall of Fame (Western Division).

Born November 21, 1942, in Pittsburgh, Beightol lives in Green Bay with his wife, Marian. The couple has one daughter, Kristin (born 5/27/67).

JOHNNY HOLLAND

Linebackers

NFL Exp.: 5th Season

Packers Exp.: 5th Season

Johnny Holland, now in his fifth season as a member of the Packers' coaching staff, moves into familiar surroundings as the club's linebackers coach in 1999, a position he served with distinction during his seven-year playing career with Green Bay.

Named to his new coaching position on January 18, 1999, by Head Coach Ray Rhodes, Holland takes over the linebackers after serving last year as the Packers' special teams coach and the three seasons prior as defensive assistant/quality control.

Holland's special teams units played well in 1998, scoring three times on returns and setting or tying 11 club records over the course of the season. Kicker Ryan Longwell became the team's most accurate career field goal kicker, punter Sean Landeta landed a team-record 30 punts 'Inside the 20' and returner Roell Preston broke a slew of marks, including most combined return yards in a season, 1,895.

Overall, the Green Bay special teams ranked ninth in the NFL in 1998, according to the Dallas Morning News and its annual statistical analysis of 17 special teams categories — the highest ranking of the four NFL teams which had first-year special teams coaches last season; the other three clubs finished 25th, 28th and 29th.

Not entirely new to coaching linebackers, Holland assisted coaching the corps — among his other duties — as a defensive assistant/quality control coach during his first three coaching seasons with the club (1995-97).

Holland, one of the premier linebackers in Packers history, originally joined the team as a second-round draft selection out of Texas A&M. He proceeded to become a key and highly productive performer in the Green Bay defense, posting more than 100 tackles for six consecutive years (1988-1993) and leading his platoon in tackles each of his last two seasons.

In 1992, he suffered the first of two neck injuries that were to cut short his playing career. Sideline with two games remaining in the regular season by a herniated cervical disk, he underwent a corrective vertebrae fusion. He returned to action in 1993, starting all 16 games, and led the defense with a career-high 145 tackles while helping the Packers gain the National Football League playoffs for the first time in 11 years.

Following the season, however, it was discovered he had developed a second herniated disk in his neck and, after consultation with the Packers' medical staff, he decided to forego a second surgical procedure and announced his retirement from football May 20, 1994, ending a seven-year NFL career.

Holland subsequently entered business in Sugar Land, Texas, and remained in the workaday world until February 21, 1995, when joined the Packers' coaching staff.

As a collegian, Holland was a three-year starter and four-time letterman at Texas A&M, leading the Aggies in total tackles in each of his last three seasons and earning consensus All-America honors as a junior despite missing one game. In the process, he earned the nickname 'Mr. Anywhere' for his ability to consistently be where the ball was.

Earlier, he won 12 letters at Hempstead (Texas) High School — four each in football and basketball, three in track and one in baseball.

Born March 11, 1965, in Belleville, Texas, Johnny and his wife, Faith, live in Green Bay with their two children — a son, Jordan (born 3/15/94), and a daughter, Joli (born 8/26/96).

JEFF JAGODZINSKI

Tight Ends

NFL Exp.: 1st Season

Packers Exp.: 1st Season

Jeff Jagodzinski returns to his native Wisconsin in 1999 to join Head Coach Ray Rhodes' staff as tight ends coach after spending the past two years as offensive coordinator at Boston College.

Named to the Green Bay staff on January 19, 1999, Jagodzinski grew up in West Allis, Wis., a Milwaukee suburb. He brings 14 years of college coaching experience to the Packers, his first foray into the National Football League.

Jagodzinski (pronounced jay-gah-ZIN-ski) enjoyed a successful run at Boston College, his offenses averaging over 400 yards per game in both 1997 and 1998. In addition, his Eagles offense allowed the fewest sacks in the Big East during both seasons of his tenure.

In 1998, Jagodzinski saw one of his pupils gain All-America status as running back Mike Cloud earned first-team honors and ranked third in the country in rushing. One of his linemen, All-Big East center Damien Woody, was a 1999 first-round draft pick of the New England Patriots, the 17th selection overall. Jagodzinski also coached Packers quarterback Matt Hasselbeck during Matt's senior, 1997 season at BC.

Prior to joining the Boston College staff, Jagodzinski coached tight ends and offensive line at East Carolina (1989-96), offensive line at Louisiana State (1987-88) and Northern Illinois (1986), and running backs at the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater (1985), his alma mater.

Before becoming part of the UW-Whitewater staff as a coach, Jagodzinski was a three-year starter and four-year player (1981-84) at fullback for the Warhawks. He earned a B.S. degree in education at

ASSISTANT COACHES

Whitewater.

Jagodzinski attended West Allis (Wis.) Central High School, where he played football and baseball, earning all-conference honors in football and participating in the Shrine game, the state's all-star contest, following his senior season.

Born October 12, 1963, in Milwaukee, Jagodzinski is married to Lisa, and the couple has four children — Josh (born 6/7/88), JoAnne (born 1/4/94), Jessica (born 5/1/97) and Jacqueline (born 8/26/98). The family resides in Green Bay. In his spare time, Jagodzinski enjoys playing golf and spending time with his family.

CHUCK KNOX, JR.

Defensive Assistant/Quality Control

NFL Exp.: 7th Season

Packers Exp.: 1st Season

Now with his third NFL team, Chuck Knox, Jr., joins Head Coach Ray Rhodes' staff in 1999 as a defensive assistant/quality control coach.

Knox, named to his position on January 18, 1999, also will assist linebackers coach Johnny Holland on the practice field and defensive coordinator Emmitt Thomas on both game day and in weekly game plan preparation. In his quality control role, Knox will break down opponent game tape and provide computer input and analysis for the defensive coaching staff.

Now in his seventh NFL season, Knox most recently served as the defensive assistant/quality control coach of the Philadelphia Eagles for the past four years. He began his coaching career with the then-Los Angeles Rams in 1993 as an offensive assistant, having the pleasure of working with his father, Chuck, Sr., who was head coach of the Rams from 1992-94. The junior Knox worked closely with the running backs during the 1994 season, and helped coach Jerome Bettis to a Pro Bowl campaign.

Before a career as a running back at the University of Arizona, Knox was an all-state rusher at Bellevue (Wash.) High School as a senior. Earlier, before moving to Washington state after his father was named head coach of the Seattle Seahawks, he had attended Orchard Park (N.Y.) High School his freshman through junior years. Also an all-state player as a junior in New York, Knox additionally participated in track and wrestling.

Knox, who earned a B.S. degree in history from Arizona in 1989, was born February 19, 1965, in Englewood, N.J. He and his wife, Andrea, live in Green Bay. In his spare time, Knox enjoys golf and is an avid reader. Also a novice aviator, he once held a private airplane pilots' license.

MIKE MCCARTHY

Quarterbacks

NFL Exp.: 7th Season

Packers Exp.: 1st Season

Mike McCarthy, a veteran of 13 coaching years at the college and pro level, joins Head Coach Ray Rhodes' staff in 1999 as quarterbacks coach.

Named to his position February 8, 1999, McCarthy is now in his seventh NFL season, having spent the last six years coaching with the Kansas City Chiefs, the past four as that team's quarterbacks coach.

In his role with the Packers, the 35-year-old McCarthy will coach the team's passers and assist offensive coordinator Sherm Lewis in weekly game plan preparations.

McCarthy's efforts with the Chiefs' quarterbacks from 1995-98 paid impressive dividends, his signal callers surrendering only 52 interceptions over that span, the lowest total in the AFC and second-lowest in the NFL overall. Using three different starters (Steve Bono, Elvis Grbac and Rich Gannon), the Chiefs played to a 42-22 record over his four seasons coaching the Kansas City quarterbacks.

His work in 1997 was particularly rewarding, when Grbac, in his first season as a full-time starter, raced out to a 7-2 record before suffering a broken clavicle. In his absence, an aptly prepared Gannon filled in and led the Chiefs to a 5-1 mark. Grbac returned to earn a victory in the finale and Kansas City finished the regular season 13-3.

McCarthy's first two years with Kansas City (1993-94) were spent as offensive assistant/quality control coach, his duties involving work with the Chiefs quarterbacks, which at the time included future Hall of Famer Joe Montana and Dave Krieg.

Before joining the Chiefs, McCarthy coached at the University of Pittsburgh from 1989-92 under head coach Paul Hackett, learning the intricacies of his highly-developed passing game. He spent his first three years coaching quarterbacks, before heading up the wide receivers in 1992, his final season with the Panthers. Earlier, McCarthy had embarked upon his coaching career in 1987, tutoring linebackers at Fort Hays (Kan.) State.

A collegiate tight end, McCarthy was a two-time all-conference selection (1985-86) at Baker University in Baldwin City, Kan. Holder of a degree in business administration from Baker, McCarthy captained the school's 1986 team, an NAIA Division II national championship runner-up. He had begun his collegiate playing career at Salem (W.Va.) College in 1982 and also played one season (1984) at Scottsdale (Ariz.) Community College before moving on to Baker.

A tight end and linebacker during his prep career, McCarthy attended Bishop Boyle High School in Homestead, Pa. Displaying a diverse sports interest, he also participated in baseball, basketball and golf at Bishop Boyle.

Born November 10, 1963, in Pittsburgh, McCarthy lives in Green Bay. He has one daughter, Alexandra (born 10/14/91). In his spare time, McCarthy enjoys playing golf and traveling.

STEVE ORTMAYER

Special Teams

NFL Exp.: 25th Season

Packers Exp.: 1st Season

Steve Ortmyer returns to his early coaching roots in 1999 as the Packers' special teams coach under Head Coach Ray Rhodes.

A veteran of 24 NFL seasons, including 16 campaigns as a coach, Ortmyer was named to the Green Bay staff on January 18, 1999.

The 55-year-old Ortmyer's extensive NFL background includes positions in coaching, scouting and administration. He has enjoyed stints with the Kansas City Chiefs, Oakland/Los Angeles Raiders, San Diego Chargers and St. Louis Rams.

Ortmyer began his NFL career with the Kansas City Chiefs, coordinating the club's special teams units from 1975-77. From there, he moved on to the Oakland Raiders in 1978 as director of football operations. The following year, he added the duties of special teams coach, continuing in that capacity through the 1986 season. After three seasons as director of football operations for the San Diego Chargers (1987-89), Ortmyer returned to his previous role with the Raiders, a post he held again from 1990-1994. He then worked two years with the St. Louis Rams as vice president of football operations (1995-96), and subsequently operated the past two years (1996-97) as a consultant to Rams ownership.

Ortmyer's special teams coaching acumen was best displayed in 1991 when his Raiders squad was ranked first in the NFL by the Dallas Morning News, using its annual statistical analysis of 17 special teams categories.

Before entering the NFL, Ortmyer got his coaching career off the ground in the college ranks, beginning with a position as a graduate assistant at Colorado in 1967. After coaching the Buffaloes' offensive and defensive lines through the 1973 season, he headed up the offensive line at Georgia Tech for one year (1974), before moving on to the NFL.

Over his career, he has coached in five college bowl games, for eight NFL playoff teams and been on the winning side twice in two trips to the Super Bowl (XV and XVIII) as a member of the Raiders' staff.

Ortmyer began his collegiate playing career as a center at Vanderbilt University in 1962. He transferred to La Verne (Calif.) College a year later, where he played during the 1963, '65 and '66 seasons, redshirting in 1964 due to a broken leg suffered during the '63 season. Ortmyer, who earned all-conference honors in 1966, graduated with B.S. degrees in English and physical education.

Earlier, Ortmyer had graduated from Highland Park High School in Dallas, after growing up in both Dallas and Nashville, Tenn.

Born February 13, 1944, in Painesville, Ohio, Ortmyer lives in Green Bay with his wife, Merylee. The couple has two sons, Beau (born 1/22/80), a tackle at the University of Kansas, and Cody (born 9/1/85). In his spare time, Ortmyer enjoys playing golf.

BARRY RUBIN

Strength and Conditioning

NFL Exp.: 5th Season

Packers Exp.: 5th Season

Named to his new position by Head Coach Ray Rhodes on January 16, 1999, Barry Rubin becomes the Packers' strength and conditioning coach after serving the last four seasons as the club's strength and conditioning assistant.

Rubin, who possesses a 18-year background in his field, will oversee the team's comprehensive strength and conditioning program that also includes nutrition and weight control. He also will assist the team's medical staff with the rehabilitation of injured players.

The 42-year-old Louisianan originally joined the Packers organization May 19, 1995, following a third tenure as head strength coach at Northeast Louisiana University, thus becoming the first full-time strength and conditioning assistant in club history.

Rubin began his career in the strength and conditioning field in 1981 as a graduate assistant at Northeast Louisiana following his graduation from Northwestern (La.) State University. In addition to seven years of service at Northeast, in three separate stints, he also spent two years as head strength coach at Louisiana State, one year as a personal trainer to then-Pittsburgh Steelers quarterback Bobby Brister and four years at a health club in Monroe, La.

Rubin was a tight end and punter as a collegian at Northwestern (La.) State from 1978-80, where his teammates included future NFL performers Bobby Hebert, Mark Duper, Joe Delaney and Gary Reasons. He was named to the Jewish All-America football team as a senior in 1979, a year in which he set a school record with a 75-yard punt.

Prior to his career at Northwestern State, Rubin attended Louisiana State University from 1976-77, playing running back and punting in '76 and then redshirting the next year, before transferring to Northwestern (La.) State for the 1978 season.

Earlier, as a prep, Rubin was an all-district running back and punter at Neville High School in Monroe, La., for long-time coach Charlie Brown. A three-year letterman in football, Rubin also lettered three times each in baseball and basketball as well as twice in track.

Born June 25, 1957, in Monroe, La., Rubin is single and lives in Green Bay. A devout baseball fan, he pledges his personal allegiance to the Milwaukee Brewers. He also is an avid collector of trading cards, his collection including the rookie cards of Sandy Koufax, Mark McGwire and Michael Jordan.

HARRY SYDNEY

Running Backs

NFL Exp.: 6th Season

Packers Exp.: 6th Season

Now in his fifth season as the Packers' running backs coach, Harry Sydney is being counted upon by new Head Coach Ray Rhodes to return Green Bay's running game to a high level in 1999.

A project he is well-equipped for, Sydney has led the club's rushers to impressive heights in recent seasons, including the Pro Bowl performance of halfback Dorsey Levens in 1997, the most productive season by a running back in Packers history.

Under Sydney's tutelage, Levens made the most of becoming the team's featured back in the absence of the injured Edgar Bennett, amassing 1,805 yards (1,435 rushing and 370 receiving) to establish a new, Green Bay single-season record for most yards gained from scrimmage. Along the way, Levens shattered the Packers' single-game rushing record, churning out 190 yards in 33 attempts to break Jim Taylor's 36-year-old mark while spearheading a 45-17 triumph over the Dallas Cowboys.

Two years earlier, in 1995, Sydney officiated at Bennett's development into the Packers' first 1,000-yard rusher (1,067) since 1978, when Terrell Middleton turned the trick.

In 1996, improving upon that achievement, he tutored an offensive backfield trio — Bennett, Levens and blocker extraordinaire William Henderson — that amassed the imposing total of 2,817 rushing and receiving yards and 18 touchdowns as the Packers swept to a 13-3 regular-season record and through the playoffs to capture Super Bowl honors.

Sydney, who originally joined the team in 1994 as a general assistant, deftly maneuvered his troops through an injury-plagued 1998 season, with four different players starting at halfback over the course of the campaign. Levens missed nine games. Travis Jervy, after starting five games, was lost for the season due to an ankle injury. Raymont Harris battled a nagging foot problem, before finally giving way to Darick Holmes. Sydney's work paid off as Holmes filled in capably, finishing as the club's leading rusher and posting two 100-yard games in the process — including a 163-yard effort against the Philadelphia Eagles, the sixth-highest single-game rushing total in team history.

A fullback during his 10-year pro playing career, Sydney played on Super Bowl championship teams in 1988 and '89 during a five-year tenure with San Francisco in which he served as the Niners' special teams captain.

In one subsequent season with the Packers, 1992, he was a substantial contributor to the cause, catching 49 passes for 384 yards and rushing for 163 yards in 51 carries while helping the Green and Gold post a 9-7 record, their second-best mark in a 20-year span.

Sydney earlier played in the United States Football League for three years and in the Canadian Football League for one season prior to joining the 49ers in 1987. A wishbone quarterback at the University of Kansas as a collegian, he moved to running back prior to his junior season and earned All-Big Eight honors at the position.

Sydney was an all-state performer in both football and basketball at Seventy-First High School in Fayetteville, N.C.

Possessor of a degree in criminal justice from the University of Kansas, Sydney owns a highly eclectic resume. In addition to having taught a high school psychology course on a "sabbatical" from pro football in 1986, he also reports having had a variety of odd jobs in earlier years — cook, factory worker, basketball referee and driver of a soft drink truck, among others.

Born Harry Flanroy Sydney III in Petersburg, Va., on June 26, 1959, he and his wife, Madonna, live in Green Bay with their eight children — Harry IV, Zachary, Nathan, Taylor, Krystal, Jacquie, Alyse and Eric.

MIKE TRGOVAC

Defensive Line

NFL Exp.: 5th Season

Packers Exp.: 1st Season

With 15 years of coaching experience at both the college and professional levels, Mike Trgovac brings his teaching skills to the Green Bay Packers in 1999 as the club's defensive line coach.

Trgovac (pronounced TER-guh-vak) was named to the Packers staff by Head Coach Ray Rhodes on January 18, 1999, after spending the past four seasons as defensive line coach with the Philadelphia Eagles.

In 1998, Trgovac's defensive linemen helped the Eagles finish third in the league in sack percentage and first overall against the pass. His 1995 defensive linemen totaled an NFL-best 42.5 sacks as the defense's 48 overall sacks led the NFC. That year's squad sent William Fuller and his 13 sacks to the Pro Bowl. Trgovac also saw two of his players — Hollis Thomas and Brandon Whiting — earn all-rookie honors during his Eagles tenure.

Before joining the Eagles in 1995, Trgovac had spent 11 years in the college ranks coaching defensive linemen. He received his start in 1984 as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, the University of Michigan, and also made coaching stops at Ball State (1986-88), Navy (1989), Colorado State (1990-91) and Notre Dame (1992-94), where he served as assistant head coach to Lou Holtz his final two years.

While coaching at Notre Dame, Trgovac had the pleasure of seeing two of his players become early selections in the 1994 NFL draft, the San Francisco 49ers selecting Bryant Young with the seventh pick in the first round and the Chicago Bears taking Jim Flanigan in the third round.

As a player at Michigan under Bo Schembechler (1977-80), Trgovac started three years at middle guard and was a second-team All-America selection as a senior, in addition to twice earning All-Big Ten Conference honors. He enjoyed trips to three Rose Bowls as Big Ten champions and also played in one Gator Bowl. Trgovac received his degree in education from Michigan in 1982.

An all-state football player and wrestler at Fitch High School in Austintown, Ohio, Trgovac was named Ohio's 'Defensive Lineman of the Year' and also captured the state heavyweight championship in wrestling as a senior.

Born February 27, 1959, in Youngstown, Ohio, Trgovac makes his home in De Pere, Wis., with his wife, Angela, and the couple's two children, daughter Jordan (born 5/24/94) and son Michael (born 11/8/98). Trgovac enjoys playing golf and spending time with his family in his spare time.

Defensive Backs

NFL Exp.: 21st Season

Packers Exp.: 1st Season

Joe Vitt, possessor of 20 years of NFL coaching experience with four other teams, joins Ray Rhodes' Green Bay staff in 1999 as defensive backs coach.

Vitt, named to the position on January 18, 1999, comes to the Packers after spending the past four seasons with Rhodes on the staff of the Philadelphia Eagles, where he coached linebackers. During the 1998 season, Vitt's linebacking corps helped the Philadelphia defense attain a No. 1 overall ranking against the pass.

In his first season with the Eagles in 1995, Vitt oversaw the development of linebacker William Thomas, who earned his first Pro Bowl berth. He also played a role in the success of the team's defense that year, a season which saw Philadelphia rank second in the NFL in pass defense and fourth in total yards allowed.

Vitt began his coaching career in 1979 with the then-Baltimore Colts, serving as the club's strength coach. In 1982, he joined the Seattle Seahawks in the same capacity, and a year later became the team's secondary coach under new head coach Chuck Knox, a position he held through the 1991 season. Vitt continued to coach with Knox after the latter became head coach of the Los Angeles Rams in 1992, serving as assistant head coach, while also continuing to coach the secondary.

In the collegiate ranks, Vitt was a linebacker at Towson State (Md.) from 1973-77, after playing football at Highland Regional High School in Blackwood, N.J.

Born August 23, 1954, in Syracuse, N.Y., Joe lives with his wife, Linda, in Green Bay. The couple has two children, a son, Joe, Jr. (born 3/3/81), a sophomore wide receiver at Towson State, and a daughter, Jennifer (born 1/26/82).

LIONEL WASHINGTON

Assistant Defensive Backs

NFL Exp.: 1st Season

Packers Exp.: 1st Season

Making his first foray into the coaching ranks, Lionel Washington joins the Green Bay Packers as assistant defensive backs coach in 1999 after a 15-year NFL playing career.

Washington, who was named to Ray Rhodes' staff on February 8, 1999, will assist defensive backs coach Joe Vitt with the coaching of the secondary, working specifically with the cornerbacks.

ASSISTANT COACHES

Originally a fourth-round selection of the then-St. Louis Cardinals in the 1983 NFL draft out of Tulane, Washington enjoyed one of the longest playing careers for a defensive back in pro football history, appearing in 205 games with 165 starts with the St. Louis Cardinals, Los Angeles/Oakland Raiders and Denver Broncos. He snared 37 career interceptions, returning four for touchdowns. In his career, Washington intercepted at least one pass in 13 of his 15 seasons, with at least three in each of five different campaigns, including a career-high eight in his rookie, 1983 season.

After playing four years with the Cardinals (1983-86), Washington was traded to the Los Angeles Raiders in 1987 and played for the Silver and Black through the 1994 season. In 1995, he signed with Denver and spent two years with the Broncos before returning to the Raiders in 1997 for one final season. Washington was out of football in 1998.

Washington was a three-year starter and four-time letterman at Tulane (1979-82), earning all-conference honors as a junior and senior. He also served as co-captain of the team his senior season. A sports administration and physical education major, he additionally lettered in track, running indoor and outdoor sprints — the 60-, 100-, 220- and 440-yard dashes.

A three-sport star at Lusher High School in New Orleans, Washington lettered four years each in football, basketball and track. Also an all-state performer in football and track, he captured the state 120-yard high hurdles championship as a prep senior.

Born October 21, 1960, in New Orleans, Washington lives in Green Bay. He has two children, a daughter, Lakaia (born 12/13/78), and a son, Deron (born 12/12/85).

KEN ZAMPESE

Offensive Assistant/Quality Control

NFL Exp.: 2nd Season

Packers Exp.: 1st Season

Ken Zampese, new to the Green Bay Packers in 1999, embarks upon his second NFL season as offensive assistant/quality control after spending last year with the Philadelphia Eagles.

In his role with the Packers, Zampese will assist quarterbacks coach Mike McCarthy, help with the preparation of the weekly game plan and chart defensive coverages on game days, in addition to duties involving game tape breakdown and analysis plus computer input.

Named to Ray Rhodes' staff on January 18, 1999, Zampese had spent nine years coaching at the collegiate level before joining the Eagles in 1998 as an offensive assistant. His coaching career began in 1989 on the defensive side of the ball — coaching the secondary — at his alma mater, the University of San Diego. Another secondary assignment followed at Southern California (1990-91), before he moved over to offense during stays at Northern Arizona (1992-95) and Miami of Ohio (1996-97), coaching a variety of positions, including wide receivers, quarterbacks and serving as offensive coordinator.

Zampese played wide receiver and was both a punt and kickoff returner at the University of San Diego (1985-88), earning special teams 'Player of the Year' honors as a senior. He earned an undergraduate degree in business at San Diego, and later received a master's degree in adult education from Southern California.

Earlier, Zampese graduated from the University of San Diego High School, where he played football, basketball and tennis.

Born July 19, 1967, in Santa Maria, Calif., Ken lives in De Pere, Wis., with his wife, Christine, and their two children, daughter Marina (born 11/16/96) and son Anthony (born 11/11/97).

PACKERS' FAN HALL OF FAME

For those who think they are the ultimate fan of the Green Bay Packer fans, the team has created an opportunity for fans to become a permanent part of the Packer Hall of Fame. The Packers, the first professional football team to have its own hall of fame, were part of another first in 1998, when they announced the establishment of the Green Bay Packers FAN Hall of Fame.

"I think it is entirely fitting that the Packers take a leading role in honoring their fans for their long-time loyalty and commitment — particularly when you consider that it is the fans who own this football team," Packers President Bob Harlan said in lending his wholehearted support to the program. "It is an idea that probably was long overdue."

In late December of last year, the inaugural honor was presented to Melvin "Mel" Knoke of Appleton, Wis. Knoke, 91-years old at the time he was chosen (he passed away in March of 1999), gained national recognition after doing an NFL Properties commercial which featured him on camera, announcing, "My name is Mel Knoke, and I feel the power," attended all but a dozen Packers home games over 71 years.

The proud owner of a homemade wooden Packer bowtie he wore nearly every waking moment, Mel attended his first Packers game with his wife Leone, then his girlfriend, at Green Bay's City Stadium. The couple, married for 64 years, attended their last game together at Lambeau Field on January 12, 1997 — the 1996 NFC Championship Game against the Carolina Panthers.

A long-time owner of four Packers season tickets, Knoke used them to introduce many of his friends to Lambeau Field, having entertained more than 275 different people at the home of the Packers. In the later years, after Mel no longer drove, he rented a limousine to transport himself, Leone and his guests to Lambeau.

The Green Bay Packers FAN Hall of Fame was launched jointly by the Packers and Packer Hall of Fame, in conjunction with five corporate sponsors. Fans nominate themselves or others for the honor by submitting an essay of 500 words or less, accompanied by a photo or a two-minute video, explaining why they or another person are the ultimate fan and should be recognized. Finalists are chosen by the FAN Hall of Fame selection committee, comprised of members of the Packer Hall of Fame Board of Directors and members of the Green Bay Packers' front office.

Ten finalists are chosen and profiled in the Milwaukee Journal Sentinel as well as on the Packers' official internet site — packers.com. Fans are given an opportunity to vote on the 10 finalists whose stories were profiled. Voting ballots are available in the Milwaukee Journal Sentinel, on-line through packers.com and at the corporate locations of the program's sponsors.

The nominee who receives the most votes each year is named as the honorary fan and is inducted into the FAN Hall of Fame. In recognition of being selected to the FAN Hall of the Fame, the winner receives four club seats to a Packers home game — at which acknowledgment is given on the Lambeau Field replay board — a $500 Packers Pro Shop gift certificate and a road trip for two to a Green Bay away game, including game tickets, air fare and hotel accommodations.

The honoree also is introduced during the Packer Hall of Fame induction dinner, held each March, and has his or her name displayed in a place of honor in the Packer Hall of Fame.

GORDON 'RED' BATTY

Equipment Manager

Gordon 'Red' Batty enters his sixth season as equipment manager for the Green Bay Packers, a position which sees him responsible for properly outfitting players with the safest and most advanced equipment, as well as ordering and maintaining all of the team's equipment and sideline apparel. Immediately prior to joining the Packers, he had spent 13 seasons (1981-93) in the same position with the then-Houston Oilers.

A 40-year-old native of Montreal, Batty remarkably is in his 27th season in the equipment field in 1999. He began his career in 1973 at the age of 14, working as a ball boy for the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Football League. Six years later, he was elevated to the position of equipment manager for the Alouettes. During Batty's tenure in Montreal, the Alouettes won two Grey Cups (1974 and '77).

Batty subsequently joined the Oilers in June of 1981, in the process becoming the NFL's youngest equipment manager at age 22. He now has been a participant in the NFL playoffs each of the last 12 seasons – the past five with Green Bay after seven straight postseason appearances with Houston. Batty also purports to be the first native-born Canadian to garner both a Grey Cup and Super Bowl ring, the latter distinction earned when the Packers culminated the 1996 campaign by capturing Super Bowl XXXI.

Holder of a league-wide reputation as one of the best in the business, Batty is part of the seven-member NFL equipment managers advisory council. He also previously has assisted NFL Properties with two of its events: The NFL Experience, a popular fan attraction staged at Super Bowl sites; and The NFL Quarterback Challenge, an annual competition held among the league's top passers.

Upon being named to the Packers' staff on January 24, 1994, Batty became only the fifth person in club history to hold the title of equipment manager.

Born November 18, 1958, in Montreal, Batty (pronounced BAT-ee) and his wife, Joanne, have one daughter, Chelsea (born 8/30/91), and one son, Cameron (born 7/28/96).

A devout fan of the National Hockey League, Batty has had the privilege of working several NHL All-Star Games and roughly 30 other league games. Additionally, he attended the final Canadiens game ever played at his famed home town Montreal Forum. He also continues to play the game of hockey himself and assists the local Green Bay Gamblers USHL hockey club whenever possible.

PEPPER BURRUSS

Head Trainer

One of the more visible people in the Packers organization, Pepper Burruss begins his seventh season as the team's head trainer, his 23rd in the NFL overall. Overseer of the club's medical care on a daily basis, Burruss, a certified athletic trainer and physical therapist, joined Green Bay in 1993 following 16 seasons with the New York Jets as an assistant athletic trainer.

The 45-year-old Burruss was hired by the Jets in 1977 after receiving his B.S. degree in physical therapy from Northwestern University Medical School. One year earlier, he had graduated with honors from Purdue University, where he earned a B.A. degree in health and safety education. At Purdue, Burruss was fortunate to be a student trainer working under a legend in the field, the late William 'Pinky' Newell.

The Jets' training staff was twice honored during his stint with the team. In 1985, they were the first-ever recipients of 'NFL Athletic Training Staff of the Year' recognition, an award given by their peers. The staff was honored again at the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA) clinical symposium in 1994 by former Jets defensive lineman Dennis Byrd, who credited the team's emergency care as a contributing factor in his miraculous recovery from quadriplegia. Byrd had suffered a fractured neck by virtue of an on-field collision in a 1992 game with Kansas City at the Meadowlands.

Professionally, Burruss has served two terms on the executive committee of the Professional Football Athletic Trainers Society (PFATS), first as an AFC assistant trainer representative, then as the NFC head trainer representative.

He is a native of Wappingers Falls, N.Y., where he attended Ketcham High School.

Born Thomas Pepper Burruss April 15, 1954, in Beacon, N.Y., he and his wife, Nancy, have one son, Shane (born 10/22/88), and one daughter, Christina (born 9/18/93). Also a medical practitioner, Nancy is a clinical nurse specialist for cardiothoracic surgery, along with serving as an assistant professor at Bellin College of Nursing in Green Bay.

Burruss currently serves on the resources development committee of the Green Bay YMCA and on the corporate board of Curative Rehabilitation Center in Green Bay.

A gifted public speaker, Burruss routinely gives lectures throughout the state of Wisconsin, armed with an extensive array of photo slides to supplement his presentation. His hobbies include collecting and studying firearms cartridges, in addition to home maintenance projects.

MARK LOVAT

Strength and Conditioning Assistant

From a football family, Mark Lovat returns to Green Bay for his third tour of duty with the Packers, his first in a full-time capacity. He was named as the team's strength and conditioning assistant on January 25, 1999, by Head Coach Ray Rhodes.

Lovat previously had served two summer internships (1992, 1998) in the club's weight room, working under new strength and conditioning coach Barry Rubin during his second stint.

An accomplished athlete himself, Lovat earned a Division I baseball scholarship to Butler University in Indianapolis, starting three seasons at shortstop and second base for the Bulldogs. He also received the 'Helen Tewksberry Award' for academic and athletic leadership during the course of his playing career.

Since graduating cum laude and with high honors from Butler in 1992 with a B.A. degree in Spanish and international studies, Lovat had spent the past six-and-a-half years at Lake Havasu City (Ariz.) High School, teaching Spanish as well as coaching football and baseball.

The son of former Green Bay offensive line coach Tom Lovat (1980, 1992-98), Mark earlier had graduated from Carmel (Ind.) High School, where he was a member of a state championship football team (1986) and captain of the baseball team (1988).

A member of the National Strength and Conditioning Association (N.S.C.A.), he also is a representative for Forge Strength Systems, a strength equipment company.

Born October 9, 1969, in Pocatello, Idaho, Lovat is single. He enjoys music and travel in his spare time.

AL TREML

Video Director

Al Treml, the only video director the Packers franchise has ever known, enters his 36th season of work for the club, the 33rd in a full-time capacity. In his position, he oversees the production and editing of all game and practice tapes for the organization's football operations, as well as the regular exchange of video with other teams. In addition, he is in charge of the purchase and maintenance of the team's vast array of video equipment.

Hired full-time by then-Packers head coach Vince Lombardi in March of 1967, Treml first began filming games for the team on a part-time basis in 1964 while still working for a Green Bay television station, his responsibilities then also included all film processing, printing and editing. He currently enjoys the longest continuous employment of anyone in the Packers organization.

A Green Bay native, Treml had been employed by local stations WFRV-TV (1960-63) and WBAY-TV (1964-67) as a news and sports photographer prior to joining the Packers. He was named 'TV Photographer of the Year' by the Wisconsin Press Photographers in 1960 and '62.

Elected by his peers in 1986 as the first chairman of the NFL Video Directors Committee, he subsequently served as co-chairman of the committee from 1992-98. He also presently sits on the digital technology committee, a group which studies future digital media use in the league.

Under Treml's direction, the Packers were the first club in the NFL to utilize non-linear digital editing, a system now used by 27 league teams.

Treml entered the Army in October of 1955, serving until 1958. He attended the Army Photo School in Ft. Monmouth, N.J., in '55, then spent two-and-a-half years as an Army photographer and lab technician in Orleans, France.

Once discharged from the Army, Treml worked for a small daily newspaper, the Twin City News Record in Neenah, Wis., as a photographer, engraver and lab worker before moving over into the television field.

Born December 3, 1936, in Green Bay, Treml graduated from the city's Central Catholic High School in 1955. He and his wife of 41 years, Judy, have six grown children – Terri Sanborn, Tom, Tracy Atkinson, Karen Oettinger, Gary and Tricia.

Treml, an avid collector of antique cameras, also enjoys watching college basketball, playing golf and traveling in his leisure time.

THE PLAYERS

Brett Favre, who joined the Packers in a 1992 trade, has been the most productive NFL quarterback over the past decade — from a touchdown pass standpoint — even though he spent the first two years of that period (1989-90) as a collegiate player at Southern Miss and the third (1991) languishing on the bench of the Atlanta Falcons as their third-string quarterback. Favre has thrown for 213 touchdowns in the last decade, outdistancing his closest competitors — Dan Marino (212), Warren Moon (212), Steve Young (205) and John Elway (198) — all of whom had the advantage of playing in the NFL over the entire period.

PRO: Athletic wide receiver and kick returner with outstanding speed, joins the Packers after three years with the Pittsburgh Steelers...Obtained from Pittsburgh this past April 6 in a trade for past considerations...Looks to return to level of play displayed during a promising 1996, rookie season, one which saw him lead the Steelers in kickoff returns...Suffered through two subsequent, injury-marred years in Pittsburgh, having missed all of 1997 with a knee injury and most of 1998 with two other ailments...Is now healthy and has performed well in all of the Packers' offseason mini-camps..."Jahine is a kid that we are very impressed with," says new Green Bay wide receivers coach Charlie Baggett. "We've seen him in the mini-camps here for the first time since we traded for him and he's been a pleasant surprise. He has a lot of speed and he can run. He's shown outstanding ability to catch the football and he can run after the catch. Plus, he's a punt and kick returner. He does a lot of things that you look for and we think he's going to be very instrumental in our program here..."Has made the most of mini-camp opportunities, with other Green Bay receivers being either injured or absent, to learn his new offense..."He's had the chance to play," continues Baggett. "He's jumped right in and picked up very well what we're doing. He's a very smart kid who can learn..."1998: Injuries, for the second consecutive season, greatly limited his playing time in final year with Pittsburgh...Preseason collarbone injury delayed personal start to season, with finger injury ultimately ending campaign...Saw action in three contests, was inactive for seven and landed on injured reserve for club's final six games...Posted 4 punt returns for 19 yards and 3 kickoff returns for 78 yards (26.0 avg.)...Was in the midst of a productive training camp when he suffered collarbone injury in practice leading up to Aug. 14 preseason contest at Philadelphia...Had produced 207 yards on 7 kickoff returns (29.6 avg.), 45 yards on 5 punt returns (9.0 avg.) and 86 yards on 3 receptions (28.7 avg.) before injury...Subsequently was inactive for final three preseason games and the first four regular-season contests...Returned to action for divisional battle at Cincinnati (Oct. 11), he returned 3 punts for 19 yards (both career highs) and 3 kickoffs for 78 yards (26.0 avg.), including a career-long 31-yard runback...Fielded 1 punt, with no return, in following week's contest vs. Buffalo (Oct. 18)...Saw action at Tennessee (Nov. 15) on special teams...Season came to premature end the following week as he fractured the ring finger on his left hand in practice Nov. 18...Consequently underwent corrective surgery and was placed on injured reserve, both the following day (Nov. 19)...1997: Was expected to contend for increased play at wide receiver in his second pro campaign before suffering offseason knee injury...Tore anterior cruciate ligament in his left knee on April 29...Subsequently underwent surgery on May 12...Placed on injured reserve on Aug. 18 and missed the entire season...1996: Saw action in nine games as a rookie with the Steelers, mostly in a special teams capacity...Led club with 19 kickoff returns for 425 yards (22.4 avg.)...Also had 2 punt returns for 6 yards...With the offense, totaled 6 receptions for 76 yards and had 1 rushing attempt for -3 yards...Made NFL debut at Jacksonville (Sept. 1), registering his first pro kickoff return (30 yards) and reception (4 yards)...Posted a 28-yard kickoff return to initiate club's first scoring drive in 17-7 victory at Kansas City (Oct. 7)...Also added 1 reception vs. the Chiefs, a career-long 26-yarder...Registered single-game career highs in kickoff returns (5) and return yards (91) at Houston (Oct. 20)...Followed with 3 returns for 76 yards (25.3 avg.) in 20-17 win at Atlanta (Oct. 27)...Sat out games nine through 15 with a back injury...Returned for regular-season finale at Carolina (Dec. 22) and made a career-high 2 receptions for 11 yards, also returning 2 punts for 6 yards...Contributed in Steelers' two postseason contests with 2 receptions for 16 yards, 10 punt returns for 111 yards (11.1 avg.) and 2 kickoff returns for 38 yards...Established postseason career bests with 5 punt returns for 77 yards, including a career-long 31-yarder, in AFC Wild Card contest vs. Indianapolis (Dec. 29)...Also had 2 kickoff returns for 38 yards in 42-14 victory...Snared 2 receptions for 11 yards in following week's AFC Divisional Playoff game at New England (Jan. 5)...Matched career high with 5 punt returns for 34 yards in Patriots contest...Was the second of two fourth-round draft choices (131st overall) by the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1996, he was picked with a free agency compensatory selection.

Ht: 6-5 Wt: 300 Born: 2/24/68 Acq: T-98.[HC]

PRO: An intense and tireless performer, Vaughn Booker became a valuable and timely addition to the defensive line in 1998 — particularly in the final weeks of the year — following his offseason acquisition from the Kansas City Chiefs via the trade route...Effective both inside and outside, he regularly spelled Reggie White at left end and Santana Dotson at defensive tackle during the first half of the season and later filled in impressively for an injured Vonnie Holliday (ankle) at right end down the stretch...Again in 1999, is more-than-likely slated to be a top backup on the defensive line...Emmitt Thomas, the Packers' new defensive coordinator, is impressed with the ex-Chief's versatility, saying, "For us, Vaughn Booker is a catch-all guy. He probably won't be a starter. We're going to throw it up there and give him a chance, but probably we're looking for him to give us some pass-rush, some fire zone dropping. He's a big guy that can drop like a linebacker and also stand there and play the run. We can use him inside at the tackle position. And we can use him at either end, so we're excited about his play. He gives us some good flexibility. He's a guy that weighs about 300 pounds, but still has great mobility and a real good feel for the game"...Was a three-year starter for the Chiefs (1995-97), for whom he made 33 starts in 56 games and amassed 164 tackles, including 7 sacks, over a four-season span...Was obtained in a trade with Kansas City on May 13, 1998, in exchange for defensive lineman Darius Holland...Originally joined the Chiefs as a free agent in 1994 following two seasons with Winnipeg of the Canadian Football League...A starter at defensive end for the Blue Bombers in both seasons (1992-93), he recorded 103 total tackles and 6 sacks before signing with the Chiefs prior to the '94 NFL season...1998: In his first season wearing the Green and Gold, he played in all 16 games for the second time in his career (also 1995), starting four of the last five games — including the final three — in Holliday's injury-forced absence...Additionally saw reserve duty in Packers' playoff loss at San Francisco...Totaled 19 tackles (14 solo), including 3 sacks...Also forced 2 fumbles, blocked an extra point and had 1 pass defended...Started his first game as a Packer, at right defensive end, Nov. 29 against Philadelphia, recording 3 tackles and a PAT block...Subsequently played nearly the entire game at Tampa Bay (Dec. 7) in place of Holliday (who was forced to leave the contest early), and contributed 2 tackles...Sacked Bears quarterback Steve Stenstrom on the first play of the regular-season finale at Chicago (Dec. 27), causing a fumble...Played perhaps his best game of the year Oct. 25 against Baltimore, when he posted 3 tackles and recorded his first sack of the season — an 11-yard trap of Ravens quarterback Eric Zeier...Also enjoyed a productive effort at Detroit (Oct. 15), forcing a fumble by the Lions' Tommy Vardell at the Green Bay 2-yard line among a season-high 4 total tackles while also batting down a Charlie Batch pass...Recorded 3 solo tackles, including a fourth-quarter sack, in the Packers' 36-22 victory over San Francisco (Nov. 1)...Earlier played a significant number of snaps across the defensive line in regular-season opener vs. Lions (Sept. 6) and saw extensive action at defensive end, plus at defensive tackle, in Green Bay's 23-15 victory over Tampa Bay (Sept. 13)...Missed a substantial portion of training camp after injuring his left ankle in practice on Aug. 5...Had surgery on Aug. 13, he did not return to the practice field until the week of the opener (Aug. 31)...1997: Started at left defensive tackle in 13 games during his final season with Kansas City, sitting out three contests (Sept. 28 vs. Seattle, Dec. 14 at San Diego and Dec. 21 vs. New Orleans) due to a knee injury...Ranked third on the defensive unit in quarterback pressures with 31 and posted a career-high 4 sacks...Also contributed 46 tackles (26 solo)...Sacked Seahawks' Warren Moon twice at Seattle (Nov. 23)...Made a season-high 7 tackles, including a sack, vs. San Diego (Oct. 16)...Posted 6 stops, plus a season-best 7 quarterback pressures, vs. Carolina (Sept. 14)...Had three other games of 5-or-more tackles...Sacked the Raiders' Jeff George, in addition to recording a forced fumble and a fumble recovery, vs. Oakland (Dec. 7)...Also started Chiefs' divisional playoff game against the Denver Broncos (Jan. 4), making 1 solo tackle...1996: Was hindered at the end of the season by an ankle injury, but still managed to see action in 14 games, making 10 starts...Continued to make progress in his third season with the Chiefs, registering a career-high 51 tackles (37 solo), as well as 1 sack, 1 fumble recovery and 2 forced fumbles...Also was fifth on the team in quarterback pressures with 43...Was credited with a career-best 10 tackles (8 solo), 2 QB pressures and a

PRO: A raw, yet talented speedster as a rookie last year, looks to further develop his NFL receiving skills in 1999...Made tremendous strides in his first year with the Packers after just one year of college football experience, club's coaching staff is eager to see if he can make equal advances in his play this season..."We're waiting for Corey to take it to the next level," says new Green Bay wide receivers coach Charlie Baggett. *"During our three offseason mini-camps, he's made tremendous improvement, but he still has a ways to go..."An outstanding athlete as well as a large target, has an opportunity to grasp a more influential role in this year's offense as club gears up for a more aggressive attack..."He's an outstanding athlete, a big target and he can run,"* Baggett continues. *"That's something we're looking to utilize this year, to help our receiver corps get deep. We're going to throw the ball a little deeper. Corey's the kind of kid who can do that. He can run and run, stretch the coverage. The thing that I look for is that he does continue to improve and not level off..."1998: Saw action in eight regular-season contests, was inactive for the other eight games...Played mostly on club's special teams, but began to participate with the offense beginning with the Packers' sixth game, at Detroit (Oct. 15), following a knee injury to Derrick Mayes 10 days earlier...Finished season with 3 receptions for 27 yards...Also contributed with 5 special teams tackles and 2 kickoff returns for 33 yards...Showed glimpses of potential all season long, particularly in NFC Wild Card playoff contest at San Francisco (Jan. 3), when he caught a career-high 2 passes for 53 yards, including a career-long 47-yard reception on the Packers' final offensive series which was the catalyst for Green Bay's go-ahead touchdown...Also registered a club-high 2 special teams stops vs. the 49ers...Earlier, had caught 1 pass for 10 yards and matched his career high with 2 special teams tackles at Tampa Bay (Dec. 7), but had to leave late in contest with hamstring injury which subsequently forced him to miss the club's final three regular-season games...Had first established career high of 2 special teams stops a month earlier in victory at the N.Y. Giants (Nov. 15), an occasion which also saw him register his initial NFL reception, an 18-yarder...Saw first extensive action of the season in win over San Francisco (Nov. 1), replacing an injured Bill Schroeder (ankle) at wide receiver and as a deep man on kickoffs; returned kickoff for 24 yards in contest, his first such effort as a pro...Played in first NFL game Sept. 27 at Carolina, participating on special teams...Inactive for Packers' first three games, plus Monday night tilt vs. Minnesota (Oct. 5) and game vs. Baltimore (Oct. 25)...Made team in part due to strong preseason showing, catching 3 passes for 30 yards and 1 touchdown as well as 3 special teams tackles...Drafted in the fifth round (150th overall) by Green Bay in 1998.

COLLEGE: Played just one season of college football (1997) at Jackson State...Began his football career after transferring from Hinds (Miss.) Community College, where he was on a track scholarship (1994-95)...Started all 11 games in his only college football season, and made 48 receptions for 937 yards (19.5 avg.) and a team-high 9 touchdowns...A first-team All-Southwestern Athletic Conference selection, he also was named SWAC 'Newcomer of the Year'...Also contributed 282 yards and 1 touchdown on 10 kickoff returns (28.2 avg.)...Averaged 117.2 all-purpose yards per game...Receiving yardage total (937) was third-best in school history...His 48 receptions and 9 TD catches each were the fifth-best one-season performances in team annals...A long-distance threat, 4 of his 9 touchdown receptions covered 50-or-more yards...Enjoyed a particularly productive day vs. Mississippi Valley State with 4 receptions for 111 yards and 1 TD, also gaining 116 yards on 3 kickoff returns with one going 83 yards for a touchdown...Turned in a memorable performance against Texas Southern, snaring 10 receptions for 200 yards and 3 TDs...Scampered 72 yards for a rushing touchdown vs. Arkansas-Pine Bluff...Hauled in an 81-yard touchdown pass in his first collegiate game, against Alabama State...Sat out the 1996 season for academic reasons after transferring from Hinds Community College...Earned two letters in track while at Hinds, finishing eighth in the triple jump and sixth in the long jump nationally in 1995...Majored in recreation administration.

PRO: Wiry, fearless and incredibly tough — both mentally and physically — Robert Brooks is poised to make yet another "comeback" after rebounding from nagging back and hamstring problems which hampered him throughout the 1998 season...His injuries required him to miss four games and settle for 31 catches and 420 yards, both modest totals for one of his superior talents...The sinewy South Carolinian, who underwent a second surgery early this past offseason (Jan. 6) to correct a disk problem in his lower back (after undergoing a similar operation during last year's training camp), is confident of once again returning to the NFL's 1,000-yard receiving elite...Pepper Burruss, the Packers' veteran head trainer, has reason to take the remarkably resilient wideout at his word, asserting, "On the basis of toughness per-pound, Robert Brooks has to be perhaps the toughest player I've ever been around in my 23 years in the NFL"...Burruss clearly considers Number 87 a legitimate medical marvel after seeing him rebound from a devastating, career-threatening knee injury to capture National Football League "Comeback Player of the Year" honors in 1997 with one of the most remarkable recoveries in pro football history...Punctuating his return to action by once again becoming a 1,000-yard receiver that season, he earned high praise and open admiration from the long-time trainer, who says in wonder, "Robert Brooks could set the standard for how someone should approach conditioning and rehabilitation. He made the greatest recovery I've ever seen in my years as a trainer"...The fleet flanker's spectacular comeback came as no surprise to Burruss or to Brooks' coaches and teammates...A classic example of grit, tenacity and commitment, he has proved throughout his pro career to be one of the most resolute and indomitable athletes in Packers' annals — a performer who openly thrives on challenges...When called upon to succeed the departed Sterling Sharpe as the "go-to-guy" in Green Bay's offense four years ago, he promptly proceeded to eclipse two of Sharpe's all-time club records with a season-long performance of rare brilliance, amassing 1,497 yards receiving to surpass Sharpe's previous mark of 1,461, and registering nine 100-yard receiving days, two more than Sharpe's 1992 record of seven...Then, in 1996, Brooks was presented with an even more formidable challenge when he suffered one of the most devastating knee injuries in team history in a game against San Francisco Oct. 14, tearing the anterior cruciate ligament, the patellar tendon and the medial collateral ligament in his right knee, along with incurring a significant bone chip...Aided by his strong Christian faith, he since has become something of a medical miracle, easily exceeding projections on the length of time his arduous rehab program would require and eliciting profound admiration from the team's training staff for his recuperative powers in the process. "We've seen anterior cruciates come back before and we've seen the patellar tendon come back before," says Burruss of that remarkable recovery, "but never the two together. His recovery is about 99 percent attributable to Robert's dedication and work ethic. He also has been blessed with an extremely strong faith."...One of those patently delighted with Brooks' incredible rehab success is Packers offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis, who observes, "He's such a great example — his work ethic is as good as anybody's I've ever been around. He's dedicated, he works hard. He's a great, great competitor — probably one of the toughest guys I've ever coached."...The former South Carolina Gamecock continued to invade the Packers' record book in 1997, following his story book recovery by pairing with Antonio Freeman to become the first wide receiver tandem in team annals to post companion 1,000-yard seasons, jointly amassing a team-record 2,253 yards (the old record was 2,130 by James Lofton/John Jefferson in 1983)...Brooks, with those 31 receptions last season, has climbed above both Carroll Dale and Billy Howton into seventh place on the Packers' lifetime receiving list with 306 career catches (for 4,225 yards and 32 touchdowns)...Closing out the 1998 season with 4,225 career receiving yards, he has become just the ninth receiver in team annals to scale the 4,000-yard plateau...Has made considerable inroads in the club's postseason record book despite missing the playoffs in 1996, holding two marks: Most Passes Caught (career) — 45; and Most Yards Catching Passes (career) — 651...Also shares three other club playoff records: Most Consecutive Games, One or More Pass Receptions — 11, an active string which he splits with teammate Dorsey Levens; Most Games, 100 or More Yards Pass Receiving (career) — 3 (with Freeman); and Most Consecutive Games, 100 or More Yards Pass Receiving — 2 in 1995 (with Sharpe and Freeman)...Additionally, his 15.3-yard career punt return average (14 for 214 yards) in the postseason is the NFL's all-time best, he also stands fourth in league playoff history for most career punt return yardage...Had held the record for longest pass reception in Green Bay postseason history — 73 yards at Dallas in the 1995 playoffs — until Freeman's 81-yard catch-and-run in Super Bowl XXXI at New Orleans in the 1996 postseason...Tied with three others for 22nd place in Packers career scoring with 210 points...Forever will remain a part of NFL record books as the eighth player in league history to catch a 99-yard touchdown pass, accomplished in Week 2 of 1995 at Chicago — also a team record...Holds two other club marks: Most Yards Catching Passes (season) — 1,497 in 1995; and Most Games, 100 or More Yards Pass Receiving (season) — 9 in 1995...Is the owner of 13 career 100-yard receiving games and two 1,000-yard seasons...Brooks' absence from the lineup for much of 1996 season was a major blow to the fans as well as the team...He had quickly become a folk hero as a first-year starter in 1995, endearing himself to the faithful by leaping into the stands to share his elation with them following his touchdown receptions...Lewis also applauds Brooks' penchant for jumping into the stands to share with the fans... "The fans love it," he says, "and I think it's something that just happened and became kind of contagious, and went through the team. The next thing we know it was all over the country — people were showing it. That's what football used to be like — that's the way it should be."...A productive player in whatever area he is called upon, led the NFL in kickoff returns in 1993 with a 26.6-yard average...Possesses a 24.3-yard career average on 51 kickoff returns, as well as an 8.8-yard average for 67 punt runbacks as a pro...1998: Started 12 regular-season games at flanker, including the first 11...Was inactive for the other four contests...Returned from late-season hamstring injury to start in NFC Wild Card playoff game at San Francisco...Ended injury-shortened year in a tie for fourth on the team in receptions with 31 (for 420 yards and 3 touchdowns)...Earlier had started in season opener vs. Detroit (Sept. 6), catching 1 pass for 11 yards — only 30 days following back surgery...Missed most of training camp after undergoing arthroscopic surgery Aug. 7 for a chronic lower back problem, returning to the practice field the week of the opening game (Aug. 31)...Did not practice much during the first month of the season — though he never missed a start — before going back to full-scale team workouts on Oct. 11...Had a 25-yard reception which led to a Green Bay field goal in the second quarter of win over Tampa Bay (Sept. 13)...Caught 5 passes for 67 yards, including a 16-yard scoring reception in the first quarter that he grabbed over his head while he was falling out of the end zone, in the Packers' 13-6 victory at Cincinnati (Sept. 20)...Made 3 receptions for 54 yards vs. Baltimore (Oct. 25), among them was a 28-yard TD reception early in the third quarter to boost Green Bay to a 21-0 lead in an eventual 28-10 victory...Had 3 catches for 48 yards vs. San Francisco (Nov. 1), including a 30-yard touchdown reception along the right sideline midway through the first quarter, giving the Packers a 16-0 lead in 36-22 triumph...Led the team with a season-high 6 receptions (for 60 yards) in 37-3 win at N.Y. Giants (Nov. 15)...Missed the fourth quarter of rematch with Vikings at Minnesota (Nov. 22) due to a pulled hamstring, an injury which also caused him to be inactive the next week against Philadelphia...Returned to play in Monday night contest at Tampa Bay (Dec. 7), but saw his streak of at least one reception in 26 consecutive regular-season games (29 with playoffs) snapped when he reinjured his hamstring, causing him to miss the majority of Bucs game...Subsequently was inactive for final three regular-season contests...Came back to catch 2 passes for 31 yards against the 49ers in the postseason (Jan. 3)...1997: Finished second on the team with 60 receptions (tied for 13th in the NFC) for 1,010 yards (10th in the NFC) and 7 touchdowns, thus becoming only the seventh player in team history to record three-or-more 50-catch seasons...Had a career-best 16.8-yard average per catch, first among the NFC's leading receivers...Selected as NFL 'Comeback Player of the Year' by the Pro Football Writers of America/Pro Football Weekly...Took on added responsibility of club's punt return duties for the playoffs, a role he had filled during his first three NFL seasons (1992-94)...After reaching the required 10 returns, he became the league's all-time postseason leader in career punt return average (15.3 yards)...Started 15 of the team's 16 regular-season games, plus all three playoff contests, including Super Bowl XXXII...Had started the first 10 games of the season at flanker until missing the Indianapolis contest (Nov. 16) after suffering a rib injury the previous week vs. St. Louis (Nov. 9)...Enjoyed six regular-season games where he averaged better than 20 yards per reception, including each of the last five contests...Started season opener vs. Chicago (Sept. 1) and led team with 71 receiving yards on 3 catches to "officially" launch his comeback campaign, his production including a diving, 18-yard touchdown reception from Brett Favre just before halftime, giving the Packers an 18-11 lead in the eventual 38-24 win; he also had made a 44-yard catch across the middle on the previous play to help set up his score...Led club in receiving at Philadelphia (Sept. 7) with 6 receptions for 90 yards...Made 4 catches for a team-high 72 yards in win over Miami (Sept. 14)...Had 92 yards receiving on 5 receptions vs. Minnesota (Sept. 21), including a 19-yard touchdown catch he snared between two Viking defenders late in the first quarter of 38-32 victory...Turned in an outstanding performance at Detroit (Sept. 28), when he caught a team-leading 9 passes for a career-high 164 yards — his lone 100-yard receiving day of the season and the 13th of his career...Led the team with 67 receiving yards (on 6 catches) at New England (Oct. 27), including a 20-yard touchdown reception late in the third quarter, giving the Packers a 21-10 lead in eventual 28-10 win...Scored the Packers' only offensive touchdown in 20-10 victory over Detroit (Nov. 2), when he caught a 26-yard scoring pass late in the second quarter; had a team-leading 77 yards receiving on 5 catches in the Lions rematch...Caught a 36-yard pass in the initial quarter to set up Green Bay's first touchdown in 45-17 triumph over Dallas (Nov. 23), but did not return to the game after that play when he suffered dizziness from an earlier hit...Scored the Packers' first touchdown of the game in 27-11 win at Minnesota (Dec. 1), pulling in a 18-yard strike from Favre while sandwiched among three defenders...Posted a touchdown reception for the second straight contest, snagging a 43-yard scoring pass late in the first quarter at Tampa Bay (Dec. 7) to give the Packers a 7-3 lead in the eventual 17-6, division-clinching win...Had 3 catches for 71 yards overall (23.7 avg.) in Bucs game...Caught a TD pass for the third consecutive game Dec. 14 at Carolina, when he snared a 20-yard pass between two defenders and barged into the end zone, giving the Packers a 14-0 lead in the first quarter of a 31-10 victory...Caught 4 passes for a team-leading 83 yards, playing just the first half, in the Packers' 31-21 win over Buffalo (Dec. 20), in the process scaling the 1,000-yard plateau for the second time as a pro...Was fourth among Green Bay receivers during the postseason with 7 catches for 73 yards...Was named 'Special Teams Player of the Week' by the NFL for the divisional playoff round after he returned 3 punts for 47 yards (a 15.7-yard average) in 21-7 win over Tampa Bay (Jan. 4); he also caught 1 pass for 21 yards...Made 3 receptions for 36 yards in 23-10, NFC Championship Game triumph at San Francisco (Jan. 11), including catches of 18 and eight yards on the Packers' opening drive; he also drew a 24-yard pass interference penalty on the team's initial possession, one which culminated in a field goal...Caught 3 passes for 16 yards in Super Bowl XXXII vs. Denver...1996: Made 23 receptions for 344 yards and 4 touchdowns in seven starts at flanker prior to his season-ending knee injury to rank eighth on the team...Posted two 100-yard receiving games — 5 catches for 130 yards and 2 TDs vs. Philadelphia (Sept. 9) and 8 receptions for 108 yards against San Diego (Sept. 15)...Caught an 18-yard pass for the game's first score in 37-6 thumping of Chicago (Oct. 6)...Suffered a concussion on the Packers' first offensive play at Seattle (Sept. 29), forcing him out for the remainder of the game and, in the process, ending his streak of consecutive games with at least one reception at 37...Had a 13-yard TD catch for game's opening score at Minnesota (Sept. 22)...Suffered season-ending injury on first offensive play vs. San Francisco (Oct. 14), tearing the anterior cruciate ligament and patellar tendon in his right knee while blocking the 49ers' Tyrone Drakeford on a running play to the opposite side of the field...Underwent surgery on Oct. 18 and was placed on injured reserve eight days later...1995: Started all 16 games for the second straight year, finishing with a team-record 1,497 yards on 102 receptions, including 13 TDs...En route, he became only the second player in club history to catch 100-or-more passes in a season, his total representing the third-highest in Green Bay annals, behind only Sharpe's 112 in 1993 and 108 in '92...Became only the fifth receiver in team history to post a 1,000-yard season, joining Don Hutson, Howton, Lofton and Sharpe...Also became just the ninth receiver in Packer annals to post as many as two 50-catch seasons...First-team All-Pro choice of USA Today...Also named to 'All-Madden Team' by Fox Sports analyst John Madden...Was one of nine National Football League players to have at least 100 catches, he finished eighth in the NFC in receptions and fifth in receiving yards...In addition, his 13 receiving touchdowns tied him for fourth in the conference and equaled — at the time — the third-best one-season total in club annals...Also ranked seventh in conference scoring among non-kickers with 78 points...Had three consecutive 100-yard games during a mid-season stretch (at Detroit Oct. 29, at Minnesota Nov. 5 and vs. Chicago Nov. 12), one shy of the team record and the first such trifecta by a Packers receiver since Lofton turned the trick in 1984...Four times he caught 2 touchdown passes in a game and had six contests with at least 8 receptions...Made a minimum of 4 catches in 16 of the Packers' 17 games, including playoffs, the exception being a 2-reception effort vs. Minnesota (Oct. 22)...His 29 third-down receptions ranked sixth in the NFC...Had a team-leading 8 receptions for 70 yards in opener with St. Louis (Sept. 3)...Named NFC 'Offensive Player of the Week' for his outstanding performance at Chicago (Sept. 11), when he caught 8 passes for a season-high 161 yards and 2 touchdowns...One of the latter was an NFL record-tying, 99-yard scoring reception from Favre early in the second quarter, which also was a new team record (previously held by Billy Grimes, who collaborated with Tobin Rote on a 96-yard hookup at San Francisco Dec. 10, 1950), and only the eighth time in league history that this feat had been accomplished...Made 5 catches for 47 yards, including a 19-yard TD reception midway through the second quarter (after which he executed his first 'Lambeau Leap') in win over N.Y. Giants (Sept. 17)...Caught a six-yard TD pass at Jacksonville (Sept. 24) among 4 receptions for 30 yards vs. Jaguars...Had 10 receptions for 124 yards at Dallas (Oct. 8)...Caught his fifth touchdown pass of the season — a 12-yarder midway through the third quarter — and had 4 catches for 66 yards overall in win over Detroit (Oct. 15)...Had his third 100-yard receiving day of the season in rematch at Detroit (Oct. 29) when he totaled 127 yards on 6 receptions, including a weaving 77-yard TD late in the second quarter, the second-longest of his career...Posted his second consecutive 100-yard receiving game Nov. 5 at Minnesota, snaring 9 passes for 120 yards...Turned in another outstanding performance, this time vs. Chicago (Nov. 12), when he caught 6 passes for 138 yards and 2 TDs (covering 29 and 44 yards) in key divisional triumph over Bears for third straight 100-yard day...Registered sixth 100-yard game of the season in win over Tampa Bay (Nov. 26), catching 6 passes for 114 yards and 2 TDs — a 54-yard reception late in the second quarter and a three-yard scoring catch midway through the fourth quarter...Had a team record-tying seventh 100-yard receiving game of the season in Buccaneers rematch at Tampa (Dec. 10)...Established a new club record with his eighth 100-yard effort of the season at New Orleans (Dec. 16), when he caught 5 passes for 118 yards and 2 touchdowns — on first-half scoring strikes of 17 and 40 yards...Extended his own team record with his ninth 100-yard receiving game of the season Dec. 24 vs. Pittsburgh, when he caught a career-high 11 passes for 137 yards and a touchdown, including 8 receptions (for 116 yards) in the first half plus another 3 after halftime to surpass the century mark...Continued to excel in the playoffs, starting all three games and leading the team in receptions (17), receiving yards (281) and touchdown catches (3)...Helped fuel Packers' 37-20, wild-card victory over the Falcons (Dec. 31), snaring 1 TD among 7 receptions for 73 yards...Posted 103 yards on 4 catches in 27-17 upset win over defending Super Bowl champion San Francisco 49ers (Jan. 6) at 3Com Park...Notched second consecutive 100-yard receiving day in NFC Championship Game at Dallas (Jan. 14) with 105 yards on 6 receptions — including a then-Green Bay postseason record 73-yard scoring pass from Favre and a second TD late in the third quarter which gave the Packers a 27-24 lead heading into the final period...1994: Starting all 16 games for the first time, he entrenched himself as a quality, starting NFL receiver, pulling in 58 passes for 648 yards and 4 touchdowns...Teamed with Sharpe to give the Packers their first pair of wide receivers with 50-plus catches in a season since 1983, when Lofton and Jefferson engineered a similar parlay...Also became the first Packer to return both a punt and a kickoff for touchdowns in the same season since the late Travis Williams accomplished the feat in 1969, and set a then-club season record for punt returns with 40 runbacks...Was third on the team and tied for 18th in the National Football Conference in receptions, averaging 4.25 catches per game over the final eight games of the season (34 total)...Also a highly productive performer in the postseason, he turned in consecutive 100-yard offensive performances in the '94 playoffs, posting 101 yards in a 16-12 wild-card victory over Detroit (Dec. 31), with 7 receptions for 88 yards and 13 additional yards on 1 rushing attempt — the longest run from scrimmage by either team in the contest...Subsequently had 161 total yards in divisional playoff loss at Dallas (Jan. 8), equaling his season best with 8 catches for 138 yards, including a long of 59 yards, and 2 rushes for 23 yards...Averaged 8.8 yards (seventh in the NFC) on punt returns and an imposing 28.9 yards for 9 kickoff returns...Caught at least one pass in every game, including a season-high 8 for 74 yards against Atlanta in the Packers' last game at Milwaukee County Stadium (Dec. 18), three of his receptions coming on the final, game-winning drive (two for first downs)...Had posted the first 100-yard receiving game of his pro career a week earlier against the Chicago Bears, making 6 receptions for 105 yards and 1 touchdown in 40-3 victory...Registered a 96-yard kickoff return for a score and caught 4 passes for 79 yards at Detroit (Dec. 4)...Made 3 catches for 32 yards, including an 11-yard touchdown reception on the Packers' opening drive of the game, in a 17-10 win over the N.Y. Jets (Nov. 13)...Had one of his better days as a pro vs. Detroit (Nov. 6), when he caught 2 TD passes from Favre (of 12 and 28 yards) in Packers' 38-30 win over Lions — the first multiple-touchdown game of his NFL career...Earned NFC 'Special Teams Player of the Week' honors after posting momentum-swinging, 85-yard scoring punt return vs. L.A. Rams (Oct. 9) midway through the third quarter, tying the game at 17-17 in eventual 24-17 victory...Started first game since his '92 rookie season in opener vs. Minnesota (Sept. 4) and responded with 4 catches for 35 yards...1993: Played in 14 games and supplemented his contributions as a receiver by emerging as a premier kickoff returner, averaging 26.6 yards per runback to lead the NFL, thus becoming the first Packer to lead the league in this specialty since Steve Odom captured NFL honors in 1978...Served as primary backup at both wide receiver positions...Closed out season as team's sixth-ranking receiver with 20 catches for 180 yards...Also averaged 8.4 yards on 16 punt returns after assuming those duties from Terrell Buckley beginning with the Kansas City game (Nov. 8) and continuing until incurring a shoulder separation late in the Chicago contest (Dec. 5), which caused him to be inactive for the next two games...Returned to action vs. L.A. Raiders (Dec. 26), although he had no receptions...Turned in outstanding performance at Dallas (Oct. 3), returning a third-quarter kickoff 95 yards for a touchdown, the Packers' first scoring return of a kickoff since 1991...Averaged 44.5 yards on 2 KOR, including a 68-yarder on the opening kickoff, in 30-27 win over Denver (Oct. 10)...Caught his first pass of season at Minnesota (Sept. 26)...Had outstanding day on returns at New Orleans (Nov. 14), averaging 30.5 yards on 2 KOR and 24 yards on 2 punt returns, including a 35-yarder...Snared 4 passes for 56 yards at Chicago before suffering shoulder separation...Made significant contributions during playoffs, particularly on special teams, returning 2 punts for 43 yards in 28-24 wild-card victory at Detroit (Jan. 8) and amassing 134 all-purpose yards in 27-17 loss to Dallas (Jan. 16), including an acrobatic 13-yard touchdown catch in the third quarter...1992: Played in all 16 games, making one start...Caught 12 passes overall (for 126 yards and 1 touchdown) to rank ninth on the team...Finished second among both Green Bay punt and kickoff returners, averaging 9.3 yards for 11 punt returns and 18.8 yards for 18 kickoff runbacks...Caught first career TD pass vs. Pittsburgh (Sept. 27), an eight-yard slant and fade, beating the Steelers' Rod Woodson in the fourth quarter...Earlier had seen action at wide receiver vs. Minnesota (Sept. 6) in three- and four-receiver sets, starting as Packers opened game with three WRs...Drafted in the third round (62nd overall, and seventh wide receiver) by Green Bay in 1992.

COLLEGE: Set South Carolina career receiving record with 19 touchdown catches, surpassing Sharpe's previous mark of 17...Also established all-time SC record with 76 career kickoff returns...Ranked second (to Sharpe) in school history in career receptions (156) and receiving yards (2,211)...A four-year starter for the Gamecocks (1988-91), he also lettered three years in track...Led team in receiving all four years, including a career-high 55 catches (for 684 yards, 5 TDs) as a senior...Earned B.S. degree in retailing.

PERSONAL: Given name Robert Darren Brooks...Nicknamed 'Shoo-in'...Born in Greenwood, S.C. ...Married to Diana, has one son, Robert Daniel (born 8/17/98), and a stepson, Austin (born 2/10/92)...Lettered three years in football, starting his last two seasons at tailback, and three years in track at Greenwood (S.C.) High School...An all-area, all-region and all-state choice as a senior, he rushed for 780 yards and 14 touchdowns in nine games, missing three contests due to injury...Named as team's 'Most Valuable Player'...Also was a two-time state champion in track (300 intermediate hurdles and 110 high hurdles)...Scored 5 touchdowns and made an interception on defense in the first organized football game in which he ever played — at the age of 6...President of his own record company, 'Shoo-in 4 Life Records, Inc.,' located in Columbia, S.C. ...Musically-oriented, also is a self-taught keyboard player...Released a CD single, Jump, in August of 1996, which he wrote, arranged, performed, produced and mixed...Followed that up with the release of a 12-track CD, Down Wit' tha Bay, in September of 1996...Has plans to release more songs off the 'Shoo-in' label...Actively maintains his own high-quality website on the internet (www.robertbrooks.com), which tells about all aspects of his life in addition to providing the opportunity to purchase his music...Also is particularly fond of fishing...A devout Christian, founded the 'Men of God' ministry this past May...Has held the 'Robert Brooks Football Camp,' designed for kids ages 8-18, in the Green Bay area each of the past three summers...Equally talented as a barber, has been known to cut the hair of his teammates at the Packers' facilities...Popularized the consumption of all-natural juices in 1996 (fruit and vegetable), a trend which eventually extended nearly team-wide; he first began blending and drinking the concoctions himself during the 1995 season, and credits his personal use as a contributing factor in the rehabilitation of his major knee injury...Along with Packers teammate LeRoy Butler, threw out the first pitch at the Milwaukee Brewers' 1996 Opening Day...Locally has worked on behalf of Special Olympics, including 'Packer Roast '96' in Green Bay which saw him roasted by a collection of friends and teammates; the Salvation Army; the United Way; and the Leukemia Society...Has been involved in the 'Outreach' program and with the Red Cross in Columbia, S.C. ...Also enjoys any charity work "pertaining to God"...Splits residence between Green Bay and Phoenix.

PRO: Annually one of the more dominant "inside" defensive players in the National Football League, "The Gravedigger" has been a continuing force in the Packers' defensive line since 1995...And, while entrenching himself in the heart of the front four, the massive Detroit native has become both a fan favorite and something of a folk hero in the process...Has the ability to consistently knock opposing offensive linemen off the ball...In 1999, he quickly has caught the discriminating eye of Emmitt Thomas, the Packers' new defensive coordinator, who is expecting even more of Gilbert in 1999 — from a playing time perspective — than was the case a year ago... "We expect to get at least 10 more plays per game from him than he played last year," Thomas says of the seven-year pro. "We expressed that to him and he said he's ready to do it. Looking in from the outside before we came here, we always held him in high regard as one of the top defensive linemen in the league. We're excited about him — we're expecting great things. He's a consummate run-stopper. He is very strong and handles the double-team very well — he can split the double-team. He's also an excellent two-gapper. When it gets cold up here and the weather is bad and the other team gets to pounding the ball, we need that kind of a guy inside to help us stop the run."... Over Brown's first six pro seasons the primary impediment to optimum performance for the 28-year-old wide-body has been injury, a factor which caused him to sit out three games in both the 1994 and 1995 seasons and four games in 1997... With the aid of an accelerated conditioning program, he avoided measurable down-time in 1998, starting all 16 games for the second time in his career... When in good health, he has effectively controlled the line of scrimmage, as best demonstrated in 1996 when — as a first-time starter — he opened in all 16 games and played a major role in the Packers' miserly defense, which yielded only 19 touchdowns over the regular season to set a league record... Mike Trgovac, the Packers' new defensive line coach, also has high expectations of Number 93... "Any time you have a guy with his body type, who is as strong and as quick as he is, he has to be accounted for," Trgovac says. "They have to put two people on him."... Originally drafted by Minnesota in 1993, he subsequently was waived by the Vikings on the final cutdown and claimed by the Packers... Later a much-coveted, unrestricted free agent following the 1996 season, he chose to re-sign with Green Bay (Feb. 18, 1997)... "Everybody knew how I felt," Brown said of his decision to remain with the Packers. "Nobody really gave me a chance once Minnesota let me go. Green Bay gave me a chance and my loyalty is to Green Bay. My heart was here."... 1998: Relatively injury-free and in excellent cardiovascular shape throughout the season as the result of a rigorous conditioning program, was aided by the Packers' rotation system across the defensive line which allowed him to be spelled periodically by Bob Kuberski and Billy Lyon... Recorded 30 tackles while starting all 16 regular-season games, plus playoff loss to San Francisco, at nose tackle... Was especially effective down the stretch in the Packers' three cold-weather games to close out the league schedule, totaling one-third of his '98 stops in that span... Made a season-high 4 tackles in initial meeting with Bears, Dec. 13 at Lambeau Field... Had 3 stops a week later as the Packers held Tennessee running back Eddie George to just 30 yards rushing on 15 carries (Dec. 20)... Forged 3 tackles at Chicago (12/27) in regular-season finale, including an important stuff of the Bears' James Allen for a one-yard loss on third down at the Green Bay 2-yard line; Chicago was forced to settle for a short field goal which tied the game at 13 in the eventual 16-13 Packers victory... Matched his season high with 4 tackles in NFC Wild Card playoff contest at San Francisco (Jan. 3)... Earlier had been a key component of a Green Bay defensive line which distinguished itself in the first three weeks of the season, holding the Lions' Barry Sanders to 70 yards rushing in the opener to snap his personal streak of 100-yard rushing games at an NFL-record 14 (Sept. 6), then limiting Tampa Bay's formidable running attack to just 50 yards in a 23-15 victory (Sept. 13), and restricting Cincinnati to only 28 yards rushing in a 13-6 win (Sept. 20)... Helped hold the Panthers' offense to a modest 230 yards in Green Bay's victory at Carolina by way of 3 tackles (Sept. 27)... Contributed 3 stops at Detroit (Oct. 15), but suffered a slight ankle sprain... Had suffered a groin injury during training camp (Aug. 21) which kept him out of the final two preseason games, though he did return to practice the week of the regular season opener (Aug. 31)... 1997: Started 12 regular-season games, plus all three playoff contests, including Super Bowl XXXII... Was inactive for four games — and missed parts of others — due to separate knee and ankle injuries... Started the first five games, then was inactive for two contests because of a knee problem, returned to start the next seven games before missing the final two games with an ankle injury... Came back to start the three playoff games... Finished regular season with 26 tackles, including 3 sacks (a total which equaled his career high), and 1 pass defended... Enjoyed a productive postseason, registering 12 tackles (11 solo) to rank sixth on the team (second among defensive linemen), forcing 1 fumble and being credited with 1 pass defended... Helped limit the Prospectors to only 33 yards rushing in 23-10, NFC Championship Game victory over the 49ers at San Francisco (Jan. 11)... Had 5 tackles vs. Tampa Bay in the divisional playoff a week earlier (Jan. 4), including 4 stops and a forced fumble among the Buccaneers' first nine running plays... Matched his season high with 6 stops in Super Bowl defeat at the hands of Denver (Jan. 25)... Posted 4 tackles, including a sack, in 38-24, opening day win over Chicago (Sept. 1)... Recorded a sack among 2 tackles at Philadelphia (Sept. 7)... Saw limited duty in three early-season games due to a strained knee suffered in the first quarter against Miami (Sept. 14)... Subsequently was inactive for games 6 and 7 (vs. Tampa Bay and at Chicago) and was aided in his rehabilitation by Green Bay's ensuing bye week... Returned to start at New England (Oct. 27) following the bye and made his presence felt with 4 tackles and one-half sack... Enjoyed second impressive outing in a row following his return, this time vs. Detroit (Nov. 2), when he had 5 tackles, including one-half sack, and batted down a

Scott Mitchell pass...Made a season-best 6 tackles in Packers' 17-7 win over St. Louis (Nov. 9)...Subsequently suffered a high sprain of his right ankle a week later on the Colts' seventh play from scrimmage at Indianapolis (Nov. 16) and did not return in the 41-38 loss...Started the following game vs. Dallas (Nov. 23) and his presence helped stifle the Cowboys' vaunted running game, though he played only on a spot basis after not practicing throughout the week...Had 1 stop at Tampa Bay (Dec. 7), helping the Green Bay defense hold the Buccaneers to just 67 yards rushing...Was inactive for the team's final two regular-season games — at Carolina (Dec. 14) and vs. Buffalo (Dec. 20) — while attempting to heal nagging ankle injury...1996: Started all 16 games for the first time as a pro and led all Green Bay defensive linemen with a career-high 56 total tackles, 26 better than his previous career best of 30 in 1994...Also registered 1 sack, 1 forced fumble and 1 pass defended...Additionally started all three playoff games at nose tackle, including Super Bowl XXXI...Named to the 'All-Madden Team' by Fox Sports analyst John Madden...Had his most productive day of the season, statistically, at Seattle (Sept. 29) with a career-high 7-tackle effort...Also had a standout performance in the Packers' second win over Chicago (Dec. 1), forging 6 tackles and batting down a Dave Krieg pass...Had 5-stop performances against San Francisco (Oct. 14), Tampa Bay (Oct. 27), at Kansas City (Nov. 10) and vs. Minnesota (Dec. 22)...Posted his lone sack of the season against the Lions in his hometown of Detroit (Dec. 15)...Forced a fumble by the Bucs' Jerry Ellison in the first quarter of the opener at Tampa Bay (Sept. 1)...Continued to exert a dominant presence in the postseason, posting 8 tackles in the playoffs...Was a key reason why the featured ball carriers of the 49ers (Terry Kirby), Panthers (Anthony Johnson) and Patriots (Curtis Martin) gained only 14, 31 and 42 yards rushing, respectively, in the Packers' three playoff games...Forced a fumble by Johnson (recovered by LeRoy Butler) in the NFC title game which deflated Carolina's hopes on its drive immediately following Green Bay's assumption of a 27-13 lead in an eventual, 30-13 victory (Jan. 12)...Registered 2 solo tackles in Super Bowl triumph over New England (Jan. 26)...1995: Assumed starting role at defensive tackle beginning with Cleveland game (Nov. 19), giving Packers' run defense a major lift...Saw action in 13 games, starting seven, over the course of the season...Finished the regular season with 27 tackles (18 solo)...Had returned nicely from torn anterior cruciate ligament injury suffered late in the 1994 season, coming back in time for the opener against St. Louis (Sept. 3)...Suffered additional setback, however, when he sprained a ligament in his left elbow in Rams contest...Was inactive for three successive games before returning against Dallas (Oct. 8)...Started his first game of the season at Detroit (Oct. 29) as Packers opened in their 'nickel' package and equaled his season high with 4 tackles...Also made 4 stops vs. the Browns and Buccaneers (Nov. 26)...In his first game back as a full-time starter, provided a strong inside surge at Cleveland, which played a big role in stopping a Browns fourth-and-one play at the Green Bay 10-yard line in the waning minutes of the game, giving the Packers the ball back to run out the clock in 31-20 victory...Practiced for the first time coming off knee injury prior to the final preseason game vs. Washington (Aug. 25)...Starter in team's three postseason games, posting all 3 of his tackles in playoff win over Atlanta (Dec. 31)...Left upset win at San Francisco (Jan. 6) late in the first quarter with a left knee contusion, but returned to start the following week in NFC Championship Game at Dallas...1994: Played in 13 games with one start (vs. Miami Sept. 11, his first NFL start) before suffering a season-ending tear of the anterior cruciate ligament in his left knee at Detroit (Dec. 4)...Was placed on injured reserve Dec. 6 and underwent corrective surgery Dec. 12...Frequently replaced Steve McMichael on second and third down, his playing time increased as the season progressed up until he was hurt...Finished fourth among the team's defensive linemen with 30 tackles (18 solo), including 3 quarterback sacks...Twice equaled his season best with 4-tackle efforts — at Chicago Oct. 31, including a sack of the Bears' Erik Kramer, and at Buffalo Nov. 20, among them a sack of the Bills' Jim Kelly...Also played a major role in helping the Green Bay defense limit the Vikings to only 1.2 yards per rush at Minnesota (Oct. 20)...Earlier was a key factor in restricting former high school teammate Jerome Bettis to 65 yards rushing in victory over L.A. Rams (Oct. 9) as Packers permitted only 2.7 yards per rush...Registered his first career sack at Philadelphia (Sept. 18), felling the Eagles' Randall Cunningham...Saw extensive action from scrimmage in opener vs. Minnesota (Sept. 4) as Packers held the Vikings to an average of 2.8 yards per rush...1993: Although he played in only two games after being claimed on waivers from the Minnesota Vikings Aug. 31, he exhibited sufficient skills to convince Green Bay coaches he had a chance to play at the NFL level...Did not play in three games and was officially inactive for the other 11...Got initial playing time as a Packer against Denver (Oct. 10) after being inactive for first four games...Later played at Tampa Bay (Oct. 24) and quickly made his presence felt, registering a solo tackle on his first play from scrimmage...Also was on active roster for four other games — at Kansas City (Nov. 8), vs. Detroit (Nov. 21), vs. Tampa Bay (Nov. 28) and at Chicago (Dec. 5) — but did not play...Saw reserve duty in Detroit playoff game (Jan. 8), then again was on active roster, though he did not play, in Dallas postseason contest the following week (Jan. 16)...Second of two third-round draft choices (79th overall) by Minnesota in 1993.

THE PLAYERS

COLLEGE: Started 35 games in four seasons at the University of Kansas (1989-92)...Tied for sixth in school history in tackles by a defensive lineman with 168 and fifth in career tackles for loss with 30...Also had 7½ career sacks...Finished second on the team in sacks, tackles for loss and fumbles recovered in 1991 while helping the Jayhawks hold opponents to an average of 150.9 yards per game on the ground, then the best run defense at Kansas since 1968...A year earlier, as a sophomore, was named as Jayhawks' 'Co-Defensive Most Valuable Player' and earned second-team All-Big Eight recognition...Started nine games at nose guard as a freshman...An All-Academic Big Eight selection in 1991...Majored in human development.

PERSONAL: Given name Gilbert Jesse Brown...Nicknamed 'The Gravedigger'...Born in Detroit...Single...Has a son, Jamal (born 3/5/93)...Recorded 89 tackles and 10 sacks his senior year at Detroit's MacKenzie High School to earn all-state honors...Played both nose guard and offensive tackle...Also lettered in track, competing in the shot put and the 100- and 200-meter dashes...Gained a measure of notoriety late in the 1996 season through his highly-publicized consumption of the 'Gilbertburger' — a Double Whopper with extra everything, cut in half with extra cheese, no pickles — always obtained from the Oneida St. Burger King in Green Bay...Favorite pastimes: spending time with his son and reading...Splits residence between Detroit and Green Bay.

Defensive End

College: Tennessee

NFL Exp.: 2nd Season

Packers Exp.: 2nd Season

Ht: 6-4 Wt: 266 Born: 11/28/75 Acq: D3-98

PRO: Having fully rebounded from a lingering foot injury which hampered him for the better part of his 1998, rookie season, appears poised to become a designated pass-rusher this year in Green Bay's new defensive scheme...Saw spot duty, mostly on special teams, near the end of his inaugural campaign, which had begun with his selection in the third round of the April draft...Catching up with the quarterback was his forté at the University of Tennessee, where he developed into one of the premier sack specialists in the school's distinguished football history, etching his name alongside the legendary Reggie White in the Volunteers' record book...Packers defensive coordinator Emmitt Thomas, assessing the second-year pro's assets, says of him, "Jonathan Brown is something like Keith McKenzie. They're both undersized defensive linemen — bigger than the normal linebacker — but can be used in several different kinds of packages, and can help on special teams. We think that all of his football is ahead of him. We would like to use him in third-down and second-and-long situations — on obvious passing downs..."Was bothered in training camp and halfway through the regular season last year by residual soreness from 1997 surgery on his right foot while a senior at Tennessee...1998: Backed up at both defensive end positions during his rookie season...Played in four of the Packers' final five games, primarily as a member of the special teams, after being active for the first 11 games...Also was inactive for contest at Tampa Bay (Dec. 7) and NFC Wild Card playoff game at San Francisco...Received his first game action in the Green and Gold late in the third quarter of win over Philadelphia (Nov. 29)...Later played some at defensive end against Chicago (Dec. 13) and Tennessee (Dec. 20)...Had registered 10 tackles, 1 fumble recovery and 1 pass defended during the preseason...Missed chunks of practice time during the preseason due to his continuing foot problems...Drafted in the third round (90th overall) by Green Bay in 1998.

COLLEGE: Was a two-year starter and four-time letterman (1994-97) at Tennessee...Finished with 25 career sacks to rank third in school history, behind only the 32 of the all-time leader and his former Green Bay teammate, White, and after his former college teammate Leonard Little (28), who now plays for the St. Louis Rams...Earned All-Southeastern Conference honors as a senior, when he led the SEC with 13½ sacks and had five multiple-sack games...Totaled 115 tackles (74 solo), 4 fumble recoveries, 6 forced fumbles, 2 passes defended and 8 stops for loss as a collegian, while playing in 45 career games with 26 starts...Authored a five-game sack streak in 1996...Enjoyed a memorable collegiate debut in 1994 game against UCLA, recording 4 tackles, including a sack and another stop for loss...Majored in psychology.

PERSONAL: Given name Jonathan Bernard Brown...Nicknamed 'J.B.'...Born in Chickasha, Okla. ...Single...Was an All-America selection by SuperPrep and Blue Chip Illustrated as a senior at Booker T. Washington High School in Tulsa, Okla. ...A four-year starter and three-time all-conference pick as a defensive tackle, he also played guard and tackle on the offensive line...Was named district 'Player of the Year' as a senior, when he recorded 14 sacks among 118 total tackles...A versatile athlete, he also was a three-year letter winner in basketball (power forward) and track (shot put)...Was a member of the National Honor Society...Hopes to one day establish a community involvement program in his hometown of Tulsa with R.W. McQuarters, the San Francisco 49ers' 1998 first-round draft choice and a close friend from their elementary and high school days...Along with McQuarters, recently purchased championship rings for members of their prep alma mater's football team...Also attended high school with De'Mond Parker, one of Green Bay's 1999 fifth-round picks...Was the best man in the wedding of Marcus Nash, a former teammate at Tennessee who was a 1998 first-round draft choice of the Denver Broncos...Spent time speaking to Tulsa-area high schools and other youth groups this past offseason...Along with teammates Rob Davis and Matt Hasselbeck, spent a week in Germany this past summer on a morale-boosting visit with U.S. Army personnel stationed overseas and their families...Was involved with the 'Say No to Drugs' and 'Stay in School' campaigns while a student at Tennessee...Hobbies include listening to music...Residence: Tulsa, Okla.

LeROY BUTLER

PRO: Fully certified as the preeminent strong safety in the National Football League, and solidly entrenched as the team's elder statesman, irrepressible LeRoy Butler this season takes on an expanded role as the acknowledged leader of Green Bay's defense in the wake of Reggie White's retirement...New Packers defensive coordinator Emmitt Thomas expects the colorful, 10-year pro — the team's oldest performer in terms of service in the Green and Gold — to assume White's leadership mantle with characteristic facility...Eloquently itemizing Butler's credentials, highlighted by his selection as a Pro Bowl starter for the third consecutive year in 1998, Thomas says, "He's been walking across the water for the last couple years like an All-Pro, and he's been here with a great defense — before we got here as a defensive (coaching) staff, we thought this defense always played great defense. LeRoy was one of their leaders always — a playmaker who made a lot of plays. And we're going to try to use him in the same way he's used to being used — put him in the mainstream and let him go. (Head Coach) Ray (Rhodes) had him before he came to Philly, and Ray spoke very highly of him. Watching him in the classroom, watching his demeanor with all the players — they kind of rally behind him — I think he's going to be one of our leaders. We will use him in blitzing, and the thing that I'm impressed with is that he also can cover, so he's a double-edged sword for us. But we're going to send him at the quarterback, because he can make plays."...Butler's playmaking skills and his "shoot-from-the-hip" approach to both life and football have long since entrenched him as the premier strong safety in the game, an eminence documented by successive Pro Bowl selections in 1996, 1997 and 1998...His primacy at the position was underscored when his third consecutive hallmark season also earned him selection to the Associated Press All-Pro team for the fourth year in a row and the fifth time overall (he was named for the first time in 1993), as well as several other All-Pro squads...Harbors a desire to finish out his career with enough of a flourish that one day his play will win him election to the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio...Continued to make major inroads in Green Bay's record book in 1998, his 3 interceptions lifting him above Mark Lee (31) and Irv Comp (33) and into fourth place on the team's lifetime list with 34 "picks"...He thus enters the '99 season only 5 thefts behind Hall of Famer Herb Adderley, who posted 39 interceptions over a nine-year Packers career (1961-69) to rank third...A cornerback in his first two NFL seasons, Butler also has other talents, having entertained Packer loyalists by executing impromptu dance "routines" after making big plays, some of which have found their way into the team's highlight videos...His fancy footwork has provided a graphic illustration of how far Butler has come from a impoverished childhood in the Blodgett Homes project of Jacksonville, which once found him wheelchair-bound...There was a time when dancing would have been impossible for him — because the bones in his feet were extremely weak, creating a misalignment which permitted him to walk only short distances and prevented him from running...For much of his childhood, his feet were in braces or casts, and there were periods when he was bound to a wheelchair...By the time he reached seventh grade, however, his feet had healed and he was on his way to Florida State and the NFL...Although teammate Robert Brooks and others have taken it to a new level, LeRoy was the originator of what has come to be known as the "Lambeau Leap," in which Packers players have made it a habit to soar into the stands after scoring a touchdown on home turf, a "flight" Butler first attempted late in 1993 against the then-Los Angeles Raiders following the scoring return of a fumble recovery...Has led or tied for the team lead in interceptions in five different seasons (1990-91, 1993, 1995), a feat surpassed in Green Bay history only by Bobby Dillon's seven times (1952-58) and equaled by Willie Wood's five times (1961-63, 1965, 1970)...Is the Packers' all-time leader for career sacks by a defensive back (16½)...Routinely named as one of the team's playoff captains, enters the 1999 season tied with four others for the Green Bay postseason record for most career games played (14)...Possessor of the longest tenure on the Packers roster (1990-98), he also is the lone remaining player from the "Lindy Infante era"...1998: Started all 16 games at strong safety for the fourth straight year and the sixth time overall, he also opened in the Packers' playoff loss at San Francisco...Finished third on the team with 99 tackles, including 4 sacks (the second-highest sack output of his career)...Led Green Bay with 13 passes defended among his 3 interceptions (second on team), he also recorded a career-high 2 fumble recoveries and equaled his career best of 3 forced fumbles...Voted as the starter at strong safety for the NFC Pro Bowl squad for the third consecutive year...Named All-Pro by AP, Pro Football Weekly, The Sporting News, USA Today and College & Pro Football Newsweekly (second team)...Also earned All-NFC recognition from Football News and PFW...Displayed his playmaking proclivities from the outset, returning a Scott Mitchell fumble 32 yards for a first-quarter touchdown (his third as a pro) in the Packers' 38-19, opening-day victory over Detroit (Sept. 6) after Mitchell failed on a fourth-and-one sneak and had the ball stripped by Green Bay's Brian Williams...Also showed his strength in pass coverage when he stopped an almost sure Lions touchdown by batting away a Mitchell pass intended for Johnnie Morton while contributing a team-high 8 tackles to the defensive effort...Limited Panthers All-Pro tight end Wesley Walls to just 2 catches for 17 yards in win at Carolina (Sept. 27)...Had a game- and season-high 11 tackles vs. Minnesota (Oct. 5), plus 2 passes defended and a forced fumble, though he played much of the second half on a badly sprained ankle...Made 3 stops at Detroit (Oct. 15) despite playing from the outset with the sprained ankle that eventually forced him out in the fourth quarter...Shook off the nagging ankle injury to record another All-Pro performance vs. Baltimore (Oct. 25), when he registered 5 tackles and 2 passes defended, plus an interception of a Jim Harbaugh pass at the Baltimore 27-yard line late in the third quarter, leading to a Green Bay touchdown four plays later...Enjoyed another in a long line of outstanding performances, this time vs. San Francisco (Nov. 1), when he recorded 7 (solo) tackles, including 2 sacks of 49ers quarterback Steve Young, in the Packers' 36-22 triumph...One sack came on the Niners' first play from scrimmage, while the other was a momentum-changing drop with the score tied at 22 in the fourth quarter; Green Bay scored on the first play of its ensuing possession...Made 7 stops and batted away a Kordell Stewart pass at Pittsburgh (Nov. 9)...Turned in an exceptional game at the N.Y. Giants (Nov. 15), when he made 2 interceptions among a season-high 3 passes defended and posted 6 tackles in the Packers' 37-3 win...Recorded 6 stops, a sack and a pass defended at Tampa Bay (Dec. 7)...Had a team-leading and game-high 10 tackles, plus a pass defensed, in the Packers' 30-22 victory over Tennessee (Dec. 20)...Made a game-saving play in Green Bay's rematch with the Bears at Chicago (Dec. 27), when he sacked QB Steve Stenstrom with 54 seconds left in the game, in the process forcing a fumble which he himself recovered; Chicago had reached the Packers' 33-yard line with Green Bay clinging to a 16-13 lead...Made 7 tackles in NFC Wild Card game at San Francisco (Jan. 3)...Underwent surgery for the removal of spurs from his left ankle in the offseason, limiting his participation in the team's three 1999 mini-camps...1997: Started all 16 regular-season games for the third consecutive season, he also opened at strong safety in all three of the Packers' postseason games, including Super Bowl XXXII...Finished with 101 tackles to tie Williams for third place on the Packers' defense...It was the third 100-tackle season of his career (he also surpassed the century mark in 1993 and '95)...Ranked fourth on the team in total tackles in the postseason with 17, including 10 solo and 1 quarterback sack...Led Green Bay in interceptions for the fifth time with 5, tying him for sixth place in the National Football Conference and just one pick shy of the career-high 6 he recorded in 1993...Finished third on the team with 10 passes defended and tied for fourth with 3 sacks...Also forced 1 fumble...Voted as the starter at strong safety for the NFC's Pro Bowl squad, his second consecutive trip to Hawaii...Named All-Pro by AP, Sports Illustrated, Pro Football Weekly/Pro Football Writers of America, TSN, USA Today and College & Pro Football Newsweekly...Garnered second-team All-NFL honors from Football Digest...Also was an All-NFC selection of FN and PFW...Turned in a standout performance in 20-10 Sunday night win over Detroit (Nov. 2), when he contributed 8 tackles, 2 interceptions and a forced fumble...Paced the team with 9 stops in 17-7 victory over St. Louis (Nov. 9), including his second sack of the year...Also had 9 stops at Indianapolis (Nov. 16)...Led Packers with a season-high 10 stops in 27-11 win at Minnesota (Dec. 1)...Had another of his patented big-play performances, this time in win at New England (Oct. 27), when he recorded 6 tackles, a sack of Patriots quarterback Drew Bledsoe and an interception in the end zone on a 'Hail Mary' pass attempt as the first half ended...Also limited New England's All-Pro tight end Ben Coates to just 3 catches for 14 yards...Earlier in the year, had turned in a courageous effort vs. Minnesota (Sept. 21), when he had two second-quarter interceptions (which led to 10 Green Bay points) and 5 total tackles, despite having his arm heavily taped due to a strained biceps injury suffered a week earlier vs. Miami...Also ran down the Vikings' Robert Smith from behind to make a touchdown-saving tackle, pushing him out of bounds at the 6-yard line; Minnesota eventually missed a short field goal attempt...Had made 8 stops in win over Miami (Sept. 14), suffering the arm injury and a "stinger" in his right arm when he tackled the Dolphins' Karim Abdul-Jabbar for a four-yard loss in the third quarter...Had 4 tackles, including his third sack of the season when he felled Panthers quarterback Kerry Collins on a perfectly-timed blitz, in the Packers' 31-10 win over Carolina (Dec. 14)...Sacked the Bucs' Trent Dilfer among 4 tackles as Green Bay defeated Tampa Bay 21-7 in a divisional playoff contest (Jan. 4)...Posted 4 tackles in 23-10, NFC Championship Game victory over the 49ers (Jan. 11)...Amassed 9 stops in Super Bowl XXXII vs. Denver (Jan. 25), while also holding Broncos All-Pro TE Shannon Sharpe to a mere 38 yards on 5 receptions...Had missed the opening week of training camp practices after straining his right hamstring during workouts in his hometown of Jacksonville in the days leading up to camp...1996: Started all 16 games at strong safety for the second straight year...Finished third on the club in tackles with 92, including 70 unassisted stops, and third in passes defended with 13...Made big plays game after game throughout the season, he finished the year with 5 interceptions, tying him for sixth in the NFC and one off his career high...Also emerged as the runner-up to White in quarterback sacks with a career-best 6½, a total which left him only one-half sack shy of the NFL single-season record for defensive backs, 7, set by Chicago Bears safety Dave Duerson in 1986...An All-Pro selection of AP, PFW/PFWA, USA Today, SI, TSN and Football Digest...Also was chosen All-NFC by United Press International and FN...Voted as the NFC's starting strong safety in the Pro Bowl, marking his second trip to the NFL's all-star contest...Turned in a dominating performance vs. Tampa Bay (Oct. 27), forging a season-high 11 tackles and 1½ sacks...Helped seal win over Buccaneers when he teamed with Williams to sack Dilfer on fourth down with 1:14 left in the game and the Packers clinging to a 13-7 lead...Had a club-high 10 tackles at Minnesota (Sept. 22), including his first sack and lone forced fumble of the season on the same play when he felled the Vikings' Warren Moon in the fourth quarter (the fumble was recovered by White)...Also made 10 stops in initial meeting with Chicago (Oct. 6)...Earned NFC 'Defensive Player of the Week' honors after making 2 interceptions vs. San Diego (Sept. 15), returning the second pick 90 yards for a touchdown...Also had 2 interceptions in season opener at Tampa Bay (Sept. 1), including an acrobatic theft of a Dilfer pass...Intercepted an Elvis Grbac pass on the game's first offensive series vs. San Francisco (Oct. 14)...Turned in another exceptional performance — this time at St. Louis (Nov. 24) — when he had 5 tackles, including a career-high 2 sacks, plus a fumble recovery...Put together a fine all-around game vs. Denver (Dec. 8), when he notched a sack of quarterback Bill Musgrave among his 5 stops and recorded a pass defended...Contributed 5 stops, including a sack, in initial win over Detroit (Nov. 3)...Maintained his high performance level in the postseason, starting all three playoff games,

Tight End

College: Boston College

NFL Exp.: 8th Season

Packers Exp.: 8th Season

Ht: 6-5 Wt: 255 Born: 2/22/69 Acq: 06-92

PRO: Already recognized as one of the National Football League's elite tight ends, Mark Chmura scaled new professional plateaus in 1998...Named a Pro Bowl starter for the first time — on his third selection for the prestigious all-star contest — the eight-year pro further punctuated a singular season by becoming the third-ranking receiving tight end in Packers history with 183 career catches (behind Paul Coffman, 322, and Ed West, 202), a total which lifted him into 16th place overall on the club's all-time list...His 47 receptions last year, only nine short of the Green Bay single-season record for a tight end — 56 by Coffman in 1979 — also ranked second only to split end Antonio Freeman among all of the team's receivers...On October 30, 1998, the sure-handed New Englander also solidified his — and the Packers' — future by signing a five-year contract extension through 2003, virtually ensuring he will finish his career with Green Bay...At 6-5 and 255 pounds, the imposing Boston College alumnus presents an inviting target for quarterback Brett Favre, with whom he has combined for 20 touchdowns to date, including 4 postseason scores (he also has caught one touchdown pass from Ty Detmer)...Not afraid to play hurt, late this season has the chance to play in his 100th career regular-season game in only his seventh year of on-field duty...Packers offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis, underscoring Chmura's professional commitment, says of him, "Hard work and dedication have helped Mark become one of the premier tight ends in all of football. He is very competent as a blocker in the run game and as a receiver."...Enters the 1999 season tied with four others for the Green Bay postseason record for most career games played (14)...Has caught at least one pass in six consecutive playoff games, a string which remains current heading into this year...1998: Played in 15 of the 16 games, starting all but one (when the Packers opened with an extra wide receiver), he was inactive for the other contest...Also started in club's postseason loss at San Francisco...Closed out the season with 554 yards on his 47 receptions (second on team), an 11.8-yard average, and 4 touchdowns, his 24 points ranking fourth on the club's '98 scoring list...Was chosen as a starter on the NFC Pro Bowl squad for the initial time after two previous appearances as a reserve...Was an All-NFC selection of Pro Football Weekly...Had perhaps his best game of the year at Tampa Bay (Dec. 7), when he caught a season-high 6 passes for 56 yards and 2 touchdowns — his lone two-touchdown game of 1998 (and the third of his career)...Caught 5 passes for 56 yards in initial meeting with Bears (Dec. 13), including a six-yard TD reception in the third quarter where he out-jumped a Chicago defender and snared the ball, giving Green Bay a 16-13 lead which it would not relinquish in the eventual 26-20 victory...Suffered a strained calf muscle on the game's second play vs. Tennessee (Dec. 20) from which he did not return, causing him to be inactive the following week in regular-season finale at Chicago (Dec. 27)...Early exit vs. the then-Oilers triggered the end of his 35-game streak of at least one reception (regular-season games only)...Made 4 catches for 51 yards in Packers' 38-19, season-opening win over Detroit (Sept. 6)...Also had 4 receptions (for 56 yards) in 13-6 victory at Cincinnati (Sept. 20)...Established a season high for receiving yards (84) on 5 catches in 37-30 win at Carolina (Sept. 27)...Scored his first touchdown of the season on a 25-yard pass from Favre late in the first quarter of the victory over the Panthers...Made 4 receptions for 54 yards in Packers' 28-10 win over Baltimore (Oct. 25)...Posted 4 catches for 37 yards in rematch with Vikings at Minnesota (Nov. 22)...Caught 1 pass for 12 yards vs. 49ers in the playoffs (Jan. 3)...1997: Returned to center stage at his position, after sharing "go-to" responsibilities with the since-retired Keith Jackson in 1996...Started 14 games during the regular season, playing in 15 of 16 games overall, he also started all three contests in the playoffs, including Super Bowl XXXII...Named as a reserve on the NFC's Pro Bowl squad, the second time in his career he was so honored...Finished the regular season fifth on the team in receptions with 38 (for 417 yards and 6 touchdowns)...Suffered a sprained posterior cruciate ligament in his left knee as he was being tackled after making a 30-yard reception in the season opener vs. Chicago (Sept. 1)...Subsequently missed only the Philadelphia contest the following week (Sept. 7)...Returned against Miami on Sept. 14, after an initial prognosis that he would miss 4 to 6 weeks...Played with a protective brace on his knee vs. the Dolphins, but still caught a season-high 5 passes for 57 yards, including a 23-yard reception...Pulled in a two-yard touchdown pass from Favre late in the third quarter against Minnesota (Sept. 21), giving the Packers a 38-22 lead in an eventual 38-32 win...It marked his first touchdown reception since late in the 1995 season (Dec. 24 vs. Pittsburgh)...Caught 2 passes for 18 yards at Detroit (Sept. 28), but suffered a concussion on a first-quarter reception near the Packers' goal line when he banged his head on the turf after making the catch...Established a career best with 2 touchdown catches at Chicago (Oct. 12), of two and 12 yards...Enjoyed an exceptional performance in win at New England (Oct. 27), when he made 4 receptions for a season-high 60 yards, including a 32-yard touchdown reception (his longest scoring catch as a pro) on a strike from Favre with 22 seconds left in the second quarter, giving the Packers a 14-10 lead at the half of an eventual 28-10 win...Caught touchdown passes of four and two yards (matching his career high) in the third quarter, giving Green Bay a 24-10 lead in a 45-17 triumph over Dallas (Nov. 23)...Tied for the team lead with 5 receptions (for 52 yards) vs. the Cowboys...Equaled his season best with 5 catches (for 37 yards) in division-clinching win at Tampa Bay (Dec. 7)...Was the club's third-ranking receiver during the postseason with 8 catches for 81 yards, including 2 touchdowns...Had 2 receptions for 20 yards, including a three-yard TD catch to open the scoring, in the Packers' 21-7 divisional playoff win over Tampa Bay (Jan. 4), then caught 2 balls for 18 yards in 23-10 victory at San Francisco in NFC Championship Game (Jan. 11)...Closed out the postseason with 4 receptions for 43 yards and 1 touchdown in Super Bowl XXXII vs. Denver; his score, a six-yard strike from Favre in the back right corner of the end zone with 12 seconds left in the first half, trimmed the Broncos' lead to 17-14 at the intermission...1996: Overcame mid-season arch injury to finish the year in strong fashion, catching 10 passes in the Packers' final three regular-season contests...Started 13 games at tight end over the course of the season and finished sixth on the team with 28 receptions for 370 yards...Had started in team's first 10 games, splitting action routinely with fellow Pro Bowler Jackson, until suffering a severe sprain of his left arch at Kansas City (Nov. 10), which caused him to miss the next three games (at Dallas and St. Louis and vs. Chicago)...Came back from the arch injury to start against the Broncos (Dec. 8) and responded with 4 catches (equaling his season high) for a season-best 70 yards, including a season-long 29-yard catch...Also had 4 receptions in regular-season finale vs. Minnesota (Dec. 22)...Played one of his best games of the year in Tampa Bay rematch (Oct. 27) when he caught 3 passes for 59 yards, including a 26-yard reception...Also had 3 catches in win at Seattle (Sept. 29)...Earlier had made a season-best 4 receptions (for 35 yards) in victory over San Diego (Sept. 15)...Started all three playoff games, including Super Bowl XXXI...Caught 2 passes for 13 yards against home state Patriots in the Super Bowl (Jan. 26), punctuating his postseason efforts by making a 2-point conversion reception (from Favre) after the Packers' final touchdown in 35-21 triumph...Versatile, served as the team's long-snapper on punts when healthy...1995: Started 15 of 16 regular-season games and two of three playoff contests...Finished as the team's third-leading receiver, his 54 catches surpassing his previous career best, 14 in 1994, by 40...It also was only two shy of the club record for a tight end (56 by Coffman in 1979)...Led all NFL tight ends in touchdown receptions with 7, one more than Ben Coates of New England and Keith Jennings of Chicago, and was named to the Pro Bowl as a backup...Accounted for 679 receiving yards, a 12.6-yard average, and his 7 TD catches were the most by a Green Bay tight end since Coffman had 11 in 1983...Was a first-team All-Pro selection of College & Pro Football Newsweekly and Football Digest...Also named to All-NFC squads of Football News and United Press International (second team)...Was utilized as the team's long-snapper on punts in addition to receiving duties, posting 2 special teams tackles in the regular season plus 3 in the playoffs...Turned in auspicious performance in season opener vs. St. Louis Rams (Sept. 3), establishing a personal career high with 7 catches for 97 yards and his first NFL touchdown, a seven-yarder from Favre midway through the third quarter...Made 3 catches for 35 yards at Chicago (Sept. 11), but severely sprained his left ankle late in the game...Started vs. the Giants six days later despite ankle problem, catching 2 passes for 22 yards...Caught 2 passes for 24 yards at Jacksonville (Sept. 24) and also had a touchdown catch nullified by a penalty...Additionally recovered an onside kick attempt by the Jaguars late in the game...Made 2 catches for 32 yards, including a leaping, 11-yard TD reception from Favre early in the fourth quarter, at Dallas (Oct. 8)...Also had a special teams tackle and forced a fumble on punt coverage vs. Cowboys...Had a team-leading 5 catches for 61 yards, including a career-long 33-yard reception in win vs. Detroit (Oct. 15)...Enjoyed outstanding performance in the Packers' victory over Minnesota (Oct. 22), when he caught 5 passes for 101 yards and a 12-yard touchdown — the initial 100-yard effort of his pro career and the first by a Green Bay tight end since 1993...Included in Chmura's 5 receptions were two acrobatic catches — one on a third-down play in which he out-jumped two Minnesota defenders for a 21-yard gain early in the second quarter; the other a 22-yard diving reception (in which he was parallel to the ground) that gave the Packers a first-and-goal at the Vikings' 5-yard line and led to a Green Bay touchdown...Caught a two-yard touchdown pass from Detmer early in the fourth quarter of rematch at Minnesota (Nov. 5), then subsequently scored the two-point conversion on a diving catch off a tipped Detmer pass...Had a three-yard TD catch early in second quarter of Packers' win at Cleveland (Nov. 19)...Made 7 receptions, tying his career high, for a career-best 109 yards vs. Cincinnati (Dec. 3) — including an eight-yard scoring reception early in the third quarter for the team's final points in 24-10 victory...Pulled in his seventh scoring pass of the season in finale vs. Pittsburgh (Dec. 24), when he caught a one-yard throw from Favre midway through the third quarter for eventual winning points in a 24-19 triumph...Continued his season-long productivity in the playoffs by snaring 6 passes for 50 yards and 2 scores...Caught a two-yard touchdown pass from Favre, one of 2 receptions, in 37-20 wild-card victory over Atlanta (Dec. 31)...Registered another TD reception, a 13-yarder from Favre, in the second quarter of 27-17 win over the defending Super Bowl champion 49ers in San Francisco (Jan. 6), providing what proved to be the eventual winning points...Ended day with 3 catches for 19 yards...Started Pro Bowl at tight end, replacing an injured Jay Novacek (knee) for NFC squad, and caught 1 pass for 15 yards in 20-13 victory...1994: Started final four regular-season games plus both playoff contests in place of an injured West (ankle)...Finished seventh on the team with 14 receptions for 165 yards...Saw action in 14 total regular-season games, was inactive for the other two...Played a prominent role in Packers' 16-12 victory over Detroit in wild-card playoff (Dec. 31), equaling his then-career high with 5 receptions for 75 yards, including a career-long catch of 33 yards...Was Green Bay's fourth-leading receiver in the postseason with 7 receptions for 88 yards...Earlier caught 2 passes for 46 yards in regular-season finale at Tampa Bay (Dec. 24), an effort which followed perhaps his best performance of the season, registered against Atlanta Dec. 18, when he caught a season-high 5 passes for 63 yards, including two clutch receptions of 25 and eight yards on the Packers' game-winning drive in a last-minute, 21-17 victory...Started first game as a professional Dec. 4 at Detroit and responded with 3 catches for 26 yards...Caught 3 passes for 28 yards at Dallas (Nov. 24), his first receptions of the season...Was sixth on the squad in special teams tackles with 6, including 2 vs. the N.Y. Jets (Nov. 13)...Later was forced out of the Jets game with a concussion...Earlier had missed Philadelphia (Sept. 18) and Tampa Bay (Sept. 25) games after aggravating a training camp hamstring injury vs. Miami (Sept. 11)...Returned to play in front of family and friends Oct. 2 at New England...Had missed part of camp after he suffered a right hamstring injury in practice (July 24)...Returned to practice Aug. 16 and PRO: Athletic, second-year safety who will vie for an increased role in Green Bay's pass defense in his first full season with the team...Is a physical player with good range and intelligence, has the skills to compete at either free or strong safety...Started his rookie campaign with Minnesota, the club which had drafted him, before coming to the Packers two weeks into the 1998 season...Was primarily a special teams player last year..."We were impressed with him when we got here," says Emmitt Thomas, the Packers' new defensive coordinator. "We'll work him inside at both strong and free safety. He's not the biggest guy, he's not the fastest guy, but it seems as though he's a football player. He understands the schemes that we're trying to put in and the terminology. He's worked real hard in the offseason — he's a well-conditioned athlete. We think he's better suited for free safety; we don't think he has the real big body to play strong safety, but we think that we could do some things if he had to play there. I think his athleticism and his mental preparation are awesome."...Spent the majority of this past offseason in Green Bay working out and studying the Packers' new defensive playbook in effort to ready himself for additional playing time...1998: Joined Green Bay early in the season after beginning the year with division rival Minnesota...Played in nine games, he was inactive for the other five regular-season contests plus playoff loss at San Francisco...Received the majority of his time on special teams, where he recorded 7 tackles...Took on a more active role in the club's 'dime' package at the tail end of the season, making 5 stops on defense...Had a season-high 3 special teams tackles, plus a season-best 2 defensive stops, in 30-22 victory over Tennessee (Dec. 20)...Matched his season high with 2 tackles the next week at Chicago (Dec. 27)...Had seen his first extended action in the defensive backfield in Green Bay's first meeting with the Bears (Dec. 13), registering 1 stop, he also recovered a Roell Preston fumble on a punt return...Claimed on waivers by Green Bay Sept. 16...Had been released by the Vikings one day earlier when Minnesota was forced to add a fourth quarterback to its roster after then-starter Brad Johnson suffered a broken leg...Had played in all four of Minnesota's preseason games, intercepting 2 passes, he subsequently was inactive for each of the Vikings' first two regular-season contests...Drafted in the fifth round (144th overall) by Minnesota in 1998.

COLLEGE: A four-time letterman (1994-97) for the University of Iowa, started his final two seasons at strong safety...Was redshirted in 1993...Totaled 171 tackles (114 solo), 4 interceptions and 16 pass breakups for the Hawkeyes...Earned honorable mention All-Big Ten Conference honors and served as one of four team captains as a senior, when he made a career-high 70 stops (47 solo) and intercepted 2 passes...Returned an interception 30 yards for a touchdown in 63-20 victory over Iowa State in 1997...Had a career-high 13 tackles, plus an interception, in loss at Michigan his senior year...Closed out his collegiate career with a 10-tackle performance against Arizona State in the Sun Bowl...Had 65 stops (42 solo), 1 interception and a career-best 11 pass deflections as a junior...Returned a fumble 51 yards for a touchdown vs. Iowa State as a 1994 redshirt freshman...Appeared in every game as a reserve during the 1994 and 1995 seasons...Holds a B.A. degree in sociology.

PERSONAL: Given name Kerry George Cooks...Nicknamed 'KC'...Born in Detroit...Single...Was a USA Today All-America selection as a senior at Nimitz High School in Irving, Texas...Also was a first-team all-state pick in Class 5A after leading Texas in interceptions with 9...Had 74 tackles and 9 other pass breakups his senior season, he also rushed for 1,100 yards and 17 touchdowns...Won four letters in

Long Snapper

College: Shippensburg

NFL Exp.: 4th Season Packers Exp.: 3rd Season

Ht: 6-3 Wt: 285 Born: 12/10/68 Acq: FA-97

PRO: Is an accurate and consistent long snapper with superior wrist action, control and a good snap, who, according to new Green Bay special teams coach Steve Ortmyer, has what it takes to be successful at his position — dedication and hard work...“Rob is a self-taught, self-motivated deep snapper who continues to get better,” Ortmyer says. “He is now at a phase where he is honing his skills...” Begins his third year with the Packers after joining the team midway through the 1997 season...Previously played in 1996 for Green Bay’s long-time nemesis, the Chicago Bears...Had labored three years for an opportunity to play in the NFL, spending two training camps with the N.Y. Jets (1993-94), a year in the Canadian Football League with the Baltimore Stallions (1995) and a preseason with Kansas City (1996), before reaching his goal...“Having a player like Rob gives us a third ‘pure’ special teams player,” adds Ortmyer. “The punt team is a real critical area for us, and the punter and snapper are key. With a long snapper as consistent as Rob, we are able to be more free and allow our players to get into coverage quicker...” Also may see action on the punt and kickoff return teams beginning in 1999, according to Ortmyer...Is the first player ever from Shippensburg (Pa.) University to play in the NFL...1998: Served as the team’s long snapper for punts and field goals throughout the season...Played in all 16 games for the second time in his NFL career, also saw action in NFC Wild Card playoff at San Francisco...Bothered by a lower back problem during the offseason, he underwent corrective surgery on July 1, causing him to miss the initial three weeks of training camp and first two preseason games...Placed on reserve/physically unable to perform list on July 8, he returned to the active roster Aug. 10 after passing the team’s physical...1997: Signed with Green Bay as a free agent on Nov. 4 after usual punt snapper Paul Frase was sidelined by a back injury...Handled all of the Packers’ long-snapping duties for the last seven regular-season games, beginning with win over St. Louis (Nov. 9), as well as all three playoff contests, including Super Bowl XXXII...Had been waived by Chicago right before the start of the regular season (Aug. 27) and was out of football until joining Green Bay...1996: Played in all 16 games for Chicago, serving as the Bears’ long snapper for both punts and placements...Made 10 tackles on special teams, including a career-high 3 in a season-opening win over Dallas (Sept. 2)...Had been signed by Chicago on Aug. 28 after being waived by Kansas City in the roster cutdown to 60 players (Aug. 20)...Originally had signed with the Chiefs on April 22...1995: Served as the long-snapper and as a backup nose tackle for the Baltimore Stallions of the Canadian Football League after joining the team in April...1994: Failed to make the Jets’ roster in his second attempt, he was waived on Aug. 22...Returned to coach at Shippensburg following his release...Had re-signed with New York on May 2...1993: Waived by the Jets on Aug. 24, he spent the year out of football...Signed by the New York Jets as an undrafted free agent on May 10.

COLLEGE: Four-year starter (1988-89, 1991-92) at defensive tackle for Shippensburg (Pa.) University, where he started all 43 games of his career...Redshirted in 1987 and took the 1990 season off...Finished as the school’s all-time leading tackler among defensive linemen with 353 total stops...Tied the Red Raiders’ career record with 34 tackles for loss...Set the school’s single-season sacks record with 13 his junior season...Was a first-team All-Eastern College Athletic Conference selection as a junior and senior...Helped Shippensburg to the NCAA Division II playoffs in 1991...Earned a degree in criminal justice/law enforcement.

Tight End

College: Virginia

NFL Exp.: 4th Season

Packers Exp.: 3rd Season

Ht: 6-4 Wt: 255 Born: 6/30/72 Acq: FA-97

PRO: A big target who possesses surprising speed, gives the Packers an explosive downfield threat from the tight end spot...Played wide receiver throughout college and as an NFL rookie before adding weight and moving inside at the start of his second pro season...Has demonstrated that he has the physical tools to thrive in the Packers' offense, became a certifiable big-time scoring threat for Green Bay in 1998 as the team's third tight end behind Mark Chmura and Jeff Thomason...Poised to expand his responsibilities this year, is expected to assume a role as the primary backup to the starter, Chmura...Tyrone is an excellent target with outstanding speed for a tight end," says Packers offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis. "He has the speed to play outside as a receiver and the size to play as an effective blocking tight end..."That size-speed combination, along with his demonstrated versatility, presents tremendous matchup problems for opposing defenses, according to new Green Bay tight ends coach Jeff Jagodzinski...What he can do, because of his speed and his experience playing receiver, he can stretch a defense," says Jagodzinski. "And the one thing a defense has to do when they see him go into the game is decide how they are going to play him. Are they going to play him 'nickel'? Are they going to play him 'dime'? Because the guy is an extra receiver, too. But he's also big enough to come back inside and play tight end, so that gives the defense some problems. They have to make a decision on how they want to play him..."Spent his first two NFL seasons with the N.Y. Jets (1995-96) before initially joining the Packers in a trade just prior to the start of the '97 season...Surfaced as one of the Packers' top special teams players in the beginning, he also got more involved with the Green Bay offense as his first year in Titletown progressed...1998: Emerged as a potent scoring weapon, landing in the end zone on seven of his 18 receptions...Played in the Packers' first 13 games before missing the final three regular-season contests while inactive with a hamstring injury, suffered late in Monday night loss at Tampa Bay (Dec. 7)...Returned to action for Green Bay's playoff defeat at the 49ers...Was the team's third-leading scorer with 42 points...Made a career-high 18 catches for 250 yards and 7 touchdowns...Also was a contributor on special teams, where he picked up 8 tackles to rank sixth on the club...Enjoyed his finest day as a pro in the same stadium where he had begun his pro career in 1995, though this time his foe was the Giants...Equaled his career best with 3 catches for a career-high 83 yards, including touchdown receptions of 2 and 60 yards, in 37-3 romp over the Giants (Nov. 15)...His 60-yard scoring catch, which came late in the second quarter and gave Green Bay a commanding 17-3 lead, was the longest of his career and his second of the game — the first 2-TD reception game of his NFL career...Followed that with another 2-touchdown performance the next week in rematch with Vikings at Minnesota (Nov. 22)...Scored the Packers' only two touchdowns of the afternoon — a 12-yarder where he broke one tackle and a two-yard haul-in — in 28-14 defeat...Had first established his career high of 3 receptions in initial meeting with Vikings (Oct. 5), which included an 11-yard scoring strike from Doug Pederson near game's end...Made a beautiful, over-the-shoulder touchdown catch just before halftime of contest at Carolina (Sept. 27), tying the game at 20 in an eventual 37-30 victory... Drew a key pass interference penalty near the beginning of 13-6 win at Cincinnati (Sept. 20), giving Green Bay the ball at the Bengals' 11-yard line; the Packers scored their lone touchdown of the day three plays later... Caught a 10-yard TD pass over the middle early in 23-15 victory over Tampa Bay (Sept. 13)... Recorded a season-high 2 tackles on special teams at Pittsburgh (Nov. 9) and at the Buccaneers (Dec. 7)... 1997: Got into 13 games on special teams in his maiden Green Bay season, seeing increased duty at tight end in the latter half of the year and throughout the playoffs... Also played in all three postseason contests, including Super Bowl XXXII... Tied for fifth on the club in special teams tackles with 11... Caught 2 passes for 28 yards and 1 touchdown during the regular season, adding another reception of 17 yards during the playoffs... Served as the team's No. 2 tight end for three of the final four regular-season games — at Minnesota (Dec. 1), at Carolina (Dec. 14) and vs. Buffalo (Dec. 20) — as usual backup Thomason was inactive due to an ankle sprain... Scored the first two touchdowns of his NFL career in finale vs. Bills... The first score came when he recovered a fumbled punt in the end zone less than two minutes into the game, giving Green Bay a quick 7-0 lead, while the second came on a two-yard pass from Brett Favre to the right edge of the end zone midway through the second quarter, swelling the Packers' lead to 21-0 in the eventual 31-21 win... Had seen his first extended action of the year on offense at Indianapolis (Nov. 16) after Thomason left the game with ankle sprain, he also recorded 2 special teams stops against the Colts... Made a career-high 3 special teams tackles vs. Dallas (Nov. 23), equaling that total eight days later in a Monday night game at Minnesota (Dec. 1)... Caught his first pass with Green Bay, a 26-yarder, in win over Detroit (Nov. 2)... Later made a 17-yard reception at San Francisco in the NFC Championship Game (Jan. 11)... Acquired from the N.Y. Jets on Aug. 25 in a trade for past considerations, he played in each of Green Bay's first two games, including a role as a second tight end at Philadelphia (Sept. 7) with Chmura sidelined by a knee injury... Was inactive for the ensuing two contests after suffering a slight left hamstring injury against the Eagles... Subsequently waived on Sept. 24, he was re-signed just five days later... 1996: Was enjoying an impressive training camp at tight end before suffering a sprained left foot in the Jets' annual preseason game with the N.Y. Giants (Aug. 17), an injury which would nag him throughout the regular season... Played in only two games... Was inactive for 11 contests and did not play in the other three though dressed... Caught his only pass of the year (a six-yarder from Frank Reich) vs. Buffalo (Oct. 20)... Later saw action in season finale against Miami... 1995: Played in the Jets' first two and last two games, primarily on special teams but also as a wide receiver... Spent the intervening 12 weeks on the club's practice squad... Made his initial NFL reception (a nine-yarder from Bubba Brister) in his first pro game, Sept. 3 at Miami... Waived by the Jets on Sept. 13, was inked to New York's practice squad two days later, where he remained until re-joining the active roster on Dec. 11... Was the second of two fourth-round draft choices (107th overall) by the N.Y. Jets in 1995.

COLLEGE: Three-year starter and four-time letterman (1991-94) at the University of Virginia as a wide receiver... PRO: His on-field performance speaks eloquently for Earl Dotson, the huge, soft-spoken Texan who quietly has become the Packers' most dominant offensive lineman and a Pro Bowl-caliber tackle... "Earl has been our most consistent blocker the past couple of years," Green Bay offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis says in tribute to the 28-year-old, former Texas A&I standout, an established starter since 1995... "He is an excellent run-blocker and is just as comfortable in the passing game. He also seldom misses a practice or games due to injuries — he's very durable..." The seventh-year professional stabilized his professional future — and, assuredly, that of the Green Bay offensive line — when he signed a four-year contract extension (Dec. 23, 1998), one which will take him through the 2002 season... Now is tied with Dorsey Levens for eighth place on the team's all-time postseason games played list, each with 12 games of playoff service... Earlier, he made his first major advances in 1995 — his third NFL season... When faced with what he termed a "do-or-die" situation as training camp opened, he proceeded to establish himself as the starter at offensive right tackle... Having played only four games as a second-year pro — in part because of an elbow injury — he said in explanation of his salutary renaissance, "I just started taking the game more seriously. It was do-or-die for me. I pretty much had to come in and prove myself. I finally realized that to make it, I had to make it in the weight room, then bring it on the field. The offseason is one of the most important times of a player's career..." 1998: Started all 16 games — all at right tackle — for the second time in his career (also 1995)... Was forced out of game at Carolina (Sept. 27) late in the second quarter with a bruised shin, but returned early in the third period... Held the Panthers' Kevin Greene (who tied for second in the NFC with 15 sacks) without a sack in the Packers' 37-30 win... Left Baltimore contest (Oct. 25) with an ankle injury in the second half, but returned to play entire game vs. San Francisco (Nov. 1)... Was part of an offensive line which helped Green Bay gain a season-high 178 yards rushing in 24-16 win over Philadelphia (Nov. 29)... Left first meeting with Chicago (Dec. 13) briefly in the fourth quarter with a charley horse, but returned to finish the game... Made his 10th consecutive postseason start in Packers' NFC Wild Card playoff game at San Francisco (Jan. 3), having previously started three playoff contests following each of the 1995, 1996 and 1997 seasons...1997: Started 13 of the Packers' 16 regular-season games at right tackle, as well as all three postseason games, including Super Bowl XXXII...Missed three games because of injury...Inactive for the Tampa Bay (Oct. 5) and Chicago (Oct. 12) contests after suffering a back injury (bulging disk) on the last offensive play of practice on Oct. 1...Returned to the starting lineup at New England (Oct. 27) and helped the club post a then season-high 144 yards rushing...Earlier had dressed, and was ready go in an emergency situation, but did not play vs. Miami (Sept. 14) after suffering a left ankle/turf toe sprain the previous week at Philadelphia (Sept. 7)...Returned to start ensuing Minnesota game (Sept. 21)...Suffered a concussion in the second half of St. Louis contest (Nov. 9) from which he did not return to the game...Helped Green and Gold amass a season-high 220 yards rushing in 45-17 win over Dallas (Nov. 23), including a club-record 190 yards on the ground by Levens...Incurred a shoulder sprain in the Packers' 31-10 victory over Carolina (Dec. 14), causing him to miss the second half...Recovered a Levens fumble against the Eagles, enabling drive to continue, one which culminated with a Ryan Longwell 22-yard field goal...Developed swelling in his right knee during training camp as the result of off-season arthroscopic surgery (Jan. 30), causing him to miss the team's first three preseason games...Returned to the practice field on Aug. 10...1996: Started 15 of 16 regular-season games at right tackle, sitting out the eighth contest of the year — the rematch vs. Tampa Bay (Oct. 27) — with a sprained left ankle...Originally had suffered the injury in the second half of the Packers' overtime win over San Francisco (Oct. 14)...Returned to start vs. Detroit (Nov. 3) before leaving in the second quarter because of back spasms, he later returned to Lions contest in the second half...Was one of those primarily responsible for the marked improvement in the Packers' running game, which raised its rushing average to 114.9 yards per contest during the '96 season — up substantially from an 89.3-yard average in '95...Also started all three postseason games at right tackle, including Super Bowl XXXI...Played a key blocking role as the Packers churned out 201 rushing yards in their 30-13, NFC Championship Game triumph over Carolina (Jan. 12), many of those yards coming over his side of the line...1995: Started all 16 regular-season games plus the team's three playoff contests at right tackle after shedding 15 pounds during an off-season weight-reduction program to enhance his quickness and endurance...Prevented a possible touchdown at Cleveland (Nov. 19) when he chased down the Browns' Tim Goad — following a Brett Favre fumble — and tackled him at the Packers' 28-yard line; Cleveland eventually had to settle for a field goal on the drive...Also made a crunching, key block on the Lions' Robert Porcher on a reverse that enabled Robert Brooks to gain 21 yards in a win over Detroit (Oct. 15)...Later left Lions contest in the fourth quarter after straining his left calf...Though not at full strength, he started and played the entire game in the Packers' win over Minnesota the following week (Oct. 22)...Earlier posted a fine performance at Chicago (Sept. 11) when he was lined up against the Bears' Alonzo Spellman, even as he was playing through a painful elbow injury in the second half (the same elbow he had dislocated one year earlier)...Started his first NFL game vs. the St. Louis Rams (Sept. 3) in Green Bay's regular-season inaugural, when he opened at right tackle...1994: Had his season abbreviated by an early injury, suffering a dislocated right elbow vs. Tampa Bay (Sept. 25) when he lined up as an eligible receiver on a short-yardage play...Subsequently was inactive for the Packers' final 12 regular-season games after seeing action in each of the first four contests, playing primarily on special teams...Saw most extensive action of the year with offense at Philadelphia (Sept. 18) when starting right tackle Paul Hutchins left the game with a knee injury...Returned to practice, after recovering from the elbow problem, in latter portion of year...Was the backup to Joe Sims at right tackle when Sims suffered a left foot sprain vs. New England in preseason finale...Had been scheduled to start regular-season opener vs. Vikings the following week (Sept. 4), but sprained his ankle in practice the week prior to the game and gave way to Hutchins...Inactive for both playoff games...1993: Played in 13 games as a rookie, almost exclusively on special teams...Inactive for other three games with a foot sprain, incurred at Dallas (Oct. 3)...Returned to action at Kansas City (Nov. 8) and played in every game thereafter...Was primary backup to Sims over the final four regular-season games after starting right tackle Tootie Robbins suffered a season-ending triceps injury at Chicago on Dec. 5...Also saw reserve action in both playoff games...Third-round draft choice (81st overall) of Green Bay in 1993.

COLLEGE: Two-year starter (1991-92) at Texas A&I after transferring from Tyler (Texas) Junior College...First-team All-America selection by NFL Draft Report, Associated Press, Football Gazette and Kodak in 1992...Also was a unanimous All-Lone Star Conference first-team pick, winning 'Lineman of the Year' recognition...Did not give up a sack the entire '92 season, he also did not allow any tackles by his opponent in six games...Was not penalized for holding or offside in any contest his senior season while registering 78 knockdown blocks as the Javelinas' ground game ranked 11th in the nation, averaging 262.5 yards per game...Also won all-conference selection in 1991...Majored in sociology.

PRO: Now the dean of the Packers' defensive line and an ever important cog since his arrival in 1996, becomes even more relied upon in 1999...With the offseason retirement of defensive end Reggie White, is now the most veteran starter of Green Bay's defensive front four...Will be looked to for leadership, not only within his corps, but across the defense and the entire team as well..."With the departure of Reggie White, we're counting on Santana to pick up his area of leadership along the group," says Packers defensive line coach Mike Torgovac. "He's a veteran and we have some good young players coming along that he's going to be vital to their development."...A true battler and an extremely resilient player, has now played in 112 straight games as a pro (119 including playoffs), not once missing a contest since entering the league in 1992...Among the NFL's best all-around interior defensive linemen, continues to provide valuable inside pass rush, while remaining solid against the run...Has racked up 350 career tackles (243 solo), including 37 sacks, 6 fumble recoveries, 9 forced fumbles and 21 passes defended over his career...Recognized as one of the defense's most consistent players since joining the team, often lets his steady work and preparation stand as positive examples to his teammates, a quality that will continue to serve well..."He's done a good job of providing leadership so far," continues Torgovac. "He's a true man. Some guys that have been in the league as long as he has come in with an attitude that, 'I know everything. I do everything.' Not him. He's willing to learn. Our defense is going to be a little different than what they ran the past couple of years, so he's open to the new ideas. He's not a guy that complains, he just comes on the field and works his butt off. He's not a big rah-rah guy, but we don't need him to be a big rah-rah guy. We need him to be a guy that leads by example, and that's what he does."...Joined the Packers as an unrestricted free agent prior to the 1996 season after four productive years with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers...Had 23 career sacks for Bucs, fourth on that club's all-time sacks list when he left...Led Tampa Bay in sacks in two of his four seasons...Recorded 195 tackles (140 solo), 5 forced fumbles, 4 fumble recoveries and 8 passes defended over his four seasons with the Buccaneers...Chose to re-sign with Green Bay this past Feb. 19 when his initial three-year contract with the club expired...1998: Started all 16 games at defensive tackle for the second straight season and third such time in his career...Also started NFC Wild Card contest at San Francisco...Registered 43 stops (28 solo), including 3 sacks, to finish second (to White) in tackles among the club's defensive linemen, ninth on the team overall...Also added 1 fumble recovery, 1 forced fumble and 5 passes defended (the second-highest total of his pro career)...Posted 5-or-more tackles in four games...Assisted on 1 tackle in postseason contest at San Francisco (Jan. 3)...Registered 5 tackles and a pass defended in win over the then-Oilers (Dec. 20), helping to hold Tennessee running back Eddie George to just 30 yards rushing on 15 carries...Came up big in tight game vs. Chicago (Dec. 13), making two critical drive-ending plays on consecutive Bear possessions to help secure 26-20 win...The first came when he batted down a fourth-down Steve Stenstrom pass at the Packers' 31-yard line; later, in the game's final minute, sacked Stenstrom (one of 5 tackles on the day) on fourth down at the Green Bay 42-yard line to seal victory...Had productive day in win over Philadelphia (Nov. 29), registering 5 tackles...Knocked down a season-high 2 passes and added 1 tackle in rematch at Minnesota (Nov. 22)...Had key fumble recovery in win over San Francisco (Nov. 1), falling on a Steve Young bobble at the 49ers' 11-yard line; the Packers scored on the next play to tally the game's final points in a 36-22 victory...Added 2 tackles in 49ers' contest...Notched second sack of the season among 2 tackles in 28-10 win over Baltimore (Oct. 25), he also helped the defense's cause with a third-quarter pressure that resulted in a poorly-authored Jim Harbaugh pass which was intercepted by LeRoy Butler deep in the Ravens' territory...Made a season-high 7 stops in rain-soaked loss to Minnesota (Oct. 5)...Turned in a key performance in 23-15 victory over Tampa Bay (Sept. 13), registering 4 tackles, including a sack, 1 forced fumble and 1 pass defended...His first-quarter sack of the Buccaneers' Trent Dilfer caused a fumble which was recovered by Green Bay and subsequently converted to a TD...In season-opening, 38-19 win over Detroit (Sept. 6), helped stuff Lions quarterback Scott Mitchell on a fourth-and-one sneak, his initial surge holding up Mitchell, who then had the ball stripped by Brian Williams and subsequently snatched up by Butler, who scampered 32 yards for a touchdown...1997: Started (at defensive tackle) in all 16 regular-season games for the second time as a pro...Also was the club's starter for all three playoff contests, including Super Bowl XXXII...Had the most tackles by a Green Bay defensive lineman with 67 (48 solo) to rank seventh on the team overall...Also tied (with Gabe Wilkins) for second on the Packers with 5½ sacks, matching his 1996 total...Also forced 2 fumbles and broke up 2 passes...Was tops among Green Bay linemen during the postseason with 15 tackles (8 solo), in addition to 1 pass defended...Enjoyed perhaps his best game of the season at Indianapolis (Nov. 16), when he recorded a season-high 2 sacks among his 7 tackles and forced a fumble right before halftime which led to a Green Bay touchdown...Had registered 8 stops (his regular-season best), including a sack, one week earlier in win over St. Louis (Nov. 9)...Turned in a solid performance in 21-16 win against Tampa Bay (Oct. 5) as he made 7 tackles and threw a key block on the Bucs' Mike Alstott on Wilkins' pivotal 77-yard interception return for a touchdown...Posted 6 tackles, including a sack of the Vikings' Brad Johnson late in the third quarter, in victory over Minnesota (Sept. 21)...Sacked Bears QB Erik Kramer and forced a fumble on the same play (recovered by Wilkins for a touchdown) late in the Packers' 38-24 win over Chicago (Sept. 1)...Had a key third-down stop of the Cowboys' Emmitt Smith for -2 yards midway through the fourth quarter of 45-17 win over Dallas (Nov. 23), at a time when the game's outcome still was in doubt...Made 5 tackles, including a shared sack with White, in Green Bay's 27-11 win at Minnesota (Dec. 1)...Recorded 4 tackles and knocked down a Dilfer pass in divisional playoff win over Tampa Bay (Jan. 4)...Equaled his career best with 10 tackles against Denver in Super Bowl XXXII (Jan. 25)...1996: Started 15 of Green Bay's 16 regular-season games at defensive tackle for the league's No. 1-ranked defense, his only non-start of the season came at Dallas (Nov. 18) when the Packers opened in a 3-4 defense...Also started all three playoff games, including Super Bowl XXXI, in the first postseason action of his pro career...Recorded 45 tackles to rank second among club defensive linemen and ninth on the team overall...Was third on the club in sacks with 5½ sacks, the second-highest output of his career (10 in 1992)...Also had a forced fumble, a fumble recovery and 6 passes defended...Continued his effectiveness in the postseason as he recorded 8 tackles, including a sack, and a pass breakup...Had one of his best games in a Green Bay uniform in team's 28-18 win over Detroit (Nov. 3), when he had a season-high 2 sacks among 5 tackles, 2 additional quarterback pressures, a forced fumble and batted down a season-best 2 passes at the line of scrimmage...Posted a team-leading 1½ sacks in Monday night game against Philadelphia (Sept. 9), including a shared sack with White for a safety in 39-13 win...Made a season-high 6 tackles in overtime win vs. San Francisco (Oct. 14)...Registered 5 stops, including a sack, in curbed action at Kansas City (Nov. 10)...Played mostly in passing situations against the Chiefs due to limited practice time the previous week after swelling in his knee surfaced following the Detroit contest...Had a sack among 4 tackles, plus 2 other quarterback pressures, at Minnesota (Sept. 22)...Recovered a Rick Mirer fumble in 31-10 win at Seattle (Sept. 29), returning it eight yards to the Seahawks' 28-yard line, leading to a Packers touchdown...Had a fourth-quarter sack among 3 total tackles, plus a pass defended, in Super Bowl triumph over New England (Jan. 26)...Had signed with Green Bay on March 7 as an unrestricted free agent after playing his first four NFL seasons with Tampa Bay...1995: Appeared in all 16 games for the Buccaneers in his final season with the team, starting eight as he alternated with '95 first-round draft choice Warren Sapp...Made eight consecutive starts at right defensive tackle beginning with Bucs' sixth game, Oct. 8 vs. Cincinnati...Led Tampa Bay with 5 sacks, the second time in four years he had led the team in that category...Also made 38 tackles, recovered 2 fumbles and broke up 2 passes...Was named Bucs' 'Player of the Game' for excellent performance in front of hometown Houston fans Oct. 29, when he tallied a season-high 9 tackles plus a

PRO: Astonishingly productive, remarkably durable and consistently successful, Brett Favre not only is considered the premier player in the game today, he already has forged a prominent — and permanent — place among professional football's all-time elite...And, incredibly enough, his accomplishments have come while still not yet 30...The freewheeling southerner previously set himself apart from all his predecessors by capturing the NFL's 'Most Valuable Player' honors for a record three consecutive years over the 1995, 1996 and 1997 seasons...Named in "co-status" with the Detroit Lions' Barry Sanders in '97, he thus became the first player in NFL history to win the Associated Press honor three times, let alone in three consecutive years...Favre's acknowledged dominance at his position is based in large measure on his exceptional productivity, best exemplified by the fact that he has thrown the startling total of 176 touchdown passes in the past five seasons, leaving his fellow quarterbacks distantly behind...Next up, for best available comparison, is the 49ers' Steve Young with 124 over the same span...And he owns a comparably substantial margin over the past three seasons, having posted 105 scoring passes to 80 by the New York Jets' Vinny Testaverde in the same period...Remarkably, over the past decade, Favre also has been the league's most productive quarterback from a touchdown pass standpoint — even though he spent the first two years of that period (1989-90) as a collegiate player at Southern Miss and a third (1991) languishing on the bench of the Atlanta Falcons as their third-string quarterback...Favre has thrown for 213 touchdowns in the last decade, outdistancing his closest competitors — Dan Marino (212), Warren Moon (212), Young (205) and John Elway (198) — all of whom had the advantage of playing in the NFL over the entire period...He further entrenched himself in league annals in 1998 by becoming the first passer in its 78-year history to throw 30-or-more touchdown passes in five seasons, doing so in consecutive years (1994-98)...An indomitable competitor and acknowledged team leader, Favre has led Green Bay to seven straight winning seasons en route, plus six consecutive berths in the playoffs (a feat unprecedented in the team's rich postseason history), three straight NFC Central Division titles, three consecutive NFC Championship Games (1995, 1996, 1997) and back-to-back Super Bowl appearances, including a 35-21 victory over New England in SB XXXI in 1996, the Packers' first Super Bowl triumph in 29 years...Ray Rhodes, the Packers' first-year head coach who himself faced Favre each of the past three seasons while serving as field boss of the Philadelphia Eagles, has a very definite assessment of the Green Bay quarterback's standing within the National Football League, saying, "Brett is one of the top one or two quarterbacks in this league — period. He knows that this is his football team, and I think it's important for Brett to take the bull by the horns and direct this football team. He committed to us this past offseason — doing all the running and the other things that we did, really gutting it out — which is great for all of our young players to see."...Selected to the Pro Bowl five times in his seven Green Bay seasons, he was voted as the NFC starter from 1995-97 after two earlier appearances (1992-93) as a reserve; did not play in 1997 due to a lingering knee injury...The author of genuinely awesome statistical "numbers" during his seven-year reign as the Packers' starting quarterback to date, he last season became the second-fastest player in league annals to get to the 200-touchdown pass plateau, reaching the mark in his 107th contest; Marino was the first (in 89 games)...His 176 TD passes over the 1994-98 seasons also match the best five-year stretch in NFL history, established by Marino over the 1984-88 seasons...In the 1998 postseason, Favre extended his personal string of consecutive playoff games with a touchdown pass to 10, tying him with Joe Montana and Ken Stabler for the second-longest such string in NFL history and leaving him only three short of Marino's NFL-record, 13-game skein...Earlier, in 1997, he had become only the seventh player in NFL history to pass for more than 3,000 yards in the postseason, and in 1998 upped that total to 3,390 by throwing for 292 yards in the Packers' NFC Wild Card playoff against the 49ers last Jan. 3...In so doing, he now stands in seventh place all-time in NFL playoff annals, behind Montana (5,772), Elway (4,964), Marino (4,219), Jim Kelly (3,863), Terry Bradshaw (3,833) and Troy Aikman (3,563)...With 25 postseason scoring throws now to his credit, he has the fifth-most career TD passes in league playoff history...The NFL's fifth-ranked all-time postseason passer (91.1), standing behind only Bart Starr (104.8), Montana (95.6), Ken Anderson (93.5) and Joe Theismann (91.4), he is the possessor of 12 of 16 passing records in the Packers' postseason annals, having extended five team, career playoff marks in '98 — Most Passes Completed (270); Most Passes Attempted (449); Most Yards Gained on Passes (3,390); Most Touchdown Passes (25); and Most Consecutive Games, Throwing Touchdown Pass (10)...He also is tied with four teammates for the Green Bay postseason record for most career games played (14)...Favre also owns two of the four highest one-season touchdown pass totals in league annals (38 in 1996 and 39 in 1997) and three of the nine highest all-time...In firing 35 scoring passes in 1997, he became only the fourth player in NFL history to lead the league in TD passes in as many as three consecutive seasons (1995-96-97), in the process joining Hall of Famer Arnie Herber as the only Green Bay quarterbacks to lead the NFL in touchdown passes in three different seasons (Herber did it in 1932, '34 and '36)...He underscored his 1998 accomplishments by tying Moon as the second-fastest player in NFL history to reach 25,000 passing yards and becoming only the third ever to record a seventh consecutive 3,000-yard season, a streak previously posted by only Marino (1984-92) and Elway (1985-91)...He also has more yards passing (20,273) over the past five seasons than any other NFL quarterback...Favre, who will not turn 30 until October 10, also became just the fifth player in league history with multiple (two or more) career 4,000-yard seasons, joining Marino, who has turned the trick six times, Moon (4), Dan Fouts (3), Drew Bledsoe (2) and Young (2)...Favre closed out the year with the third-best career passer rating (89.0), behind only Young (97.6) and Montana (92.3), and the fourth-best completion percentage (61.70 percent) in league history while leading the league for the second time as a pro with 4,212 yards passing, (also 1995)...With his 213 career touchdown passes, he enters the 1999 campaign 17th in league annals, immediately behind John Brodie, who is 16th with 214...Should he maintain the 30.4 per year average at which he has thrown touchdown passes over his seven years in Green Bay, he could soar all the way to third on the all-time list within only three more seasons...Possesses an exceptional ratio of touchdown passes to interceptions over his past 55 regular-season games (126 TD passes compared to 54 INTs)...Added one more 4-touchdown game in 1998, pushing his career total to 13 and tying him with George Blanda for the third-most in NFL history, behind Marino (21) and Johnny Unitas (17)...Had thrown a touchdown pass in 18 consecutive games, just four shy of Cecil Isbell's long-standing club record, until the string was snapped last year vs. Minnesota (Oct. 5)...Has posted at least one touchdown pass in 96 of his 109 career regular-season starts with the Packers, failing to do so in only five games since the start of the 1995 season...Also is the team's all-time leader in career 300-yard passing games with 20, including four in 1998...Exceptionally durable as well as highly productive, he last season became only the third quarterback since the 1970 AFL-NFL merger to make 100 consecutive regular-season starts (Philadelphia's Ron Jaworski, 116 from 1977-84, and Buffalo's Joe Ferguson, 107 from 1977-84, are the others)...Has started 109 straight games (122 if playoffs are included, dating back to his first NFL start in the fourth game of the 1992 season) — the second-longest string since the merger — and needs only 8 more in succession in 1999 to surpass Jaworski's mark...In addition, his 109 straight starts ranks 10th among active streaks by NFL players — at any position — entering the 1999 season (seven linemen, one linebacker and one cornerback have longer starting strings than him)...His streak also is the longest current streak by a Green Bay player...In the process, he has compiled a glittering 74-35 regular-season record as a starter, a .679 percentage which has lifted him into first place among all of the NFL's current starting quarterbacks with 20 or more starts...The 49ers' Young, the only other present-day field general with a comparable number of starts, owns a .657 percentage...Remarkably effective in cold weather, particularly for one born and reared in the south, he has forged a perfect 24-0 record (including five postseason victories) as a starter at home (20 in Green Bay, four in Milwaukee) when the game-time temperature is 35 degrees or below...In those 24 games, he has completed 467 of 723 passes (64.6 percent) for 5,591 yards and 53 touchdowns — with only 13 interceptions — for an overall passer rating of 105.1...In another testament to his exceptional leadership qualities, Favre has authored 13 come-from-behind victories in his pro career...Now holds every Green Bay career passing record, having in 1998 claimed the only one he did not have — career passing yards — by surpassing Starr's previous mark of 24,718, swelling his total to 26,803 by year's end...Officially eclipsed Starr's record on Nov. 1 vs. San Francisco, throwing for 279 yards against the 49ers...That accomplishment expanded his collection of Packers regular-season passing records to 16...Possessor of one of the most potent and accurate arms in pro football history, Favre has attempted and completed more passes (2,318 of 3,757) for more yards (26,803) and touchdowns (213) than any other passer in Packers history...He also owns the club lifetime mark for passing percentage (61.70) and has led the Packers in yards passing for seven consecutive seasons, a streak bettered in team history only by the 10 straight of Starr (1959-68)...1998: Led the NFL in both passing yards (4,212) and completions (347) while starting all 16 games for the sixth consecutive year...Also edged out Carolina's Steve Beuerlein (62.974) for the best completion percentage in the NFL with a 62.976 percentage...Finished third in the NFC with 31 touchdown passes and led the conference with a 113.0 passer rating on third down...Was sixth in the conference in passer rating (87.8)...An established winner who led Green Bay to 11 victories in 16 games, he directed the Packers to a 38-19 win over Detroit (Sept. 6) in regular-season opener while throwing for 277 yards and 2 touchdowns on 24-of-32 passing...Led the Green and Gold to a 23-15 victory over Tampa Bay (Sept. 13), when he completed 22 of 33 passes for 237 yards and 2 touchdowns without an interception...Demonstrated his sheer toughness early in the fourth quarter of Buccaneers contest when, after being drilled on a sack by the Bucs' Regan Upshaw, he bounced up and threw a 38-yard TD strike to Antonio Freeman two plays later...Completed 23 of 35 passes for 274 yards and 1 touchdown in the Packers' 13-6 win at Cincinnati (Sept. 20), though he did throw his first interception of the season against the Bengals, a ball that was bobbled before landing in the stomach of a prone Cincinnati defender...Led the Packers to a come-from-behind, 37-30 victory with a signature performance at Carolina (Sept. 27)...Despite uncorking an interception deep in Green Bay territory on his first attempt vs. the Panthers, he rebounded to equal his career high (and the team record) with 5 touchdown passes while throwing for a season-best 388 yards (the third-highest total of his pro career), earning national Miller Lite 'Player of the Week' honors in the process...Endured a difficult night vs. Minnesota (Oct. 5), when he threw for just 114 yards and was intercepted 3 times...Had a tough outing at Detroit (Oct. 15), when, despite throwing for 2 touchdowns and 300 yards, he was intercepted 3 times...After two sub-Favre-like outings, bounced back with a strong performance in leading the Packers to 28-10 win vs. Baltimore (Oct. 25), when he accounted for 3 touchdowns — 2 passing and 1 rushing (his 11th rushing TD as a pro)...Completed 22 of 41 passes for 260 yards in the Ravens contest and was intercepted twice...Demonstrated the ability to make the big play in victory over San Francisco (Nov. 1), when he connected on touchdown passes of 80, 30 and 62 yards in leading Green Bay to a 36-22 triumph — the 12th time in his pro career that he has brought his team back from a fourth-quarter deficit or tie...His 62-yard strike to Freeman early in the fourth quarter broke a 22-22 tie and gave the Packers a 29-22 lead, a completion which also made Favre the club's all-time leader in passing yardage...Completed 15 of 28 passes for 279 yards, with 3 interceptions, vs. the Niners...Hit on 22 of 39 passes for 234 yards, with 1 INT, at Pittsburgh (Nov. 9)...Led Green Bay to a 37-3 win at the N.Y. Giants (Nov. 15), when he threw for 2 touchdowns, completing 21 of 33 passes for 267 yards...Had the second-best completion percentage of his career (79.5) on 31-of-39 passing for 303 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 1 interception, in rematch at Minnesota (Nov. 22)...Recorded his second 300-yard outing in as many weeks, this time vs. Philadelphia (Nov. 29), when he threw for 321 touchdowns and 2 TDs, along with 2 INTs, in Green Bay's 24-16 win...Threw for 262 yards and 2 touchdowns at Tampa Bay (Dec. 7), completing 29 of 41 to nine different receivers while not being intercepted...Completed 26 of 42 passes for 290 yards and 2 touchdowns with 2 interceptions in leading the Packers to a 26-20 win over Chicago (Dec. 13)...Had another outstanding performance, this time vs. Tennessee (Dec. 20), when he threw for 3 touchdowns (all in the first half to Freeman), completing 14 of 22 passes for 253 yards without an interception, for a season-best 142.6 passer rating...Also rushed for a season-high 49 yards against the Oilers, including a 35-yard run — the third-longest carry of his pro career...Led the Packers to victory in a rematch with the Bears at Chicago (Dec. 27), when he threw for 153 yards and 1 touchdown with 2 interceptions, despite sitting out much of the fourth quarter...1998 PLAYOFFS: Extending his club record by throwing a touchdown pass in a 10th consecutive postseason game, Favre engineered a masterful, 89-yard drive to mount a Green Bay lead for a final time (27-23) in its NFC Wild Card playoff game against the 49ers at San Francisco's 3Com Park (Jan. 3), finding his split end, Freeman, with a 15-yard strike for the go-ahead score with 1:56 remaining...The 49ers, unfortunately, subsequently superseded his heroics, responding with a climactic drive of their own to score with three seconds remaining to pull out a 30-27 victory...Favre had closed out a strong performance by completing 20 of 35 passes for 292 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 2 interceptions...Represented Packers during the postseason as one of the team's six playoff captains...1997 HONORS: Chosen as the starting quarterback for the NFC in the Pro Bowl for the third consecutive year, though due to a lingering knee injury he did not play in the game for the first time...In addition to being named NFL 'Most Valuable Player' by AP for a third consecutive year, an honor he shared with Sanders, Favre also was a unanimous choice at quarterback across the board, being named at the position on every major All-Pro team, including AP, Sports Illustrated, Pro Football Weekly, The Sporting News, College & Pro Football Newsweekly, Football Digest and USA Today...Named All-NFC by Pro Football Weekly and Football News...His preeminence at his position was further underscored when he was honored as 'Professional Quarterback of the Year' for the third consecutive year by the National Quarterback Club (June 4, 1998)...1997: Started all 16 games for the fifth straight season and finished third in the NFC with a 92.6 passer rating, based on 304 completions in 513 attempts for 3,867 yards and 35 touchdowns, with 16 interceptions...Was especially effective in the 'Red Zone' (inside the opponents' 20-yard line)...During the regular season, he threw 24 touchdown passes — without an interception — while completing 46 of 79 passes for 341 yards and a passer rating of 108.2...Including the '97 postseason, he completed 52 of 94 attempts for 392 yards and 27 touchdowns — without an interception — in the 'Red Zone,' a passer rating of 105.1...Also led the NFC in completions (304) and passing yards (3,867), finishing second in the league as a whole to Oakland's Jeff George (3,917) in the latter...Eclipsed Starr's previous team record for touchdown passes — 152, set over a 16-year career — in the fourth game of just his sixth season (vs. Minnesota Sept. 21)...Also became the second-fastest player in NFL history to get to 150 career TD passes, reaching that milestone in his 84th career game, a rate bettered only by Marino (62 games), and the second-fastest to throw for 20,000 career yards when he accomplished the feat in 86 games (behind only Marino's 74 games)...In the Packers' 16 regular-season games, he threw at least 2 touchdown passes in 11 games and 3-or-more in six contests...Finished as Green Bay's second-leading rusher with 187 yards and 1 TD on 58 carries...Was the only player in the league to have thrown every one of his team's passes until the regular-season finale vs. Buffalo (Dec. 20), when he gave way to Steve Bono after leading the

ON A TOUCHDOWN PASS PACE FOR ALL-TIME?

Packers quarterback Brett Favre, with 213 career touchdown passes, after only eight seasons already is 17th in NFL history after cracking the league's All-Time Top 20 in 1998. Should he continue to throw touchdown passes at his current rate — he has averaged 30.4 per season over his seven years in Green Bay — he will make major inroads into NFL history (illustrated below) and could even rise to as high as third all-time within a span of only three more seasons. If he were to maintain his present pace through the life of his current contract (which runs through the year 2003), he would stand to be second all-time in NFL history, behind only Dan Marino.

passer rating of 90.7...Ranked third in the NFC in passing yards with 3,882...In the process, he became only the second player in team history to throw for 3,000 yards in three different seasons...Also posted third-lowest interception percentage (2.4) in the NFC among qualifying passers...Ended season second in the NFL with 33 TD passes, which also represented a Green Bay record at the time, surpassing the 32 of Dickey in 1983...Set two other club records, his 363 completions eclipsing the previous mark of 353 by Majkowski in 1989, and closing out the season with a 3.24 career interception percentage, bettering Majkowski's 3.48 career mark...Ranked second in the NFC in passing attempts with 582 (17 shy of Majkowski's Packers single-season record of 599 in '89)...Was particularly effective over the last half of the season, throwing for 23 touchdowns over the last eight games and only 7 interceptions over the final nine games (his 14 interceptions overall were 10 fewer than he threw in 1993)...Started all 16 games plus both playoff contests...Named second-team All-Pro by Football Digest...Produced probably the Packers' biggest play of the year in the second-to-last game of the regular season...With Green Bay needing a victory to keep its playoff hopes alive, he engineered a come-from-behind, 67-yard drive in the final 1:58 against Atlanta (Dec. 18), capping the march with his diving, nine-yard TD run into the right corner of the end zone with only 14 seconds remaining in the game to give the Packers a 21-17 win...Completed 6 of 9 passes for 58 yards in that eleventh-hour drive...Completed 29 of 44 passes for 321 yards and 2 TDs overall against Falcons...Led Packers to a 34-19, playoff-clinching victory at Tampa Bay a week later (Dec. 24), completing 24 of 36 passes for 291 yards and 3 TDs (all to Sterling Sharpe)...Hit on 19 of 31 passes for 250 yards and 3 TDs in a 40-3 win over Chicago (Dec. 11)...Also had a 26-yard run on a scramble against the Bears...Had a big statistical day in a losing cause at Detroit (Dec. 4), completing 29 of 43 passes for season-high 366 yards and 3 touchdowns...Turned in excellent performance at Dallas (Nov. 24), throwing 4 touchdown passes while completing 27 of 40 passes — without an interception — for 257 yards against the NFL's then-No. 1 rated defense...Had 3 TD passes at Buffalo Nov. 20, completing 22 of 40 for 214 yards, with only 1 INT...Completed 20 of 28 passes for 183 yards and 2 TDs — without an interception — in leading Packers to 17-10 win over the Jets a week earlier...Escorted Packers to their second consecutive win vs. Detroit (Nov. 6), throwing 3 TD passes in a 38-30 victory at Milwaukee...Mounted one of his finest performances at Chicago on Oct. 31, running for 1 touchdown and throwing for another in a cold, cyclonic rainstorm...The former came late in the second quarter, when he rolled out to his right and raced 36 yards (diving over a Bear defender into the end zone) to give the Packers a 14-0 lead...Later, in the fourth quarter, he connected with Edgar Bennett for a 13-yard touchdown, raising the Packers' lead to 27-0...His 58 yards rushing against the Bears represented a career high...Had thrown a touchdown pass in nine straight games — the final three regular-season contests of '93 plus the first six games of '94 — until the streak was broken at Minnesota (Oct. 20) when he left the game after the first quarter with a severely bruised left hip...It was the first time since he became the starting quarterback early in 1992 that he had been forced to leave a game due to injury...Put together a similar nine-game string over the final nine games of the season, throwing for at least one score in each...Rallied Packers from a 14-point halftime deficit to a 24-17 win over the L.A. Rams (Oct. 9), completing 25 of 41 passes for 222 yards and 1 TD (an eight-yarder to Sharpe in the third quarter, cutting Rams' lead to 17-10)...Led offense on a go-ahead TD drive at New England (Oct. 2) when Green Bay drove 64 yards to score...Hit Sharpe for 17 yards on a fourth-and-10, found Ron Lewis for 38 yards two plays later, then scrambled for 11 yards on a third-and-10 to the N.E. 1, before a Reggie Cobb score...Completed 25 of 47 passes for 294 yards and 1 TD, with 2 interceptions, against the Patriots...Played one of the finest games of his career in 30-3 win over Tampa Bay (Sept. 25), earning Miller Lite 'NFL Player of the Week' honors as he completed 30 of 39 passes for 306 yards and 3 touchdowns, with no interceptions...Had a 37-yard scoring pass to Cobb at Philadelphia (Sept. 18) as he hit on 24 of 45 passes for 280 yards...Came together against Miami after a slow start (Sept. 11), completing 31 of 51 passes for 362 yards and 2 TDs...Completed 22 of 36 passes for 185 yards and 1 touchdown (a 14-yarder to Sharpe) in season-opening win over the Vikings (Sept. 4)...1994 PLAYOFFS: Played a key role in Packers' 16-12 wild-card playoff victory over Detroit in Green Bay's Lambeau Field (Dec. 31)...Moving the chains effectively during a tight defensive duel, he completed 23 of 38 passes for 262 yards — without an interception — mustering 18 first downs in a masterful "ball control" performance...Hit on 18 of 35 attempts for 211 yards, with 1 INT, in divisional playoff at Dallas a week later (Jan. 8)...1993: Started all 16 games — one of only seven NFL quarterbacks to do so...Became the most accurate career passer in Packers history, supplanting the legendary Starr...Finished the year eighth in the NFC with a 72.2 passer rating, completing 318 of 522 passes (60.9%) for 3,303 yards and 19 touchdowns, with 24 interceptions...Was first among all NFC passers (second in NFL) with 318 completions and his 19 TDs ranked third in the conference (fifth in the NFL)...His 3,303 passing yards were second in the NFC to Young (sixth in the NFL)...Played in the Pro Bowl as a reserve when the Giants' Phil Simms could not take part due to a shoulder problem...Completed 19 of 24 passes for 264 yards and 2 TDs, with 1 INT, to lead Packers 36-6 win over L.A. Rams in season

BRETT FAVRE'S PERFECT RECORD AT HOME IN COLD WEATHER

Packers quarterback Brett Favre, a Mississippi native, holds a perfect 24-0 record at home (19-0 regular season, 5-0 playoffs) when the game-time temperature is 35° or below — a complete listing of those games can be found below. He lost his only road contest with sub-35° temperatures, a 1996 game at Kansas City. Including slightly balmy weather, he is 37-5 in all games (32-5 regular season, 5-0 playoffs) when temperatures are 45° or less.

Packers trailing 24-21 in the final minute of play, he scrambled out of the pocket to his left, found an "unguarded" Sharpe in the open and unleashed an across-the-body throw from extreme left to extreme right; Sharpe ran under the football in the end zone with 55 seconds left and the Packers shortly became 28-24 winners...Had thrown 2 earlier TD passes to Sharpe (a 12-yarder in the second quarter and a 28-yarder in the third period) while completing 15 of 26 passes for 204 yards overall...Threw 2 more TD passes in losing effort (27-17) in divisional playoff at Dallas the following week (Jan. 16) — a two-yarder to Brooks and a 29-yarder to Sharpe...Closed out day with 28 completions in 45 attempts for 331 yards (one yard short of Packers' single-game playoff record) and 2 TDs...1992: Acquired from Atlanta by Packers General Manager Ron Wolf for a first-round draft selection in an offseason trade (Feb. 10)...Was so impressive in escorting Green Bay to its second-best record in 20 years (9-7) — soaring from designated backup to Pro Bowler in just three months' time — that then-Head Coach Mike Holmgren was prompted to observe, "If Brett can stay healthy, he will be the cornerstone of our football team for many years to come"...Beginning the 1992 season as the understudy to incumbent Majkowski, he was hastily summoned from the bench to replace an injured Majkowski in the first quarter of Game 3 vs. Cincinnati (Sept. 20) and proceeded to take a stranglehold on the QB position, staking an immediate claim by leading the Packers to an electrifying, come-from-behind, 24-23 victory over the Bengals, forged by way of a 35-yard scoring pass to wideout Kirtick Taylor with only 13 seconds remaining in the game...Performing in storybook fashion, he went on to compile an 8-5 record as a starter and establish two new Green Bay passing records in the process — single-season marks for passing percentage (64.12%) and most consecutive 200-yard passing games (11)...Named as third QB for NFC Pro Bowl squad after finishing fifth among conference passers with an 85.3 overall rating, based on 302 completions in 471 attempts for 3,227 yards and 18 touchdowns with only 13 interceptions...At the time, was youngest quarterback ever to play in AFC-NFC Pro Bowl (since 1971) at 23 years, 3 months, 28 days of age...His 302 completions tied him with Aikman of Super Bowl champion Dallas Cowboys for first-place honors in NFC...Also ranked second in conference to Young with his 64.12 passing percentage, which broke Starr's Green Bay single-season record of 63.74, set in 1968...Had third-lowest interception percentage among all NFL quarterbacks (2.76)...Also became only the fourth Packers QB to pass for over 3,000 yards in a season...Had a string of 111 passes without an interception broken at Oilers on Dec. 13...Did not play vs. Minnesota in regular-season opener on Sept. 6, but saw action in relief role the next week at Tampa Bay (Sept. 13), completing 8 of 14 passes for 73 yards in second-half play...Engineered two TD drives in last eight minutes of the game to pull out 24-23 victory over Cincinnati (Sept. 20) after relieving injured Majkowski in opening quarter...Threw for season-high 289 yards against Bengals on 22 of 39 passing...Made first NFL start on Sept. 27 vs. Pittsburgh and responded by completing 14 of 19 passes for 210 yards and 2 TDs, including a 76-yarder to Sharpe, with no interceptions...Played well at Atlanta (Oct. 4) despite heavy pressure from Falcons defense, completing 33 of 43 passes for 276 yards and 1 TD...Led Packers to 27-13 victory over Detroit (Nov. 1) at Silverdome, completing 22 of 37 passes for 212 yards and 2 TDs...Completed 27 of a season-high 44 attempts for 279 yards at N.Y. Giants (Nov. 8) but had 3 interceptions, his first multiple-interception contest of the season...Also forced a fumble vs. Giants — recovered by teammate Sanjay Beach — in an impromptu role as a tackler, hitting New York's Pepper Johnson after Johnson had intercepted a pass...Staged an inspiring performance vs. Philadelphia (Nov. 15), leading Packers to a 27-24, come-from-behind victory despite suffering a first-degree separation of his left (non-throwing) shoulder early in the game...Completed 23 of 33 for 275 yards and 2 scores with 2 interceptions in upset of Eagles...Had a five-yard TD run (his first NFL touchdown) at the Bears a week later (Nov. 22) during a fine overall performance, which saw him complete 16 of 24 passes for 209 yards and 1 TD (a 49-yard strike to Sharpe) in 17-3 triumph...Had productive afternoon in return meeting with Tampa Bay (Nov. 29), completing 26 of 41 passes for 223 yards and 1 TD (a nine-yard throw to Harris in fourth quarter) in leading the Packers to a 19-14 win...Posted high percentage performance in rematch with Lions (Dec. 6), hitting on 15 of 19 passes for 214 yards and 3 TDs (the first 3-touchdown game of his career) in escorting Packers to a 38-10 victory...Also effective at Houston (Nov. 13), completing 19 of 30 passes for 155 yards in 16-14 win over Oilers...Closed out regular-season home schedule with a 14 for 23 effort vs. L.A. Rams (Dec. 20), good for 188 yards and 2 TDs (both to Sharpe) in a 28-13 victory...1991: Was second-round draft selection by Falcons (33rd overall and third quarterback, after Dan McGwire and Todd Marinovich)...Completed 14 of 32 passes for 160 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 1 interception, in the preseason...Active for three games during the regular season, he played in two (Oct. 27 vs. L.A. Rams and Nov. 10 at Washington), attempting 5 passes without a completion in Redskins contest.

COLLEGE: Led his Southern Mississippi team to 29 victories, including two bowl triumphs, during four varsity seasons (1987-90), and climaxed his collegiate career by earning a 'Most Valuable Player' award in the East-West Shrine game featuring the nation's best seniors...Set school records for passing yards (8,193), pass attempts (1,234), completions (656), passing percentage (53.0) and touchdowns (55), with only 35 interceptions...His production included five 300-yard passing games and five 3-TD performances,

PRO: Tall, angular center who, in an uplifting story, returned to the playing field in 1998 after overcoming a career-threatening leg injury which had plagued him for two full seasons to open his pro career...Initially somewhat rusty last year, as the season progressed was able to sharpen the abilities which at one time had made him a third-round draft choice...Adds smarts to NFL-quality foot movement and hand usage...Further re-tuning his game, was able to get the majority of snaps at center during Green Bay's three 1999 mini-camps with starter Frank Winters still hampered by his own '98 leg injury..."I think Mike is a good athlete," says Larry Beightol, the Packers' first-year offensive line coach. "He has good foot quickness, he has good body quickness, he has some snap and punch, he has a very good knack of using his hands on pass protection, which allows him to gain leverage. What he really lacks is just the experience of playing. I think he's a real good football player — I think that his best football is yet to come. I see him being a real solid football player for the Green Bay Packers down the road."...Broke two bones in his leg midway through the preseason of his 1996, rookie campaign...Was stymied over the next two seasons by complications which dictated several additional surgeries related to his original injury...Thanks to a vigorous work ethic, was able to return to the field for unrestrained action in 1998...1998: Saw his first playing time as a professional following two years on the sidelines...Got into two regular-season games plus the team's playoff loss at San Francisco...Served as the No. 3 center behind veterans Winters and Jeff Dellenbach...First took the field Dec. 13 vs. Chicago as part of the field goal protection group...With the Packers down to only one healthy player at the position, lined up as a second tight end the next week against Tennessee (Dec. 20) on the play where Antonio Freeman caught a 32-yard scoring pass late in the second quarter...Was inactive for 12 of the team's first 13 games before suiting up for the final three contests following a season-ending leg injury to Winters...Dressed, but did not play, at Pittsburgh (Nov. 9) and at Chicago (Dec. 27)...Was in on special teams vs. the 49ers in the postseason...1997: Was sidelined for a second consecutive season when the muscle and nerve damage associated with his 1996 leg injury were slow to respond...Initially went on reserve/physically unable to perform during training camp (Aug. 19), forcing him to miss at least the league-mandated first six games...Recovered sufficiently to practice with the team, beginning Oct. 22, for the allowable three-week period at midseason...Subsequently was placed on season-ending PUP Nov. 11 following a determination by the club's coaching and medical staffs that he needed continued rehabilitation...1996: Spent his entire rookie season on injured reserve after suffering a fracture to both bones in his lower right leg while blocking on the opening kickoff of the team's second preseason game, Aug. 11 vs. Pittsburgh...Underwent surgery the next day to place a stabilizing rod in the larger bone of his lower leg...Later was placed on IR Aug. 19...Was the first of two third-round draft choices (90th overall and second center) by Green Bay in 1996.

THE PLAYERS

COLLEGE: Three-year starter and letterman (1993-95) for UCLA...Started his final 32 consecutive games, longest streak on the Bruins...Was a first-team All-Pacific 10 Conference selection as a junior and senior...Also earned third-team All-America recognition from Football News in 1995...Was co-offensive winner of school's 'Kenneth S. Washington Award' for outstanding senior, when he registered 79 knockdown blocks...Began the '93 season as a backup, but started the final nine games of the season after injuries to two players, including Jonathan Ogden (Ravens), created an opportunity...Went on that year to be chosen as one of three offensive winners of the 'Captain Don Brown Memorial Trophy' for most improved player...Played in one game in 1992, but did not letter...Was redshirted in 1991...Earned a spot on the Director's (academic) Honor Roll three times...Majored in history.

PERSONAL: Given name Michael Christopher Flanagan...Born in Washington, D.C. ...Single...Was an all-state, all-league and all-city selection in football at Rio Americano High School in Sacramento, Calif. ...Played offensive and defensive tackle, lettering twice...Helped lead team to an 11-1 record and the CIF Sacramento section finals as a senior, when he recorded 91 tackles and 13½ sacks...Served as a team captain...Also earned two letters in basketball...Hobbies include hunting...Residence: Green Bay.

Packers Exp.: 5th Season

Ht: 6-1 Wt: 198 Born: 5/27/72 Acq: Q3d-95

PRO: Many are bigger than he, many are faster than he, but few, if any, National Football League wide receivers are more productive these days than Antonio Michael Freeman has been of late...Is the true definition of a budding young superstar...A natural showman who additionally brings stylistic qualities to the Green Bay offense, after the catch is as good as anyone in the game today...A crafty player with deceptive speed, runs excellent routes...Further emerged in 1998 as one of the league's elite pass-catchers — earning selection to his first career Pro Bowl (as a starter) and consensus All-Pro honors while leading the NFL in receiving yards — a progression which has seen him step up his play each of his four previous years with the team...“I think that the most impressive thing that you see in Antonio is that he makes plays,” says Charlie Baggett, Green Bay's new wide receivers coach. “Some guys have more speed than he does, some guys are bigger than he is, but he's a guy that you see consistently in the end zone. And I think that's the bottom line — the guy makes plays some kind of way. He just comes up with the football. His run-after-the-catch ability is unbelievable. We just think he's an outstanding receiver.”...A proven scoring threat, his 35 touchdown receptions over the past three seasons are far and away tops among NFL players (along with Minnesota's Cris Carter)...Adding in the 1 TD catch he had as a rookie, giving him 36 from 1995-98, holds the team record for most receiving touchdowns by a Packer in his first four seasons — having surpassed the immortal Don Hutson (30, from 1935-38) last year — and is tied for the sixth-highest total in NFL history to start a career...“He's a big-play guy,” adds Sherman Lewis, the Packers' offensive coordinator the past seven years. “I think he's really excellent in the ‘Red Zone,’ when we get around that end zone, he's going to make some plays for you. And his speed is a little deceiving, too. You never see him get run down. He's fast enough that if he catches it, he's going to take it. Plus, I've always said about him that he seems to do the right thing. In the gray area, when things aren't quite like you put on the board — they're not quite black, not quite white — he does the right thing. That is why he is a great player. And he's probably picked this offense up quicker than anybody that I've ever been around.”...From his split end spot has led Green Bay in receptions and receiving yards each of the last three years, including two of the top seven seasons — from a catch standpoint — in club history...Enters the year in 12th place on Green Bay's all-time receiving list with 229 career receptions (for 3,706 yards), should easily crack the Top Ten this season...Has caught at least one pass in 30 consecutive regular-season games (34 including postseason)...En route to becoming only the fifth

THE PLAYERS

Green Bay player to pace the NFL in receiving yards, had six 100-yard receiving games in 1998, giving him 13 professionally (plus three more in the playoffs)...Also last year, established himself as just the third individual in Packers history to post back-to-back 1,000-yard receiving seasons and as only the second player to catch 80-plus passes in two different seasons...Stands 21st on Green Bay's all-time scoring list heading into the 1999 season with 218 career points...His importance to the organization was duly recognized this past Feb. 12 when he was named as the team's franchise player...Consistently shows up with his 'A' game in the playoffs, he already has carved out a significant place in the Packers' postseason history, holding or sharing no less than 13 all-time club playoff records...Also possesses the third-best playoff punt return average in NFL history, his 14.3-yard career average (10-143) is bettered only by the 15.3-yard average of current teammate Robert Brooks (14-214) and the 15.2-yard average set by Anthony Carter of the Vikings and Lions (17-259)...Has a current string of at least one reception in 10 consecutive playoff games, one off the team record of 11...In club postseason history, is third in career receptions (34), second to Brooks in career receiving yards (600) and second to Chris Jacke in career scoring (54 points)...The bigger the game, the better Antonio plays," adds Lewis...Holds nine team playoff records: Longest Reception — 81 yards vs. New England in Super Bowl XXXI; Most Touchdown Passes Received (career) — 7; Most Consecutive Games, Touchdown Pass Received — 3 (a streak which remains current); Most Touchdowns (career) — 9; Most Consecutive Games, Scoring Touchdown — 3 (twice, one of which remains current); Most Kickoff Returns (career) — 20; Most Yards Gained on Kickoff Returns (career) — 413; Highest Punt Return Average (game-3 returns) — 24.0 yards vs. Atlanta in 1995; and Longest Punt Return — 76 yards vs. Atlanta in 1995...Is tied for four other club postseason marks: Most Passes Caught (game) — 9 vs. Denver in Super Bowl XXXII; Most Games, 100 or More Yards Pass Receiving (career) — 3; Most Consecutive Games, 100 or More Yards Pass Receiving — 2; Most Kickoff Returns (game) — 7 in 1995 NFC Championship Game at Dallas...Had first stepped up his game during the 1996 season in the injury-forced absence of other receivers and emerged as the team's go-to guy, a distinction he has maintained ever since...Initially had made his mark on special teams as a 1995 rookie, returning both punts and kickoffs...Enhanced his contributions that year in the playoffs, making several important catches to go along with numerous big plays on returns...1998: Reaching new heights as a player, enjoyed arguably the best all-around season by an NFL receiver, a fellow NFC Central pass-catcher notwithstanding...Led the league in receiving yards (1,424), was a Pro Bowl starter and merited consensus All-Pro recognition...Tied for second in the NFL in touchdown catches (14) and was the conference runner-up (to Arizona's Frank Sanders) in receptions with a career-high 84...Started 15 of the team's 16 regular-season games at split end, he was inactive for the other contest due to a broken jaw...Also was the starter in playoff loss to 49ers...Led the team in receptions for the third consecutive season, while his career-high 1,424 yards receiving enabled him to become only the fifth Green Bay player — and just the second over the past four decades — to lead the NFL in receiving yards, joining Johnny (Blood) McNally (1932), Hutson (1936, 1938-39, 1941-44), Billy Howton (1952-56) and Sterling Sharpe (1992)...Became only the third player in Packers' history (along with James Lofton and Sharpe) to post back-to-back 1,000-yard receiving seasons, his 1,424 yards ranking as the third-highest one-season total in team annals...Had a career-best six 100-yard receiving days, while leading the team in receiving yards in 12 of 17 total games...Earned selection to his first career Pro Bowl...Was an All-Pro selection of the Associated Press, Sports Illustrated, Pro Football Weekly, The Sporting News, College & Pro Football Newsweekly and Football Digest...Also received All-NFC recognition from Pro Football Weekly and Football News...On the heels of his 81 receptions in 1997, joined Sharpe as the only players in team history to catch 80-or-more passes in consecutive years — Sharpe had 108, 112 and 94 from 1992-94 — not to mention the lone individuals in club annals with two 80-reception seasons period (Sharpe has four to his credit, including his 90 catches in 1989)...Also has three career 50-catch seasons, a total exceeded in club history by only Lofton (seven) and Sharpe (seven)...Added 14 receiving touchdowns — the third-highest, single-season total in team record books — to his already-imposing career number...Was named NFC 'Offensive Player of the Week' after a career day in 30-22 victory over Tennessee (Dec. 20), when he had 3 first-half touchdowns (of 57, 68 and 32 yards) to equal his career best among 7 total receptions for 186 yards...Earlier had made 2 long TD catches — including an 80-yarder on the first play from scrimmage — in 36-22, regular-season triumph over San Francisco (Nov. 1), while making 7 receptions for a career-high 193 yards (for a season-best 27.6-yard average per catch) to capture national Miller Lite 'NFL Player of the Week' honors...Effort vs. 49ers capped a three-game stretch of 100-yard receiving days, which had begun with 6 catches for 126 yards and 2 touchdowns at Detroit (Oct. 15)...Followed that up with a season-high 9 receptions (for 103 yards and 1 TD) vs. his hometown Baltimore Ravens (Oct. 25), his production including one of the most spectacular catches of his career — a 44-yard reception that he hauled in by turning his body around at the last second (he was looking inside and the ball was thrown over his outside shoulder) and snaring the ball with one hand...Chalked up the first successful two-point conversion of his pro career Nov. 9 at Pittsburgh, in addition to a game-high 6 receptions...Got out of the gate fast with 4 catches for 110 yards and 2 touchdowns, including a career-long 84-yard score, in season-opening victory over Detroit (Sept. 6)...Posted a game-high 83 receiving yards on 5 catches vs. Tampa Bay (Sept. 13), including a 38-yard TD reception where he was hit by two defenders as he made the grab, before spinning around and dashing into the end zone to give Green Bay a 23-0 lead in the eventual 23-15 win...Later made a 33-yard touchdown catch against stingy Philadelphia defense (Nov. 29), before suffering a fractured jaw in the second half, which caused him to be inactive for Monday night contest at Tampa Bay the ensuing week (Dec. 7)...Returned to the lineup with a bang, catching a game-high 8 passes (for 103 yards and 1 TD) in 26-20 victory over the Bears (Dec. 13)...Two weeks later in rematch at Chicago, had a team-leading 7 catches (for 65 yards and a score)...In typical fashion, took his personal game to its highest level during the Packers' short postseason...Despite a stated attempt by San Francisco to shut him down, still managed 2 touchdown receptions among a game-high 75 yards receiving (on 4 catches) in NFC Wild Card playoff game at 49ers (Jan. 3), his second score — a 15-yarder on a sprint-and-go pattern — gave Green Bay a 27-23 lead with 1:56 remaining in the eventual 30-27 defeat...Ranked fifth in NFC scoring among non-kickers with 86 points, he also stood seventh in the conference in total yards from scrimmage (1,429)...1997: Led Green Bay in receiving during the regular season for the second straight year, posting (at the time) career-high numbers in receptions (81), receiving yards (1,243) and touchdown receptions (12)...Joined Sharpe and Brooks as the only players in team history to catch 80-or-more passes in one season...Was fifth in the NFC in receptions (eighth in the NFL) and fourth in the conference in receiving yards (seventh in the league)...Became just the sixth 1,000-yard receiver in team history in recording his first career 1,000-yard season...Teamed with Brooks to form the first-ever pair of Green Bay pass-catchers to each have over 1,000 yards receiving, the duo posting a team-record 2,253 yards (old record: 2,130 by Lofton and John Jefferson in 1983)...Finished second in the NFC, behind the Vikings' Carter, with 12 TD catches...Tied three other players for second in the NFL in third-down receptions (29), trailing only the 31 of the Cardinals' Sanders...Additionally was fourth in conference scoring among non-kickers with 72 points and 11th in the NFC in total yards from scrimmage (1,257)...Tied for sixth in average yards per catch (15.3) among the NFC's top 20 receivers...Started all 16 regular-season games for the first time as a pro, opening 15 at split end and one at flanker (Nov. 16 at Indianapolis when Brooks was inactive due to a rib injury)...Also started all three playoff contests, including Super Bowl XXXII, in elevating his personal game during the postseason...Led the team in receptions (17), receiving yards (308) and touchdown receptions (3) during the playoffs...Put himself in line for game MVP honors (with a different final score) with a magnificent performance in 31-24 Super Bowl loss to Denver (Jan. 25), catching 9 passes (for 126 yards and 2 touchdowns) to equal the Packers' all-time playoff record...Made a tremendous, 22-yard, over-the-shoulder grab at the very back of the end zone for the game's first score less than five minutes into the Super Bowl, he later added a 13-yard touchdown on a crossing route to tie the contest at 24 early in the fourth quarter...Had turned in a similar showing in the NFC Championship Game two weeks earlier at San Francisco (Jan. 11)...Made 4 receptions for 107 yards (a season-high 26.8-yard average) and 1 touchdown in Green Bay's 23-10 triumph over the 49ers...Two plays after a long Eugene Robinson interception return had given the Packers the ball at the San Francisco 28-yard line, he caught a short slant pass from Brett Favre, cut back across the grain, breaking several tackles in the process, for a memorable 27-yard touchdown and a 10-0 Green Bay lead...Later hauled in a 40-yard reception from Favre seconds before halftime to set up a field goal which made the score 13-3...Took on the added responsibility of returning kickoffs during the postseason, running back 9 for 158 yards...Had four regular-season games where he caught 2 touchdown passes and three contests of 100-plus yards...After not catching a pass in the season opener, made at least 3 receptions in every game thereafter...Equaled his career high with 10 receptions (for a season-best 166 yards and touchdowns of 58 and 6 yards) in a 31-10 win at Carolina (Dec. 14) to earn NFC 'Offensive Player of the Week' honors...Earlier had received conference 'Offensive Player of the Week' recognition after making a team-leading 7 catches for 160 yards vs. St. Louis (Nov. 9), including a 25-yard TD reception, in the 17-7 victory...Had enjoyed one of his better games of the season early in the year vs. Minnesota (Sept. 21), catching 7 passes for 122 yards and 2 TDs; his first scoring catch allowed him to become part of Packers history as he was on the receiving end of Favre's 153rd career touchdown pass to break Bart Starr's long-standing team record of 152...Hauled in touchdown receptions of 31 and 6 yards to lead Green Bay to a 21-16 win over previously-unbeaten Tampa Bay (Oct. 5)...Led Packers with 7 catches for 86 yards at Chicago

THE PLAYERS

(Oct. 12) the following week...Had 2 touchdowns (of 16 and 26 yards) at Indianapolis (Nov. 16) among a team-high 5 receptions for 93 yards, he also provided excellent downfield blocking on Dorsey Levens' 52-yard scoring run along the right sideline...Caught 3 passes for 56 yards vs. Dallas (Nov. 23), including a 23-yard touchdown reception midway through the fourth quarter; the Cowboys had closed to within 24-17 until Freeman's TD catch made it 31-17 in the Packers' eventual 45-17 triumph...Also had drawn a 34-yard pass interference penalty on the Cowboys' Deion Sanders on Green Bay's opening drive of the second half, setting up a touchdown two plays later which put the Packers out front 17-10...Made a team-leading 6 receptions for a game-high 85 yards in the Packers' 27-11 win at Minnesota (Dec. 1), including key third-down catches on each of the club's first two scoring drives; he also had his first NFL carry against the Vikings on a 14-yard reverse...Posted a club-high 6 receptions (for 63 yards), a four-yard touchdown catch among them, in 31-21, season-closing win over Buffalo (Dec. 20)...Had caught his first TD pass of the season on Sept. 14 vs. Miami, when he hauled in a two-yard throw from Favre early in the second quarter of 23-18 victory...1996: Emerged in training camp to win the Packers' starting split end job...Despite missing four weeks due to injury, he still led the team in both receptions (56) and receiving yards (933) for the first time...Also finished second on the club (to Keith Jackson) with 9 touchdown catches...Had his personal season interrupted for a month when he suffered a fractured left forearm (ulna) early in the second Tampa Bay game (Oct. 27), an injury which necessitated surgery two days later to stabilize the fracture and to attach a plate...Was inactive for the ensuing four games before he returned to the field with his arm in a cast, a protective measure he was forced to endure for the balance of the season...Went on a blistering pace after coming back from his injury-forced hiatus, catching 25 passes for 452 yards and 4 touchdowns during the team's perfect, 4-0 December to earn NFC 'Offensive Player of the Month' honors...Made a career-high 10 receptions (for 156 yards) vs. Chicago (Dec. 1) in his memorable return to the lineup...Had a second straight outstanding game the ensuing week against Denver, when he caught 9 passes for 175 yards and a career-best 3 touchdowns in a 41-6 shellacking of the Broncos (Dec. 8)...His production vs. Denver included a 14-yard TD grab to give Green Bay a 13-3 lead just before halftime and a 51-yard touchdown catch, where he broke the tackle of the Broncos' Tory James, midway through the third quarter to crack the game wide open at 20-6...His 331 receiving yards in successive weeks against Chicago and Denver represented the fifth-highest two-game total in club annals and the most in consecutive games since Lofton had a team-record 368 yards two straight weekends in 1984...Made at least one big play in each of the Packers' three playoff games en route to Green Bay's 12th world championship...Caught a pivotal touchdown pass in Super Bowl XXXI vs. New England (Jan. 26) to give the Packers a 17-14 lead and swing the momentum back to Green Bay after the Patriots had scored 14 unanswered points for a 14-10 advantage...It stands as the longest reception in Super Bowl history, an 81-yard catch-and-run along the right sideline where he beat the bump-and-run coverage of Pats strong safety Lawyer Milloy at the line, then outran free safety Willie Clay, who was giving chase from across the field...Totalled 3 receptions for 105 yards against New England...Made an impressive over-the-shoulder touchdown reception of 6 yards on a fade pattern late in the first half of NFC Championship Game vs. Carolina (Jan. 12), giving Green Bay a 14-10 lead in the eventual 30-13 triumph over the Panthers...Recovered an Edgar Bennett fumble in the end zone for the Packers' fourth touchdown in 35-14, divisional playoff victory over San Francisco (Jan. 4), a score which capped a 72-yard drive by Green Bay immediately following a quick 49ers TD early in the third quarter which had pulled them to within 21-14...Set a new club postseason record for most consecutive games scoring a touchdown with his score in each of the Packers' three '96 contests...Was second on the team (behind Levens) in receptions during the playoffs with 9 for 174 yards and 2 touchdowns...Finished the regular season 12th in the NFC in receiving yards and 20th in the conference in catches...Enjoyed the first five (four regular season, one postseason) 100-yard receiving games of his pro career in his inaugural year as a starter...Had the third-highest percentage of first downs to receptions in the NFL (30 catch minimum), his 82.1% (46 first downs among 56 receptions) left him behind only the Redskins' Henry Ellard (94.2%) and the Bears' Bobby Engram (84.8%)...Named to the 'All-Madden Team' by Fox Sports analyst John Madden...Though 14 of his 15 total starts (12 regular season, three postseason) were at split end, he frequently was called upon early in the year to fill in for Brooks at flanker...Initially did so in win at Seattle (Sept. 29) after Brooks went out with a concussion on the Packers' first play from scrimmage, responding with 7 catches (2 for touchdowns) and his first career 100-yard game (108) as a pro...Followed that performance with an exceptional outing on Oct. 6 at Chicago, making 7 receptions for 146 yards, including two amazing touchdown catches — the first coming on a 50-yard 'Hail Mary' pass on the last play of the first half, the second an acrobatic, 35-yard grab over a Bear defender late in the third quarter to give Green Bay a 34-6 lead in the eventual 37-6 victory...His only start of the year at flanker came in the same Buccaneers contest in which he was injured as Brooks had gone out for the season one game earlier vs. San Francisco...Made a team-leading 6 receptions for 82 yards in season-opening victory at Tampa Bay (Sept. 1)...1995: Got opportunity early in his rookie season to contribute as a return man after incumbent Charles Jordan was hampered by shoulder and knee injuries, he never really relinquished the role...Subsequently became more involved in the offense as the year went on, seeing regular duty in four-receiver formations by the time the playoffs rolled around...Twice was named NFL 'Special Teams Player of the Week' during the playoffs as a result of his performances against Atlanta (Dec. 31) and at Dallas in the NFC Championship Game (Jan. 14)...Broke open close playoff game with Falcons by returning a Dan Stryzinski punt 76 yards for a touchdown midway through the second quarter — the first-ever scoring return of either a punt or kickoff in Green Bay's storied postseason history...Also had 2 kickoff returns for 54 yards vs. Atlanta, including a 42-yarder right after the Falcons had scored a quick touchdown for an early 7-0 lead...Totalled 202 return yards in Cowboys contest — 7 for 148 yards on kickoffs and 4 for 54 yards on punts...His 39-yard punt return late in the first quarter of NFC title game triggered a Green Bay touchdown three plays later which gave the Packers a 17-14 advantage...One week earlier had made a favorable impression as a receiver at San Francisco (Jan. 6), catching 2 passes for first downs on the opening drive of 27-17 triumph over 49ers...Led team and finished fifth in the NFC in kickoff returns with a 23.2-yard average (24 returns for 556 yards)...Set club rookie record with 37 punt returns (for 292 yards)...Also caught 8 passes for 106 yards and 1 touchdown...Made 2 receptions vs. the N.Y. Giants (Sept. 17) in his initial league game...Scored his first touchdown in the NFL at New Orleans (Dec. 16) when he caught an 11-yard pass from Favre late in the second quarter among his season-high 3 receptions...Provided Packers with great field position in key, 35-28 win over Chicago (Nov. 12) with a 26-yard punt return in the first quarter and a 45-yard kickoff return in the third period — both runbacks set up a Green Bay touchdown on the very next play...Averaged an impressive 35.3 yards on 3 kickoff returns in same Bears contest...Saw action in 11

Linebacker

College: North Carolina

NFL Exp.: 5th Season

Packers Exp.: 5th Season

Ht: 6-2 Wt: 250 Born: 10/15/71 Acq: FA-95

PRO: A forceful, physical presence in the center of the Green Bay defense from his middle linebacker spot, also has the speed to be a highly-effective contributor in pass coverage...One of the Packers' emerging young players, has posted team-leading, 100-plus tackle seasons as a starter the past two years after winning a spot in the lineup during training camp in 1997...Is a tremendous leader despite his modest and restrained personality...Was a fiercely productive special teams performer his first two seasons with the club until growing into a full-time role beginning with the '97 campaign..."I'm very impressed with Bernardo," says Emmitt Thomas, the Packers' new defensive coordinator. "For the short time he has played as a starting middle linebacker in the National Football League, he has great instincts. We also think he has great leadership — the guys seem to rally around his calls and his demands. He's a big guy at around 250 and has excellent coverage skills — nice, quick lateral movement — and he's a tough guy. We think we're pretty good right there..."A top-level special teams player for Green Bay during the 1995-96 seasons, took a great degree of pride in leading the Packers' highly-regarded coverage units in tackles during the club's Super Bowl-winning campaign of '96...A year-round Green Bay resident, has been especially helpful to Thomas and his defensive staff in making for a smooth transition to a new team..."Bernardo came in early when we first got here and helped us put our playbook together because we didn't want to change all of the calls," Thomas recalls, "so we kept some of their previous terminology and then integrated some of our terminology with that. He was integral in sitting down and explaining their different calls and their system to us, and did a good job. He's also going to be able to help out Darren Sharper with our signal-calling this season..."Has played all three linebacker positions for the Packers, having concentrated on outside linebacker during each of his initial two seasons with the team...Battled through a broken arm in training camp his first year in Green Bay to make the team's 53-man roster in 1995 as a virtually unknown free agent...Had spent the '94 season out of football, working at an auto parts dealership in his hometown, after a short-lived attempt for a roster spot with the Chiefs...Received a multi-year contract extension this past March...1998: Started all 16 games at middle linebacker for the second year in a row...Also was the starter for the Packers' playoff contest at San Francisco...Led the team in tackles a second consecutive season, recording a career-high 121 stops (79 solo)...Also had 2 sacks and 3 passes defended...Equalled his career high with 14 tackles (11 unassisted) in Monday night game at Pittsburgh (Nov. 9) to pace Green Bay defenders...Had contributed a team-high 13 stops a few weeks earlier in prime-time contest at Detroit (Oct. 15)...Recorded a club-best 9 tackles in front of family and friends at Carolina (Sept. 27) as Green Bay limited the Panthers to only 230 total yards in 37-30 victory...Sacked the Vikings' Randall Cunningham among 5 tackles and knocked down a pass at Minnesota (Nov. 22)...Later posted 8 stops, including his second sack of the year, in 30-22 win over Tennessee (Dec. 20) as Green Bay held running back Eddie George to just 30 yards rushing on 15 carries...Closed the year strong, making 26 tackles over the Packers' final three regular-season games...Had a pair of 9-stop efforts vs. Chicago sandwiched around his performance against the then-Oilers...Led Green Bay with 11 tackles, including a shared sack of Steve Young, in wild-card playoff loss to the 49ers (Jan. 3)...Nearly made a game-saving play vs. San Francisco, recovering an apparent Jerry Rice fumble in the final minute before officials ruled Rice down on the play...1997: Mounted an impressive training camp performance to earn the starting job at middle linebacker in the absence of incumbent starter George Koonce, who was rehabilitating a knee injury...Started all 16 regular-season games for the first time, he also started all three of the club's playoff contests, including Super Bowl XXXII...Led the team with 119 stops (86 solo) — his first-ever 100-tackle season...Also had 1 sack, 1 interception and 5 passes

PRO: First-year quarterback, who, after a rookie year learning the Packers' offense and observing the professional game from the club's practice squad, is ready to compete for a spot on the 53-man roster in 1999...Possessor of solid quarterbacking tools, has absorbed the pro game well and will use preseason opportunity to prove place in league...Appears ready to take the logical next step, according to new Green Bay quarterbacks coach Mike McCarthy, who says, "He needs to come in and compete for one of three slots. I think he's ready for that. He's a very committed young man and he displayed that throughout the spring. He's done a great job getting his body in a lot better shape — he's a lot stronger. He's an intelligent player, for as young as he is, particularly in his second year of experience. Athletically, he's got good balance, good feet. I really like his upbeat personality and he shows some leadership ability. I think he's a young quarterback that's going to be playing a long time in the National Football League"...A free agent following the 1998 season, chose to re-sign with the Packers this past February 15...1998: Spent the entire 1998 season on the Green Bay practice squad...Though he survived the final cutdown of training camp, beating out veteran David Klingler, was released just three days before the regular-season opener (Sept. 3) after the Packers signed veteran Rick Mirer to be their number-three quarterback...After clearing waivers, was inked to the team's practice squad two days later (Sept. 5)...Had played in three games during the preseason, completing 8 of 22 passes for 160 yards, with 1 touchdown and 2 interceptions...Was the second of two sixth-round draft choices (187th overall) by Green Bay in 1998.

COLLEGE: A two-year starter and four-time letterman (1994-97) at Boston College...Finished fifth on the Eagles' career passing list with 4,548 yards, completing 390 of 701 passes with 22 touchdowns and 26 interceptions...Started 21 games among 37 played overall...Completed 188 of 305 passes for 2,239 yards and 11 touchdowns with 10 interceptions as a senior, when he was a co-winner of the 'Thomas F. Scanlon Award' as the outstanding senior scholar-athlete...Was named Big East Conference 'Player of the Week' for his 1997 performance against Rutgers, throwing for 314 yards and a touchdown on 21-of-27 passing; he also rushed for a score...Threw for 277 yards in a 22-of-33 performance, that included a school-record 14 consecutive completions, in contest vs. Notre Dame...Authored a great finish to his Eagles career, completing 31 of 46 attempts for a career-high 393 yards and 3 touchdowns, including the game-winner, in a 24-20 victory over Army...Hit on 171 of 330 passes for 1,990 yards and 9 touchdowns with 9 interceptions his junior season...Came off the bench in the fourth quarter of dramatic, 24-21 win over

PRO: With a healthy Dorsey Levens again behind him and a new three-year contract in his back pocket, hopes for a return to his magnificent 1997 form after a self-admitted "down" year which saw him make a path for four different starting halfbacks...Can be a dominating player, takes tremendous pride in pummeling opponents — with secondary desire to carry the football...William is going to be much better this season than he was last year — William is having fun again," says Green Bay running backs coach Harry Sydney, who has overseen the development of the chiseled Virginian since his rookie season. "He has a willingness to sacrifice for everybody else, which helps make him a good fullback. He does the dirty work that no one else wants to do — he blocks, blocks, blocks more, blocks again, helps in pass protection. He may only carry the ball one or two times a game, but he's constantly blocking and he gets his praise and his pride from how Dorsey does. I think the fact that he and Dorsey are together again helps — it's like his brother is back. To some, that may sound different, but it's like that."...Was a key component in Levens' 1,435-yard season on the ground (second-best in team history) in 1997, credit given by the runner himself...One of the league's better blocking fullbacks, Green Bay's running fortunes took a decided upturn during the 1996 and '97 seasons — his first two in the starting lineup...Is often overlooked for postseason awards and honors in favor of his conference counterparts who play more of a headliner role in their teams' offenses...Though he has improved greatly as both a runner and receiver since coming to Titledown in 1995 as a relatively unknown third-round draft choice, enters this season with much to improve upon...William had a really good year catching the ball (in 1998), but a fullback's job in this offense is to block. And although he did that pretty well compared to everybody else's standards, to my standards and to his standards he dropped off a little bit — and he knows that. A lot of that was because of his hand placement, his contact and also that linebackers knew he was coming, and so they're preparing themselves. They're not playing against some guy who's 215 pounds that they can just bull over. They see somebody 250 coming at them, they've got to gear up so hard when he comes at them. They've got to really step up for the contact."...Has proven to be a surprisingly effective pass-catcher out of the backfield, averaging 35 receptions per season in his three years as the club's starter...William may be the best blocking fullback in the NFL," says Green Bay offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis. "He also has demonstrated a rare ability to make first defenders miss after catching short passes out of the backfield. William is a very unselfish player who only cares about winning and enjoys the role he plays."...Ironically, the destruction he routinely causes when matching up head-to-head with opposition linebackers and defensive backs belie the quiet, focused Christian man he is on the inside...Highly dependable, has not missed a game over the last three seasons and has been out for only one contest during his four-year pro career...Had won the starting fullback job late in '96 training camp over the incumbent Levens, in large part due to his extraordinary blocking skills...Also adds another, less noticeable element to the Green Bay attack, according to Lewis, who says, "He brings a degree of toughness to the field. I like to refer to him as a tempo setter for us. He kind of sets the tempo for the offense by being physical."...In this day of increased emphasis on individual accolades, Henderson takes a uniquely simplistic approach to his duties, saying, "My job is to block. I consider myself a glorified guard here. I feel like I'm a lineman. I won't have the perfect game until every linebacker is lying flat on their backs."...Despite the fact that he wasn't invited to any postseason all-star games or the NFL scouting combine after a collegiate career lacking in stats, was targeted by the Packers as the player they wanted to draft in 1995 to help jump-start the Green Bay running game...Subsequently had his rookie season push for the starting lineup short-circuited by a knee injury early in training camp, but since has lived up to the club's lofty expectations for the most part...Resigned with Green Bay this past April 6...1998: Reliable, saw action in every game a third consecutive year while lining up in front of four different starting quarterbacks...Made 10 regular-season starts at fullback, he played in, but did not start, the other six contests as Green Bay opened with multiple receivers or tight ends in the lineup...Also was the starter in the Packers' playoff game at San Francisco...Finished third on the team in receptions with 37 (for 241 yards and 1 touchdown)...Also rushed 23 times for 70 yards and 2 TDs...Enjoyed the first 2-touchdown game of his pro career in Green Bay's 24-16 victory over Philadelphia (Nov. 29), scoring on a one-yard reception and a two-yard run — the latter score came with three minutes remaining in the game and gave the Packers a more secure, 24-16 lead...Two weeks earlier, had scored his first rushing touchdown in the NFL, plowing into the end zone from seven yards out at the N.Y. Giants (Nov. 15), giving Green Bay a 30-3 lead in the eventual 37-3 win...Also gained a season-high 21 yards on the ground in Giants contest (on 4 carries)...Made a career-best 8 receptions (for 51 yards) in Monday night game at Tampa Bay (Dec. 7)...Tied for the club lead in catches with 6 for 53 yards in the Packers' 37-30 victory at Carolina (Sept. 27)...Also paced the team in receptions (with 4) in first meeting with Minnesota (Oct. 5)...Caught 3 passes for season-best 55 yards in 49ers playoff game (Jan. 3)...1997: Played in all 16 regular-season games for the second straight year, starting all but two (each time when the Packers opened with an extra wide receiver)...Served a vital role in Levens' 1,435-yard rushing season (No. 2 in club record books) and helped the Packers to improve their team rushing average by another five yards over the year before, up to 119.3...Also started all three playoff contests, Super Bowl XXXII among them, in the process helping Levens to average 105.3 yards per game on the ground during the postseason, including two 100-yard rushing performances...Finished fourth on the team in receptions during the regular season with a career-best 41 (for a career-high 367 yards)...Also was the club's fourth-and he wants to learn. Football means a lot to him. Physically, he's got all the attributes you're looking for. He's tall, has long arms and is strong. But the thing that's been most impressive to me is his work ethic and his desire to get better at the game — to gather knowledge, learn and study. I think it means something to him to be a great player in this league." ...Made relatively seamless move to left defensive end during offseason mini-camps, is expected to further his pro development at his new home..." "I'm excited to see him and see what he can do," continues Trgovac, "to see how he adapts to the left side. He's had no problems making the transition. There were just a couple footwork things that had to be worked out, but he's had no problems with it." ...The Packers' first-round choice in the '98 draft, Green Bay had traded its second-round pick to Miami in order to move up 10 spots in the round...1998: Was the Packers' starter at right defensive end from day one of training camp, he went on to start 12 games for Green Bay and gain consensus all-rookie acclaim...Was inactive for the other four contests due to an ankle injury...Often moved inside to tackle on obvious passing downs...Selected to the all-rookie teams of Pro Football Weekly, College & Pro Football Newsweekly, Football News and Football Digest...Was runner-up, by two votes, to Oakland cornerback Charles Woodson for Associated Press 'Defensive Rookie of the Year' award, an honor for which he was a front-runner until missing four of the Packers' last five games with a high ankle sprain...Tied with Woodson for 'Defensive Rookie of the Year' recognition from College & Pro Football Newsweekly...Finished 10th overall on the club with 39 tackles (27 solo), including 8 sacks (tied for second)...His 8 sacks matched Tim Harris' team rookie record (set in 1986) and also tied the Dolphins' Lorenzo Bromell for most quarterback takedowns by an NFL rookie in '98...Also contributed with 2 fumble recoveries and 5 passes defended...Came back from injury to play in NFC Wild Card playoff contest at San Francisco (Jan. 3), posting a sack of the Niners' Steve Young...Earlier had suffered high ankle sprain to the right leg in fourth quarter of contest at Minnesota (Nov. 22); subsequently was inactive vs. Philadelphia (Nov. 29)...Made attempt to get back on the field in start the following week at Tampa Bay (Dec. 7), but left game almost immediately with the ankle problem...Was inactive for the team's last three regular-season games: vs. Chicago (Dec. 13), vs. Tennessee (Dec. 20) and rematch with the Bears at Chicago (Dec. 27)...Earlier, had authored an impressive performance at the N.Y. Giants (Nov. 15), matching his career high with 2 sacks among a career-best 7 tackles, with a pass defended, in 37-3 Green Bay win...Played a great game in 36-22 triumph over San Francisco (Nov. 1), registering 5 tackles — including a sack of Young — and 1 pass defended...Posted a sack among 3 stops working against Baltimore's All-Pro left tackle, Jonathan Ogden, in the Packers' 28-10 win over the Ravens (Oct. 25)...Recovered a Randall Cunningham fumble and made 2 tackles against Minnesota (Oct. 5)...Authored an exceptional month of football in September, when he was named as the NFL's 'Defensive Rookie of the Month,' registering a rookie-leading 4 sacks among 15 total tackles, 3 passes defended and 1 fumble recovery during Green Bay's 4-0 start...Registered exceptional effort in front of 36 friends and family at Carolina (Sept. 27), establishing a career best with 2 sacks among 3 tackles, knocking down a career-high 2 passes and helping Packers' defense limit Panthers to just 230 yards in 37-30 win...Made 5 stops, including a sack, in 13-6 victory at Cincinnati (Sept. 20)...Proved to be especially effective against the run vs. the Bengals, helping to limit Corey Dillon to just 28 yards on 16 carries as rushes repeatedly came his way...Posted 4 tackles, 1 pass defended and 1 fumble recovery in contest vs. Tampa Bay (Sept. 13)...Recovered an early Trent Diller fumble (forced by teammate Santana Dotson) at the Bucs' 14-yard line; Green Bay scored two plays later to take a 10-0 lead in the eventual 23-15 win...Also helped defense limit Buccaneers rushing attack to only 50 yards...Debuted impressively in season-opening, 38-19 victory over Detroit (Sept. 6), posting 3 tackles, among them his first NFL sack, a fourth-quarter drop of Scott Mitchell...Assisted in holding Lions' Barry Sanders to 70 yards rushing, ending his NFL-record streak of 14 consecutive 100-yard rushing games...Drafted in the first round (19th overall) by Green Bay in 1998.

PRO: The MVP catalyst in the Packers' Super Bowl XXXI victory over New England — and one of the premier kick return specialists in pro football history — Desmond Howard returns to Green Bay's green and gold in 1999 after a two-year "sabbatical" with the Oakland Raiders — and to the scene of his greatest

NFL success...His record, 99-yard scoring kickoff return late in the third quarter all-but-sealed the Packers' 35-21 triumph over the Patriots in SB XXXI at New Orleans (Jan. 26, 1996)...It was the electrifying centerpiece in an incredible performance by the former Heisman Trophy winner, who amassed 244 return yards en route to becoming the first special teams player in Super Bowl history to be voted 'Most Valuable Player'...His memorable day climaxed a career year for Howard, who set an NFL record for punt return yardage during the 1996 regular season, amassing 875 yards on 58 returns to shatter the previous one-season mark of 692 yards, in the process distinguishing himself as just the third Green Bay player to lead the league in punt return average...Along the way, he returned 3 punts for touchdowns to also establish a new club record and become one of just six players in league history with three-or-more punt return scores in the same season, falling only one touchdown return shy of the all-time NFL single-season standard for both punts and combined return TDs...Having the opportunity to get Desmond back is tremendous for our football team," says new Green Bay head coach Ray Rhodes. "His accomplishments when he was here earlier are still in everybody's mind. I still look back at the 1996 season and look at how he ignited the football team. There were games in which he did things that put the team over the top. I don't think there's a question in my mind what he can do for this football team — he's an outstanding returner."...Earned 'Special Teams Player of the Week' recognition four times during his lofty '96 campaign (thrice in the regular season, once in the playoffs), in addition to receiving the 'Pete Rozelle Trophy' as Super Bowl MVP...Following that singular season, he signed a multi-year contract with Oakland as an unrestricted free agent and proceeded to set a Raiders single-season record for kickoff return yardage in 1997...He followed that performance by closing out the 1998 season as the fifth-ranking punt returner in the American Football Conference, punctuating his efforts with two scoring runbacks...The latter swelled his career total of punt return touchdowns to 6, tying him with Darrien Gordon and Billy 'White Shoes' Johnson for the sixth-most scoring runbacks in NFL history...He now ranks behind only Eric Metcalf, the league's all-time leader with 9, the 8 of Jack Christiansen and Rick Upchurch, as well as the 7 of David Meggett and Brian Mitchell...Possessor of an infectious smile, he enters the 1999 season with the ninth-highest career punt return average (12.1 yards) in league history (minimum 75 returns), also standing fifth among active players with 40-or-more runbacks...Sure-handed, he continues to hold or share eight NFL postseason records, including five Super Bowl marks...His Super Bowl records include: Most Punt Returns (career) — 6 (tied with six other players); Most Punt Returns (game) — 6 in XXXI (tied with one other player); Most Punt Return Yards Gained (game) — 90 in XXXI; Longest Kickoff Return — 99 yards in XXXI; and Most Kickoff Return Touchdowns (game) — 1 in XXXI (tied with four other players)...His 38.5-yard career kickoff return average in the Super Bowl, now second-best, had been the record up until Atlanta's Tim Dwight averaged 42.0 yards in last year's game to assume the top spot...Is the sole holder of four Green Bay punt return records, and is only 516 yards shy of Willie Wood's all-time club career yardage mark (1,391)...Also possesses a total of five team postseason records in the kickoff and punt return categories...Having become a Packer for the first time when he signed on as an unrestricted free agent in 1996, has rolled up 7,337 all-purpose yards in his seven NFL seasons — 3,863 on kickoff returns, 1,981 via punt runbacks, 1,450 receiving and 43 rushing — and has averaged 15.7 yards for every time he has touched the football (467 total)...Overall, he has played in 107 league games, with 27 starts...One of the most heralded athletes to come out of college football following the 1991 season, he was the fourth player selected overall in the NFL's 1992 draft...Spent his first three seasons (1992-94) with the Redskins, making 66 receptions for 1,033 yards and 5 touchdowns...Claimed by Jacksonville in the 1995 NFL expansion draft, he was with the Jaguars during their inaugural season before first joining the Packers on the eve of training camp in 1996...Released by Oakland this past June 9, he signed with Green Bay three weeks later on June 30...1998: Active for 15 regular-season games, primarily as a punt and kickoff return specialist, in his second and final season with Oakland, he missed the other contest due to injury...Was the fifth-best punt returner in the AFC with a 12.0-yard average and 2 touchdowns — his first two scores in the Silver and Black — on 45 returns (most in the NFL) for 541 yards...Became only the third player in the Raiders' history to return two punts for touchdowns in one season, joining Claude Gibson (1963) and George Atkinson (1968), and was one of just four NFL return men to do so in '98...Averaged 21.2 yards on an AFC-high 49 kickoff returns for 1,040 yards to rank 15th in the AFC...Also made 2 receptions for 16 yards...Returned a punt 63 yards for a touchdown right before halftime vs. Seattle (Nov. 15), narrowing Seahawks' lead to 10-7 in eventual 20-17 Oakland victory...Later had a 75-yard punt return at Buffalo (Dec. 13)...Had career-high 8 punt returns vs. San Diego (Oct. 11)...Posted season-long 42-yard kickoff return Sept. 13 against N.Y. Giants...1997: In his first season wearing the Silver and Black, was active for 15 league games, sitting out the other for injury reasons...Received most of his playing time as a return man, but did see some duty at wide receiver...Set single-season Raiders records for most kickoff returns (61) and most kickoff return yards (1,318), while leading the NFL in the former...Was second on the team (to Napoleon Kaufman) in total yards with 1,558...Also returned 27 punts for 210 yards (7.8 avg.) while being forced into 20 fair catches...In all, handled the ball over 100 times on returns without a fumble...Made 4 receptions for 30 yards as a wide receiver additionally...Established new career highs and single-game Oakland team records for both kickoff returns (10 — also an NFL record) and kickoff return yards (223) in 45-34 loss at Seattle (Oct. 26)...Had signed with the Raiders as an unrestricted free agent on March 6, 1997, leaving the Packers after one season...1996: Set a new NFL single-season record for most punt return yards (875), surpassing the previous mark of 692 by Fulton Walker (Miami/L.A. Raiders) in 1985 by nearly 200 yards...Also eclipsed Billy Grimes' Green Bay record of 555, which had been established in 1950...Became only the third Packer to lead the NFL in punt return average, posting an impressive 15.1-yard average (the fourth-best one-season total in team history) to join Veryl Switzer (1954) and Ken Ellis (1972) — despite a league-high 58 returns, a Green Bay single-season record for number of punt returns...Also became one of only six players in NFL history with three-or-more punt returns for touchdowns in the same season (he subsequently posted a fourth score in the playoffs)...His three scoring returns of punts surpassed the team's previous one-season standard of two, which had been shared by Grimes (1950) and Wood (1961), and also bested the club's career record, previously shared by Grimes (1950-52), Wood (1960-71) and Jon Staggers (1972-74)...Sure-handed, he handled the football 74 times during the regular season on punt returns (58 times, 16 fair catches) with only one fumble...Added 11 more "handles" without a fumble in Green Bay's three postseason games...Alternated as club's kickoff return man (with Don Beebe) during the regular season and returned 22 kickoffs for a 20.9-yard average...Also contributed as a receiver, catching 13 passes for 95 yards, while playing in all 16 regular-season games...Had joined Green Bay on the eve of training camp, signing with the team as an unrestricted free agent on July 12, 1996, after one season with Jacksonville...Initially was hindered in preseason practices by a hip pointer injury...Made original positive impression as a recently-signed free agent by returning a punt 77 yards for a touchdown in nationally-televised preseason game with Pittsburgh (Aug. 11)...Went on to record 5 return touchdowns (4 punts, 1 kickoff) over the course of the regular season and playoffs, including 4 in the last seven games of the year...Earned NFC 'Special Teams Player of the Week' recognition — the first of three such honors for him during the '96 regular season — for his efforts vs. San Diego (Sept. 15), when he had 7 punt returns for 118 yards, including a 65-yard touchdown, in the Packers' 42-10 victory...Averaged 14.2 yards on 5 punt returns at Minnesota (Sept. 22), including a 35-yarder, and also caught his first pass of the season (an 11-yarder)...Returned 4 punts for a 17.0-yard average at Seattle (Sept. 29)...Caught 4 passes for 30 yards vs. San Francisco (Oct. 14)...Led team with a season-high 5 receptions (for 30 yards) in win over Tampa Bay (Oct. 27)...Had a 29-yard punt return at St. Louis (Nov. 24), giving the Packers the ball at the Rams' 38-yard line and setting up Green Bay's final touchdown in a 24-9 victory...Gave the Packers a lead they never relinquished vs. Chicago (Dec. 1), when he had a momentum-swinging, 75-yard punt return for a score midway through the third quarter, providing Green Bay a 14-7 lead in an eventual 28-17 win — an effort which brought him conference 'Special Teams Player of the Week' honors for a second time...Received NFC 'Special Teams Player of the Week' recognition a third occasion by virtue of a spectacular return game at Detroit (Dec. 15), averaging a season-high 33.4 yards on 5 punt returns, including the fourth-longest punt return in team history — a career-long 92-yarder for a touchdown to give the Packers a 10-0 second-quarter lead in the team's 31-3 victory...His career-high 167-yard performance vs. the Lions — his other returns covered 37, 22 and 10 yards — was a club single-game record for punt return yardage, bettering the 129-yard production of Phillip Epps in 1983 vs. Tampa Bay...Averaged 21.0 yards on 4 punt returns in rematch with Vikings in regular-season finale (Dec. 22)...1996 PLAYOFFS: Climaxed a spectacular postseason by amassing a Super Bowl record 244 return yards, including a 99-yard, game-turning kickoff return touchdown to trigger a 35-21 Green Bay victory over New England in Super Bowl XXXI, in the process becoming the first special teams player in the classic's history to be accorded 'MVP' honors...After Patriots pulled to within 27-21 of Packers late in the third quarter, he burst through the center of Green Bay's well-blocked wedge with the ensuing kickoff, then juked kicker Adam Vinatieri to bolt free for a back-breaking, 99-yard touchdown — a career-long and the longest in Super Bowl history...Earlier in the title contest, he had key, first-half punt runbacks of 32 and 34 yards to help set up 10 Green Bay points...Became the first player in NFL history to return both a punt and kickoff for touchdowns in the same postseason...Had launched the playoffs in explosive fashion, returning 2 punts for a team playoff record 117 yards in sloppy conditions, including a 71-yard touchdown 2:15 into the game to help spark the Packers' 35-14 victory over San Francisco (Jan. 4)...Shortly after the 71-yarder, he returned a second punt 46 yards down to the 49ers' 7-yard line, setting up Green Bay's second touchdown...Was named NFL 'Special Teams Player of the Week' for the divisional playoffs for his production vs. the Niners...A week later, he registered a 49-yard kickoff return among 4 runbacks for 104 yards (26.0 avg.) in a 30-13, NFC Championship Game triumph over Carolina (Jan. 12)...Represented the special teams among six team playoff captains named for the postseason...1995: Played in 13 games, making six starts at wide receiver, as a member of the first-year

PRO: The true definition of perseverance, has known a hardscrabble existence as a pro football player since playing his final season at Division III Ferrum College in 1993...Enters Green Bay's 1999 training camp with a real opportunity to capture the Packers' backup fullback job behind starter William Henderson...First donned the Green and Gold late in the '98 season, he immediately provided quality special teams play in finishing out the year..."Jim is a big guy who catches the ball very easily," says Green Bay running backs coach Harry Sydney. "He's an excellent special teams guy, also. I think he's got the potential to be a pretty good fullback in this offense, if he stays healthy and does all of the right things. It all will come down to how he does blocking."...After spending the 1994 season out of football, his professional itinerary has included time with the Albany Firebirds of the Arena Football League (1995-96) and three different NFL teams...Has hit the league's waiver wire four times in his career...Went to training camp with Washington in 1996 and '97, he also had a stint on its practice squad the second year, then was back with the Redskins for three 1998 games...Also had an eight-day stretch on the Green Bay practice squad in 1997, before returning to Titletown at the tail end of last year...Played in 10 games with Miami to finish the 1997 season, then was in the Dolphins' '98 training camp, staying through the final cut though he was inactive for the team's opener...A collegiate linebacker, also began playing fullback during his two seasons of arena football, he eventually made the full-time switch to offense with Washington during that team's 1997 training camp...1998: Joined Green Bay late in the season, signing as a free agent on Dec. 16...Played on special teams in the Packers' final two regular-season games, vs. Tennessee (Dec. 20) and at Chicago (Dec. 27), as well as in playoff loss at San Francisco (Jan. 3)...Had a solo tackle on kick coverage against the then-Oilers and the 49ers...Earlier had spent roughly a month with Washington (Oct. 6-Nov. 3)...Played in three games for the Redskins: Oct. 11 at Philadelphia, Oct. 18 at Minnesota and Nov. 1 vs. the N.Y. Giants...Recorded 2 special teams tackles while with Washington, he also was credited with 18 blocks as a member of the Redskins' return units...Spent training camp and the first week of the regular season with Miami, was inactive for team's opening game at Indianapolis...Waived by the Dolphins on Sept. 7...1997: Appeared in 10 of Miami's last 11 regular-season games, primarily on special teams, after beginning the year with stints on the practice squads of both Washington and Green Bay...Also saw action in Dolphins' postseason game at New England...Made 13 special teams tackles to rank seventh on Miami...Started the year with Washington, where he was switched from linebacker to fullback...Released by the Redskins on Aug. 19, was signed to that club's practice squad seven days later...Joined Green Bay's practice squad Sept. 23, three days following his termination by Washington...Lasted only eight days with the Packers before he bolted to a spot on Miami's active roster Oct. 1...Made NFL debut Oct. 12 at N.Y. Jets, when he registered 2 special teams tackles...Had a career-high 3 stops on kick coverage at Baltimore (Oct. 19) and in rematch with Jets (Nov. 9)...WORLD LEAGUE: Allocated to the Frankfurt Galaxy for the '97 season after re-signing with Washington on Jan. 2, 1997...Played in all 10 of the team's games, starting nine...Had 3 rushes for 10 yards and caught 10 passes for 53 yards...Also made 9 special teams tackles for the Galaxy...1996: Signed by the Washington Redskins on June 12 off the roster of the Albany Firebirds of the Arena Football League...Waived near the end of training camp (Aug. 20) by the Redskins...Played in five games for Albany before departing for the nation's capital...Finished second on the Firebirds in rushing with 51 yards and 3 touchdowns on 7 carries...Also made 1 reception for 22 yards...1995: Was Albany's leading rusher, grounding out 104 yards and 5 TDs on 22 attempts, in his first season of arena football...Also caught 2 passes for 19 yards and a score...1994: Spent the year out of football.

COLLEGE: Three-year starter and four-time letterman (1990-93) at linebacker for Ferrum (Va.) College, an NCAA Division III school...Started at middle linebacker his junior and senior seasons, registering 100-or-more tackles each year...Named all-state by The Roanoke Times in 1993...Was the starter at strong-side linebacker as a sophomore after a reserve role on the weak side his freshman season...Holds a B.S. degree in criminal justice.

PRO: Steady, veteran linebacker who got his first pro opportunity early in the 1992 season when a young Green Bay defensive coordinator by the name of Ray Rhodes took a slight chance and inserted the then-unknown free agent into the starting lineup...Since has gone on to post three career 100-tackle seasons, twice leading the team in stops (1994, 1996)...Now is the second-longest tenured player on the Packers' defense behind only LeRoy Butler, and this season stands to play in his 100th league game and to make his 100th career start...Has the skills to play all three linebacker spots — and has done so in a career which has seen him be a starter in the Green and Gold for five-and-a-half of his seven seasons..."I know that George is a tough guy," says new Green Bay defensive coordinator Emmitt Thomas. "Run-stopping is the strength of his game. He gives your defense some toughness out there, and every defense needs that. Over the tight end, he can jam that up, he can stop the run right there and he's got some coverage skills..."Now two seasons removed from a serious knee injury suffered during the '96 playoffs which caused him to watch both the NFC Championship Game and Super Bowl XXXI from the sidelines, then was followed by a 10-month rehabilitation, has aspirations of regaining his past form in 1999...Had registered 100-or-more tackles in three of the four previous seasons (1993-94, 1996)...Remains a true fan favorite, who, at home games, is the frequent recipient of hearty chants of 'Kooooonce'...Of humble NFL beginnings, he was cut by the Atlanta Falcons as an undrafted player in 1991, then played for the worst team in the World League before joining the Packers as an obscure free agent in '92 — remaining, to this day, as one of Green Bay's top free agent finds over the past decade...1998: Beat out fellow veteran Seth Joyner to win back a starting position (at left outside, a.k.a. 'Buck', linebacker)...Started 14 regular-season games — he was inactive for the other two — as well as playoff contest at San Francisco...Finished fifth on the team with 68 total tackles (37 solo), including 1 sack, he also recovered 1 fumble...Made a season-high 10 stops in 16-13 victory at Chicago (Dec. 27) in finale...Had 8 tackles in front of family and friends at Carolina (Sept. 27) as Green Bay held the Panthers to only 230 total yards...Recorded his first sack since the 1995 season among 5 tackles in rematch with Vikings at Minnesota (Nov. 22)...Recovered a Trent Diller fumble in Packers' 23-15 victory over Tampa Bay (Sept. 13)...Intercepted Steve Young to halt first-half 49ers possession deep in Green Bay territory in wild-card playoff loss (Jan. 3)...Also made 8 tackles against San Francisco to claim team runner-up honors...Suffered a hamstring injury in Monday night game vs. Minnesota (Oct. 5), causing him to miss contests at Detroit (Oct. 15) and against Baltimore (Oct. 25) before he returned to the starting lineup for regular-season battle with Miners (Nov. 1)...1997: Returned to the field late in the season after a 10-month rehabilitation of the knee injury he had suffered in the '96 playoffs...Saw reserve action at linebacker and special teams duty in the club's final four regular-season games plus all three playoff contests...Played in Super Bowl XXXII vs. Denver after having missed the Super Bowl a year earlier due to his knee injury...Totaled 5 tackles during the regular season, including a season-best 2 in each of his first two games back, at Minnesota (Dec. 1) and at Tampa Bay (Dec. 7), he also recorded a special teams stop vs. the Vikings...Contributed a solo tackle in each of the three postseason contests...Had been placed on reserve/physically unable to perform during training camp (Aug. 19), a move which mandated that he miss at least the first six weeks of the regular season...While still on PUP, began practicing with the team on Oct. 29...Was activated on Nov. 18, but was inactive for Dallas contest five days later...1996: Made the switch from 'Pluggie' (right outside) linebacker to 'Mike' (middle) linebacker with only a week left in the preseason to create room in the lineup for the emerging Brian Williams...Started all 16 regular-season games for the third consecutive season — all at his new position...Also started divisional playoff contest with San Francisco (Jan. 4), contributing 3 tackles and 1 pass breakup, but tore the anterior cruciate ligament in his right knee in the second half of win over the 49ers...Subsequently underwent reconstructive surgery on Jan. 9 and was placed on injured reserve the following day...Led the team in tackles for the second time in his career, making 117 stops (76 solo)...Also turned in a career-high 3 interceptions after he had picked off just one pass in his first four league seasons...Recovered 1 fumble and had 5 passes defended additionally...Enjoyed one of the shining moments of his NFL career when he intercepted a Warren Moon pass at Minnesota (Sept. 22) and returned it 75 yards up the sideline for his first pro touchdown, giving the Packers a 21-17 lead late in the third quarter...Made a season-high 14 tackles at Kansas City (Nov. 10), 10 unassisted...Had 11 stops in each game against the Bears, also intercepting a Dave Krieg pass in the initial meeting, Oct. 6 at Chicago...Recovered a fumble, in addition to 8 stops, in rematch with Vikings (Dec. 22)...Intercepted a Rodney Peete pass, which had been tipped into the air by teammate Santana Dotson, in Monday night triumph over Philadelphia (Sept. 9)...1995: Started all 16 games for the second straight year, including 14 at 'Pluggie' linebacker, plus all three playoff contests...Finished fifth on the team in tackles with 84, including 46 solo stops and 1 sack...Also contributed his first NFL interception and 3 passes defended...Registered a season-best 13 tackles in NFC Championship Game at Dallas (Jan. 14) among his 20 total stops in the postseason...Had 6 tackles and picked off a Moon pass deep in Minnesota territory (Oct. 22), his 12-yard return of the interception to the Vikings' seven-yard line set up a Green Bay touchdown two plays later which staked the Packers to a 14-7 lead in an eventual 38-21 victory...Missed a portion of game at Tampa Bay (Dec. 10) after spraining his left wrist...Registered his lone sack of the year Oct. 29 at Detroit...Had been forced to play some at middle linebacker late in training camp after injuries decimated the team's linebacking corps...1994: Moved into 'Pluggie' linebacker position in Green Bay's new 4-3 alignment, a spot vacated when Johnny Holland was forced into retirement by a neck injury, and started all 16 games for first time in his career...Went on to lead Packers in total (119) and solo (78) stops for the initial time, posting his second consecutive 100-tackle season in the process...Also weighed in with the first forced fumble and 2 fumble recoveries of his career...Contributed 1 sack and 3 passes defended additionally...Made a season-high 12 tackles on two occasions — Sept. 18 at Philadelphia and Nov. 20 at Buffalo...Registered 10 stops and recovered an early Errict Rhett fumble in season finale at Tampa Bay (Dec. 24)...Had forced a Craig Heyward fumble and led club with 9 tackles only one week earlier vs. Atlanta (Dec. 18)...Set up Packers' first offensive touchdown in eventual 38-30 triumph over Detroit (Nov. 6), when he recovered a Krieg fumble at the Lions' 20-yard line in second quarter...After missing '93 playoffs due to injury, started first two postseason games of his career...Recorded 15 total tackles, including 11 in NFC divisional playoff contest at Dallas (Jan. 8)...1993: Started 15 of 16 regular-season games, he did not

NFL Exp.: 6th Season Packers Exp.: 6th Season

PRO: Rugged, yet nimble, running back, hopes to rebound from a less-than-expected 1998 season, which was bogged down by a major injury and contractual difficulties...Looked particularly fluid and strong at all of the team's offseason mini-camps this year...Had enjoyed a breakthrough year in '97 in his first season as Green Bay's featured ball carrier, earning a starting role in the Pro Bowl while rushing for the second-most yards in the team's storied history...Now is recognized as one of the National Football League's better halfbacks...Performing the best when the most is at stake, he already is the Packers' all-time career rushing leader in the playoffs...What I've seen from Dorsey in the offseason is his competitiveness — he wants to get back to where he was in 1997," says Green Bay running backs coach Harry Sydney, who has tutored the laid-back Syracuse native for the past four seasons. "He was one of the best in the league. Injury slowed him last year, but he's working hard, putting in extra time after practice. He's hungry, which is nice to see, and he wants to get better. He's the consummate professional, in my opinion."...A definite threat as a pass receiver, has caught more passes than all but four running backs in team history...Is equally effective on inside runs as he is on outside runs...Also is particularly strong at the beginning and end of games when healthy, he averaged 5.0 yards per carry (74-372) in the first quarter and 4.7 yards per carry (98-457) in the fourth quarter during the 1997 regular season...Further demonstrated in '97 that he could be the desired workhorse by setting a team single-season record for most rushing attempts (329)...Able to wear other teams down, a fact born out by his 10-or-more carries in the final period six times during the '97 campaign (including two playoff contests) — all were victories...Toted the rock 13 times for 91 yards — an impressive 7.0-yard average — in the fourth quarter of 1997 triumph over Dallas en route to an all-time Green Bay single-game rushing record of 190 yards... "There's no question that Dorsey gets stronger as the game goes on," Sydney says. "He's a big guy — 226, 229 pounds — he wears jerseys down and he gets better. And he runs with good forward lean."... Has seven career 100-yard rushing games (in the regular season), fourth-most in club annals, behind the 9 of Tony Canadeo, the 13 of John Brockington and the 26 of Jim Taylor... Stands 10th among rushers in Packers history with 2,514 career yards (and 16 touchdowns on 606 carries) entering the 1999 season, ninth-ranking Eddie Lee Ivey is 419 yards away at 2,933... A proven pass-catcher of measurable quality in addition to his running skills, is on the brink of cracking the Packers' all-time Top Twenty receivers, he heads into the '99 campaign with 160 career receptions (for 1,201 yards), right behind #20 Ivey (162)... Also is 29th on Green Bay's all-time scoring list going into '99 with 182 career points... "I expect that this season Dorsey will get better with his patience, with timing, shoulders squared and acceleration," ventures Sydney. "All those things that he was good at his first year as a starter — running with lean and power, sizing up, using a stiff arm, catching, getting north-south, pass protections, using hands — he will improve upon this year."... Has had five separate and very distinct seasons with the Packers since first joining the club in 1994 as a fifth-round draft choice... Saw minimal playing time as a rookie, primarily on special teams, he then started at fullback in 1995, excelling as a pass-catcher and leading the way for Edgar Bennett's 1,067-yard season... Ceding the fullback job to bruising William Henderson in 1996, he backed up Bennett at halfback and received most of his playing time in single-back sets... Emerged late in the '96 campaign with outstanding performances in several big games, particularly the Packers' victory over Carolina in the NFC Championship Game, as Green Bay went on to capture Super Bowl XXXI... Then faced his greatest challenge athletically early in 1997 when Bennett went down and, in an instant, he became the primary runner for the then-defending Super Bowl champions... Responded beautifully, running for 100-or-more yards on six occasions during the regular season and two additional times during the playoffs... Entered 1998 as the incumbent at halfback for the first time, but then missed significant chunks of the season due to a contractual stalemate and a severe leg injury... "Dorsey has got a rare combination of size and speed," Packers offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis adds. "He's really fast for a guy his size. He's more elusive than some other backs — he can make people miss. He's got quickness and he can change direction. Plus, he's got enough speed that he can out-run angles; when a defender is coming he can out-run him to the sideline. And he's got enough confidence in himself that he knows he can take it outside and out-run linebackers."... Has begun to make his mark in club history, he holds three team records: Most Rushing Attempts (season) — 329 in 1997; Most Rushing Yards Gained (game) — 190 vs. Dallas in 1997; and Most Total Yards From Scrimmage (season) — 1,805 in 1997... Also is tied for one club mark: Most Consecutive Games, 100 or More Yards Rushing — 3 in 1997... Has enjoyed an even higher level of success in the playoffs, he already has four team postseason records in his name and shares two more... Among the playoff marks he owns are: Most Yards Gained Rushing (career) — 640; Most Yards Gained Rushing (game) — 116 yards at San Francisco in 1998; Most Games, 100 or More Yards Rushing (career) — 3; Most Consecutive Games, 100 or More Yards Rushing — 2 in 1997... Is tied for two other club postseason records: Most Consecutive Games, Rushing Touchdowns — 2 in 1997; Most Consecutive Games, One or More Pass Receptions — 11 (tied with Robert Brooks)... With 142 playoff carries, needs just 22 more to surpass the club postseason record for career rushing attempts, 163 by Bennett... Also is the second-leading receiver in Green Bay's playoff history with 38 catches, he trails only Brooks (45)... Had more total touchdowns — 29 (15 rushing, 14 receiving) — from 1995-97 than any other player on the Green Bay roster... Is a better blocker than most NFL halfbacks, in large part due to the time he spent at fullback earlier in his pro career... 1998: In a season marred by both a contract holdout and a serious leg injury, played in seven games, starting four at halfback... Also started team's playoff loss at San Francisco... Was inactive for the other nine contests... Finished second on the team in rushing (behind Darick Holmes) with 378 yards and 1 touchdown on 115 carries... Also made 27 receptions for 162 yards... Missed all of training camp, not joining the team until he signed the club's one-year tender on Aug. 30 — he subsequently agreed to a new, five-year deal on Sept. 3, three days before the season opener... Started at halfback in the '98 inaugural vs. Detroit despite his late arrival, and had 25 carries for 59 yards plus a team-leading 7 receptions... Had his only rushing touchdown of the regular season in Lions contest, scoring on a four-yard run midway through the second quarter to give Green Bay a 17-3 lead in eventual 38-19 win... Equaled his career high for receptions (8) the next week against Tampa Bay (Sept. 13), in addition to 43 yards on 18 rushes, but was injured late in the game... Suffered a severe right ankle sprain that resulted in a high fibula fracture when pulled down from behind by the Buccaneers' Derrick Brooks on a sweep left in the fourth quarter... Underwent surgery to insert a screw to stabilize the ankle on Sept. 16, he did not return to the practice field until over two months later (Nov. 25)... Pronounced himself ready to play just four days after that, vs. Philadelphia, after missing 10 weeks of action... Saw limited time against the Eagles, carrying 6 times for 6 yards... Played in Green Bay's final five regular-season games, starting the last two... Enjoyed an outstanding day Dec. 13 vs. Chicago, when he rushed for 105 yards on just 15 carries (7.0 avg.), including a season-best 50-yard run... Carried 26 times — his most in a game during the '98 regular season — for 70 yards against Tennessee (Dec. 20)...Really hit his stride right about the time that the Packers' season was ending, rushing for a club postseason record 116 yards (and 1 TD on 27 attempts) in Green Bay's wild-card playoff loss at San Francisco (Jan. 3), breaking his own mark of 114 set the year before vs. the 49ers in the NFC Championship Game...Also led the Packers with 6 receptions in S.F. loss...1997: On the heels of a strong finish at the end of the previous season, became the team's featured ball carrier early in training camp when '96 starter Bennett was lost for the year (torn Achilles' tendon) in the first preseason game...Went on to enjoy one of the best seasons ever by a Green Bay runner...Led the Packers and finished second in the NFC (fourth in NFL) with 1,435 rushing yards and 7 touchdowns on 329 attempts (4.4 avg.)...His 1,435 yards represented the second-highest, single-season rushing total in team history, only 39 yards behind Taylor's club-record 1,474 yards in 1962...Became just the sixth 1,000-yard rusher in the Packers' history and only the second in almost 20 years...Set a team record with 1,805 total yards from scrimmage — second in the NFC — topping Bennett's previous single-season mark of 1,715 yards, posted in 1995...Named to the NFC Pro Bowl team as a starter at running back alongside 2,000-yard rusher Barry Sanders, he became the first Green Bay runner voted to the NFL's annual all-star contest in nearly two decades (since Terrell Middleton in 1978 — Brent Fullwood played as an injury replacement in 1989)...Also was selected for the All-NFC teams of Pro Football Weekly and Football News...Was a second-team All-NFL pick by Football Digest and College & Pro Football Newsweekly...Broke Bennett's club single-season record for carries (316 in 1995) with 329 rushing attempts...Also made a career-best 53 receptions (for 370 yards and 5 touchdowns) to rank third on the team...Finished third in NFC scoring among non-kickers with 74 points (12 touchdowns, 1 two-point conversion)...Started all 16 regular-season games (at halfback) for the first time as a pro, he also started all three of the club's playoff games, including Super Bowl XXXII...Led the team in rushing during the postseason with 316 yards and 2 touchdowns on 71 carries (4.5 avg.), he also was the club's second-leading receiver in the playoffs with 14 catches for 112 yards...Finished the regular season with six 100-yard rushing games — just one short of Taylor's club single-season record of 7, accomplished in 1962 — he subsequently had two more 100-yard efforts in the playoffs...Enjoyed undoubtedly his most memorable day as a pro in 45-17 triumph over Dallas (Nov. 23), when he set a Green Bay single-game rushing record with 190 yards on the ground, breaking the previous mark of 186 set by Taylor vs. the N.Y. Giants in Milwaukee Dec. 3, 1961, to earn national Miller Lite NFL 'Player of the Week' honors...Gained 145 of his rushing yards against the Cowboys in the second half (on 24 attempts) — the first time a Green Bay running back had 100-or-more yards on the ground in one half since 1987, when Kenneth Davis rushed for 107 yards in the first half of a game at Detroit Oct. 25 — including an average of 7.0 yards per carry (13 for 91 yards) in the fourth quarter...Had a career-high 33 carries in Cowboys contest, the second-highest number ever by a Packers running back, and scored 2 touchdowns — a seven-yard reception for the first score of the game and a five-yard run in the closing minutes which broke Taylor's 36-year-old record...One week earlier, played an outstanding game at Indianapolis (Nov. 16), when he had the lone 3-touchdown game of his pro career (2 rushing, 1 receiving) while rushing for 103 yards on only 14 attempts — a season-high 7.4 yards per carry average...Also caught 4 passes for 92 yards against the Colts, including a season-long 56-yarder on a screen, giving him 195 total yards from scrimmage...His career-long 52-yard scoring run in the second quarter at Indianapolis was Green Bay's longest rush from scrimmage in nearly four years...On the heels of his efforts vs. the Colts and Cowboys, tied Brockington's 1971 club record of three consecutive 100-yard rushing games when he gained 108 yards (on 31 carries) in 27-11, Monday night victory at Minnesota (Dec. 1), scoring twice on runs of three and five yards...Also set a new team mark with 533 total yards from scrimmage during the same three-game stretch...His 33 rushing attempts against the Cowboys and 31 vs. the Vikings in consecutive weeks represented two of the five highest one-game carry totals in club history...Was on pace for a career performance at Chicago (Oct. 12) when he gained 74 yards rushing in the first half on just 12 carries (6.2 avg.), but had to leave the game late in the second quarter after injuring his clavicle on a running play...Initially stayed in Bears contest after injury, he caught a one-yard touchdown pass two plays later with 1:40 left in the first half, giving Green Bay a 14-10 halftime lead...Turned in an outstanding and gutsy performance in important win two weeks later at New England (Oct. 27) as he led the team in both rushing and receiving despite pain from the clavicle, gaining 100 yards on the ground while catching 7 passes (for 40 yards)...Also scored 2 touchdowns vs. the Patriots — one on a six-yard pass late in the first quarter, the other on a three-yard run with 2:46 left in the game to give the Packers their final, 28-10 advantage...Had the first 100-yard rushing day of his pro career vs. Miami (Sept. 14), when he churned out 121 yards (on 21 carries), including 93 in the second half of the 23-18 win...Averaged 6.7 yards per carry two weeks later at Detroit (Sept. 28) as he rushed 16 times for 107 yards...Gained 73 yards rushing despite sitting out the majority of the second half in the Packers' 31-10 victory at Carolina (Dec. 14)...Rushed for 71 yards during regular-season finale vs. Buffalo (Dec. 20) in three quarters of action, but fell 39 yards shy of Taylor's single-season record for yards rushing...Registered the first two-point conversion of his pro career in season opener vs. Chicago (Sept. 1)...Had a career-high 8 receptions in each victory over the Buccaneers during the regular season, including an important eight-yard touchdown catch in the rematch, a 17-6, division-clinching win at Tampa (Dec. 7)...Raised his personal level of play during the '97 postseason as he averaged 105.3 yards per game rushing — more than 15 yards better than his superb average during the regular season (89.7) — and established (then) all-time team single-game rushing marks in consecutive weeks...First set Green Bay postseason rushing record — 112 yards on 25 carries, breaking the previous mark of 108 by Bennett in 1995 — in 21-7 divisional playoff victory over Tampa Bay (Jan. 4)...Followed that up by ringing up a new club record for the second week in a row, when he rushed for 114 yards on 27 carries in the Packers' 23-10, NFC Championship Game triumph at San Francisco (Jan. 11)...His 100-plus yard rushing effort against the 49ers was the first allowed by that team during the 1997 season and included a five-yard touchdown run late in the game to virtually cement the issue at 23-3...Gained 90 yards on 19 rushing attempts in 31-24, Super Bowl XXXII loss to Denver, he also caught 6 passes (for 56 yards), including receptions on four consecutive plays during the Packers' final, unsuccessful bid to tie the game in the last two minutes...Had greater than one-third of his playoff carries (25 of 71) come in the fourth quarter...Ran for a higher-than-normal average (4.6 yards) during the second half of the team's three postseason games, when he gained 187 yards on 41 carries...1996: Saw the bulk of his personal playing time come in the team's single-back sets for much of the season...Received additional snaps late in the year and throughout the postseason when he began to emerge as a true offensive threat who struck fear into opponents...Played in all 16 regular-season games for the initial time, starting once (Dec. 1 vs. Chicago) when the Packers opened in a four-receiver formation...Also got into all three playoff contests, including Super Bowl XXXI...Finished second (to Bennett) on the team in rushing with 566 yards (14th in the NFC) on 121 carries...His impressive 4.7 yards-per-carry average was second only to Detroit's Sanders (5.1) among the top 20 rushers in the conference...It also was the the best by a Green Bay runner with 100-or-more carries since 1988...Tied for fourth on the club with 31 receptions for 226 yards...Scored 10 touchdowns (5 rushing, 5 receiving), tying him for seventh in NFC scoring among non-kickers as well as for second on the Packers...Finished the year strong, averaging 66.8 rushing yards per contest over Green Bay's final four regular-season games, then generating an average of 65.0 yards per contest on the ground in the playoffs...Gained 195 yards on 39 carries in the postseason, behind only Bennett's 219 yards on the team...Led the Packers in receptions during the playoffs with 10 for 156 yards and 1 touchdown...Merited selection to the 'All-Madden Team' by Fox Sports analyst John Madden based on his strong year-end performance...Enjoyed at the time the professional game of his life in NFC Championship Game victory over Carolina (Jan. 12), earning NFL 'Offensive Player of the Week' honors in the process...Had 205 total yards from scrimmage vs. the Panthers, including 88 yards rushing (then a career high) on only 10 carries for an 8.8-yard average and 117 yards through the air (his lone 100-yard receiving day as a pro) among a team-leading 5 receptions...Broke a big 35-yard run off tackle on third-and-one on the last play of the first quarter against Carolina, then made a fabulous 29-yard touchdown catch just inside the right edge of the end zone on the initial snap of the second period for Green Bay's first TD...Later vs. the Panthers, ran 66 yards up the right sideline on a screen pass to set up a four-yard touchdown by Bennett on the next play, putting the Packers ahead 27-13 in the eventual 30-13 triumph...His 117 receiving yards in the NFC title contest was the most by a Green Bay running back in a four-quarter game since 1951, when Jug Girard gained 130 yards on 4 catches at the N.Y. Yanks (Oct. 28)...Had better than half of the Packers' rushing total in their Super Bowl win over New England (Jan. 26), leading the team with 61 yards on 14 carries...Rushed for '96 regular-season high of 86 yards on 14 carries in 41-6 thrashing of Denver (Dec. 8)...Had enjoyed a stirring performance one week earlier vs. Chicago, when he rushed for 69 yards on only 5 attempts — a 13.8-yard average — and scored on a 10-yard run early in the fourth quarter, giving Green Bay a 21-10 lead in the eventual 28-17 win...Closed out the regular season with 73 yards and 1 touchdown on the ground vs. Minnesota (Dec. 22), a game which also saw him catch a 13-yard screen pass for another score...Made a season-best 5 receptions (for a team-leading 83 yards) at Kansas City (Nov. 10)...Served as an occasional second deep man on kickoff returns early in the year, he had a season-high 4 returns (for 75 yards) against San Francisco (Oct. 14)...1995: Beat out Henderson in training camp to win the starting fullback job following the offseason move of '94 starter Bennett to halfback...Played in 15 regular-season games, making 12 starts at fullback...Finished third on the team in rushing with 120 yards and 3 touchdowns on 36 carries...Also was club's fourth-ranking receiver with 48 receptions for 434 yards and 4 TDs...Was consistently productive as a receiver, catching at least one pass in every game he played (including playoffs)...Made a season-high 6 receptions (for 50 yards) at Detroit (Oct. 29)...Had a one-yard touchdown catch among his 5 receptions in the Packers' 35-28 win over Chicago (Nov. 12), he also rushed for a season-high 26 yards that day...First had a career-best 2 rushing scores vs. Tampa Bay (Nov. 26)...Was inactive at Dallas (Oct. 8) due to a sprained left knee suffered in practice three days earlier...Played in all three playoff games, starting the first two...Was team's third-leading receiver in the postseason with 7 receptions for 47 yards...Made looping, 18-yard touchdown catch along the right sideline midway through the fourth quarter, sealing 37-20 first-round playoff victory over Atlanta (Dec. 31)...Usually moved to halfback (with Henderson coming in at fullback) in goal-line and short-yardage situations...1994: Won preseason duel with veteran Dexter McNabb for backup fullback position behind Bennett...Played in the Packers' final 14 regular-season games, plus both playoff contests, after he was inactive for the first two games of the year...Saw the majority of his action on special teams, but also was utilized periodically as a blocking back for Bennett in short-yardage situations...Carried 5 times for 15 yards during the regular season...Had Green Bay's lone touchdown — a three-yard run off left tackle on fourth-and-one to cap Packers' opening drive — in 16-12 wild-card playoff victory over Detroit at Lambeau Field (Dec. 31)...Caught 1 pass for 9 yards in his most extensive action of the season, Nov. 13 vs. the N.Y. Jets, when he played the entire second half in place of Bennett, who had left in the second quarter with a bruised knee...One week earlier vs. the Lions had forced a fumble by Detroit's Derrick Moore on kickoff coverage which the Packers recovered, leading to an early field goal in eventual 38-30 victory...Contributed 5 solo tackles on special teams, adding 1 stop with the coverage group in the postseason...Second of two fifth-round draft choices (149th overall and 18th running back) by Green Bay in 1994.

COLLEGE: Played two years (1992-93) at Georgia Tech after transferring from Notre Dame, where he spent his first two collegiate seasons (1989-90)...Forced to sit out redshirt year in 1991...Totaled 1,221 yards and 13 touchdowns on 207 rushing attempts as a collegian, including 1,036 yards and 10 TDs at Tech...Also caught 25 total passes for 323 yards and 2 scores (21-276-2 for GT)...Was a first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference choice as a senior, when he led the Yellowjackets in rushing with 823 yards and 8 touchdowns on 114 attempts...Set a school record with his 7.2 yards-per-carry average...Scored 3 touchdowns and rushed for a career-high 141 yards on 20 attempts vs. Wake Forest...Was expected to be No. 1 tailback for the Irish entering the 1990 season, but suffered a knee injury which hampered his play and limited him to eight games...Had lettered as a freshman, carrying 25 times for 132 yards and 1 score...Holds B.A. degree in business management.

PERSONAL: Given name Herbert Dorsey Levens...Nicknamed 'Horse'...Born in Syracuse, N.Y. ...Single...Lettered four times as a running back, safety and linebacker at Nottingham High School in Syracuse, N.Y. ...All-America selection of Parade and SuperPrep magazines, he also was named 'Offensive Player of the Year' in the Northeast by the latter...Chosen Gatorade Circle of Champions 'Player of the Year' in New York and was rated as the top player in the state by Scholastic Coach...Earned all-state and all-league honors and was 'Co-Player of the Year' for Central New York as a senior, when he rushed for 1,307 yards...Scored 7 touchdowns and kicked 8 PATs for 50 total points in one game his senior year...Also earned three letters in basketball, serving as team captain his senior season...Hobbies include bowling and fishing...Is a big movie buff as well...Earned a measure of national notoriety during the middle of the 1997 season when, on his off day, he appeared on the television show Oprah to discuss the difficulties of pro athletes in finding suitable mates...Has held the 'Dorsey Levens 3-on-3 Summertime Showdown' the past three years in his hometown of Syracuse, the proceeds from the basketball tournament benefit the Dorsey Levens Foundation...Through his foundation, gives money to Syracuse's inner-city youth, providing them with the opportunity to attend summer camp...Previously in 1995, had held a charity basketball game in Syracuse to benefit the Sherman Park Football Association (a children's league he had played in as a youngster)...Also signed autographs in Syracuse to benefit the NAACP in 1996 and '97...Previously worked in the 'Mentor' program while at Georgia Tech, tutoring kids...Residence: Atlanta.

PRO: Now entrenched as the Packers' placekicker, not to mention the club's most accurate career specialist, looks to improve upon an already impressive level of consistency in 1999...In just two years in Green Bay, has established himself as one of the best young kickers in the National Football League...Continues to add chapters to pro career that began in an almost storybook fashion two summers ago, rising from ranks of being a "camp leg" to become Green Bay's leading scorer as he seized a preseason Cinderella opportunity..."Ryan has set the bar at a very high level for a standard for a kicker here in Green Bay and for a kicker in the National Football League," says new Packers special teams coach Steve Ortmayer, a veteran of 16 years of heading up NFL special teams units. "He's approaching an 85-percent accuracy rate, which is outstanding and places him among the very best of all-time relative to that kind of a standard. But he's the kind of a kicker who's young enough and has enough poise to be able to stretch that on up toward 90 percent. If he ever gets to 90 percent, obviously that is a standard that's been unheard of at this point..."Worked this past offseason on the kickoff portion of his game, an area where the Green Bay coaching staff expects to see improvement..."We also count on him to be a dominant player in the kickoff game this year," continues Ortmayer. "It's time for him to be able to take control of the kickoff game from a hang-time standpoint and also being able to move the ball around the field..."Enters the 1999 season as the most accurate kicker in team history, having reached the minimum 50 career attempts needed to qualify midway through last season...His 84.13 percent clip, on converting 53 of 63 field goal attempts, is just ahead of the second-ranking kicker, Pro Football Hall of Famer Jan Stenerud (80.82%)...Also holds club record for most consecutive games scoring at least one field goal (14), set over the 1997 and '98 seasons...Stands 17th on the team's all-time scoring list going into the '99 campaign, and is tied with Fred Cone for the fifth-most field goals in club record books (53)...Already resides in third place in Green Bay's postseason annals for most career field goals made with 8...Originally had joined the Packers as a waiver wire acquisition just prior to start of 1997's training camp, simply hoping for the chance to get enough work to gain notice from another NFL club; a little over seven weeks later, he was making his NFL debut on Monday Night Football as the kicker for the then-defending Super Bowl champions...Made most of opportunity when expected Green Bay kicker, 1997 third-round draft choice Brett Conway, suffered what would become a season-ending quadriceps injury...Capitalized on an excellent preseason performance to gain a roster spot and went on to have one of the most productive rookie seasons for a kicker in Packers history...Followed-up with an equally successful 1998 campaign...1998: Posted a second consecutive 100-point year as he made appearances in all 16 regular-season games...Was the NFL's fourth-leading scorer among kickers with 128 points, second in the NFC to Minnesota's nearly-perfect Gary Anderson...Enjoyed an 87.88% success rate (29/33) on field goal tries in '98 — the second-best, one-season percentage in team annals, behind only Stenerud's 91.67% (22/24) in 1981...Led Green Bay with a career-high 128 points, a total that equaled the team's single-season record for most points with no touchdowns (shared by Chester Marcol, 1972, and Chris Jacke, 1993)...Became only third player in club annals with back-to-back 100-point seasons, joining Don Hutson (1942-43) and Paul Hornung (1960-61)...His 29 field goals marked a career high and also was the third-highest single-season total in club history, behind Marcol's 33 in 1972 and Jacke's 31 in 1993...Placed 20 of his 88 kickoffs into the end zone, with 7 resulting in touchbacks (8.0%)...Converted on 41 of 43 PAT tries...Began season a perfect 12/12 on field goal attempts, the best seasonal start in team history (Max Zendejas kicked 10 straight to begin the 1987 season) until he missed a 51-yarder at Pittsburgh (Nov. 9)...Dating back to 1997, had connected on 13 straight field goal attempts, the third-longest string in club record books and only four shy of the best string in team history...Had another "perfect" streak, of 11, later in the year, before it ended with a missed 39-yard attempt at Chicago (Dec. 27)...Had booted at least one field goal in a team-record 15 consecutive games (8 in 1997, 7 in 1998), breaking the previous mark of 12; the string was snapped when he did not get an attempt vs. Baltimore (Oct. 25)...Had nice outing in NFC Wild Card playoff loss at San Francisco (Jan. 3), kicking 2 field goals (23, 37 yards) and 3 PATs...Kicked the eventual game-winning field goal, an 18-yarder with 9:49 remaining, in 16-13 victory at Chicago (Dec. 27)...Converted 3 field goals (from 38, 40 and 40 yards) in the Packers' 30-22 win vs. Tennessee (Dec. 20)...Booted a career-high four field goals in 26-20 win over Chicago (Dec. 13), converting three-pointers from 35, 43, 40 and 24 yards, plus two PATs for a career single-game high 14 points...Kicked three field goals and two PATs in as many attempts at Tampa Bay (Dec. 7), marking the third effort of the season that he had kicked three field goals in one game...Made 3 of 5 field goal attempts (39, 24 and 31 yards) and converted all four PAT tries in the Packers' 37-3 win at the N.Y. Giants (Nov. 15)...Came back to boot 2 field goals at the Steelers (Nov. 9), from 42 and 37 yards, after missing a 51-yard attempt earlier in the game...Converted two field goals, including a momentum-building 45-yarder early in the fourth quarter to tie the score at 22-22, in the Packers' 36-22 win over San Francisco (Nov. 1)...Also converted all 4 PATs vs. the 49ers...Kicked a 41-yard field goal and made 4/5 extra point attempts in the Packers' 37-30 win at Carolina (Sept. 27)...Panthers contest marked the first PAT miss of his NFL career; his first-quarter attempt was tipped at the line of scrimmage and hit the left upright...Converted two key field goals (30, 35 yards) in as many attempts in the Packers' narrow, 13-6 victory at Cincinnati (Sept. 20)...Kicked three field goals in as many attempts and connected on both PATs in the Packers' 23-15 triumph over Tampa Bay (Sept. 13)...Booted a 32-yard field goal and was perfect on a season-high five PAT attempts in Green Bay's 38-19 win vs. Detroit (Sept. 6)...Withstood a training camp challenge from Conway to secure the Packers' placekicking duties for a second straight season...1997: Enjoyed an immensely successful rookie season, connecting on 24/30 field goal tries and was a perfect 48/48 on PAT attempts while appearing in all 16 games...Led team and ranked third in NFC scoring with 120 points, the second-highest rookie total in team annals — trailing only Marcol's 128-point production in 1972...Joined Marcol, Jacke and Stenerud as only the fourth kicker (and ninth player overall) in team annals to score 100-or-more points in a season...His 80.0 percent conversion rate (at the time) was the fifth-best single-season field goal percentage in team history...Of his six misses, two were blocked and two hit uprights...Total of 24 field goals ranked as the fourth-best single-season mark in club annals and his 48 extra points were the team's third-best total...Had 29 of his 89 regular-season kickoffs reach the end zone, including 11 touchbacks (12.4%), as the Packers finished third in NFL kickoff coverage...Kicked at least one field goal in each of Green Bay's final eight games...Turned in a stellar performance in the playoffs, hitting on 6/7 field goal attempts (85.7%) and on 6/6 PAT tries, to lead the NFL's kickers in postseason scoring with 24 points...Was 3/3 on PATs and converted a 27-yard field goal attempt in Super Bowl XXXII vs. Denver (Jan. 25)...Connected on 3/4 field goal tries in NFC Championship Game victory at San Francisco (Jan. 11), falling one short of team postseason single-game, field goal record...Effort against the 49ers — the team which had released him in the preseason — included a 43-yard field goal into a tough wind as the half ended, giving the Packers a 13-3 intermission lead...One week earlier (Jan. 4), had connected on two second-quarter field goals (from 21 and 32 yards), staking the Packers to a 13-0 halftime lead in eventual 21-7 divisional playoff victory over Tampa Bay...Nailed a clutch, 44-yard field goal with 6:44 remaining in contest vs. Detroit (Nov. 2), giving Packers 10-point cushion in a 20-10 victory; the kick was his second three-pointer of the evening...Converted on 2/3 field goal attempts and all 3 PAT tries to help Green Bay to a 27-11 victory at Minnesota (Dec. 1) as Packers broke a five-game losing streak at the Metrodome...Made good on both PAT efforts and booted a key 27-yard field goal with 6:24 remaining in game at Tampa Bay (Dec. 7), staking Green Bay to eventual, 17-6 margin of victory and its third consecutive division title...Provided Packers with winning margin at Chicago (Oct. 12), as he hit a 37-yard field goal into swirling winds, giving Green Bay a 24-17 lead with 2:38 remaining in eventual 24-23 victory...Nailed a career-long 50-yard field goal among three successful kicks at Detroit (Sept. 28)...Also chalked up three field goals in each of Green Bay's first three games — vs. Chicago (Sept. 1), at Philadelphia (Sept. 7) and vs. Miami (Sept. 14) — with the Bears' contest producing his first NFL three-pointer and establishing his then single-game career high for points (12)...Had enjoyed a perfect preseason, hitting on 6/6 field goal tries and 10/10 extra point attempts to earn a roster spot after Conway suffered a quadriceps injury in pregame warmups at Oakland (Aug. 8), making it necessary for the Packers to keep a second kicker into the regular season...Connected on all three attempts vs. Raiders as he stepped in for Conway on a last-minute basis, hitting from 21, 44 and 34 yards...Two weeks later, he solidified his hold on the placekicking duties in the final preseason contest, against the Giants in Madison (Aug. 22), as he converted field goal tries of 50, 28 and 49 yards to keep the Packers within striking distance; Green Bay later scored 2 touchdowns in the final 5:20 for a 22-17 win...When Conway's injury did not respond to treatment, and he eventually was placed on injured reserve (Sept. 3), Longwell was provided with his season-long opportunity...Originally was signed by the San Francisco 49ers as an undrafted free agent on April 28, 1997...Subsequently was waived by the Niners on July 9 and claimed the next day by Green Bay.

PRO: Hard worker who elevated himself from a position on the Green Bay practice squad in 1997 to a role as an inside pass rusher at the end of last season...Looks to expand upon those responsibilities in 1999 following the free agency departure of Bob Kuberski to Atlanta..."We only see his reps going up," says Packers defensive coordinator Emmitt Thomas. "Mike Trgovac, our defensive line coach, has been very impressed with him. He's a high-effort, high-energy guy. We think he'll be an excellent run-stopper in there for us. It's important to him to stop the run, but he has enough quickness to also be a part of the pass rush. We expect to get a lot of playing time out of him — we think he's a good football player."...From a Division I-AA background as a collegian, has shown significant development during his two years in the NFL...1998: Played well enough in the preseason to earn a roster spot...Saw action at defensive tackle in passing situations and on special teams in four regular-season games, including the final three, as well as in the Packers' playoff loss at San Francisco...Was inactive for Green Bay's other 12 contests...Finished the year with 1 sack among 7 total tackles (5 solo)...Had a big impact in the Packers' 26-20 victory over Chicago (Dec. 13), sacking Steve Stenstrom on second down of the Bears' final drive, which had reached the Green Bay 25-yard line (teammates Reggie White and Santana Dotson followed with sacks on the next two plays to seal the win)...Recorded 2 solo tackles, including his initial NFL sack, vs. Bears in the first extended action of his pro career...Followed that with 2 assisted stops the next week against Tennessee (Dec. 20)...Established a career high with 3 solo tackles in rematch with Bears at Chicago (Dec. 27)...Earlier had gotten in on special teams against Baltimore (Oct. 25)...Totaled 3 stops on kick coverage...Had re-signed with the Packers on Jan. 28, 1998, following the expiration of his 1997 practice squad contract...1997: Signed with Kansas City April 28 as an undrafted free agent...Waived by the Chiefs during training camp (Aug. 15), he was out of football until being signed to the Green Bay practice squad Nov. 20...Spent the remainder of the regular season and playoffs, including Super Bowl XXXII, as part of Packers' scout team.

COLLEGE: Was a four-year starter (1993-96) for Marshall University in Huntington, W.Va. ...Redshirted in 1992...Played in three NCAA Division I-AA championship games with the Thundering Herd, capturing a national title in 1996...Finished career with 304 total tackles (164 solo), 30 sacks, 148 quarterback pressures, 12 forced fumbles, 3 fumble recoveries and 13 passes defended...Was a consensus I-AA All-America selection as a senior, when he had 91 tackles (51 solo), 9 sacks, 3 forced fumbles and 3 pass breakups...Named first-team All-Southern Conference each of his final three years (1994-96)...Also earned first-team All-America honors from the Associated Press his junior year after receiving honorable mention as a sophomore...Moved from tight end to defensive tackle as a redshirt freshman...Holds B.S. degree in occupational safety.

PERSONAL: Given name William Morton Lyon...Born in Ashland, Ky. ...Engaged to marry Tasha Gadd, the couple has a son, Tyler (born 6/15/96)...Was a first-team all-conference pick as a senior at Lloyd High School in Erlanger, Ky. ...Earned three letters in football as a linebacker and tight end...Hobbies include racing remote control cars and watching sports...Residence: De Pere, Wis.

PRO: Effusive fourth-year pro, in 1999 looks to solidify his recent role as the Packers' third wide receiver...Continues to demonstrate superb hands and an almost uncanny ability to make tough receptions in traffic...One of the most talented receivers on the roster, has shown glimpses of greatness and is looking to put together a full season after injuries have curtailed a portion of each of his three previous pro seasons..."He has been injured a lot," says new Green Bay wide receivers coach Charlie Baggett. "And he is not getting the production that his ability warrants. But Derrick is working hard on the things that I think he can improve on — as far as route running, being in the right place at the right time and doing the right things in the offense. As far as the injury bugs, I think he's conscious of those things. He's going to come in and be in the best shape he's ever been in this year, so he doesn't get injured. He needs to play for a full year and show that he can be the kind of receiver we need. He's got the ability to add a lot to this offense, no question about it."...Suffered a shoulder injury as a rookie, ankle injuries in 1997 and a knee injury in 1998 — all keeping him from significant playing time...After wearing the number 1 in college, chose number 80 for the pros as a salute to personal friend Lake Dawson (formerly of the Chiefs), who was his immediate predecessor as Notre Dame's go-to receiver and who also wore that number for Kansas City...1998: Played in 10 regular-season games, with six starts, he was inactive for the other six contests due to a knee injury...Contributed to offensive cause, serving as the club's third wide receiver and also starting for the injured Antonio Freeman and Robert Brooks at the end of the season...Sixth on the team in catches, he finished the year with career highs in receptions (30), receiving yards (394) and touchdowns (3)...Also played in NFC Wild Card playoff game at San Francisco (Jan. 3), making 1 reception for 20 yards...Filled role as Green Bay's third wide receiver until spraining the posterior cruciate and medial collateral ligaments in his right knee on a fourth-quarter punt return vs. Minnesota (Oct. 5) while filling in for Roell Preston, who had left the game with cramps...Underwent arthroscopic surgery on Oct. 8 to trim cartilage in his knee...Saw his first action in eight weeks when he returned to the field against Philadelphia (Nov. 29), having been inactive for each of the six games preceding the Eagles contest...Started Green Bay's final four games, one at split end for Freeman (jaw) and three for Brooks (hamstring) at flanker...Posted 2 receptions for 25 yards in season-finale at Chicago (Dec. 27) after 2 catches for 29 yards in previous week's contest vs. Tennessee (Dec. 20)...Equaled his career high with 5 receptions (for 65 yards) in win vs. Chicago (Dec. 13) in first start for Brooks...Also made 5 catches for a team-high 74 yards while starting in place of Freeman at Tampa Bay (Dec. 7)...In first game back from injury, made 1 reception for 10 yards in win over Philadelphia (Nov. 29)...Earlier had seen action in club's first five games, getting the starting nod in two contests when Green Bay opened with a three wide receiver set...Made start and enjoyed the best day of his professional career in Green Bay's tight, 37-30 victory at Carolina (Sept. 27)...Posted a career-high 3 touchdown catches among a career-best receptions (5) for a season-high and team-leading 87 yards...All three of his TDs against the Panthers were sensational: the first score came from 21 yards out as he extended his body, barely making the catch in-bounds as he fell out the back of the end zone; the second was a four-yard, diving grab from his knees in traffic; and the third came as he caught a pass in the flat, broke one tackle, sidestepped another would-be stopper and sprinted 33 yards for the score, points that would provide the club's eventual margin of victory...Contributed in tight, 13-6 win at Cincinnati (Sept. 20) with 4 catches for 38 yards...Had 4 grabs for 38 yards in season-opening defeat of Detroit (Sept. 6)...1997: Played in 12 regular-season games with three starts...Saw most of his action as the Packers' No. 3 wide receiver...Started once when Brooks was sidelined with a rib injury, the other occasions when Green Bay opened in a multiple receiver formation...Was inactive for three other games and did not play in one contest due to separate injuries to both of his ankles...Played in all three postseason contests, including Super Bowl XXXII...Finished sixth on the team during the regular season with 18 receptions for 290 yards (16.1 avg.)...Replaced the injured Brooks in the starting lineup at Indianapolis (Nov. 16) and caught 3 passes for a career-high 119 yards (his first 100-yard game as a pro) in his hometown, including a career-long 74-yard reception — the longest catch by a Packer in 1997 — which saw him fall one yard shy of the end zone...Saw extensive action the following week vs. Dallas (Nov. 23) when Brooks (concussion) left the game in the first quarter...Equaled season high with 4 receptions for 30 yards against the Cowboys...Made one of the bigger plays of his pro career at Philadelphia (Sept. 7), when, with the Packers down 10-9 and facing a fourth-and-16 from their own 41 with 1:38 left in the game, he caught a 28-yard pass from Brett Favre to give Green Bay a first down at the Eagles' 31-yard line...Started season opener vs. Chicago (Sept. 1) as Packers opened in four wide receiver set, and made a season-high 4 receptions (for 54 yards)...Caught 3 passes for 22 yards in the Packers' 17-6, division-clinching win at Tampa Bay (Dec. 7)...Also served as the club's punt returner, primarily during a three-week, late-season stretch, he returned 14 punts for a 10.1-yard average over the course of the season...Had 6 punt returns for 78 yards (13.0 avg.), including a 26-yard runback, in the Packers' 27-11 win at Minnesota (Dec. 1)...Did not play in regular-season finale vs. Buffalo (Dec. 20), one week after he was inactive at Carolina (Dec. 14) due to a sprained left ankle suffered on Dec. 11 in practice...Earlier had suffered a right ankle sprain on the Packers' first possession at Detroit (Sept. 28), from which he did not return, causing him to be inactive vs. Tampa Bay (Oct. 5) and at Chicago (Oct. 12)...Caught 3 passes for 47 yards during the postseason...Caught a 14-yard pass on third-and-9 to set up Mark Chmura's touchdown reception on the next play, putting the Packers ahead 7-0, in divisional playoff win over Tampa Bay (Jan. 4)...Later in same contest made a 23-yard, circus-type catch, where he ended up snaring the ball between his legs, to the Bucs' 22-yard line on a crucial third-and-18 play late in the third quarter...More importantly, the catch kept the drive alive, a possession which resulted in Green Bay's final touchdown in a 21-7 victory...Also had a key reception, where he bulled over the 49ers' Tyrone Drakeford to pick up a first down, early in the third quarter of NFC Championship Game win at San Francisco (Jan. 11)...1996: Limited by a shoulder injury early in his rookie season, returned to play in seven games as a backup receiver, catching 6 passes for 46 yards and 2 touchdowns...Was inactive for the team's other nine regular-season contests plus all three playoff games, including Super Bowl XXXI...Scored his first NFL touchdown at Kansas City (Nov. 10), making a tough, one-handed grab off of a fade route late in the game, cutting the Packers' deficit to 27-20 with 1:02 left in the game...Also tied his season high with 2 receptions against the Chiefs...Caught his second touchdown pass in as many weeks at Dallas (Nov. 18), when he pulled in a three-yarder from Favre...Saw his first action of the year late in Green Bay's 37-6 win at Chicago (Oct. 6)...Caught his first NFL pass in Monday night win over San Francisco (Oct. 14), a five-yard reception immediately prior to Green Bay's game-winning field goal in overtime...Saw his most extensive action of the year Oct. 27 against Tampa Bay, when he caught a season-best 2 passes for 20 yards after Freeman went out with a broken arm early in the game...Had dislocated his left shoulder in the final seconds of the team's third preseason contest, at Baltimore (Aug. 17), when he made a reception on a crossing pattern during the Packers' game-winning drive...Subsequently missed the balance of training camp before returning to full practice on Sept. 18, he was inactive for the team's first five regular-season games...Drafted in the second round (56th overall and 11th wide receiver) by Green Bay in 1996.

PRO: Mobile and strong of arm, Ronnie McAda gets a long-awaited opportunity to display his wares in a training camp and preseason play — for the first time — after fulfilling a two-year military obligation...The former Army field general's previous NFL experience had been confined to a short stint in the Packers' training camp in 1997 — the year he became the team's final selection in that April's draft — and to some of Green Bay's mini-camps the past two seasons...Reinstated to the Packers' roster from reserve/military this past March 3, he spent the spring sharpening his skills in NFL Europe with the Berlin Thunder...Green Bay offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis, assessing the 25-year-old Texan's pro football future, believes that McAda possesses the qualities necessary to become an NFL signal-caller, saying, "He's extremely intelligent. He's got good arm strength and excellent mobility. He can throw deep and has nice touch when he has to take something off his passes. And he possesses the leadership that you like in a quarterback. We like all the intangibles he has..."NFL EUROPE: Allocated to NFL Europe by Green Bay this past Feb. 26...Began season with the Frankfurt Galaxy, but did not see action in any of the team's first five games...Subsequently was re-allocated to the Berlin Thunder after the Thunder was bit by the injury bug at the quarterback position...Saw reserve action in all five of Berlin's remaining games, particularly the final two contests...Finished the year with 23 completions in 47 attempts for 294 yards and 2 touchdowns, without an interception...Completed 10 of 15 passes for 133 yards, including an 11-yard touchdown throw

PRO: High-energy and hard-hitting second-year player, looks to further contributions to defensive unit in 1999 after making mark on Packers' special teams during successful rookie campaign...Former sixth-round draft pick, parlayed impressive 1998 preseason showing — he led the team in tackles — to secure spot on roster, contributing mostly on special teams, with some occasional duty on the regular defense...Will continue to headline as top-flight special teams player and work to settle into regular backup role with the defense...“We expect him to be an excellent special teams player,” says Emmitt Thomas, the Packers' new defensive coordinator. “We’re going to ask him to be ready to play strong or free safety in case something happens to LeRoy Butler or Darren Sharper. We expect great things from him. During the offseason camps, he’s had excellent practices. We took him outside and he played a little corner in the one-on-one situations. He’s athletic and he’s a tough guy. You look in his eyes, he’s very intense. I think football is very important to him. We expect him to have a good year.”...1998: Played in 15 regular-season games as a rookie, he was inactive for the other due to injury...Finished with 13 tackles (11 solo) and 1 pass defended...Served most of the season as the Packers' No. 3 strong safety, seeing more playing time in the club's ‘dime’ package toward the end of the season...Also did receive some action at the left cornerback spot when injuries depleted depth...Made significant contribution to Green Bay's special teams, making 10 tackles to finish fourth on the club...Saw action in team's Wild Card loss at San Francisco (Jan. 3), making 1 tackle on defense and 1 with the special teams...Registered a career-best 4 tackles in 30-22 win over Tennessee (Dec. 20), one a crushing hit on Oilers RB Eddie George...Also performed at left cornerback vs. the Oilers for two series while starter Sharper was briefly out of the game...Played in ‘dime’ package in loss at Tampa Bay (Dec. 7), additionally helping at left cornerback briefly in second half when Craig Newsome left the contest and backup Rod Smith (knee) was unable to play...Also equaled his career best with 2 special teams stops vs. the Bucs...Earlier had posted 2 special teams tackles in win at Carolina (Sept. 27)...Was inactive at Pittsburgh (Nov. 9) due to sprained medial collateral ligament in his right knee, suffered a week earlier in San Francisco contest (Nov. 1)...Saw defensive backfield action in several other contests, including a 3-tackle effort in win over Philadelphia (Nov. 29), 2 tackles each in games vs. Minnesota (Oct. 5) and Chicago (Dec. 13) and 1 stop in rematch at the Bears (Dec. 27)...Led all Green Bay defenders with 22 stops in the preseason...Had surgery on Jan. 11, 1999, to stabilize left shoulder injury initially suffered in contest at Minnesota (Nov. 22)...Was the first of two sixth-round selections (156th overall) by Green Bay in 1998.

COLLEGE: A three-year starter and four-time letterman (1994-97) at New Mexico...Started in 34 straight games for the Lobos, playing in 46 contests overall...Finished his career with 316 total tackles (230 solo), 3 interceptions, 5 sacks, 6 forced fumbles, 19 passes defended and 5 tackles for loss...Was a first-team All-Western Athletic Conference selection as well as his team's defensive ‘MVP’ and outstanding special teams player as a senior...Was the Lobos' third-leading tackler with 97 total stops in 1997, he also contributed 4 sacks, 2 interceptions, 2 tackles for loss, 2 forced fumbles and 6 passes defended while serving co-captain...Had double-digit tackle totals in five games as a senior, including a career-high 17 stops (16 solo) vs. Rice...Returned an interception 66 yards to the one-yard line in game against Tulsa...Made 12 stops in Insight.com Bowl vs. Arizona...Finished fourth on the team in total tackles his junior season 73 (59 solo) as he earned honorable mention All-WAC honors...Also had 2 forced fumbles and 5 passes defended, tying for the team lead in both categories...Recorded a career-best 101 total tackles as a 1995 sophomore, good for third among Lobo defenders, and his 9.4 tackles per game was tied for the sixth-best average in the WAC...Turned in 15-tackle performances in consecutive weeks, vs. Air Force and Fresno State...Saw action in all 12 games as a redshirt freshman, posting 45 total tackles...Redshirted in 1993...Majored in business.

PERSONAL: Given name John Scott McGarrahan...Nicknamed ‘Mac’...Born in Arlington, Texas...Single...An all-area, all-district and all-city selection as a cornerback and safety his senior season at Lamar High School in Arlington, Texas...A two-year starter and three-year letter winner, he also played

PRO: A proven, effective pass-rusher, will attempt to round out his personal game this season by becoming an every-down player...Is the leading candidate to become the starter at right defensive end, a position left open by the switch of '98 starter Vonnie Holliday to the opposite side to replace the retired Reggie White...An instinctive player possessing a great feel for working off the corners of blockers as a pass rusher, he also has enough linebacker skill — a position he played for three years in college — to drop off into pass coverage...Was incorporated more into the Green Bay defense last year, regularly entering games on passing downs after two seasons of mostly special teams duties, hopes to make similar advances in playing time in 1999...“We are going to pencil Keith in at the right defensive end,” says new Packers defensive coordinator Emmitt Thomas. “We’re going to do some things with him in our fire zone scheme because he has the size of a defensive lineman, but he has the speed, the feet and hips of a linebacker. We think all of his football is ahead of him. Pass rush is his strength — we think he’ll be an excellent third-down pass-rusher. We’ll put him in our wide technique and let him rush upfield and be able to run games and stunts with him. We think he’ll hold up as far as stopping the run...when I was in Washington we had Charles Mann and Dexter Manley, I go to the Eagles and have Hugh Douglas and Mike Mamula — all of them the same size as Keith. All of them are in that 6-3, 6-4, 6-5 area, about 250-265 pounds. We feel that he can give us 35-40 good snaps a game.”...With 4 career postseason sacks, is tied with Sean Jones for the second-most in Green Bay playoff history, trailing only the 8 of White...Paced Green Bay in sacks during the preseason each of his first two years in the NFL, also leading the entire NFL in 1996...Was utilized primarily as a situational rush end and on special teams during his initial two seasons before assuming a more integrated role last year...Moved to defensive end as a senior in college after three seasons at linebacker...His outside pass-rush skills, along with his small-college background and jersey number (95), have invited comparisons to former Packer and current Jacksonville Jaguar Bryce Paup...1998: Saw regular duty as an outside speed rusher in passing situations while playing in all 16 games for the second straight year...Typically entered the game at right defensive end in long-yardage situations, with Holliday moving inside to tackle...Tied Holliday for second on the team in sacks with a career-high 8 — more than triple the number of QB drops in his first two NFL seasons combined...Led club in fumble recoveries with 3...Also had 26 tackles (20 solo), 1 interception, 1 forced fumble, 3 passes defended and 1 blocked extra point...Contributed 3 stops (2 solo) on special teams...Became only the 10th

PRO: A consummate professional and seasoned veteran, joins the Packers in 1999 as an unrestricted free agent...A veteran of 14 NFL seasons, versatile lineman has started at every position on the offensive line through the course of his pro career...One of the most highly-regarded offensive linemen on the offseason's free agent market, is expected to fill a gap in Green Bay's offensive line after the free agency departure of Adam Timmerman, a starter the past three seasons..."I think that what he brings to the table is great experience," says Packers offensive line coach Larry Beightol. "The fact that he's played every position in the offensive line and has played them quite well. He had to play last year as an off tackle as well as an off guard. He has a tremendous love for the game. To me, he is a consummate pro. I like everything about Raleigh. He's a quality football player and a quality individual..."Though his experience and versatility undoubtedly will be utilized at some point, initially will line up at left guard, with '98 starter Marco Rivera moving over to Timmerman's former right guard position..."He'll provide leadership for us," continues Beightol. "We switched Marco Rivera and Raleigh to get a more experienced player next to Ross Verba and then of course bringing Marco over, he'll still have an experienced player, Earl Dotson, playing next to him. I think it's all worked out quite well. Nothing is etched in stone right now. As camp goes along we'll see what works best. Bottom line, though, we're excited about having Raleigh in the mix..."Has played in 208 career regular-season games with 177 starts, including a current streak of 126 consecutive starts...Stands in fourth place among the NFL's active offensive linemen for most games played, trailing only Tennessee's Bruce Matthews (248), Pittsburgh's Jim Sweeney (222) and Cleveland's Lomas Brown (210)...Also a seasoned playoff veteran, has appeared in 16 postseason contests, with 13 starts...Signed with the Packers as an unrestricted free agent on Feb. 25, 1999, after two seasons (1997-98) with the San Diego Chargers...Originally an 11th-round draft pick by Washington in 1985, spent his first 10 pro seasons

Rick," says new Packers quarterbacks coach Mike McCarthy, "is his athletic ability — he plays with really good body balance, he's always in rhythm, has really good feet and escapability. And he now has a very good understanding of the offense. Plus, he's an accurate ball thrower and he's experienced. If you get to your number two, now you've got a guy that has 50-some starts in the NFL."...Was the second overall selection in the 1993 NFL draft after a standout career at the University of Notre Dame, leaving as the school's career touchdown pass leader and with the lowest career interception percentage in the history of the independent institution...Enjoyed initial prosperity in his maiden NFL home, Seattle, winning all-rookie honors in 1993, before things soured for him following a '95 coaching change...Traded to Chicago in 1997 in a deal which sent the Bears' first-round draft choice to the Seahawks...Never really found his niche in the Windy City and was released by Chicago after just one season, he subsequently chose Green Bay as an organization where he could refine his once-bright passing skills in a less pressure-filled situation...Remains third in Seattle history (behind Dave Krieg and Jim Zorn) in career passing attempts (1,523), completions (814), yards (9,094) and touchdown passes (41)...Including his time with the Bears, has 867 completions in 1,626 attempts for 9,514 yards and 41 touchdowns, with 62 interceptions, for a career passer rating of 63.4...Also has rushed for 958 yards and 7 TDs on 198 NFL carries...1998: A late addition to the Green Bay roster, did not join team until four days before the regular-season opener (Sept. 2), when he signed a free agent contract...Spent the majority of the year as Packers' inactive Third Quarterback, serving in that role for 12 games plus for club's postseason contest at San Francisco...Assumed spot as team's No. 2 signal caller for four mid-season games while the usual backup, Pederson, was sidelined by a broken jaw...Did not play in any of those four contests: at Detroit (Oct. 15), vs. Baltimore (Oct. 25), vs. San Francisco (Nov. 1) and at Pittsburgh (Nov. 9)...Received most of his snaps during the practice week as the "scout team" quarterback...Had been released by Chicago late in training camp (Aug. 30)...1997: Played in only seven games, making three starts, in his lone season with the Bears after coming over from Seattle in an expensive offseason trade...Did not play in two contests and was inactive for seven others...Shared team's quarterbacking duties with holdover starter Erik Kramer and, to a lesser extent, Steve Stenstrom...Backed up Kramer the first two games of the year, entered third contest as a reserve, then started three straight weeks...Subsequently was the inactive Third Quarterback for the ensuing seven contests, before rounding out disastrous campaign by playing sparingly in each of the final three games...Completed 53 of 103 passes for 420 yards, with 6 interceptions, over the course of the year...Also rushed for 78 yards and 1 touchdown on 20 attempts...Came off the bench vs. Detroit (Sept. 14) to make first appearance in a Bears uniform, and completed 10 of 21 passes for 90 yards with 1 INT...Got his first start with Chicago the following week at New England (Sept. 21), completing a season-high 68.0% of his passes (17 of 25) for a season-best 154 yards, but was intercepted twice...Turned in 11-of-21 passing performance in ensuing start at Dallas (Sept. 28) while throwing for 62 yards and with one being picked off...Also started against New Orleans (Oct. 5), completing 7 of 16 balls thrown for 58 yards before he was replaced by Kramer in the second half...Served as the team's third QB for the next seven games...Saw spot duty in the last three contests of the year, had a season-long 20-yard rush at St. Louis (Dec. 14), then scored on a one-yard quarterback keeper in finale at Tampa Bay (Dec. 21)...Also recorded the lone two-point conversion of his NFL career in Bucs contest...Acquired along with a fourth-round pick from Seattle on Feb. 19, 1997, in exchange for Chicago's first-round selection in the '97 draft (11th overall); Seattle subsequently used the choice to help trade up eight spots and select CB Shawn Springs...1996: Played in 11 games, making nine starts, in his fourth and final season with the Seahawks...Passed for 1,546 yards and 5 touchdowns, completing 136 of 265 throws, but was intercepted 12 times...Gained 191 yards on 33 rushing attempts, two resulting in scores...Threw for a season-best 251 yards, on 24-of-41 passing, in season opener at San Diego (Sept. 1), his personal production included a career-long 60-yard bomb to Joey Galloway...Also had a six-yard touchdown run among 49 yards on the ground vs. the Chargers...Two weeks later, scored his second rushing TD of the year on a one-yard dive vs. Kansas City...Enjoyed fifth comeback victory of his NFL career, when he completed 12 of 17 passes for 118 yards and 1 touchdown on the Seahawks' final two drives to erase a 10-point, fourth-quarter deficit and lead Seattle to a 17-13 win at Tampa Bay (Sept. 22)...Was sat down for four mid-season games, yielding to John Friesz, after he threw a career-high 4 interceptions vs. Green Bay (Sept. 29)...After a reserve role in two subsequent contests, returned to starting duty for game against Oakland (Nov. 24)...Completed 64.0% of his passes (16 of 25) vs. the Raiders, for 181 yards and 1 touchdown...Threw for 177, 147 and 156 yards in ensuing three games vs. Denver, Buffalo and Jacksonville, respectively...Finished the Jaguars contest (Dec. 15) despite a bruised knee suffered in the first half, he was inactive the next week at Oakland in season finale...1995: Completed 209 of 391 passes for 2,564 yards and 13 touchdowns, but was intercepted a career-high 20 times in the first season under new head coach Dennis Erickson...Was selected as offensive captain by his teammates prior to the season...Started 13 games while playing in 15 overall...Threw for a season-high 279 yards and 2 touchdowns on 21-of-30 passing in 24-21 victory over Cincinnati (Sept. 17)...Did not start mid-season game at Arizona when he was replaced in the lineup by

PRO: A member of the Green Bay practice squad for virtually the entire 1998 regular season — prior to joining the active roster for the postseason — he not only will compete for a year-long roster spot, but will do so on the opposite side of the ball at an entirely new position...Moves from his collegiate position of linebacker, which he also played last season, to fullback...Is expected to battle Jim Kitts and Edwin Watson to be the backup to starter William Henderson...Though still a linebacker at the time, he first demonstrated his potential offensive skills to the Green Bay coaching staff during the 1998 season while running the opposition's plays as a fullback...When given the opportunity, also has proven to be a good special teams player...“We saw him playing fullback last year on our scout squad,” says Green Bay running backs coach Harry Sydney, one of the holdovers from the '98 coaching staff. “I liked what he did — he'll hit you, things like that. We were looking for fullbacks and we needed one, so we converted him. He's still a little raw when it comes to the little things of being a fullback, but he's picked up things pretty well. Last year he got my attention when he was running the scout team, going up against our starting linebackers, and he wasn't backing down. He was going after them. And that's the hardest thing to teach a fullback to do — is to go attack people. And he's a guy you want to get on the field for special teams.”...Following his positional switch, again dons the number 44 which he wore as a linebacker at Penn State and in high school after sporting number 50 a year ago as a Green Bay defender...1998: Spent the majority of the season on the Packers' practice squad before moving up to the active roster on the eve of the playoffs (Dec. 29)...Played on special teams in Green Bay's postseason loss at San Francisco (Jan. 3), recording 1 tackle...Released by the Packers late in training camp (Aug. 25), he subsequently was signed to the team's practice squad two weeks into the regular season (Sept. 14)...Originally joined Green Bay when he was claimed on waivers July 20, he had been released by the 49ers on July 17...Signed with San Francisco on April 24 as an undrafted free agent.

COLLEGE: Three-year starter and four-time letterman (1994-97) for Penn State...Was redshirted in 1993...Finished career with 255 total tackles (158 solo), including 11½ sacks and 22 others for loss, to rank eighth on the school's all-time list...Moved into the starting lineup at outside linebacker beginning with the 1995 season opener against Texas Tech — a game which saw him make a career-high 12 tackles — he went on to start 37 consecutive games...Led the Nittany Lions in tackles with 91 (70 solo) as a senior, earning him second-team All-Big Ten honors...Received honorable mention on All-America squad of Football News...Also had 2 interceptions in 1997, including a pickoff at the PSU 8-yard line against Wisconsin...Closed out his collegiate career with 7 stops and an interception vs. Florida in the 1998 Citrus Bowl...Was second on the team in tackles his sophomore and junior seasons with 81 and 82 stops, respectively...Suffered a broken leg early in 1994, he returned to play in four games as well as in the Lions' Rose Bowl victory over Oregon...Holds B.S. degree in criminal justice.

PERSONAL: Given name James Robert Nelson...Born in Riverside, Calif. ...Married the former Kellie Murphy this past March 13...Was a four-year starter at linebacker and tight end for McDonough High School in Waldorf, Md., he also punted...Additionally lettered his first two years in baseball, his final two years in track...Won the 1993 state championship in the discus, finishing second in the shot put...On the heels of these accomplishments, was named as the school's 'Male Athlete of the Year' as a senior, when he also was an all-conference selection and team captain in football...The son of an Air Force officer, his family moved often throughout his childhood, its stops including seven states (California, Kansas, Idaho, Pennsylvania, Texas, Alabama and Maryland) and two countries (the U.S. and England)...Has been involved with 'The Second Mile,' an organization which works with disadvantaged youth...Hobbies include reading, fishing and playing golf...Residence: Camp Hill, Pa.

PRO: Tough, physical cornerback whose aim is to return to the level of play characteristic of his first two years in the league after injury-filled seasons in 1997 and '98...Coming back last year from a serious knee injury which limited his '97 season to a mere one play, initially struggled to find his past form, then was bothered at season's end by a deep knee laceration...Originally joined Green Bay in 1995 as the team's first-round draft choice, he had fully lived up to all of the expectations of that designation during his initial two NFL seasons..."We think now that he's returning back to what he was his first two seasons," says Emmitt Thomas, the Packers' new defensive coordinator. "The knee injury he had is about a year-and-a-half injury, and I think Craig might have come back a little early or had a little bit of stiffness in it last year. But right now we see him coming back to form."...Underwent arthroscopic surgery this past offseason (Feb. 9, 1999) to remove "loose bodies" from his surgical knee, he experienced immediate improvement in the knee's flexibility...Though on the quiet side, is an extremely competitive player who is not afraid to come up to the line and challenge opposition receivers in bump-and-run coverage...Is excellent in run support..."As physical as Craig is," Thomas continues, "it allows us to use him in the force pattern in the run game, put him in special situations where we can dog him a little bit. We know now where we can roll the coverages and get a hard corner that can really defend the run. He helps out a lot with the big receivers in our division."...Had become the Packers' starting left corner the day he arrived in Green Bay four summers ago, surrendering that post only through injury...Tested throughout his 1995, rookie season, he refused to back down and by year's end had merited selection to several all-rookie teams and established a club rookie record for passes defended...Had the most passes defended (42) by a Green Bay defensive back in his first two seasons since the advent of this statistic in 1981...Also made the most total tackles (156) of any Packers DB in his initial two NFL campaigns since safety Tom Flynn recorded 174 stops over the 1984-85 seasons...Consistently displays excellent work habits on the field, a trait perhaps attributable to the two post-high school years he spent laboring in the hot California sun as a block mason...Is a proven big-game performer, a quality he demonstrated during the playoffs his first two seasons...Intercepted a pass in each of the Packers' three victories en route to their 1996 world championship, tying the NFL record and establishing a new club postseason mark for most consecutive games with one interception (3)...One year earlier as a rookie, had recovered and returned a San Francisco fumble for a touchdown to start Green Bay's scoring in its upset playoff triumph over the 49ers...Adding in his pickoff in the '95 postseason, is tied with Pro Football Hall of Famer Herb Adderley and Eugene Robinson for the Packers' all-time playoff record of 4 career interceptions...1998: Making his return to the field, started 13 regular-season games plus the team's playoff loss to San Francisco at left cornerback...Was inactive for the club's other three contests due to a deep knee laceration...Finished the year with 51 total tackles (seventh on team), 1 interception and 11 passes defended (third on team)...Was hampered down the stretch by laceration just above the kneecap on his right leg, suffered early in the second quarter of game at Minnesota (Nov. 22) when his knee slammed to the artificial turf while diving to knock a pass away...Subsequently was inactive for three of the team's final five regular-season games (Nov. 29 vs. Philadelphia, Dec. 20 vs. Tennessee and Dec. 27 at Chicago) and was a non-factor in another contest (Dec. 13 vs. Chicago)...Turned in a gutsy performance Dec. 7 at Tampa Bay, equaling his season high of 5 tackles despite playing most of the fourth quarter in obvious pain after suffering a blow to the laceration...Started six days later against the Bears, but missed the majority of the contest when he further aggravated the cut...Earlier also had made 5 stops in games against Detroit (Sept. 6), Minnesota (Oct. 5), Detroit (Oct. 15) and Baltimore (Oct. 25)...Recorded his lone interception of the season when he picked off a tipped Kerry Collins pass at Carolina (Sept. 27), returning it 26 yards to the Panthers' 28-yard line...Also helped save the day in 37-30 win over Carolina, tipping a last-ditch Collins pass, which subsequently was knocked down by teammate Darren Sharper, in the end zone on the final play of the game, allowing the Packers to hang on for the victory...Had a season-high 2 passes defended in three games — vs. Tampa Bay (Sept. 13), at Pittsburgh (Nov. 9) and at N.Y. Steve Young pass intended for Jerry Rice in regular-season meeting with 49ers (Nov. 1)...After missing the final two regular-season games, returned to the starting lineup for NFC Wild Card playoff game at San Francisco (Jan. 3), contributing 3 stops and a pass breakup...1997: Tore the anterior cruciate ligament in his left knee on the first play from scrimmage of the regular season while reacting to an out-and-up move by Chicago's Ricky Proehl (Sept. 1)...Placed on season-ending injured reserve two days later...Underwent corrective surgery on Sept. 9...1996: Started every game (19 including playoffs) at left cornerback for the second successive season...Was a primary component in Green Bay's top-rated pass defense...As a testament to the consistency of his play, did not incur a pass interference or illegal contact penalty through the first 18 games (16 regular season, two playoffs) before he was flagged for interference in the first quarter of Super Bowl XXXI...Posted 71 tackles (61 solo) to rank sixth on the club...Also contributed 1 forced fumble and 2 interceptions, as well as a career-best and team-leading 23 passes defended...Recorded season-high totals in tackles (8) and passes defended (3) at Minnesota (Sept. 22)...Later made 8 stops in first meeting with Detroit (Nov. 3)...Also broke up 3 passes at Tampa Bay (Sept. 1), in rematch with the Vikings (Dec. 22) and in divisional playoff contest with San Francisco (Jan. 4)...Intercepted the Seahawks' Rick Mirer (Sept. 29) and Minnesota's Brad Johnson (Dec. 22) during the regular season...Forced a fumble by the Bucs' Alvin Harper which led to Green Bay's fourth touchdown in 34-3, opening day victory over Buccaneers...Continuing his fine play in the playoffs he totaled a team-high 7 passes defended, among them interceptions of the 49ers' Elvis Grbac, the Panthers' Collins and the Patriots' Drew Bledsoe in consecutive games...Also drilled New England receiver Vincent Brisby in the final minutes of the Super Bowl, jarring the ball loose for teammate Brian Williams to intercept and giving Green Bay the ball back, to down twice to run out the game clock...Made 13 postseason tackles to tie for fourth on the club...1995: Started all 19 games (16 regular season, three in the playoffs) at left cornerback as a rookie...Finished fourth on the team in tackles with a career-high 85 (72 solo)...Also had a club rookie record 19 passes defended, including his first NFL interception Dec. 16 at New Orleans, when he picked off a Jim Everett throw in the end zone...Earned selection to all-rookie teams of Football News and College & Pro Football Newsweekly...Also was named to the 'All-Madden Team' by Fox Sports analyst John Madden...Chosen as Packers' 'Rookie of the Year'...Played especially well late in the season and into the playoffs...Made his first pro touchdown particularly memorable and meaningful, when he scooped up an Adam Walker fumble on the 49ers' first play from scrimmage of NFC divisional playoff contest and raced 31 yards into the end zone to give the Packers a 7-0 lead in eventual 27-17 upset win at San Francisco (Jan. 6)...Also had 4 solo tackles and 2 passes defended, including a late interception of the Niners' Young...One week earlier had posted 7 stops and broken up 2 Jeff George throws in first-round postseason victory over Atlanta (Dec. 31)...Ended playoffs with 14 total tackles (13 solo), 1 fumble recovery, 1 interception and 4 passes defended...Recorded single-game career highs in tackles (13) and passes defended (5) in 24-19 triumph over Pittsburgh in regular-season finale (Dec. 24)...Had 11 stops plus 2 pass breakups in win over Tampa Bay (Nov. 26)...Limited Herman Moore, the Lions' Pro Bowl wide receiver, to only 3 receptions — this despite 13 throws in his direction — in 30-21 victory over Detroit (Oct. 15)...Drafted in the first round (32nd overall and third cornerback) by Green Bay in 1995.

COLLEGE: Two-year starter (1993-94) at Arizona State after beginning his collegiate career at San Bernardino (Calif.) Valley Junior College...Recorded 99 tackles (71 solo), 4 interceptions, 14 passes defended, 2 fumble recoveries and 1 forced fumble for ASU...Was a first-team All-Pacific 10 Conference selection in 1993, when he picked off 4 passes and broke up 12 to go along with 57 tackles (38 solo)...Also was a candidate for the 'Jim Thorpe Award,' given annually to the nation's top defensive back...Missed first four games of his senior season while meeting academic requirements, returned to start Sun Devils' last seven contests at left cornerback...Posted a career-best 12 stops against Washington State...Earlier had been a two-year starter (1991-92) for San Bernardino Valley Junior College...Was a first-team All-Foothill Conference choice and was named as league's 'Most Valuable Defensive Back' in each of his two seasons...Also merited second-team All-America selection in 1992 from JC Gridwire...Set a national junior college record with a 103-yard interception return for a touchdown vs. Riverside City College in '92...Majored in criminal justice.

PERSONAL: Given name Craig Newsome...Nicknamed 'C-New'...Born in San Bernardino, Calif. ...Married to Tara, couple has a son, Craig, Jr. (born 12/9/98)...He also has another son, Garrett (born 11/22/90), and two daughters, Alexis (born 12/21/94) and Alena (born 10/24/97)...Was an all-conference selection in football at Eisenhower High School in Rialto, Calif. ...Lettered two seasons as a wide receiver and cornerback, he caught 45 passes for 758 yards and 12 touchdowns as a senior...Right out of high school worked for two years in construction in the Los Angeles area as a block mason, building brick walls, before deciding to attend junior college...Has given time to 'Make A Wish' in Milwaukee the past two years...Hobbies include playing golf, fishing, playing video games and spending time with his family...Residence: Green Bay.

PRO: Powerful and aggressive offensive guard who successfully made transition from well-prepared understudy to solid starter last season, now looks to further his development as an NFL offensive lineman, this year at a new position — right guard...Made switch to right side during offseason mini-camps after Packers signed unrestricted free agent Raleigh McKenzie to step in following the departure of free agent guard Adam Timmerman; McKenzie takes over at left guard with Rivera moving over to the vacant right guard position...New Packers offensive line coach Larry Beightol likes what he sees in Rivera and expects a smooth transition for the fourth-year player from Penn State...“I think he’s a masher and a mauler as a football player,” says Beightol. “I think he’ll do much better on the right side. He’s a great guy to coach, very intelligent, very sharp guy. Tries hard every day to get a little bit better at something. I think that he’ll acquit himself quite well at the right guard spot. I think his best football is ahead of him. I think he’ll continue to get better as we go...”One of the club’s more diligent workers, annually spends off-seasons in Green Bay preparing himself for each new season...A former sixth-round pick who made the team as a long-shot rookie in 1996, became a starter through diligent work as a two-year backup and a season with the (then) World League’s Scottish Claymores to get in position for his chance...Posted a great camp in 1998 to hold off a challenge of teammate Joe Andruzzi and win the starting spot...Signed a new three-year contract with Green Bay this past March 24...1998: Started 15 of 16 regular-season games at the left guard spot...Did not play in other contest due to injury...Also started club’s NFC Wild Card playoff game at San Francisco (Jan. 3), as offensive line helped pave way for Dorsey Levens’ 116 rushing yards, a Green Bay postseason record...With offensive line, helped club’s rushers gain a season-high 178 yards on the ground in win over Philadelphia (Nov. 29), but suffered a torn medial collateral ligament in right knee during third quarter of contest...Subsequently dressed, but did not play, the following week at Tampa Bay (Dec. 7) due to knee injury...Made it back to starting lineup for Dec. 13 victory over Chicago...Made first NFL start in season-opening win over Detroit (Sept. 6)...1997: Played in 14 regular-season games, primarily on special teams...Participated on the field goal and extra point units as well as the kickoff return group...Was inactive for the Packers’ first two games before seeing action in the club’s final 14 games as well as all three playoff contests, including Super Bowl XXXII...Saw first action with the offensive line as he stepped in at left guard in the fourth quarter of a 31-10 win at Carolina (Dec. 14)...Served as the primary backup at center behind Jeff Dellenbach for three early-season games (Sept. 14 vs. Miami, Sept. 21 vs. Minnesota and Sept. 28 at Detroit) while regular starter Frank Winters was sidelined with a foot injury...WORLD LEAGUE: Played for the Scottish Claymores of the World League (now NFL Europe) during the 1996 offseason, starting all 10 games and helping his team finish third (out of six clubs) in the league in total offense...Named honorable mention All-World League by Pro Football Weekly...1996: Was one of the preseason’s surprise success stories, playing well in camp and earning a spot on team’s final

PRO: One of the Packers' most athletic players, fourth-year wide receiver stands to make greater impact on club's offensive fortunes in 1999...Now a well-schooled veteran in Green Bay's version of the 'West Coast' offense, will challenge for increased playing time after logging a substantial number of plays last season as the team's third and fourth wide receiver...Spent much of the offseason rehabilitating a broken collarbone suffered late last season, was not able to fully participate in all of Packers' offseason mini-camps...Stayed involved by helping to tutor Green Bay's younger wide receivers, a practice that impressed new Packers wide receivers coach Charlie Baggett..."One thing that strikes me about Bill," says Baggett, "is that he has been injured and had to rehab during the offseason and has been doing well. But with that going on, he had to act as a player-coach during the first two mini-camps. He helped me with the young kids, teaching them, telling them what to do. One thing that impressed me about that, is that he really did know both positions. He knows the offense well. That's a tremendous help for him, a plus for him. He doesn't have to think about what to do. He can just perform and use some of those athletic skills that he has. He can run and has excellent hands. He's also a tall target. He's the kind of kid that you look for, if he can take it to the next level. He can do that. I think he'll play a lot this year."...A small-college success

PRO: Now in his second season as Green Bay's starting free safety, looks to settle in as the 'quarterback' of the Packers' defensive secondary...One of the most physically gifted athletes on the roster, hopes to fully concentrate his considerable talents on his regular, free safety position after playing in a variety of spots last season in a depth- and injury-ravaged defensive backfield...Green Bay coaches and teammates eagerly anticipate the return of his playmaking ways, displayed during an outstanding college career and as a 1997 rookie, when he scored three defensive touchdowns...New Packers defensive coordinator Emmitt Thomas is excited to work with the third-year pro, saying, "He's very, very, very athletic — one of the biggest, athletic defensive backs I've ever been around. Troy Vincent and Bobby Taylor are those types of guys. Sharper has the corner speed, feet and size, but we're going to play him inside, which should be a plus for us — to have that type of player inside. He's going to be the quarterback of the defense. He and Bernardo Harris will be our signal callers..."Thomas' analysis of the William & Mary grad's 1998 season reveals an overall successful campaign, which missed on just a few big plays..."We see that he made the same plays last year that he made his rookie year," explains Thomas, "Same position — probably was in more positions to make plays — he just dropped the ball three or four times. If he had picked off two or three balls and scored the touchdowns he did his rookie year, he would have had a great year last year. He was there, he just didn't make the plays or he knocked it down instead of intercepting it. There's nothing wrong with his work habits, the intensity he had for the game and his playmaking ability. We're just going to try and get him in a more relaxed atmosphere. Now he knows his main strength and he'll adjust and do a good job..."Had tied a team record and broken a club rookie mark with his three defensive scores in 1997...1998: Started all 16 games for Green Bay for the first time — 13 at free safety and three at left cornerback...Finished with a career-high 89 tackles (62 solo), good for fourth on the team...Also had 6 passes defended (also fourth on the club)...Additionally started NFC Wild Card loss at San Francisco (Jan. 3), making 3 tackles, registering an interception among 2 passes defended and forcing a fumble by Terrell Owens on the 49ers' first possession...Stepped in at the left corner position late in the season in place of Craig Newsome, who had suffered a laceration above his knee in a contest at Minnesota (Nov. 22), and subsequently started games there vs. Philadelphia (Nov. 29), vs. Tennessee (Dec. 20) and

PRO: Third-year pro, hopes to put himself back into the defensive line "mix" after sitting out all of 1998 due to injuries suffered in an offseason motorcycle accident...A quick and agile player, two years ago had gained playing time as his rookie season progressed...Should compete with Billy Lyon and rookie Cletidus Hunt for playing time inside following the free agency departure of '98 backup Bob Kuberski..."Jermaine has good athletic ability for a player of his size (near 300 pounds)," says Packers defensive line coach Mike Trgovac. "He has good upfield pass rushing skills and quickness off the ball. After missing last year due to an injury, we are very excited to have Jermaine get back in the groove of playing. We to look for him to rebound nicely from his injury and be a significant contributor this season..."1998: Missed the entire season after suffering a compound fracture of his right elbow in a June 28 motorcycle accident in Green got a real good feel for what we do on offense. He can go in and start for you — he did that last year against Chicago — and he does a great job on special teams, too. As far as being a number three tight end, he's super. And now he's also doing some long-snapping — which is another way for him to contribute."...Possesses good size and soft hands, he also is a much-improved blocker..."Jeff has worked hard to improve his receiving and blocking skills," says Sherman Lewis, Green Bay's offensive coordinator the past seven years...Started his pro career with Cincinnati in 1992 as an undrafted free agent...Spent two seasons with the Bengals (1992-93), then was out of football for a year before first making the Green Bay roster in 1995...Played in 44 consecutive games for the Packers before a 1997 ankle injury forced him to the sideline...1998: Served as the Packers' No. 2 tight end, behind Chmura...Saw action in all 16 regular-season games for the third time in four seasons, starting the final two contests...Also played in Green Bay's postseason loss at San Francisco...Equaled his career high with 9 receptions (for 89 yards) over the course of the season...Also was an important contributor on special teams, recording 9 tackles (all solo) to rank fifth on the club...Got start vs. Tennessee (Dec. 20) when Green Bay opened with two tight ends, he was the Packers' lone available tight end for virtually the entire game after Chmura (calf strain) left following the second play and with third tight end Davis (hamstring) inactive...Responded with 2 catches for 15 yards against the then-Oilers...Started in Chmura's injury-forced absence the following week at Chicago (Dec. 27), he came through with a season-high 3 receptions (for 27 yards)...Made a season-best 2 special teams tackles in wins over Baltimore (Oct. 25) and Chicago (Dec. 13)...Recovered a fourth-quarter onside kickoff at Pittsburgh (Nov. 9), leading to a Packers field goal which brought the score to within 27-20...Had a season-long, 22-yard reception on the last play of the third quarter at Cincinnati (Sept. 20), helping to set up the field goal which gave the Packers their final points in narrow, 13-6 win over his former team...Made a key third-down catch on touchdown drive in opening-day victory against Detroit (Sept. 6)...Suffered a concussion on the game's opening kickoff vs. Minnesota (Oct. 5) from which he did not return...Earlier had injured his right knee and ankle in the Packers' third preseason game, vs. Oakland (Aug. 16), causing him to miss the team's final two preseason games, but was able to return to practice the week of the opener (Aug. 31)...1997: Played in 13 regular-season games, he was inactive for the other three due to an ankle injury...Also played in all three playoff contests, including Super Bowl XXXII...Finished seventh on the team with a career-high 9 receptions for 115 yards (12.8 avg.) and 1 touchdown...Also tied for fifth on the club with 11 tackles on kick coverage during the regular season...Had the best game of his pro career in season opener vs. Chicago (Sept. 1) when he caught a team-leading and career-high 5 passes for 58 yards, including his first career touchdown — a one-yard scoring reception from Brett Favre in the second quarter...Suffered an ankle injury vs. the Bears, but still started the following week at Philadelphia (Sept. 7) as Chmura (knee) missed Eagles contest...Turned in a courageous effort against Philly as he had 2 receptions for 32 yards despite being hindered by his own sore ankle...Enjoyed a strong performance in rematch at Chicago (Oct. 12), when he caught an 11-yard pass to the Bears' two-yard line, setting up a touchdown three plays later which gave Green Bay a 14-10 halftime lead...Also made 2 special teams tackles in second Bears game...Later had 2 tackles on kick coverage in wins over the Lions (Nov. 2) and St. Louis (Nov. 9)...Caught 1 pass for 14 yards and made 4 tackles — 2 on kick coverage and 2 miscellaneous tackles after interceptions — at Detroit (Sept. 28)...Was forced out after spraining his right ankle in first half of game at Indianapolis (Nov. 16)...Saw action vs. Dallas (Nov. 23) but ankle problems continued to linger, causing him to be inactive at Minnesota (Dec. 1)...Also was inactive at Carolina (Dec. 14) and vs. Buffalo (Dec. 20) with same ankle injury after coming back and trying to play at Tampa Bay (Dec. 7)...1996: Saw action in all 16 regular-season games for the second consecutive year, primarily in a special teams role...Also got into each of the club's three postseason games, including Super Bowl XXXI...Served as the Packers' second tight end for the three games immediately following starter Chmura's arch injury at Kansas City (Nov. 10)...Made 3 receptions for 45 yards over the course of the season...Finished fifth on the club with 11 special teams tackles, including a season-best 2 at Tampa Bay (Sept. 1) and vs. Philadelphia (Sept. 9)...Additionally made 2 special teams tackles vs. Carolina in the NFC Championship Game (Jan. 12), he at times in that contest also was an effective run blocker vs. Panthers linebacker Kevin Greene...Made vigorous tackle of Patriots' Dave Meggett on the kickoff following Desmond Howard's momentum-turning kickoff return for a touchdown in Green Bay's Super Bowl triumph...Saw limited duty at tight end in club's first nine games before getting additional playing time vs. the Chiefs after Chmura went out early...Made second-ever NFL start at St. Louis (Nov. 24) as the Packers opened in two-tight end formation...Caught a 16-yard pass and returned a kickoff 20 yards at Dallas (Nov. 18)...Also had a reception at Tampa Bay (Sept. 1) and at Chicago (Oct. 6)...Recovered an onside kickoff late in Bears rematch (Dec. 1) to help preserve a 28-17 win...1995: Was Packers' backup tight end through first part of season, but saw role on offense diminish somewhat following arrival of Jackson in October...Got most of his playing time on special teams...Finished the year strong on special teams, making 13 of his 15 tackles over the final six games...His 15 stops with Green

PRO: Determined and athletic third-year left tackle, looks to recapture successful rookie form in 1999...Struggled, by his own admission, at times last year in his second NFL season, the imposing Iowa native has vowed a return to motivations that produced a 1997 performance resulting in a slew of all-rookie accolades...Armed with a rededicated attitude, the self-described "spirit-filled Christian" has prepared for the upcoming season with a focused zeal, looking to further develop his very promising pro skills..."I see a terrific athlete," says new Green Bay offensive line coach Larry Beightol. "I see a guy with the potential to be as good as he wants to be. I see a guy with the potential to be an All-Pro football player if that's what he desires. He has all the qualities of that. He's smart, he's tough, he's quick, he's got terrific feet. He's a guy that I believe has to get more consistent with his technique. But he has shown me the willingness to work to get that done during the offseason camps. I think he'll be able to get back to where he was as a rookie or, if not there, even further. I think that's the kind of football player that we have"...Dependable, he has yet to miss a game as a pro — a total of 36 contests (32 in the regular season, four in the playoffs)...Had assumed the starting left tackle duties in Week 6 of his 1997, rookie season after coming in as the first-round draft choice of the then-defending Super Bowl champions...Beightol is one who has noticed the new approach of the former Iowa Hawkeye, saying, "I see a renewed vim and vigor in this guy. He's a prideful young man and being a good football player is very important to him. He doesn't feel that maybe he played last year as well as he was capable of playing and I see a hungry attitude in this guy. He's going to acquit himself very well..."1998: Started all 16 regular-season games (at left tackle) for the first time, appearing in every contest for the second straight year...Also started the Packers' NFC Wild Card contest at San Francisco...In the playoff loss to the 49ers (Jan. 3), helped running back Dorsey Levens reach a Green Bay postseason record 116 yards rushing...With his offensive line mates, helped clear way for a season-high 178 yards on the ground in win over Philadelphia (Nov. 29)...Limited Baltimore's Michael McCrary, the AFC's second-leading sacker, to just 2 tackles and no sacks in Green Bay's 28-10 win over the Ravens (Oct. 25)...Had to leave first Vikings contest (Oct. 5) in the second quarter after suffering a shin injury when Minnesota nose tackle Jerry Ball fell on his leg...Returned to start the next week's contest at Detroit (Oct. 15)...Started season-opening, 38-19 win over Detroit (Sept. 6), though he briefly missed some action with a sprained ankle...1997: Played in all 16 games, starting the final 11 contests at left tackle...Also started all three playoff games, including Super Bowl XXXII — becoming the first rookie ever to start at left tackle in the Super Bowl...Garnered all-rookie honors from Pro Football Writers of America/Pro Football Weekly, College & Pro Football Newsweekly and Football News...Took advantage of opportunity when injuries sidelined incumbent left tackle John Michels in two early-season contests...Primarily playing on special teams in Green Bay's first five contests, saw initial action at left tackle vs. Minnesota (Sept. 21), when he stepped in for an injured Michels (leg) after the first offensive series and played the remainder of the game...A week later at Detroit (Sept. 28), replaced an injured Michels (knee) in the third quarter and played the duration...Subsequently made his first NFL start the ensuing week vs. Tampa Bay (Oct. 5), he played well enough to cement the starting spot...Helped pave way as the Packers set a season-high rushing total of 220 yards in 45-17 win over the Cowboys (Nov. 23), including Levens' club-record 190 yards on the ground...Also assisted in Green Bay's 218-yard rushing effort at Carolina (Dec. 14)...Turned in outstanding performance in NFC Championship Game victory at San Francisco (Jan. 11), holding the 49ers' Chris Doleman without a sack and helping to open up running lanes for Levens...A tight end in high school, earlier in the season had seen playing time on the offensive line as an eligible receiver vs. Chicago (Sept. 1), when regular tight ends Mark Chmura and Jeff Thomason suffered knee and ankle injuries, respectively...In initial game with Detroit, was on the unsuccessful receiving end of a Favre pass in the end zone as he ran a pattern as an eligible receiver...Drafted in the first round (30th overall) by Green Bay in 1997.

COLLEGE: A four-year starter (1993-96) for the University of Iowa...Started 35 career games for the Hawkeyes after moving from tight end to offensive tackle prior to the 1993 season...An intense and tireless PRO: Extremely athletic second-year pro, looks to capitalize on last year's apprenticeship and become a regular contributor in 1999...Still relatively new to the offensive line after moving to the trenches just three seasons ago, spent most of his 1998, rookie campaign on the inactive list, learning and absorbing the position on the practice field...Having demonstrated the necessary tools to succeed, looks for opportunity this season..."He's a wonderful athlete," says new Packers offensive line coach Larry Beightol. "He's got terrific feet. For a big man, he's got terrific skills. From what I've seen in the offseason camps, he's a guy that's a hard worker, he's bright, picks things up very well. I see him being in the mix here, as possibly a starter, and if he's not a starter, certainly as a backup or swing player. All he lacks, really, is the opportunity to gain some experience and we're fixing to do that for him."...Initially will line up at left tackle on the Packers' offensive line, although Beightol intends to determine eventually where he fits best..."I think he could play left tackle or left guard," explains Beightol. "We've been working him an awful lot at left tackle because that's a more difficult position to play, from a technical standpoint. He has the skills that he certainly could play on the right side. He could be a right guard or right tackle and would be a real good one. If Mike is one of the best five, we'll find a spot for him — we'll find a place for him to be a starter for us."...1998: Saw action in one game, was inactive for the 15 other contests...Made pro debut in the Packers' regular-season finale at Chicago (Dec. 27), participating on the team's kickoff return unit and also playing one snap from the line of scrimmage at the left guard spot for dinged starter Marco Rivera early in the fourth quarter...Had been inactive for Green Bay's first 15 contests, also was inactive for NFC Wild Card playoff at San Francisco (Jan. 3)...Missed initial part of training camp due to a contract holdout, reporting on Aug. 6...Chosen by the Packers in the 1998 supplemental draft at the 24th position of the second round — he was the second of two picks overall in the draft — Green Bay foregoing its own 1999 second-round pick in the process.

PRO: A second-year pro who was sidelined by injury during his rookie season, possesses a good mix of size and speed...On the heels of a productive spring in NFL Europe, is expected to compete for a roster spot backing up Dorsey Levens at halfback, William Henderson at fullback, or both...Demonstrated in college an unusual ability to catch the ball coming out of the backfield...Had an impressive 1999 season in NFL Europe with the Berlin Thunder, the newest member of the league, emerging as the team's leading rusher... "Playing in Europe was helpful in developing his skills and getting valuable game experience," says Green Bay running backs coach Harry Sydney. "Edwin cuts well with the ball and runs well between the tackles. He needs work on his blocking ability, but with practice that will develop. Although he didn't play in our offense last year, we expect him to grasp it quickly because he had a good feel for it before he got injured."...Missed his entire rookie year after dislocating his shoulder during training camp...NFL EUROPE: Allocated by Green Bay to the Berlin Thunder, a first-year franchise, for the 1999 season...Started nine of 10 games for the Thunder in their one-back offense...Finished the season as the team's leading rusher (and fifth in the league) with 503 yards on 117 carries (4.3 avg.), including 3 touchdowns...Also caught 7 passes for 64 yards...His 3 rushing TDs led Berlin and placed him second on the team in touchdowns scored...Enjoyed his best game in NFL Europe against the Barcelona Dragons (May 23), carrying the ball 14 times for 92 yards and 1 touchdown in a 27-20 Thunder victory...Made a season-high 4 receptions (for 48 yards) in the opener at Frankfurt (April 17)...1998: Sat out the entire season after suffering a dislocated left shoulder on July 27 during a training camp practice...Had corrective surgery performed on Aug. 5 and was placed on injured reserve the next day...Drafted in the seventh round (218th overall) by Green Bay in 1998.

COLLEGE: A four-year letter winner (1994-97) for Purdue University, where he started for three-and-a-half seasons...Finished as the school's fourth all-time leading rusher with 2,520 yards on 530 carries, including 25 touchdowns...Also an accomplished receiver, he made 63 career receptions for 676 yards and 2 TDs...Was an honorable mention All-Big Ten selection as a senior, when he rushed for a team-leading 927 yards and 11 touchdowns on 175 carries...Also had 31 receptions for 411 yards and 2 TDs...His 75-yard score among 3 rushing touchdowns in 1997 against the Wisconsin Badgers was the longest by a Boilermaker since 1982...Enjoyed a strong Alamo Bowl performance with 5 receptions for 102 yards and 41 rushing yards on 13 attempts...Gained a team-high 768 yards and 6 touchdowns on the ground (on 194 carries) his junior season, he also was the school's third-leading receiver with 25 catches for 220 yards...Was named Big Ten 'Offensive Player of the Week' after rushing for a career-high 229 yards on 29 carries, with 3 TDs, vs. North Carolina State...In his sophomore season, finished as the team's second-leading rusher with 553 yards (and 5 TDs on 102 carries)...Matched with Mike Alstott's 204 yards against Wisconsin, the combined total of 398 yards was the school record for most rushing yards by two Purdue backs in one game...Received team's 'Leonard Wilson Award' for unselfishness and dedication...Had 272 yards on 59 carries, with 3 touchdowns, as a 1994 freshman...Holds a B.S. degree in recreational management.

PERSONAL: Given name Edwin David Watson, II...Nicknamed 'E-Watts'...Born in New Orleans...Single...Was a first-team all-state selection as a senior at Pontiac (Mich.) PRO: Bright, instinctive player who is on the cusp of joining the ranks of the league's elite linebackers...Possessor of the ideal mix of size and athletic ability for his position, typically has stayed on the field as an every-down linebacker...Has yet to miss a game in his three years as a starter for Green Bay, while averaging slightly better than 101 tackles per season over that same period..."We think Brian is an excellent football player," says new Green Bay defensive coordinator Emmitt Thomas. "When you see him on film, he's a high-motor, high-energy guy, and really shows great athleticism. He reminds us some of a linebacker we had in Philadelphia by the name of William Thomas — they're both big guys, but they move around like defensive backs. When you have those kind of people, who can out-run their mistakes or make up ground, you've got to be excited..."Has posted two straight 100-tackle seasons — 101 in 1997, followed by a career-best 108 in 1998 — after narrowly missing the century figure, with 95 stops, in his initial year as a starter (1996)...Emerging after a non-descript 1995, rookie season which saw him slowed by injury, he has become a major player on one of the NFL's best defenses the past three years...Began to receive recognition for his fine play when he was named to the All-Pro team of USA Today in 1997...Had made such an immediate impact at 'Pluggie' (right outside) linebacker in the '96 preseason that incumbent George Koonce was moved inside to the middle linebacker position in the final weeks of training camp...Went on to finish second on the team in tackles that year, then tied for the club lead in stops during the Packers' postseason run to capture Super Bowl XXXI...1998: Played in all 16 regular-season games for the third consecutive year, starting 15 at right outside linebacker — he did not start at Carolina (Sept. 27) as the Packers opened in their 'nickel' package...Also started at ROLB in NFC playoff contest at San Francisco...Finished second on the team in tackles (behind Bernardo Harris) with a career-high 108, including 80 unassisted stops...Also had a career-best 2 sacks, 4 passes defended and a forced fumble...Made 10-or-more tackles in three games...Recorded a season- and team-high 12 stops in the Packers' Week 2 victory over Tampa Bay (Sept. 13), while helping to limit the Bucs' ground attack to just 50 yards...Came up with a huge defensive play a week later at Cincinnati (Sept. 20), when he tackled the Bengals' Jeff Blake on a third-and-goal option play from the 1-yard line right before halftime; Cincinnati had to settle for a field goal, and Green Bay ultimately prevailed, 13-6, as the Packers' defense limited the Bengals to only 28 yards rushing...Also played key role in a momentum-turning play in the season opener against Detroit (Sept. 6), stripping Lions QB Scott Mitchell of the ball on an unsuccessful fourth-and-one attempt; teammate LeRoy Butler subsequently scooped up the fumble and dashed 32 yards for the game's first touchdown in the eventual 38-19 win...Also helped to limit Detroit running back Barry Sanders to just 70 yards rushing on opening weekend, ending the All-Pro's NFL-record streak of consecutive 100-yard rushing games at 14...Recorded a sack of the 49ers' Steve Young among 11 total tackles (10 solo) in 36-22 triumph over San Francisco (Nov. 1)...A week earlier, had picked up his first sack of the year in win over Baltimore Ravens (Oct. 25)...Led Packers with 8 tackles vs. Philadelphia (Nov. 29) and with 11 stops at Tampa Bay (Dec. 7)...Was instrumental in holding Tennessee's Eddie George to only 30 yards on 15 rushes, contributing 9 tackles in a 30-22 victory over the then-Oilers (Dec. 20)...Had 6 stops in playoff loss to 49ers (Jan. 3)...Slowed early in training camp by tendinitis in his right knee which caused him to miss nearly four weeks of workouts, he did not begin practicing until Aug. 13...Later had arthroscopic surgery on the knee following the season (April 22), causing him to sit out the bulk of the team's mini-camps this past offseason...1997: Opened every regular-season game for the second straight year at weakside linebacker...Also started all three playoff contests, including Super Bowl XXXII...Tied (with Butler) for third on the team in tackles with 101 (74 solo) — his first 100-tackle season as a pro...Also registered 1 sack, 2 interceptions, 1 fumble recovery and a career-high 6 passes defended...Tabbed for the All-Pro team of USA Today...Earned Miller Lite 'Player of the Week' honors at Chicago (Oct. 12) as he played one of the finest games of his pro career...Intercepted an Erik Kramer pass at the Packers' 47-yard line late in the second quarter and returned it 25 yards to the Bears' 28, setting up a Green Bay touchdown six plays later...Also posted 10 tackles against the Bears, while breaking up a season-high 2 passes...Turned in another strong performance the following week at New England (Oct. 27), when he made 9 tackles, intercepted a Drew Bledsoe pass — the second straight game he made an INT — and tipped another aerial...Pressured the Lions' Mitchell into a second-quarter interception, which teammate Darren Sharper returned 50 yards for a touchdown, in the Packers' 20-10 victory over Detroit (Nov. 2)...Had a team-leading and season-high 11 tackles in win over Miami (Sept. 14)...Turned in a fine all-around performance vs. Tampa Bay (Oct. 5), when he made 4 tackles, recovered a Warrick Dunn fumble (which led to Green Bay touchdown) and batted down a Trent Dilfer pass late in the second quarter of 21-16 win over the Bucs...Recorded the first full sack of his career in the Packers' 31-10 victory at Carolina (Dec. 14)...Finished third on the team in tackles during the postseason with 20 (12 solo), including 8 in the Packers' 23-10 NFC Championship Game win at San Francisco (Jan. 11)...1996: Started all 16 regular-season games at the 'Plugger' (ROLB) linebacker spot...Finished second on the club with 95 tackles, including 60 solo stops...Also tied with Reggie White for the team lead with 3 fumble recoveries, to go along with 4 passes defended...Started each of the club's three postseason games, including Super Bowl XXXI, and tied Butler for the team lead in tackles with 15...Also had an interception, a fumble recovery and a forced fumble in the playoffs...Had such a strong training camp at 'Plugger' linebacker that '95 starter Koonce was moved inside in the final weeks of the preseason...Made a career-high 16 tackles vs. Tampa Bay (Oct. 27) and helped to seal a Green Bay win when he combined with Butler to sack the Bucs' Dilfer on a fourth-down play with 1:14 left in the game and the Packers clinging to a 13-7 lead...Had 15 tackles in the Packers' overtime win over San Francisco (Oct. 14)...Forced and recovered a William Floyd fumble early in the fourth quarter of divisional playoff win over San Francisco (Jan. 4) among his 6 solo tackles...Also had 6 stops vs. Carolina in the NFC Championship Game (Jan. 12)...Contributed 3 tackles and intercepted a bobbled Bledsoe pass, taking the ball away from New England for the final time, in the Packers' Super Bowl triumph (Jan. 26)...Made 6 tackles and recovered a fumble in the Packers' win at St. Louis (Nov. 24) despite fighting the flu...Turned in another fine performance, this time vs. Denver (Dec. 8), when he had 3 tackles, a pass defended near the goal line and a fumble recovery in the Packers' 41-6 win...Showed his tremendous speed against Philadelphia (Sept. 9), when he chased down the Eagles' Irving Fryar from behind at the Green Bay 1-yard line after Fryar had the ball lateraled to him from teammate Chris T. Jones at the Packers' 34...Had emerged as a player who had to be on the field by leading the team in tackles during the preseason with 23...1995: Bothered by a chronic groin injury which limited his development, served as a backup to Koonce at 'Plugger' linebacker as a rookie...Played in 13 regular-season games, primarily on special teams...Recorded 6 tackles as a member of the kick coverage units...Made a career-high 2 special teams stops vs. Cincinnati (Dec. 3)...Made key recovery of an onside kick late in 14-6 win over N.Y. Giants (Sept. 17)...Was inactive for the last three games of October (Detroit, Minnesota and at Detroit)...Got into all three playoff contests on special teams...Originally suffered groin injury on June 1 in a rookie mini-camp...Subsequently missed first several weeks of training camp until he returned to practice on Aug. 7...Was the third of the Packers' four selections in the third round (73rd overall) of the 1995 draft.

COLLEGE: A three-year starter and four-time letterman (1991-94) at Southern California...Totaled 264 tackles (185 solo), including 7 sacks and 32 for loss, as a member of the Trojans...Also had 2 interceptions, 5 forced fumbles, 3 fumble recoveries and 7 pass breakups...Earned second-team All-Pacific 10 Conference honors as a senior, when he made 79 tackles, including a team-best 10 stops for loss and 3 sacks...Also served as USC's co-captain...Chosen 'Defensive MVP' of the East-West Shrine Game following his senior season...Was second on the team with 69 tackles as a junior...Led the Trojans in tackles as a sophomore with 91, including 13 for loss and 3 sacks...Holds degree in public administration.

PRO: Possessor of first-rate man-to-man coverage skills who is not afraid to play a bump-and-run style, appears to be on the verge of becoming one of the game's elite cornerbacks...Though soft-spoken off the field, is a competitive player who has demonstrated that he is unaffected by the last play and one who will continue to challenge on every down...Technique-conscious, also is one of the Packers' better tacklers...Has been a starter each of the past two seasons for Green Bay after immediately demonstrating as a 1996 rookie his ability to play in the league through snaps in the team's 'dime' package...Has played in a lot of big games throughout his career, he also is a proven winner, having been on a championship team at every level of competition (high school, college and pro)..."T. Williams — I can't say enough nice things about him," states Green Bay defensive coordinator Emmitt Thomas, a coach of defense in the NFL for over a decade with Washington and Philadelphia. "We think that if you take all of the corners in the National Football League and stack them up, he would have to be among the top six or seven corners in the league. We had two excellent corners in Philly in Bobby Taylor and Troy Vincent, and in Washington we had Darrell Green and Barry Wilburn, and right now looking at that guy and looking at them, he's right there now with them. He's got it all — pure man-to-man coverage skills, he understands coverages, he's very technique-conscious and he's a competitor. Even in practice, he hates for anybody to catch a ball — whether it's on him or on the safety, he's always complaining about it. He's an intense guy, very intense. He's a skillful guy who can really cover man-for-man"...A mature player who takes his work very seriously, has yet to miss a game during his three-year professional career — 55 contests in all (48 regular season, seven in the playoffs)...Played in a championship game in five consecutive seasons from 1993-97 — the first three years at the University of Nebraska, the final two with the Packers — he ended up on the approaching 200 regular-season games played (with 181 under his belt)...Is more athletic than he frequently is given credit for...After spending his first five seasons in the NFL primarily as a long snapper, has made himself into one of the league's top centers, eliciting Pro Bowl recognition in 1996..."Frank brings tremendous experience to the table," says Packers offensive line coach Larry Beightol. "He's a very tough, hard-nosed football player, and he's very well-respected by his teammates — he has wonderful leadership qualities in that sense, which I appreciate and love about Frank Winters. He's very, very bright and knowledgeable about the game of football. He makes good, sound adjustments and he understands the game. I'm very hopeful that he'll be able to continue..."Among active NFL players, is tied for the sixth-most career playoff games played (20), behind only the 49ers' Jerry Rice (23), the Broncos' Bill Romanowski (22), the 49ers' Steve Young (22), the 49ers' Charles Haley (21) and the Broncos' Mike Lodish (21)...His 13 games of postseason service with Green Bay ties him for fifth-most in team history, one game behind four other players...Though each of the past two years have seen him limited to 13 regular-season games, has a track record of dependability, rarely missing a snap in his first five seasons with the club...When he sat out three early-season games in 1997 due to a mid-foot sprain, it ended a string of 82 consecutive games played (longest on the team at the time), a streak which included 74 straight starts...Until then, he had started all 16 regular-season games for Green Bay for four straight seasons (1993-96)...Has played in 106 of a possible 112 regular-season contests (119 of 126 including playoffs) since joining the Packers in 1992...While he has played mostly center in recent seasons, he also proved earlier in his career that he could be an effective player at guard and as a long snapper...Along with teammates Brett Favre and Mark Chmura, has gained a measure of notoriety as one of the "Three Amigos"...Originally came to the Packers a "Plan B" free agent, signed away from Kansas City...Now has played seven years in Green Bay after suiting up with three different NFL clubs during his first five seasons in the league...A "Plan B" veteran, he previously had joined both the Chiefs and N.Y. Giants through the league's former free agency system...Began his pro career with Cleveland, where he played in 28 games from 1987-88, then played in 15 games for the Giants in 1989, and subsequently saw action in 32 league contests with K.C. ...1998: Opened at center in Green Bay's first 13 games before fracturing the fibula in his left leg during the first half of Monday night game at Tampa Bay (Dec. 7)...Was inactive for Bears contest six days later before going on injured reserve Dec. 16, sitting him down for the final two regular-season contests plus playoff game at San Francisco...Key cog in Packers offensive line which paved the way for a season-high 178 yards rushing in win over Philadelphia (Nov. 29)...Started at Pittsburgh (Nov. 9) despite being hampered by a painful arch injury suffered eight days earlier in victory over San Francisco...Also played right through an early-season bout with pneumonia...1997: Started in 13 regular-season games at center, plus all three playoff contests, including Super Bowl XXXII...Inactive for three early-season games (Miami Sept. 14, Minnesota Sept. 21, Detroit Sept. 28) after suffering a left mid-foot sprain at Philadelphia (Sept. 7), snapping a string of 82 consecutive games played (longest on the team at the time), including 74 straight starts...Helped hold the Vikings' John Randle without a sack in 27-11 win at Minnesota (Dec. 1)...Was part of Green Bay's season-best 220-yard rushing effort in the Packers' 45-17 win over Dallas (Nov. 23), including Dorsey Levens' club-record 190 yards on the ground...Teamed with guards Aaron Taylor and Adam Timmerman to hold the 49ers' vaunted inside duo of Dana Stubblefield and Bryant Young without a sack and to a collective 8 tackles in NFC Championship Game victory at San Francisco (Jan. 11)...Was one of the club's two offensive captains during the playoffs for the second straight year...Also served as the Packers' long-snapper on punts vs. Detroit (Nov. 2), replacing the injured Paul Frase (back)...1996: Started all 16 regular-season games for the fourth straight year, exclusively at center...Threw a key downfield block on the Vikings' Orlando Thomas to help spring Levens' 13-yard touchdown reception off a screen pass, a score which put the Packers ahead of Minnesota 17-10 early in the fourth quarter en route to a 38-10 win (Dec. 22)...Also served for much of the season as the Packers' long-snapper for placements...Anchored an offensive line which paved the way for a Green Bay running attack that averaged 114.9 yards per game, up from 89.3 in 1995...Also started all three postseason games, including Super Bowl XXXI...Represented the offense, along with Favre, as one of the team's six playoff captains...Played in the Pro Bowl for the initial time in his career, going as the first alternate when the Cowboys' Ray Donaldson withdrew due to an elbow injury...1995: Enjoyed one of the better seasons of his career...Started all 16 games (all at center) for the third season in a row...Also was the starting center for each of the team's three playoff contests...Served as the regular long-snapper for field goals and extra points and was the backup snapper for punts...Did come in as the Packers' long-snapper on punts at Jacksonville (Sept. 24) after regular snapper Mike Bartrum left the game with a broken arm...Had 1 stop on special teams...1994: Showed his versatility and dependability as he started all 16 regular-season games — 10 at center and six at left guard...Also started at center for both playoff games...Was the Packers' starter at center throughout training camp, even starting at the position in the regular-season opener vs. Minnesota (Sept. 4)...Shifted to left guard and started there in games 2-7 as usual starter Guy McIntyre

THE DRAFT CHOICES

Displaying equal amounts of power and athleticism, Vonnie Holliday proved to be fully worth the price of a second-round pick that Green Bay paid to move up 10 spots in the first round of the 1998 draft and claim him. Holliday piled up 10 quarterback sacks in the Packers' first 11 games last year before an end-of-season ankle problem slowed him, and yet still finished as a close runner-up to Oakland's Charles Woodson in balloting for the Associated Press 'Defensive Rookie of the Year' award.

College: Clemson

Ht.: 6-1 Wt.: 205 Born: 5/26/77 Acq: D1

COLLEGE: The Packers' first-round selection (25th overall) in 1999...Was a three-year starter and four-time letter winner (1995-98) at Clemson University...A first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference selection as a senior, started 33 games for the Tigers while playing in 45 contests overall...Finished career with 219 tackles (139 solo), 8 interceptions among 35 passes defended, 2 fumble recoveries and 1 tackle for loss...His 35 passes defended ranks third all-time in Clemson annals...Is a veteran of both the safety and cornerback positions in college, having played inside for his first two-and-a-half seasons before switching to corner midway through his junior year...Through his depth of experience at the two positions, has shown the ability to play very well in all facets of the game — with the skill to cover the pass and the big-hit desire to come up and defense the run...Has the ability to figure immediately in Packers' 'nickel' and 'dime' packages...“He’s a very good cover corner,” says Packers head coach Ray Rhodes. “He has good size and speed. You see him playing bump-and-run, getting up in people’s faces and taking them out of the game. You also see him playing off people in coverage. A lot of corners you might find, they can do one or the other. Antuan can do both. He can back off you and play you and he can run with you and play you. He also makes plays on the football — when the ball’s in the air, he closes extremely well.”...Named ACC ‘Defensive Back of the Week’ four times in his career, is Clemson’s all-time leader in take-away return yardage with 299 yards on 10 returns (195 yards on 8 interceptions, 104 yards on 2 fumbles) — two for touchdowns...Played in three bowl games with the Tigers during his career, including 2 starts...Underwent surgery April 26 on the big toe of his right foot to repair ligament damage suffered midway through his 1998, senior season...Had participated in the Packers’ post-draft mini-camp (April 23-25) before undergoing procedure; he subsequently sat out club’s June mini-camp as he rehabilitated the toe, but is expected to be ready to participate in training camp...1998: Was a first-team All-America selection by Football Digest and a third-team All-America pick of the Associated Press and Football News...Also was a first-team All-ACC selection and a semi-finalist for the ‘Jim Thorpe Award,’ an honor given annually to the nation’s top defensive back...Selected to play in both the Senior Bowl and East-West Shrine Game...Started 10 games at cornerback for the Tigers, missing one game due to a hamstring injury...Also played through painful turf toe injury, suffered early in the season...Finished with 43 tackles (24 solo), 2 interceptions among 14 passes defended and 2 fumble recoveries...His 14 passes defended led the team for the second straight season...Productive on special teams, added 6 punt returns for 82 yards, a 13.7-yard average, and 13 kickoff returns for 350 yards, a 26.9-yard average — a mark that ranked 10th in the nation and second in the ACC...Led Tigers in kickoff return average, punt return average and interception return yards...Crafted a fine performance at Virginia, becoming the first player in Clemson history to have two plays of more than 80 yards in a single game with a 93-yard fumble return for a touchdown and an 85-yard kickoff return...Also contributed 4 tackles and 2 passes defended vs. Cavaliers, his effort earning him ACC ‘Defensive Back of the Week’ honors...Had fumble recovery, 5 tackles and 3 kickoff returns for 79 yards vs. Wake Forest...Again named ACC ‘Defensive Back of the Week’ for performance at North Carolina, posting a season-high 8 tackles, 1 interception, 3 passes defended, 2 kickoff returns for 40 yards and 1 punt runback for 22 yards...Suffered turf toe injury to right foot in Tar Heels contest (Oct. 3), he would play the remainder of the season with the condition...Didn’t miss a beat a week later in 23-0 shutout of Maryland, registering a 56-yard interception return — the season’s longest runback in the ACC...Also added 6 tackles, 2 passes defended and 1 kickoff return for 25 yards vs. Terrapins...Had shut down North Carolina State wide receiver Torry Holt, the ACC’s ‘Player of the Year,’ limiting the future St. Louis Ram to 20 yards on 2 receptions during the the game’s first 20 minutes before suffering a pulled hamstring...Did not complete Wolfpack contest and subsequently sat out following week’s Georgia Tech game (Holt, incidentally, finished with 225 receiving yards in contest with Edwards absent)...Returned for collegiate finale vs. South Carolina and made 4 tackles in win over Gamecocks...1997: A second-team All-ACC selection as he started 11 games for Clemson, the first six contests at free safety and the final five at cornerback...Made successful midseason transition in effort to bolster the corner position...Finished seventh on club with 52 tackles (38 solo) and a team-leading 4 interceptions among a school record-tying 15 passes defended (ACC's second-best total of the season)...Four take-aways were tops on Tigers...Pitched in on special teams, returning 12 kickoffs for 280 yards over the course of the season, both totals good for second place on the squad...Opened season with an interception and 7 tackles in win over Appalachian State...Followed next week with a season-high 9 tackles and 2 passes defended in win at North Carolina State...Notched second interception of season, along with 4 tackles, in game at Georgia Tech...Registered 3 passes defended in following week's win over Texas-El Paso...Made first start at cornerback in victory over Wake Forest, finishing with 4 tackles and 1 pass defended and also adding 3 kickoff returns for 62 yards...Excelled at his new position as season finished out, registering his best effort in win at South Carolina...Named ACC's 'Defensive Back of the Week' and ESPN2's 'Player of the Game' for performance vs. Gamecocks, after finishing with 7 tackles and 2 interceptions among 3 passes defended...Both interceptions came in the third quarter — the first led to a TD and allowed Clemson to take lead in a close game...Returned second pick 42 yards for a score and a commanding, 33-14 advantage...Notched 3 tackles and 1 pass defended vs. Auburn in Peach Bowl...1996: Started all 12 contests at strong safety...Ranked fifth on the team with a career-high 83 tackles (54 solo), first among defensive backs...Tied for the team lead with 2 interceptions, also had 4 passes defended and 1 tackle for loss...Contributed on special teams with 2 punt returns for 18 yards, both coming in season opener at North Carolina...Notched a career-high 11 tackles in win over Wake Forest...Posted 10 stops in victory over Georgia Tech...Matched his career high with 11 tackles in road win over ranked Virginia, his run support was key as the Tigers halted the consecutive 100-yard rushing game streak of Cavaliers running back Tiki Barber at 11...Snared 1 interception among 2 passes defended vs. Florida State...Named ACC's 'Defensive Back of the Week' for performance in contest vs. South Carolina, with 6 tackles and a 58-yard interception return that helped set up a Clemson touchdown...Again matched collegiate high with 11 stops in Tigers' Peach Bowl contest against Louisiana State...1995: Played in all 12 games and finished with 41 tackles (23 solo) to rank 12th on the team...Also had 2 passes defended...Was one of only five freshmen to play in every game, seeing action at safety in each contest...Contributed on special teams with 4 punt returns for 57 yards and 2 kickoff runbacks for 40 yards, while adding 11 tackles with the coverage units, second-best on the team...Enjoyed fine performance vs. Georgia, posting 5 tackles and a 14-yard return of a blocked field goal...Registered 6 tackles in contests against Florida State, North Carolina State and South Carolina...Saw action vs. Syracuse in Gator Bowl.

HIGH SCHOOL: Was an All-America selection at free safety by SuperPrep and Blue Chip Illustrated as a senior at Starkville (Miss.) High School...An all-state and all-area pick, also was a member of the 'Super Southern 100' of the Atlanta Journal-Constitution and the 'Dixie 88' squad of SuperPrep...Participated in Mississippi-Alabama High School All-Star Game following a senior season in which he posted 70 tackles and 2 fumble recoveries...A three-year letter winner in football, he played safety his final two seasons after performing at the cornerback spot as a sophomore...Offensively, served as backup quarterback all three seasons, actually starting his senior season's first game; after being knocked out on the first play from scrimmage, was moved to wide receiver, where he started the remainder of the year...Contributed with 25 receptions for 543 yards and 13 touchdowns...Also saw time as a running back during his prep days...A three-year letterman in track, competed in the 100-, 200- and 400-meter dashes and on the 4 x 100-meter relay, his relay team capturing the state championship his senior year.

PERSONAL: Majored in sports marketing...Single...Nicknamed 'The Truth'...While at Clemson, spoke to youth groups at the high school and junior high levels...Hobbies include billiards and watching movies...Born Antuan Minyè Edwards in Starkville, Miss. ...Residence: Starkville, Miss.

College: Vanderbilt

Ht.: 5-11 Wt.: 180 Born: 4/2/77 Acq: 02

COLLEGE: Selected in the second round of the 1999 draft (47th overall) by Green Bay with a choice obtained from the Seattle Seahawks as compensation for Mike Holmgren (the Packers had utilized their own second-round pick in the 1998 supplemental draft)...Was a two-year starter and four-time letter winner (1995-98) at Vanderbilt...Played in 39 games with 29 starts for the Commodores...Finished career with 162 tackles (127 solo), including 4 for loss, 4 interceptions, 4 fumble recoveries and 22 passes defended...Touted as one of the best cover men to come out of the collegiate ranks in 1999, will have an immediate opportunity to provide depth to the Green Bay secondary...He's a smaller guy that has great coverage skills," says Packers defensive coordinator Emmitt Thomas. "He reminds me of (Washington Redskins cornerback) Darrell Green somewhat, a little bit taller. He has great leaping ability, a real smart guy with excellent speed. He'll match up extremely well with the smaller receivers in the division and conference..."...Head Coach Ray Rhodes, echoing Thomas' assessment, says, "We viewed him as one of the four or five top cover guys to come out this year. He's an excellent cover man..."...Was integral cog in Vanderbilt's secondary during his 39-game career, helping team to hold 37 of 39 opponents under 300 passing yards, including 25 of 39 under 200 yards through the air...Unit also allowed just one 100-yard receiver in his last 29 games — then-Florida Gator Jacquez Green in 1997...Unit also held passing sensation Peyton Manning, then quarterback at University of Tennessee, to his lowest yardage total in both his junior and senior years...On his way to a career season last year as a senior, a severe sprain to his left foot in Oct. 24 game vs. South Carolina prematurely ended his campaign...After injury did not respond to initial rehabilitation efforts, had surgery Dec. 29, 1998, to insert screw to promote healing process...Screw was removed this past April 14, he began rehabilitation immediately...Sat out Packers' offseason mini-camps during process, began running in mid-June and is expected to participate in training camp...1998: Started six games for Vanderbilt, sitting out the other five due to injury...Finished season with 32 tackles (28 solo), 3 interceptions, 2 passes defended and 1 fumble recovery...Posted a career-high 2 interceptions in season opener at Mississippi State, including a return of 38 yards of one theft — the Commodores' longest runback in two years...Had a season-high 8 stops at Alabama...Notched 4 tackles and added a pass breakup vs. Mississippi...Sat out Georgia contest due to groin pull, snapping streak of 27 consecutive starts...Was on his way to a fine performance in team's victory over South Carolina (Oct. 24), amassing 6 tackles, an interception and a fumble recovery in just over a quarter of work before suffering season-ending foot injury...After foot did not respond to initial rehabilitation efforts, had surgery performed on Dec. 29 to promote healing process...Had been a preseason honorable mention All-America pick of Street and Smith's...Also was a preseason All-Southeastern Conference selection...1997: Started all 11 games at cornerback for Vanderbilt for the second consecutive season...Posted 47 tackles (44 solo), including 3 for loss, 2 fumble recoveries and 10 passes defended...Notched 7 tackles, including 1 for loss, in contest vs. Alabama...Named defensive player of the week by team's coaches in win over Texas Christian after a fumble recovery and 4 tackles...Registered a season-high 9 tackles, including 1 for loss, in win at Northern Illinois...Notched a career-best 4 passes defended plus 3 tackles at Florida...Followed with 5 tackles, including 1 for loss, and 1 pass defended vs. Kentucky...Finished season with 4-tackle, 3 passes defended-outing at Tennessee...1996: Notched a collegiate-high 53 tackles (39 solo) in starting all 11 games for the Commodores...Stats also included 1 tackle for loss, 1 interception, 1 fumble recovery and 10 passes defended...Had superb game at Alabama, delivering a career-high 13 tackles while adding 3 passes defended...Posted double-digit stop total again following week with 10 takedowns vs. Mississippi...Registered first career interception at Georgia, also contributing 5 tackles and 1 fumble recovery...Notched 3 passes defended vs. Florida, adding 2 vs. Kentucky...1995: Played in all 11 games for Vandy, making 1 start...Finished with 30 tackles (16 solo)...Named as school's top special teams player due to great work on punt coverage team...Made first career start in game vs. Louisiana Tech when injured teammate was unable to play, he responded with 5 tackles...Registered 6 stops at both South Carolina and at Florida.

AARON BROOKS

Quarterback

College: Virginia

Ht: 6-4 Wt: 205 Born: 3/24/76 Acq. D4a

COLLEGE: The Packers' first of two selections in the fourth round (131st overall), he was drafted with a free agency compensatory pick...Earned three letters (1996-98) for the University of Virginia after redshirting in 1994 and seeing minimal action in '95...Started his final two seasons in Charlottesville...Tall, lanky player with a big-league arm and excellent escapability and running skills..."I really like this kid," says Packers offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis of Brooks. "He's got a good presence in the pocket, he moves around real well, he's got good feet, he's got a nice, strong arm, he's a good-sized guy and he's a good athlete. He ran their team well at Virginia"...Made his mark among the greatest quarterbacks in Cavaliers' history, standing among the top five in virtually all of the school's career passing categories...Tied Scott Gardner for second in touchdown passes with 33...Was third all-time in passing yards (5,118), attempts (651), completions (357) and total offense (5,665 yards)...Holds the school record with six career 300-yard passing games, including the single-game mark of 390 yards, set in 1997 against

THE DRAFT CHOICES

Virginia Tech... "Effortless — that's the first thing that jumps out at you on film," says Green Bay quarterbacks coach Mike McCarthy. "This guy is an extremely exceptional athlete. He's never been hurt — his body is never in a bad position. Everything he does is effortless. He's got a very strong arm. I like the high point of release in his throwing motion. He's a young man who brings to the table all of the things that you can't teach. You want to compare him to Randall Cunningham because of his body structure. Statistically, he was better his junior year when he had a little bit better supporting cast around him. He hasn't played as much as some of the other guys in this draft that went ahead of him, but he just needs some experience."...Joined Shawn Moore as the only players in school history to throw for 2,000 yards in more than one season (2,282 in 1997 and 2,319 in 1998)...Had 12 games of 200 yards or better, second only to Moore in Virginia record books...Rushed for 547 yards in his collegiate career — the sixth-highest total by a quarterback in UVA history — and scored 13 touchdowns among his 199 carries...Has a track record of durability, he started 23 consecutive games over the 1997-98 seasons, compiling a 16-7 mark...Became the first Cavaliers quarterback in 30 years to start every contest in two straight seasons (Gene Arnette 1967-68)...1998: Threw for a career-best 2,319 yards — third-highest in school history — in his senior season, leading the Cavaliers to a 9-3 record and a Peach Bowl appearance against Georgia...Completed 156 of a career-high 290 pass attempts for 12 touchdowns — with only 9 interceptions...Led Atlantic Coast Conference quarterbacks with 5 rushing TDs among 227 yards on 84 carries...Accounted for 2,546 yards of total offense, the fourth-highest total in Virginia record books...Was co-winner of the 'Ben Wilson Award' as team's outstanding offensive player...Also was voted a team captain by his teammates prior to the season...Enjoyed three 300-yard passing days...Threw for a season-high 345 yards in engineering the greatest comeback in school history, rallying the Cavaliers from a 22-point halftime deficit (29-7) to a stirring, 36-32, come-from-behind victory over archrival Virginia Tech in regular-season finale...Completed 19 of 32 passes with 3 touchdowns vs. the Hokies, including 9-of-14 passing for 195 yards and all 3 scores in the second half to turn the game around...Connected with Ahmad Hawkins for a 47-yard touchdown strike to round out comeback vs. Virginia Tech in what turned out to be his last regular-season pass as a collegian...Hit on 21 of 35 passes for 310 yards and 1 TD — without an interception — in 20-18 win over Clemson...Threw for 312 yards and a score on 19-of-32 passing at Georgia Tech...Completed 84.2% of his passes (16 of 19) in win over Wake Forest...Hit Terrence Wilkins with a career-long 73-yard throw in defeat of North Carolina...Threw for 226 yards and 3 touchdowns (both UVA bowl records) against Georgia in the Peach Bowl...Had opened the season with 220-yard effort vs. Auburn as Virginia posted the first shutout (19-0) of a ranked opponent in school history...Ran 57 yards for a touchdown to break open a tight game against Duke...1997: Finished the season strong to lead the ACC (and rank 11th nationally) in passing efficiency...Was fourth in the conference in total offense with 2,537 yards, including 2,282 passing...Threw for a career-best 20 touchdown passes, just one shy of the school's single-season record, while being intercepted only 7 times — the second-fewest in the conference in '97...Completed a career-high 60.7% of his passes (164 of 270)...Also was the team's second-leading rusher with 255 yards and 5 touchdowns on 85 carries...Named 'Offensive Player of the Year' and was a first-team all-state selection of The Roanoke Times...Posted three 300-yard passing days...Went on an amazing run down the stretch, when, during the final four games, he completed 64.7% of his throws (66 of 102) for 1,065 yards and 14 touchdowns with just 1 interception...Passed for a school-record 390 yards in finale against Virginia Tech, a 34-20 victory, while matching his career high for touchdown passes (4)...Also had thrown for 4 scores two games earlier vs. Georgia Tech, when he completed 19 of 26 balls for 308 yards in 35-31 triumph...Had opened the year with a 305-yard effort against nationally-ranked Auburn — the most yards by a Virginia quarterback in his first start — on 25-of-41 passing, his production including a season-long 71-yard bomb to Wilkins...Accounted for 5 touchdowns in 45-0 thrashing of Maryland at College Park...Threw for 3 scores against the Terrapins, running for the other 2, including a career-long 59-yard scamper following a fake handoff...1996: Played in all 11 regular-season contests, plus Carquest Bowl loss to Miami (Fla.)...Completed 37 of 89 passes for 517 yards and 1 touchdown with 7 interceptions...Relieved injured starter Tim Sherman in second quarter of Virginia Tech game, he came in and completed 10 of 24 passes for 140 yards with 1 INT...Passed for 124 yards in early-season win at Wake Forest, he also ran four yards for a touchdown vs. the Demon Deacons...Completed a 31-yard TD pass to Germane Crowell among 5 passes against North Carolina State...Came off the bench to throw for one touchdown and rush for another in Carquest Bowl...Hit Crowell with a 29-yard scoring strike, he later scored on a one-yard quarterback sneak vs. the Hurricanes...Had a season-high 142 yards in Miami contest on 12-of-23 passing, while rushing 11 times for 60 yards...Scored a touchdown on the first rushing attempt of his collegiate career, a three-yard keeper vs. Central Michigan...1995: Dressed for all 12 games, including Peach Bowl victory against Georgia, though he got into only one contest...Saw game action in blowout win over Georgia Tech, he attempted 2 passes with 1 being intercepted...1994: Sat out redshirt season...Was in uniform for four games, including Independence

Punter

College: Oregon

Ht.: 6-3 Wt.: 225 Born: 3/13/76 Rq: D4b

COLLEGE: The Packers' second selection in the fourth round (133rd overall and first punter), he was drafted with a free agency compensatory pick...Became Oregon's punter midway through the first game of his redshirt freshman season when the incumbent suffered what turned out to be a career-ending injury...Lettered the next four years (1995-98) for the Ducks...Had redshirted in 1994, playing as much tight end as punter for the scout team...Was concentrating on his duties as a backup wide receiver when punting opportunity presented itself early in '95 campaign...Had a 40.8-yard average as a collegian, third-best in school history behind the 42.8 of Len Isberg and the 42.7 of Mike Preacher, he broke the single-season mark as a senior, when he emerged as one of the top kicking specialists in the country...Is a big, physical punter with a powerful leg...Uses a two-step technique, which allows him to get the ball out quickly...Also has the skills to hold for extra points and field goals...I've never taken a punter in the draft in the 25 years that I've been around the NFL. I've only seen five or six guys in that time that I thought would be qualified to be drafted, and Josh obviously is one of them," says Packers special teams coach Steve Ortmayer. "He's the kind of guy that makes it in this league. He has height, which all of the great, great punters have — there are very few who have lasted a long time in the league without height. He's also a real athlete — he was recruited to Oregon as a receiver — and is a two-step punter, which gives him the ability to see and feel what's happening and get it out of there that much quicker. He's a guy who exploded his senior year. His senior year he netted almost 42 yards, which is unheard of in the NFL. Nobody does that. We feel that he's a big, strong guy on the rise. Plus I think he's a very accomplished holder, and he holds properly — with his left hand."...Green Bay general manager Ron Wolf also is enamored of the skills that Bidwell will bring to the Packers..."Because of the job he's done the last couple of years at the University of Oregon, I think he can add to our defense," Wolf says. "He's had an opportunity to kick in foul weather, though it's much different than we experience here. The balls are much heavier — it's like kicking bricks, really and truly, in late October and November up there."...Was the first punter drafted by Green Bay since 1991 when the Packers chose Jeff Fite, he also was the highest punter drafted by the Green and Gold since Ray Stachowicz was tabbed in the third round in 1981...1998: Enjoyed a true breakout season as a fifth-year senior...Finished second (to UNLV's Joe Kristosik) in the nation in gross average (a career-high 46.0) while also leading conference punters...Broke Preacher's single-season school record of 43.7 yards per punt, set in 1986...Equalled the second-best gross average in conference history...Also posted a career-high 41.8-yard net average...Was a second-team All-America selection by the Associated Press and Football News...Also earned first-team All-Pacific 10 Conference recognition for the initial time...Won the 'Gordon Wilson Award' as the team's special teams player of the year...Dropped 9 punts inside the 10-yard line and had just 20 of his kicks returned...Socked 37% of his punts (19 of 51) 50 yards or better, including 5 in excess of 60 yards...Hit a career-long 69-yard punt against Washington...Earned 'Special Teams Player of the Week' honors in the Pac 10 for his performance vs. the Huskies, which also included a 47.7-yard average and 3 of his 6 punts landing inside the 11-yard line...Closed out his Oregon career by punting 4 times for a 48.3-yard average in the Aloha Bowl vs. Colorado...Averaged 55.3 yards on 4 punts at Texas-El Paso and 63.0 yards on 2 attempts against Arizona State...Had the lone punt blocked of his collegiate career, vs. Stanford, snapping a string of 189 punts without a block...1997: Helped Ducks to 19th place ranking in the country in net punting average through betterment of his placement and hang time...Had only 17 of his 60 punts returned and placed 15 'Inside the 20'...Upped his net average to 38.9 yards while grossing 40.8 yards per punt...Received honorable mention on All-Pac 10 team chosen by conference coaches...Booted 9 punts of 50-or-more yards...Averaged season-best 48.8 yards per punt (on 4 kicks) at Stanford...Booted season-long 60-yarder at Arizona State...Maintained 44.3-yard average despite season-high 11 punts in opener against Arizona...Punted twice for 45.5-yard average in Las Vegas Bowl victory over Air Force...1996: Improved his gross average by nearly 5 yards and his net average by nearly 3 yards in his second season as team's regular punter...Averaged 41.2 yards per punt (up from 36.3 in '95) to rank 42nd in the nation and had better than one-third of his punts downed 'Inside the 20' (a career-high 19 out of 56 total)...Was the first punter at Oregon in four years to average better than 40 yards per kick...Had 13 punts of 50-plus yards, including season-long 57-yarder vs. Nevada...Averaged 48.5 yards on 6 punts at Arizona State with 4 of his kicks traveling 50-or-more yards, while the other 2 were downed inside the 15-yard line...Punted 3 times for 48.0-yard average against Arizona...Earned honorable mention on academic all-conference squad...1995: Was thrust into role as Ducks' punter when incumbent Matt Belden tore a thigh muscle in opening game at University of Utah...Luckily had been on trip as a member of traveling squad in his then-role as a backup wide receiver...Averaged 36.3 yards (34.8 net) on 62 punts over the course of his redshirt freshman season, including 10 'Inside the 20'...Had season-long 54-yard punt vs. Oregon State...Played in all 12 games, including Cotton Bowl loss to Colorado...Also was 1/3 on field goal attempts and 1/1 on PAT tries while filling in for Belden vs. Utes on an emergency basis...Hit 42-yard field goal midway through the third quarter to tie the game at 20 in eventual 27-20 victory over Utah, later adding successful extra point on Ducks' go-ahead touchdown...Boomed critical punts at UCLA and Washington...1994: Was redshirted...Worked as both a punter and tight end on scout team.

Running Back

College: Oklahoma

Ht.: 5-10 Wt. 188 Born: 12/24/76 Acq: D5a

COLLEGE: The Packers' first of two selections in the fifth round (158th overall)...Was a three-time letterman (1996-98) for the University of Oklahoma, he started for the Sooners the past two seasons...Had seen time as a spot starter in '96 following a redshirt season in 1995...Left as one of the most prolific rushers in OU's distinguished football history...With 3,404 career yards on the ground, finished fourth on the school's all-time rushing list, behind Joe Washington (3,995), Steve Owens (3,857) and Billy Sims (3,813)...Is the only player in Sooners' history to post three career 1,000-yard rushing seasons — and he did so in consecutive years...Was a two-time All-Big 12 Conference pick...A compact runner who is shifty in the hole, he also has the necessary speed to get to the outside...Enjoys comparisons to Washington due to their similar statures..."Parker is a darn good running back," says Packers general manager Ron Wolf. "We expect him to add an interesting dimension to our team. He catches the ball well, he'll stick you as a blocker, he has toughness..."Green Bay running backs coach Harry Sydney concurs, saying, "De'Mond will be a nice change-of-pace back for us. I like his cutting ability. He's a good north-south runner, but can go east-west. He can spread the defenses out, then hit it and dart and be gone. But he also can run in between the tackles. There are similarities to he and Warrick Dunn. Hopefully, we get a guy who can spell Dorsey (Levens) from the start and do single-back stuff, catch the ball out of the backfield. He seems to catch the ball pretty easily..."Rushed for 100-or-more yards in over half of his games as a collegian (16 of 31)...His 16 100-yard efforts placed him fourth in school history...Had five 200-yard rushing games, one shy of Sims' OU career mark...Made 42 receptions for 504 yards and 1 touchdown over his collegiate career...1998: Became the first player in school history to post three consecutive 1,000-yard rushing seasons...Moved into fourth place among OU career rushers in the process...Gained 1,077 yards rushing on a career-high 204 carries...Also tied for the team lead with 14 receptions (for 176 yards and 1 TD)...Was a second-team All-Big 12 selection...Enjoyed six 100-yard rushing days, including two of 200-plus yards...Had a season-high 220 yards (on 23 carries) vs. cross-state rival Oklahoma State...Later rushed for 207 yards and 2 touchdowns (of 7 and 48 yards) on 29 attempts in 28-16 victory over Baylor...Also picked up lone receiving TD as a collegian against the Bears...Ran for 134 yards, including touchdowns of 11 and 49 yards, vs. Colorado...1997: Became the first OU running back in 18 years to record back-to-back 1,000-yard rushing seasons (Sims 1978-79)...Earned second-team All-Big 12 honors, he also was named a semi-finalist for the 'Doak Walker Award'...Gained 1,143 yards on the ground despite being fully healthy for only seven games...Played two contests with a badly pulled stomach muscle before missing the last three games altogether...Managed to finish ninth nationally in rushing with an average of 127.0 yards per game...Posted a pair of 200-yard rushing efforts, earning conference player of the week

COLLEGE: The Packers' second selection in the fifth round (163rd overall)...Was a four-time letterman (1995-98) at Missouri, starting the last two years at right guard...Earned consensus first-team All-Big 12 Conference recognition as a senior...Saw action at both guard and tackle as a collegian...Will concentrate on his natural position, right guard, in Green Bay, but also is slated to get a look at center..."Craig was one of the best run blockers in college football last year," says Packers offensive line coach Larry Beightol. "I think he has the chance to become a real road grader — that's what he looks like body-wise. He's not pretty to look at, but those guys behind him will like him a lot. He can knock folks off the football — that's an art, and he can do that. He has a knack for doing it, he has a natural knack for rolling his hips and getting his hands inside. He has not done a great deal of pass-blocking, as far as drop-back pass protection, however, because of the style of offense they ran at Missouri."...Played in every game over his final three seasons, a period during which the Tigers ranked among the top nine rushing teams in the nation each year...Started 18 consecutive contests to close out his collegiate career...Twice named to school's 'Champions Club' (1997-98)...1998: Dominated during his senior season...Was a unanimous first-team All-Big 12 pick...Also was a third-team All-America selection by The Sporting News...Received school's 'Ed Brick Travis Offensive Lineman of the Year Award' after grading out at 84 percent...Led the team with 81 knockdown blocks, 38 "de-cleaters" and 15 "great effort plays"...Helped clear a path for Devin West's 45-yard scoring run vs. Kansas among 414 yards rushing in a 41-23 victory...Opened the hole for two West TDs against Texas Tech, taking down LB Kevin McCullar on a two-yard touchdown run, he later cut-blocked DE Montae Reagor to spring a four-yard score...Led the way on a nine-yard TD run by QB Corby Jones vs. West Virginia in the Insight.com Bowl...1997: Moved into the starting lineup at right guard for the Tigers' final six games...Posted 38 knockdowns...Shoved Nebraska linebacker Jay Foreman aside on a 34-yard touchdown strike from Jones to Brock Olivo as MU amassed 386 yards...1996: Played in all 11 games, starting the first two at left tackle...1995: Was one of only eight true freshmen who earned a varsity letter.

HIGH SCHOOL: Earned a multitude of honors at Belleville (Ill.) East High School...Was named first-team all-city, all-district, all-metro, all-conference, all-St. Louis area and all-state...Lettered four times in football as a right tackle and defensive end...Helped school capture two conference championships...Also won four letters for the track team.

COLLEGE: The Packers' first of two selections in the sixth round (196th overall)...Was a four-year letterman (1995-98), starting the final two seasons at flanker, for Ohio State following a medical redshirt year...Made 132 career receptions for 2,090 yards, totals which rank fourth and fifth, respectively, in school history...Though a recipient of all-conference recognition, often found himself overshadowed by All-America receiver David Boston (a 1999 first-round draft choice of the Arizona Cardinals) on the other side...Possesses fine hands, he is not afraid to sell out his body to go get the ball..."Dee has got good hands," says Packers offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis. "I've seen him make some great catches, some tough catches. He's a higher-effort guy — he'll play good special teams for you. There's nothing real flashy about Dee, he's just fundamentally sound, just a good, solid player. He's got a lot of experience and he's played in a lot of big games — I thought he came up big in big games. I thought he was pretty productive there considering all the superstars they had"...His back-to-back 59- and 58-reception seasons in 1998 and 1997, respectively, rank fifth and sixth in school history...Also has the fourth- (981 in 1997) and ninth-best (915 in 1998) single-season totals for receiving yards in OSU record books...Played in all 50 games over the past four seasons, starting 24...1998: Was a consensus second-team All-Big Ten selection as he caught a career-high 59 passes (for 915 yards and 3 touchdowns)...Ranked sixth in the

Offensive Tackle

College: Montana

Ht.: 6-5 Wt.: 300 Born: 12/25/75 Acq: OGB

COLLEGE: The Packers' second selection in the sixth round (203rd overall), he was drafted with a free agency compensatory pick...Earned four letters (1995-98) at Montana following a redshirt year, he started at left tackle his final three seasons...Showed marked improvement in his game each year, culminating in his senior season when he won first-team all-conference honors and was named as the school's outstanding offensive lineman..."We'll start him off as a tackle candidate here," says Packers offensive line coach Larry Beightol. "He has real good feet, but he's coming from a system that was more of a four-wide system, a run-and-shoot type of deal. You can really see his athleticism — he's an athletic guy. He hasn't done a great deal of drive blocking, so he'll be a little bit behind in that area. I think he's a fine prospect and I feel fortunate that the Green Bay Packers could get him. He has a real good upside to him in the sense that he's been involved in doing a lot of the back-side blocking in their pass-sprint protections, and he's done this from the left side, so I think that's a good start..."Was a member of three conference championship teams (1995, 1996 and 1998) as the Grizzlies went 43-11 (.796) during his collegiate career and advanced to the Division I-AA playoffs all four years...1998: Named first-team All-Big Sky Conference while starting for the third straight season at left tackle...Won Montana's 'Paul Weskamp Award,' presented annually to the school's outstanding offensive lineman...Helped team to rank third in the country in passing offense (311.6 yards per game)...1997: Started at left tackle as the Grizzlies averaged 317.1 yards per game passing, fourth in Division I-AA...Earned honorable mention All-Big Sky honors...Joined four others in receiving recognition as UM's 'Outstanding Junior' player...1996: Moved into the starting lineup at left tackle as Montana led the nation in passing, averaging 339.6 yards per game, and advanced to the Division I-AA championship game before losing to Marshall, which was led by current Minnesota Viking Randy Moss...Was the recipient of the Grizzlies' 'Outstanding Sophomore' award along with four teammates...1995: Saw considerable action at left tackle, playing behind All-American Eric Simonson, as UM defeated host Marshall, 22-20, in the I-AA title contest...Shared 'Outstanding Freshman' honors with two other players...1994: Was redshirted...Named 'Co-Scout Team Player of the Year' on offense.

HIGH SCHOOL: Was an all-state selection in football as a senior at Valier (Mont.) High School...Earned four letters as a tight end and defensive end...Named first-team all-conference his junior and senior years...Also lettered four times in basketball and three times for the school's track team...Served as team captain in both football and basketball, he won all-league recognition in basketball as a junior.

PERSONAL: Holds a B.A. degree in business administration, with an emphasis in marketing...Married to Shawna, the couple has one daughter, Malia (born 3/7/98)...Hobbies include fishing and hunting...Spent the summers of 1997 and '98 working at a rifle range (Montana Fish and Game Association) in Missoula, Mont. ...Growing up, worked year-round for his father, Gene, on the family ranch (Curry Cattle Company) in Valier, Mont. ...Brother, Jeremy, was a defensive lineman for Montana State in 1995...Born Scott Richard Curry in Conrad, Mont. ...Residence: Missoula, Mont.

COLLEGE: The Packers' first of two selections in the seventh round (203rd overall), a pick obtained from the St. Louis Rams in 1998 for QB Steve Bono...Played two years at the University of Arkansas (1995-96) before transferring to Arkansas-Pine Bluff for the past two seasons (1997-98)...Totaled 156 tackles (83 solo), 12 interceptions, 25 passes defended, 6 fumble recoveries and 9 stops for loss over the course of his collegiate career...Had four defensive scores (3 interception returns, 1 fumble return)...Started at free safety both of his years at Arkansas-Pine Bluff, as well as for half of his second season at Arkansas..."Chris is an excellent athlete — he's got the size, he's got the speed, he's got the quickness — the fact that he's from a I-AA school doesn't bother us at all," says Green Bay defensive backs coach Joe Vitt. "This is a raw hitter here — this guy will knock the taste out of your mouth. When you put the film on, you see an athlete who can run, an athlete who has range, an athlete who has great tackling ability. He's a good football player..."Had 118 total tackles (59 solo) during his two seasons at Arkansas-Pine Bluff...Also recorded 11 interceptions, 23 pass breakups, 5 fumble recoveries and 9 tackles for loss for the Golden Eagles...1998: Was highly-decorated as a senior at Arkansas-Pine Bluff...Named second-team Division I-AA All-American by the Associated Press...Also earned selection to the Black College All-America team and was first-team All-Southwestern Athletic Conference...Contributed 66 tackles (34 solo) from his free safety position, he

COLLEGE: The Packers' second selection in the seventh round (213th overall), a pick obtained from the Chicago Bears in 1998 for return specialist Glyn Milburn...Lettered in football his final three years at Alcorn State (1996-98), starting the past two seasons...Is an exceptional athlete with big-play skills...Earned all-conference honors in two sports as a senior...Multi-talented, was a member of the Braves' track team all four years at the school...Possesses world-class ability in the high jump, he also has participated in the decathlon, long jump and triple jump...Despite a somewhat abbreviated football career at the college level, still managed to finish among Alcorn State's all-time career leaders in: receptions, 88 (eighth); receiving yards, 1,933 (sixth); and receiving touchdowns, 17 (fifth)... "Donald has a lot of athleticism," says Packers offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis. "He's a 7-foot-6 high jumper, which tells you that. He made a lot of big plays — he averaged better than 20 yards per catch. When you turn the film on and watch him, he jumps out at you. He's got great jumping ability — he'll go up in the crowd and quite often comes down with the ball. We think he's got some great athletic ability, but he's kind of a raw kid. If we take our time and bring him along slowly, a lot of times those guys develop."... Also was a standout member of the Alcorn State track team, lettering four times (1996-99)... Was named as the outstanding field performer in the Southwestern Athletic Conference, honoring both indoor and outdoor seasons, three straight years (1996-98)... Qualified for the 1996 Olympic Field Trials in the high jump with a leap of 7 feet, 6½ inches (ranked No. 1 in the nation that year), accomplished at the 37th annual Pelican Relays... Was the 1996 SWAC champion (indoor and outdoor) in the long jump, triple jump and decathlon, finishing second in the high jump... Was the 1997 SWAC champion (indoor and outdoor) in the long jump and triple jump, again coming in second in the high jump... Also was the '97 SWAC (outdoor) champ in the decathlon... Qualified for the 1997 NCAA Championships in the long jump with a leap of 25 feet, 5 inches... Was the 1998 SWAC (indoor) champion in the long jump (25'5"), triple jump (50'2") and high jump (7'2")... Was the 1999 SWAC (indoor) champion in the long jump (25'0") and triple jump (51'3")... 1998: Led the Braves in receptions (55), receiving yards (1,128) and scoring (60 points) as a senior... Was a second-team All-SWAC choice in football... Recorded six 100-yard receiving efforts among 11 games played... Had career highs in receptions (11) and receiving yards (173), plus 1 touchdown, in 45-36 victory at Prairie View A&M... Made 8 catches (for 127 yards) the following week vs. Texas Southern... Closed out collegiate career with 5 receptions for 131 yards (26.2 avg.) and 1 touchdown against Jackson State... Also had a 100-yard performance (102) at Morehouse... 1997: Averaged an amazing 26.5 yards per catch in his first season as a starter... Led Braves with 556 receiving yards on 21 catches (second on team), six of which went for touchdowns... Started all 11 games... Made a season-high 4 receptions (for 74 yards), including TD grabs of 10 and 45 yards, at Southern... Caught a career-long 81-yard touchdown pass in 23-18 victory over Mississippi Valley State... Triggered his team's only points with a 54-yard TD catch in 10-7 loss to Texas Southern... Had a season-best 96 yards receiving (on 3 receptions) vs. Samford... Helped Braves to their first win of the season with a 42-yard touchdown among 3 catches for 69 yards in a 44-20 triumph over Grambling State... 1996: In his first season as a football letterman, caught 12 passes for 249 yards (20.8 avg.) and 1 TD... Played in all 11 games, making a reception in six contests... Had a season-best 4 catches in finale at Jackson State... Made 3 receptions for 75 yards at Western Illinois... Caught a 27-yard touchdown pass in 31-6 win over Grambling State... Had 77 yards receiving on just 2 catches vs. Troy State in season opener.

HIGH SCHOOL: Lettered four times each in track, football, basketball and baseball at Milby High School in Houston... Played wide receiver and defensive back for the football team, he also returned punts and kickoffs... Was an honorable mention all-state pick.

A player will be credited with a year of NFL experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List, Inactive List, Reserve/Injured List, or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform List — six games on a combination of any of these lists. Rookies are players in their first year of professional football who have not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. Players who have played in other professional sports leagues (Canadian Football League, etc.), have participated in previous NFL training camps, or have been on the above lists for fewer than six games are listed as first-year NFL players ("1").

1998 GAME-BY-GAME REVIEW

Electric Antonio Freeman enjoyed a break-through 1998 season, earning his first-ever All-Pro and Pro Bowl selections. Along the way, he led the National Football League in receiving yards with 1,424, while pacing Green Bay in catches for the third straight season with a career-high 84 receptions. Freeman also further established himself as one of the top play-makers in the game today, adding 14 touchdown catches to his NFL-high 26 over the past two seasons.

RECORDS

Defensive end Reggie White, here shown alone during his final home game last Dec. 20 vs. Tennessee, finished his distinguished National Football League career as the game's all-time sacks leader with 192.5 over 14 seasons with Philadelphia (1985-92) and Green Bay (1993-98). He also ended his Packers tenure as the team's career record holder in sacks with 68.5. In addition, White helped to bring the Vince Lombardi Trophy back to Tittletown by way of Green Bay's 35-21 triumph over New England in Super Bowl XXXI, a game which saw him contribute 3 sacks — a Super Bowl record.

Legendary Vince Lombardi, who roamed the Packers' sideline for nine seasons from 1959-67, perhaps had a more profound impact on Green Bay's on-field fortunes than any individual ever has had on a National Football League franchise. Taking over a team which had gone 1-10-1 in 1958, he immediately produced a winning record, and went on to capture an unprecedented five league championships in seven years, including three straight titles from 1965-67. Lombardi further deified himself to football fans everywhere by winning the first two Super Bowls — today the Vince Lombardi Trophy is presented each year to the Super Bowl victor.

TWELVE TIMES WORLD CHAMPIONS

The Green Bay Packers have won more championships — twelve — than any other team in National Football League history. They won their first three by league standing (1929, 1930 and 1931) and nine since the NFL's playoff system was established in 1933 (1936, 1939, 1944, 1961, 1962, 1965, 1966, 1967 and 1996). Green Bay also is the only NFL team to win three straight titles, having done it twice (1929-30-31 and 1965-66-67).

In addition, the Packers won the first two Super Bowls (over Kansas City in 1966, 35-10, and over Oakland in 1967, 33-14), as well as a more recent one (over New England in 1996, 35-21).

Chicago's Bears rank second with nine NFL titles, followed by the Giants with six, the Cowboys, Redskins and 49ers with five each, and the Lions and Browns with four apiece.

PACKERS SUPER BOWL STORY

SUPER BOWL I January 15, 1967

Memorial Coliseum; Los Angeles, Calif.

Green Bay 35, Kansas City 10

The Packers launched the Super Bowl series by whipping Kansas City's American Football League champions 35-10 behind the passing of Bart Starr, the receiving of Max McGee and a key interception by All-Pro safety Willie Wood.

Vince Lombardi's repeating NFL champions broke open the game with three second-half touchdowns, the first of which was set up by Wood's 50-yard return of an interception to the Chiefs' 5-yard line with the Packers leading by only 14-10. The pass, authored by the Chiefs' Len Dawson, had been intended for Kansas City tight end Fred Arbanas.

McGee, filling in for ailing Boyd Dowler (injured on the Packers' first offensive series) after having caught only four passes all season, snared seven from Starr for 138 yards and two touchdowns. Elijah Pitts ran for two other scores, counting one on a five-yard run in the third quarter and the other on a one-yard bolt in the final period.

The Chiefs' 10 points came in the second quarter, the only touchdown on a seven-yard pass from Dawson to Curtis McClinton.

Starr completed 16 of 23 passes for 250 yards and two touchdowns and was chosen the game's most valuable player. His scoring strikes came on a 37-yard collaboration with McGee in the first quarter and a 13-yard pitch to the aging end in the decisive third period.

The Packers collected $15,000 per man and the Chiefs $7,500 apiece — the largest single-game shares in the history of team sports at the time.

Orange Bowl; Miami, Fla.

Green Bay 33, Oakland 14

Having acquired a third consecutive NFL championship just two weeks earlier, the Packers embellished that record-tying parlay by winning the Super Bowl title for the second straight year. This time, they dispatched the AFL champion Raiders 33-14 in a game that drew the first $3-million gate in football history.

Bart Starr again was chosen the game's most valuable player as he completed 13 of 24 passes for 202 yards and one touchdown and directed a Packers attack that was in control all the way after building up a 16-7 halftime lead.

Don Chandler kicked four field goals (39, 20, 43 and 31 yards), and All-Pro cornerback Herb Adderley highlighted the Green Bay scoring with a 60-yard interception return of a Daryle Lamonic pass.

After leading by only 3-0 at the quarter, the Packers padded their margin to 16-7 at halftime by way of three Chandler field goals and a 62-yard scoring pass from Starr to split end Boyd Dowler. They then left the Raiders behind with a 10-point third period, Donny Anderson scoring on a two-yard run and Chandler with his final field goal.

The game marked the last for Vince Lombardi as Packers coach, ending nine years at Green Bay in which he won six Western Conference championships, five NFL titles and two Super Bowls, a record unprecedented in pro football history.

PACKERS SUPER BOWL STORY

SUPER BOWL XXXI

January 26, 1997

Louisiana Superdome; New Orleans, La.

Green Bay 35, New England 21

Using several momentum-turning big plays, the Packers held off resilient New England to capture their first world championship in 29 years. For Green Bay, the victory also marked its league-high 12th NFL championship as well as its third Super Bowl triumph.

The Packers jumped to an early 10-0 lead. Brett Favre, sensing a Patriots blitz, audibled on Green Bay's second play from scrimmage, hitting late-season pickup Andre Rison on a wide-open post pattern for a 54-yard touchdown pass. On the ensuing New England possession, Doug Evans intercepted Drew Bledsoe at the Patriots' 28, which led to a 37-yard field goal by Chris Jacke.

New England then was able to turn the tide in its favor, however, as Bledsoe took his club on two long drives for touchdowns. The first, which covered 79 yards and culminated in a short pass to Keith Byars, was aided by two long throws to Pats running backs and a 26-yard pass interference penalty. The second, starting at the New England 43, was spurred by a leaping, 44-yard reception by rookie Terry Glenn. When tight end Ben Coates caught a four-yard TD pass from Bledsoe, the Patriots momentarily had their only lead of the game and had completed the highest-scoring first quarter in Super Bowl history.

Green Bay rebounded to re-take the lead when Favre, seeing Patriots' strong safety Lawyer Milloy at the line of scrimmage in tight coverage on Antonio Freeman, watched Freeman elude Milloy's "bump" and lofted a perfect aerial to Freeman along the right sideline. Freeman, able to out-run New England's late-arriving free safety, covered 81 yards for the longest reception in Super Bowl history. After another Jacke field goal, Favre took advantage of a Mike Prior interception and escorted his troops on a nine-play, 74-yard march just before halftime which ended when, on a bootleg left, he lunged the ball over the goal line as he was rolling out of bounds.

Taking a 27-14 edge out of the locker room at halftime, Green Bay maintained that lead until late in the third quarter, when the Patriots' Curtis Martin made a magnificent 18-yard run up the middle of the Packer defense to pull New England to within six points at 27-21.

That margin was short-lived, though, as Desmond Howard returned the ensuing kickoff 99 yards for a back-breaking touchdown (the longest in Super Bowl history), bursting through the center of the Packers' well-blocked wedge, then juking kicker Adam Vinatieri to bolt free. Howard, who had 244 total return yards in the game including key punt runbacks of 32 and 34 yards, was voted the game's most valuable player, becoming the first special teams player to be so honored. A subsequent, successful two-point conversion, where Favre found Mark Chmura along the back of the end zone, gave the Green and Gold an insurmountable two-touchdown lead.

The top-ranked Green Bay defense, which had four interceptions of Bledsoe, was led by Reggie White, who sacked the New England quarterback a Super Bowl-record three times, including twice in a row on the possession immediately following Howard's scoring return.

Favre, playing less than an hour from his hometown of Kiln, Miss., completed 14 of 27 passes for 246 yards and two touchdowns without an interception, while his counterpart, Bledsoe, threw for 253 yards and two scores on 25-of-48 passing.

SUPER BOWL XXXII

January 25, 1998

Qualcomm Stadium; San Diego, Calif.

Denver 31, Green Bay 24

Behind a dominating rushing performance by San Diego native Terrell Davis, four-time Super Bowl loser Denver garnered its first-ever victory in the NFL's title game to dethrone the reigning champion Packers in what some called "the best Super Bowl ever." In the process, the Broncos also ended a 13-game Super Bowl winning streak by the National Football Conference representative and sent Green Bay to its initial Super Bowl defeat after three triumphs.

Davis, named as the game's most valuable player, averaged 5.2 yards per carry as he rushed for 157 yards and three touchdowns, including the final, decisive score with less than two minutes remaining.

After the opening possession — a 76-yard scoring sequence by Green Bay — it appeared (falsely) that the game might turn into just another rout by the NFC against an overmatched AFC opponent. The Packers easily traversed the field, capping the drive with an arching, 22-yard touchdown pass from Brett Favre to Antonio Freeman at the back of the end zone, Freeman tap-dancing to get his feet down, and Green Bay had a 7-0 lead less than five minutes into the contest.

But the Broncos stormed back, scoring the first three times that they had the ball to commandeer a 17-7 advantage. After Davis went over from a yard out for Denver's initial points, the Broncos forced a pair of turnovers in Green Bay territory. First, Favre was intercepted when he prematurely unloaded a pass for Robert Brooks while under a heavy blitz, a miscue which resulted in a one-yard touchdown run by Broncos quarterback John Elway on a bootleg to the right. Then, after Favre fumbled when hit by Denver safety Steve Atwater on another blitz, the Broncos tacked on a long field goal by Jason Elam.

Green Bay mounted an impressive, 95-yard touchdown drive to consume the latter half of the second quarter and pull to within 17-14. Favre lofted a perfect aerial to tight end Mark Chmura in the back right corner of the end zone just 12 seconds before halftime, a pass which narrowly skirted the finger tips of a leaping defender.

Davis, who had missed the entire second quarter after experiencing migraine headache symptoms, fumbled on the first play from scrimmage of the second half, an error which turned into a game-tying Ryan Longwell field goal only minutes later.

The Broncos went ahead again late in the third period, when Davis scored his second touchdown of the game to culminate 92-yard, seven-plus minute drive. And when, on the ensuing kickoff, Freeman fumbled at his own 22, things looked dire for Green Bay as it stared at a potential two-touchdown deficit heading into the final quarter. But when the Broncos went for the jugular on their first play, free safety Eugene Robinson intercepted Elway in the end zone.

Favre completed three passes to Freeman on the ensuing Green Bay possession, including a 13-yard crossing route for the receiver's second touchdown which knotted the score at 24 with thirteen-and-a-half minutes remaining. Freeman made nine receptions (for 126 yards) on the day to equal the club's all-time playoff record.

After the Packers failed to take advantage of one fourth quarter-drive which neared midfield, Denver ran the ball down their throat for the game's winning touchdown, a drive which covered 49 yards in only five plays — four on the ground. Davis strolled into the end zone untouched up the middle for a 31-24 lead with just 105 ticks of the clock left.

Still facing the relentless blitzing which had characterized the play of the Denver defense throughout the game, from his own 30-yard line Favre moved the Packers 39 yards down the field on four straight passes to Dorsey Levens to reach the Broncos' 31 with 42 seconds remaining. But when his next three throws fell incomplete, including a fourth-down pass intended for Chmura which was knocked down by linebacker John Mobley, the game was Denver's, giving Elway a long-awaited Super Bowl victory after he had endured three losses. In the process, the Broncos became just the second wild-card team to capture a Super Bowl in NFL history.

Favre, while not turning in his usual MVP-like performance, completed 25 of 42 passes for 256 yards and three touchdowns with one interception. Elway, who did not complete a pass to one of his wide receivers until late in the third quarter, threw for 123 yards on 12-of-22 passing while being intercepted once.

PACKERS NFL PLAYOFF HISTORY

'36 PACKERS 21, BOSTON REDSKINS 6

NFL Championship
Dec. 13 at Polo Grounds, New York

Although New York was not represented in the title playoff, the game was played in the Polo Grounds because the Redskins' franchise was being shifted to Washington, D.C., by George Preston Marshall. A turnout of 29,545 saw Don Hutson take a 48-yard touchdown pass from Arnie Herber in the first three minutes, and the Packers were never behind. Green Bay's two second-half scores were set up, respectively, by a 52-yard pass from Herber to Johnny (Blood) McNally and when Lon Evans blocked a punt.

'38 NEW YORK 23, PACKERS 17

Dec. 11 at Polo Grounds, New York

The Packers overcame an early 9-0 New York lead, spawned by two blocked punts deep in their territory, but could not hold off the Giants in the second half. Green Bay began to close in early in the second period, Arnie Herber capitalizing on a Paul (Tiny) Engelbrechtsen interception by lofting a 40-yard touchdown strike to Carl Mulleneaux, cutting the Giants' margin to 9-7.

The Giants shortly converted a midfield fumble by Packer fullback Eddie Jankowski into a 16-7 lead before Green Bay again trimmed the deficit to two points before the half was over, Clarke Hinkle crashing over from the 6-inch line following a 66-yard Cecil Isbell pass to Wayland Becker.

The Packers then forged in front in the opening minutes of the second half for the first and only time in the game, an Engelbrechtsen field goal presenting them with a 17-16 edge. The Giants, however, stormed back with a 61-yard scoring drive, capped by a 23-yard pass from Ed Danowski to Hank Soar. Soar fought his way over the goal line from the 2, with Hinkle clinging to one leg, for what proved to be the winning touchdown. A crowd of 48,120, a playoff record, sat in on the proceedings.

NFL Championship
Dec. 10 at State Fair Park, Milwaukee

The Packers made playoff history by scoring the first shutout ever registered in an NFL championship game. Despite bitter 35 m.p.h. winds, both Arnie Herber and Cecil Isbell passed for touchdowns in leading Green Bay to its fifth world championship before 32,279 fans.

Green Bay mounted a 7-0 halftime lead, by dint of a Herber scoring strike to Milt Gantenbein, as the Giants missed on three field goal attempts. The Packers pulled away in the third quarter on a 29-yard field goal by Paul (Tiny) Engelbrechtsen and a long TD pass from Isbell to Joe Laws, set up by Laws' 30-yard punt return. The Packers added 10 more points in the fourth quarter on a 42-yard field goal by Ernie Smith and a short scoring run by fullback Eddie Jankowski. Green Bay intercepted the Giants six times and held them to only 164 total yards.

Western Division Playoff
Dec. 14 at Wrigley Field, Chicago

In a Western Division playoff contest necessitated when the two teams finished the year with identical 10-1 records, each having given the other its lone loss, the Packers fell victim to Chicago's offensive trio of George McAfee, Norm Standlee and Hugh Gallarneau in the 16-degree cold at Wrigley Field.

After the Bears fumbled the opening kickoff, Green Bay grabbed an early 7-0 lead. Gallarneau returned a punt 81 yards for a touchdown to narrow the gap to 7-6, before Chicago exploded for 24 second-quarter points to essentially settle the issue. The Bears rushed for 277 yards this day, McAfee leading the way with a team record 119 and Standlee adding 79 plus two touchdowns.

Green Bay's prolific end, Don Hutson, was held to only one catch for 19 yards.

NFL Championship
Dec. 17 at Polo Grounds, New York

With peerless pass catcher Don Hutson employed primarily as a decoy for the Giant defense, fullback Ted Fritsch emerged the offensive hero of Packers' sixth world title victory.

Fritsch scored both Green Bay touchdowns, one a one-yard run on fourth-and-goal and the other on a 28-yard pass-and-run collaboration with Irv Comp in the third. Ward Cuff scored the Giants' touchdown with a one-yard plunge on the initial play of the final period, a drive which saw New York advance past its own 35-yard line for the first time in the game. Joe Laws, the Packers' veteran, 34-year-old all-purpose halfback, had a brilliant day, setting a playoff record with three interceptions and claiming ground gaining honors with 74 yards in 13 carries.

'60 PHILADELPHIA 17, PACKERS 13 NFL Championship Dec. 26 at Franklin Field, Philadelphia

Packers erected a 6-0 lead in the second period and were out in front by 13-10 in the fourth quarter before yielding to a late surge by the Eagles, who scored the deciding points on a five-yard burst by Ted Dean.

The Packers had stopped Philadelphia at its own four late in the third period, then recaptured the lead on a seven-yard TD pass from Bart Starr to Max McGee. A 58-yard return by Dean on the ensuing kickoff ignited the Eagles, however, and led to Philadelphia's winning touchdown with 5:21 remaining. Green Bay made a final, last-ditch effort, driving to the Eagles' 22. But, after catching a Starr pass, Packers fullback Jim Taylor was stopped at the 8-yard line by Chuck Bednarik as time expired.

The contest marked the first title game appearance by the Packers in 16 years and, remarkably, became the only playoff loss ever suffered by their legendary coach, Vince Lombardi.

Paul Hornung, on leave from the Army, scored a playoff record-tying 19 points to key the Packers' decimation of the Giants in the first title game ever played in Green Bay.

A record Packer home crowd of 39,029 watched the Green and Gold erupt for 24 points in the second quarter. In all, the Packers scored seven times against the NFL's top defensive team of 1961, amassing four touchdowns and three field goals. The defense, meanwhile, was proving a devastating complement to the attack, intercepting four Giant passes and recovering one fumble, while limiting New York to only six first downs and 130 total yards.

Two interceptions, by Ray Nitschke and defensive back Hank Gremminger, set up touchdowns No. 2 and 3, while the fumble recovery (by Forrest Gregg) led to Hornung's second field goal and a Jesse Whittenont interception to Hornung's final FG.

Out front all the way in a raw, cyclonic setting (13-degree temperatures and 40-mile per hour winds), Packers weather siege by vengeful Giants in primitive, hand-to-hand struggle. Ray Nitschke proves principal frustration to New Yorkers, seeking redemption for shutout humiliation in '61 title game. His deflection triggers interception to blunt early Giant drive to Green Bay 10. On way to being named game's most valuable player, he also registers two fumble recoveries, one of which led to the Packers' only touchdown of the afternoon. The other set up a 29-yard field goal by Jerry Kramer, whose trio of three-pointers provided the eventual margin.

Giants' only TD comes on block of Max McGee punt in Green Bay end zone midway through the third quarter.

'65 PACKERS 13, BALTIMORE 10 (ot) Western Conference Championship Dec. 26 at Lambeau Field, Green Bay

Don Chandler's second field goal provided the winning margin for the Packers at 13:39 of sudden death overtime as Green Bay defeated Baltimore 13-10 in front of 50,484 partisans. His 25-yard kick ended the only overtime playoff game in Packer history, a contest necessitated when the two teams ended the regular season with matching 10-3-1 records.

Chandler's first field goal, a 22-yarder with 1:58 remaining in regulation to tie the game, remains controversial to this day, Baltimore loyalists claiming it was wide right. The kick sailed high above the uprights, making it difficult for game officials to determine its accuracy. Uprights were lengthened for the next season in an effort to avoid a recurrence of this situation.

The Colts, who were playing without starting quarterback Johnny Unitas (knee) and his backup, Gary Cuozzo (dislocated shoulder), used halfback Tom Matte as a fill-in. He completed only five passes, but did gain 57 yards rushing. Baltimore took a 10-0 halftime lead, scoring first 21 seconds into the game when linebacker Don Shinnick scooped up a Bill Anderson fumble and went 25 yards for a touchdown. Packers quarterback Bart Starr injured his ribs on the play. Green Bay's first from scrimmage, when he tried to get to Shinnick.

Zeke Bratkowski replaced Starr for the balance of the afternoon, completing 22 of 39 passes for 248 yards. The Packers moved to within 10-7 in the third quarter when Paul Hornung scored on a one-yard run, setting the stage for Chandler's heroics.

Packer defenders, meanwhile, collared Cleveland's Jim Brown, the NFL's leading rusher during the regular season with 1,544 yards, and held him to but 50 yards. The game was a see-saw battle throughout and saw kickers Don Chandler and Lou Groza boot a total of five field goals.

Bart Starr finally settled the issue in the third quarter, escorting the Packers on a 90-yard, 11-play scoring drive climaxed by Hornung's 13-yard sweep of Browns' right perimeter.

Bart Starr has one of his finest hours, passing for four touchdowns as the Packers win their second straight title and fourth in six years. Tom Brown thwarts last-minute Cowboy bid, and the majority of 74,152 Cotton Bowl fans, with end zone interception of Don Meredith's fourth-down pass from the Green Bay 2 with 28 seconds left.

Packers mounted quick 14-0 lead on a 17-yard Starr pass to Elijah Pitts and 18-yard scoring run with a fumble recovery by rookie Jim Grabowski, but led only 21-17 at halftime following explosive Cowboy comeback. After a 32-yard Danny Villanueva field goal had cut the Packer lead to a tenuous 21-20, Starr hit Boyd Dowler and Max McGee with 16- and 28-yard scoring passes, respectively, to provide a cushion against the Cowboys' late surge.

Travis Williams scored two touchdowns, on runs of 46 and two yards, and the Packers were able to weather three early turnovers as Green Bay downed the Los Angeles Rams, 28-7, in the first regularly-scheduled conference playoff in NFL history. After L.A. got on the board first via a 29-yard scoring pass from Roman Gabriel to Bernie Casey, the Packers responded with 28 unanswered points in one of the more memorable games at Milwaukee County Stadium.

Williams rushed for 88 yards on 18 total carries, while quarterback Bart Starr set a team record by completing 73.9% of his passes (17-23) for 222 yards and one touchdown. End Carroll Dale was the recipient of Starr's scoring toss, it covering 17 yards, and finished the afternoon with six catches for 109 yards. The Packer defense sacked Gabriel five times, including three-and-a-half by tackle Henry Jordan.

The victory was Green Bay's first on a three-game run which would see the Packers defeat Dallas in the legendary "Ice Bowl" game eight days later, then top the Oakland Raiders for a second straight Super Bowl victory.

Dec. 31 at Lambeau Field, Green Bay

With thermometer shuddering at 13 below zero and a wind chill of minus 46, Bart Starr scores winning touchdown from 1-yard line with 13 seconds remaining, sealing record third straight championship for Packers and their fifth in seven years.

Starr's touchdown, on third down with no timeouts remaining, climaxed a 68-yard drive in 12 plays which had begun with 4:50 on the clock, in front of 50,861 partisans at now legendary "Ice Bowl" game.

As was the case in 1966, Packers grabbed early 14-0 advantage. But this time Cowboys came from behind to take the lead, forcing storybook finish by Green Bay to win contest later voted the greatest game in pro football history.

Starr's touchdown passes of eight and 43 yards to Boyd Dowler built the first-quarter bulge, trimmed in the second quarter by George Andrie's seven-yard scoring return of a Starr fumble and a 21-yard Danny Villanueva field goal which also was set up by a Green Bay fumble. '82 PACKERS 41, ST. LOUIS 16 NFC First-Round Playoff Jan. 8 at Lambeau Field, Green Bay

Making their first postseason appearance in Lambeau Field since celebrated 'Ice Bowl' game of 1967 against Dallas, Packers halt Cardinal drive at 1-yard line in the first quarter, then proceed to forge an all-time club scoring record in their opening Super Bowl Tournament contest following the strike-shortened 1982 season.

Green Bay culminated two long scoring drives with touchdown passes from Lynn Dickey to his wide receivers, John Jefferson and James Lofton. The Packers subsequently capitalized on a pair of St. Louis turnovers in Cardinals territory, turning each possession into points with a touchdown by Eddie Lee Ivey.

Out front 28-9 at halftime, they pad lead to 41-9 in the fourth quarter before permitting Cards a consolation touchdown. Dickey ties Packer playoff record by passing for four touchdowns (17 of 23 for 260 yards and zero interceptions overall) and Jefferson sets club postseason mark with 148 receiving yards on six catches, including a 60-yard TD reception — another Packer playoff record. Placekicker Jan Stenerud also establishes a club playoff mark with a 46-yard field goal. St. Louis quarterback Neil Lomax throws for 385 yards on 32-of-51 passing.

Packers amass 466 yards, a team playoff record, but are unable to overcome slow start which finds them trailing 20-7 at halftime. They roll up 363 yards and out-score Cowboys 19-17 in the second half, pulling within four points (30-26) on a 22-yard scoring runback of an interception by Mark Lee in the fourth quarter. But Cowboys retaliate with a 74-yard scoring drive to end Green Bay hopes with 63,972 fans looking on.

Quarterback Lynn Dickey throws for 332 yards (19 of 36), a Packer playoff record, in losing cause. Split end James Lofton emerges with 109 yards on five receptions. Lofton also spices Packers' second-half comeback with 71-yard reverse for a TD, tying all-time NFL playoff record for a run from scrimmage.

The Cowboys' Dennis Thurman intercepted three passes, one for a 39-yard touchdown and a final theft which sealed the victory for Dallas in the fourth quarter.

'93 PACKERS 28, DETROIT 24 NFC Wild Card Playoff Jan. 8 at Pontiac Silverdome; Pontiac, Mich.

In one of the most electrifying victories in their rich postseason history, the Packers come from behind to shade NFC Central Division champion Detroit, 28-24, at Pontiac Silverdome on a dramatic, 40-yard touchdown pass from Brett Favre to Sterling Sharpe in the final minute. Favre's decisive strike, a scrambling, across-the-body throw from extreme left to extreme right, finds Sharpe wide open in the end zone with 55 seconds remaining, capping a see-saw battle.

Earlier, rookie free safety George Teague had written himself into the NFL postseason record book with a 101-yard interception return for a touchdown, his pickoff of Lions' Erik Kramer lifting Green Bay into a 21-17 lead. Sharpe equalled a league playoff mark himself by catching three touchdown passes in the contest, among his five receptions for 101 yards.

Lions' Barry Sanders, in his first game back from a knee injury, ignites Silverdome crowd of 68,479 with 169 yards rushing.

Packers grab early 3-0 lead over eventual Super Bowl champions, the points ensuing when Bill Bates' run on a fourth-down fake punt is stopped short by the Green Bay defense. Momentum swings Cowboys' way shortly, however, as Dallas mounts 17-point surge in the second quarter, eventually prevailing 27-17.

Quarterback Brett Favre passes for 331 yards (one yard shy of Packers' postseason record) and Sterling Sharpe turns in second straight 100-yard effort (six receptions for 128 yards). But Cowboys' aerial duo matches up, quarterback Troy Aikman completing 28 of 37 passes for 302 yards and three touchdowns, while wideout Michael Irvin adds nine catches for 126 yards.

'94 PACKERS 16, DETROIT 12 NFC Wild Card Playoff Dec. 31 at Lambeau Field, Green Bay

Spurred by a classic, postseason record defensive performance, the Packers outlast Detroit Lions 16-12 in team's first home playoff game since 1982 season. Coordinator Fritz Shurmur's defensive charges hold the NFL's leading rusher, Barry Sanders, to a career-low -1 yard on 13 attempts and limit Lions collectively to -4 yards on the ground — erasing a 31-year-old league playoff record.

Quarterback Brett Favre directs several long drives, helping the Packers control the ball for 37-plus minutes, including a 76-yard excursion on the game's opening series, capped by a three-yard touchdown run by Dorsey Levens. Green Bay plays turnover-free football throughout, entertaining home playoff record crowd of 58,125. Chris Jacke adds three field goals to team's cause, including a Packer postseason record 51-yarder.

But Lions pull to within 13-10 in the fourth quarter on a three-yard touchdown pass from Dave Krieg to Brett Periman and reach the Packers' 11-yard line on final drive in game's closing moments. Green Bay defense stiffens, however, recapturing the ball on downs, before Packer punter Craig Hentrich takes intentional safety to run out final seven seconds on the clock.

'94 DALLAS 35, PACKERS 9 NFC Divisional Playoff Jan. 8 at Texas Stadium, Irving, Texas

After falling behind 21-3 in the second quarter and 28-9 at halftime, the Packers find themselves unable to mount a second-half comeback, falling to Dallas in divisional playoff contest, 35-9. Green Bay is able to amass 327 yards of total offense but few points, and team's defense is victim of the Cowboys' arsenal of offensive superstars.

Trailing only 7-3 in the first quarter, the Packers pin Dallas deep in its own territory, only to have their back broken when Cowboys connect on an NFL playoff-record 94-yard touchdown pass from Troy Aikman to Alvin Harper. Aikman throws for 337 yards overall, while three different Dallas receivers — Michael Irvin (111), Harper (108) and Jay Novacek (104) — have 100-yard days. Dallas backup Blair Thomas rushes for 70 yards and two scores after replacing Emmitt Smith, who left the game in the first quarter after aggravating a hamstring injury.

Packer flanker Robert Brooks, moving into spot usually occupied by the injured Sterling Sharpe, equals his career best with eight receptions for a game-high 138 yards.

'95 PACKERS 37, ATLANTA 20 NFC Wild Card Playoff Dec. 31 at Lambeau Field, Green Bay

Utilizing a balanced offensive attack, including a Packer postseason record 108 yards on the ground from Edgar Bennett, Green Bay toppled the Atlanta Falcons 37-20 on a foggy, 30-degree afternoon. The Packers had earned an opening round home playoff game for the second straight season, this time by virtue of winning their first outright NFC Central crown in 23 years.

After a 65-yard touchdown pass from Jeff George to Eric Metcalf three minutes into the game gave Atlanta a 7-0 lead and stunned the home playoff record crowd of 60,453, the Packers quickly regained control, scoring two first-quarter touchdowns to seize a 14-7 lead. Following a Falcons field goal which narrowed the gap to four, Green Bay broke the game open midway through the second period when rookie Antonio Freeman returned a punt 76 yards for a touchdown — the first scoring return of a punt or kickoff in club postseason history. Mark Chmura's two-yard touchdown catch from Brett Favre with less than a minute remaining before halftime, capping a 14-play, 85-yard drive, gave the Packers a commanding 27-10 advantage as the teams headed into the locker room.

Green Bay matched the Falcons score for score in the second half, Favre's third TD toss of the day — a beautiful, lofting throw to fullback Dorsey Levens with just under eight minutes to play — cementing the issue. Favre completed passes to nine different Packer receivers in the contest, while Bennett averaged 4.5 yards and scored once on 24 rushing attempts. George threw for 366 yards and two touchdowns for Atlanta on 30-of-54 passing, while Metcalf caught eight balls for 114 yards.

'95 PACKERS 27, SAN FRANCISCO 17 NFC Divisional Playoff Jan. 6 at 3Com Park, San Francisco

Physically menacing the 49er offense throughout the day, Green Bay pulled off a shocking upset of defending Super Bowl champion San Francisco in its home stadium, 27-17, and advanced to the NFC Championship Game for the first time since the 1970 league merger. The victory was especially sweet for Packers head coach Mike Holmgren, a native San Franciscan who, for the first time, was opposing the team with which he had gotten his NFL start.

After an opening drive by the Packers which had reached the 49ers' 26-yard line only to end in a blocked field goal, Green Bay's defense immediately set the tone for the rest of the game. On San Francisco's first play from scrimmage, linebacker Wayne Simmons drilled Niners fullback Adam Walker, the recipient of a screen pass in the right flat, Walker fumbling and the ball being scooped up by rookie cornerback Craig Newsome, who ran 31 yards into the end zone for a 7-0 lead. The Packers subsequently mounted 62- and 72-yard scoring drives on their next two possessions, Brett Favre throwing touchdown passes to Keith Jackson and Mark Chmura respectively, to assume an authoritative 21-0 advantage four minutes into the second quarter.

Favre, the league MVP during the regular season, played like, well, the league MVP, completing a club playoff record 75.0% of his passes (21-28) in the win. Jackson, who had two long receptions over the middle to help set up Green Bay scores, caught four passes for 101 yards, while flanker Robert Brooks also had over 100 yards receiving (103) on an identical number of catches.

The 49ers did close to within 21-10 midway through the third quarter before Packers kicker Chris Jacke booted two important field goals to stretch the Green Bay lead back to 17 points. San Francisco later added a meaningless touchdown in the game's last minute for the final margin.

The Packer defense, which forced four turnovers, battered 49ers quarterback Steve Young all afternoon, sacking him three times and knocking him down on countless other occasions as he attempted an NFL playoff record 65 passes in a futile comeback bid. Jerry Rice, San Francisco's receiver nonpareil, while making 11 receptions was limited to virtually no yards after the catch.

NFC Championship

Jan. 14 at Texas Stadium; Irving, Texas

Packers, one victory away from their first Super Bowl appearance in 28 years, hold lead into the fourth quarter before finally succumbing to offensive firepower of eventual Super Bowl champion Dallas, 38-27. Emmitt Smith, behind Cowboys' massive offensive line, rushes for 150 yards and three touchdowns on 35 carries as Green Bay sees its season end at Texas Stadium for the third straight year.

After a blocked punt leads to a quick field goal by the Packers, Dallas comes back, quarterback Troy Aikman throwing two TD passes to Michael Irvin. Green Bay answers, however, with two quick scores of its own — a team postseason record 73-yard pass from Brett Favre to Robert Brooks as well as a Favre-to-Keith Jackson connection — to vault into the lead, 17-14. Cowboys score another 10 points before halftime, though, to go up 24-17.

Green Bay gets first 10 points of the second half, including a one-yard touchdown pass from Favre to Brooks, to hold a 27-24 advantage heading into the final 15 minutes. Smith's talents glisten in the fourth quarter, however, as he rushes for two touchdowns — sandwiched around a drive-killing interception by the Cowboys' Larry Brown in Dallas territory — to give Texans their third Super Bowl appearance in four years.

'96 PACKERS 35, SAN FRANCISCO 14

NFC Divisional Playoff

Jan. 4 at Lambeau Field, Green Bay

Jump-started by their special teams, specifically two punt returns by Desmond Howard, the Green Bay Packers took the first step toward an eventual berth in Super Bowl XXXI by knocking the San Francisco 49ers out of the playoffs for the second straight year. With rain having fallen since early morning on a cold and dreary day, the playing field offered less-than-ideal footing throughout the contest and deteriorated into a quagmire by game's end. Despite the weather, 60,787 spectators (three no-shows) still showed up.

After the 49ers went three-and-out on their opening possession, Howard caught Tommy Thompson's punt at his own 29 and weaved his way through several San Francisco defenders for a 71-yard touchdown just 2:15 into the game. Midway through the first quarter, Howard broke free on a second punt return, traveling 46 yards before he was tripped up by his heel only seven yards from the end zone. Moments later, Brett Favre hit Andre Rison with a four-yard touchdown pass to give Green Bay a 14-0 advantage.

The Packers extended their lead to 21-0 before two special teams miscues by Green Bay turned into 14 points for the Niners and brought the game back to within reach. First, a San Francisco punt bounced off the leg of the Packers' Chris Hayes to give the 49ers possession at the Green Bay 26-yard line, leading to a Terry Kirby touchdown catch. Then, when the Packers failed to field a short kickoff to open the second half, San Francisco recovered at the Green Bay 4, and, on the next play, quarterback Elvis Grbac ran around left end on a naked bootleg for another score.

To their credit, the Packers stormed right back on their next possession, going 72 yards in 12 plays, a drive capped off by Antonio Freeman's fumble recovery in the end zone after Edgar Bennett fumbled just shy of the goal line.

Neither team gained many yards in the sloppy conditions. Green Bay racked up only 210 yards, including a club postseason low 71 yards passing. Bennett was the Packers' workhorse, running for 80 yards and two touchdowns on 17 carries. San Francisco, which lost usual starting quarterback Steve Young after two series when he could not function effectively due to two broken ribs suffered one week earlier, gained only 196 yards itself.

PACKERS NFL PLAYOFF HISTORY

Panthers and win their first trip to the Super Bowl in 29 years, largely on the strength of a 205-yard performance by Dorsey Levens. It was the first title game played in Green Bay since the legendary "Ice Bowl" in 1967.

Panthers linebacker Sam Mills intercepted a Brett Favre pass deep in Green Bay territory not quite 10 minutes into the game, which quickly led to a three-yard touchdown toss from Kerry Collins to fullback Howard Griffith. Levens out-jumped Carolina cornerback Eric Davis at the right edge of the end zone for a 29-yard touchdown catch on the first snap of the second quarter to even the score, only one play after he had rushed for 35 yards on a third-and-one situation.

Carolina took advantage of a Favre fumble near midfield to add a John Kasay field goal, but the Packers stormed back to score 10 points in the final minute of the first half. Favre connected with Antonio Freeman for a touchdown on a six-yard fade pattern with 48 seconds remaining, capping a 15-play, 71-yard drive. When the Panthers then attempted to move down field, Green Bay rookie cornerback Tyrone Williams made a diving interception of Collins at the Packers' 38-yard line, which four plays later eventuated into a 31-yard Chris Jacke field goal with 10 seconds remaining before halftime.

The teams traded field goals in the second half before the Packers' Edgar Bennett strolled through the middle of the line untouched on a four-yard touchdown run late in the third quarter to somewhat cement the issue at 27-13. Bennett's score was set up by a 66-yard catch-and-run along the right sideline by Levens on a perfectly-executed screen pass one play earlier.

Green Bay put up 479 net yards, an all-time team playoff record. Spearheading the attack was a ground game which churned out 201 yards, 99 yards on 25 carries by Bennett and 88 yards on only 10 attempts by Levens. Levens also made five receptions for 117 yards. Favre completed 19 of 29 passes for 292 yards.

While the weather certainly was cold — 3 degrees with a wind chill of -17 — the storyline heading into the game was the field itself, ravaged the previous week against San Francisco when rainy conditions turned it into a mud pit. The contest was played on an all-new grass field, put into place in the days prior to the game with sod trucked in from Maryland on better than two dozen semis.

The George S. Halas Trophy, symbolic of the National Football Conference Championship, was presented to Packers President Bob Harlan, General Manager Ron Wolf and Head Coach Mike Holmgren in an on-field ceremony immediately following the game.

'97 PACKERS 21, TAMPA BAY 7 NFC Divisional Playoff Jan. 4 at Lambeau Field, Green Bay

In a hard-fought, defensive struggle — much like the two earlier meetings of the divisional foes — the Packers used their offensive superiority to overwhelm Tampa Bay on a gray afternoon. A record-breaking rushing performance by Dorsey Levens helped Green Bay to maintain control of the contest.

The Buccaneers, making their first appearance in the playoffs since the 1982 season, squandered three first-half opportunities for a field goal. On the first, the Packers' Bob Kuberski surged up the middle to block Micheal Husted's 43-yard effort. Keith McKenzie stuffed Tampa Bay's attempt at a fake field goal for no gain the second time around, then the Bucs' long snapper, Dave Moore, sailed the ball over his holder's head on the third.

Green Bay moved 67 yards down the field for its first score, a short touchdown pass to Mark Chmura from Brett Favre, following the initial Buccaneers failed field goal attempt. The Packers then got two field goals from rookie kicker Ryan Longwell just before halftime, the second resulting after a Tyrone Williams interception in Tampa Bay territory.

A Favre interception on Green Bay's first possession of the second half eventuated in the Buccaneers' lone points, a six-yard run by fullback Mike Alstott to culminate a 94-yard drive by the Floridians. But the Packers were able to keep the upstart Bucs at arm's length, Levens punching in a short touchdown run early in the fourth quarter and Favre following that up with a successful two-point conversion on a quarterback draw.

Levens finished the day with a team playoff record 112 yards rushing, including 88 in the second half. Favre, meanwhile, was being harassed by the Tampa Bay defense, particularly defensive tackle Warren Sapp, who had three sacks and forced two fumbles. The two combatants openly jawed throughout the contest in an intriguing side show.

'97 PACKERS 23, SAN FRANCISCO 10 NFC Championship Jan. 11 at 3Com Park, San Francisco

Green Bay, making its third straight appearance in the NFC Championship Game, never allowed the 49ers' offense to get started and advanced to play in the Super Bowl for the second year in a row. In the process, the Packers dispatched San Francisco from the playoffs for the third consecutive season, the second time in the Niners' home park.

From the outset of the rain-swept afternoon, the Packers were able to pick on San Francisco's cornerbacks, moving 76 yards downfield on their opening possession, though the drive was stalled and Green Bay was forced to settle for a short Ryan Longwell field goal.

San Francisco managed a drive to the Packers' 28-yard line early in the second quarter, but it was snuffed out when free safety Eugene Robinson stepped in front of a Steve Young pass intended for Brent Jones. Robinson, weaving across the field, returned the theft 58 yards to the 49ers' 28. Two plays later, Antonio Freeman caught a short slant from Brett Favre, cut back against the grain, breaking several tackles in the process, for a 27-yard touchdown grab and a 10-0 Green Bay lead.

The 49ers put together another long drive late in the opening half, but had to settle for a field goal when three straight passes from the Green Bay 10-yard line fell incomplete. The Packers, after first showing little desire to mount a scoring drive in the final minute before halftime, connected on a 40-yard bomb from Favre to Freeman in the waning seconds to set up a successful 43-yard field goal try by Longwell against a difficult wind on the final play before the teams headed to the locker room.

Longwell, who had attended nearby Cal only one season earlier and had been released by the 49ers just before training camp, added his third field goal of the game midway through the fourth quarter, giving Green Bay a more comfortable 13-point lead.

The Packers' defense, which held San Francisco to just 33 yards rushing on 18 carries over the course of the day, went into the attack mode on Young in the fourth quarter, sacking him four times, including two by Keith McKenzie. When Young was sacked on fourth down at his own 11-yard line with just under four minutes remaining, Green Bay quickly took advantage, moving into the end zone on two Dorsey Levens runs.

Levens established a club playoff rushing mark for the second week in a row, churning out 114 yards — the first 100-yard rushing day allowed by the 49ers during the '97 season — and again did much of his work in the second half. Freeman totaled 107 yards receiving on four catches, and punter Craig Hentrich helped Green Bay to handily win the field position battle by depositing all five of his punts inside the 49ers' 20.

The Niners' Chuck Levy returned the kickoff following Levens' score 95 yards for San Francisco's lone touchdown of the day, though it proved to be of little significance as only 2:52 showed on the clock.

With only a smattering of Green Bay fans remaining in the stands, the George S. Halas Trophy, representative of the National Football Conference Championship, was handed over to the rain-soaked trio of Packers President Bob Harlan, General Manager Ron Wolf and Head Coach Mike Holmgren in a presentation on the field.

'98 SAN FRANCISCO 30, PACKERS 27 NFC Wild Card Playoff Jan. 3 at 3Com Park, San Francisco

The Packers' 1998 season came to a dramatic and sudden end when San Francisco quarterback Steve Young threw a 25-yard touchdown pass to Terrell Owens, standing in the midst of four Green Bay defenders, with three seconds remaining. The 30-27 victory by the 49ers ended a string of five straight losses to the Packers during the last four seasons, including elimination from the playoffs by Green Bay each year from 1995-97. The Packers, playing in the postseason for a team-record sixth consecutive season, for the first time in that span failed to win at least one playoff game.

Things earlier had looked dire for the Packers when, trailing 23-20, Brett Favre threw the second of his two interceptions with only 5:53 to play. But Green Bay forced a 49ers punt and got the ball back with 4:19 showing on the clock. Favre proceeded to manufacture a masterful 89-yard drive, completing a 47-yard bomb to rookie Corey Bradford up the left sideline to put the Packers in scoring range at the San Francisco 31. Four plays later, Favre audibled out of a run when the 49ers stacked eight men at the line of scrimmage and found Antonio Freeman in the back of the end zone on a sprint-and-go pattern for a 15-yard touchdown and a 27-23 lead with 1:56 left.

But Young was able to respond with his own 76-yard scoring drive in the final two minutes, culminating in his 25-yard bullet down the center of the field to Owens, who had endured the misfortune of several drops that afternoon. The touchdown march was not without controversy, however, as the 49ers' Jerry Rice appeared to fumble after the ball was stripped by rookie Scott McGarrahan at the Green Bay 41, with the Packers' Bernardo Harris recovering, but officials ruled Rice down on the play.

Both teams were bolstered by strong running games. Garrison Hearst ran for 128 of the 49ers' 178 yards on the ground, while Dorsey Levens gained 116 yards rushing to set a Packers postseason record.

Niners tight end Greg Clark caught two touchdown passes following Green Bay turnovers, including one which tied the score at 17 early in the second half. San Francisco kicker Wade Richey booted three field goals, the third of which gave the 49ers a 23-20 advantage with 6:12 remaining in the contest.

Favre threw for 292 yards and two touchdowns, both to Freeman.

The loss marked the end of the illustrious 14-year NFL career of future Hall of Famer Reggie White and, as it turned out, was Mike Holmgren's final game as coach of the Packers. Holmgren, who posted an overall record of 84-42 in seven Green Bay seasons, accepted an offer to become executive vice president of football operations/general manager and head coach of the Seattle Seahawks five days later.

PACKERS NO. 1 IN POSTSEASON

On the heels of six straight playoff appearances for the first time in team history and two Super Bowl appearances in the past three years, the Packers continue to own the best winning percentage in postseason play in National Football League history. They have won 22 of 32 playoff games since their first-ever postseason contest – the 1936 NFL championship (a 21-6 victory over the Boston Redskins) – for an overall winning percentage of .688. NFC foes Dallas (.615), San Francisco (.615) and Washington (.600) follow at a distance. The all-time standings:

PACKERS' PRO HALL OF FAMERS

The Green Bay Packers boast 19 individuals who spent the majority of their careers with the club in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio. The Packers' total is second only to that of the Chicago Bears, who have 25. The New York Giants, with 16, are third, while the Pittsburgh Steelers and Washington Redskins share fourth place with 14 apiece.

In addition, five other players who played briefly for Green Bay — defensive end Len Ford, linebacker Ted Hendricks, guard/coach Walt Kiesling, kicker Jan Stenerud and safety Emlen Tunnell — have their busts displayed in the Hall of Fame.

Biographies of the Packers' 19 primary HOF players follow:

1963 — Earl L. (Curly) Lambeau, Founder, player, coach, vice president (1919-49). Founded Packers in 1919 and served as team's only coach through 1949 season. Also played halfback from '19 through '29, a period during which he pioneered forward pass in professional football. Led Packers to six world championships and is one of only five coaches to record more than 200 coaching victories in the NFL (others are Don Shula, George Halas, Tom Landry and Chuck Noll). Had coaching record of 212-106-21 (.656) with Packers. Also coached Chicago Cardinals (1950-51) and Washington Redskins (1952-53). Born April 9, 1898, in Green Bay. Died June 1, 1965, at age of 67.

1963 — Robert (Cal) Hubbard, T (1929-33, 1935). Also played for New York Giants, Pittsburgh Pirates. A legendary athlete, he was one of pro football's first genuine giants — a massive 6-ft. 5-inch, 250-pounder who was a devastating blocker on offense and relentless pursuer on defense as a premier, two-way performer. Was an All-Pro choice in each of first three years (1931, '32, '33) such selections were made. Selected to NFL's All-50 Year Team in 1970 and to All-Time Two-Way Team in 1994. Played college football at Centenary, Geneva. Born October 31, 1900, in Keytesville, Mo. Died Oct. 17, 1977, at age of 76.

1963 — Don Hutson, E/DB (1935-45). Made third-most touchdown receptions (99) in pro football history, an all-time NFL record until broken by Steve Largent and subsequently surpassed by Jerry Rice and Cris Carter. Credited with inventing pass patterns, he led league in receiving 8 years and in scoring 5 seasons, both also lifetime marks. Also played defensive back and placekicked. Named to NFL's All-50 Year Team in 1970, later was selected to league's 75th Anniversary and All-Time Two-Way teams in 1994. Led NFL in receiving yards in 7 seasons, an all-time record. Also holds league record for most points scored in one quarter (29). Played collegiately at Alabama. Named to four Pro Bowls. Born Jan. 31, 1913, in Pine Bluff, Ark. Died June 26, 1997, at age of 84.

1963 — Johnny (Blood) McNally, HB (1929-33, 1935-36). Also played for Milwaukee Badgers, Duluth Eskimos, Pottsville Maroons, Pittsburgh Pirates. An elusive runner and gifted pass receiver, he played major role in Packers' drive to first three championships in 1929, '30 and '31. Also helped Packers win a fourth world title in '36. Going into 1999 season, still held 20th place in Packer lifetime scoring, over six decades after departing Green Bay scene, with 230 points. Collegiate star at St. John's (Minn.). Born Nov. 27, 1903, in New Richmond, Wis. Died Nov. 28, 1985, at age of 82.

1964 — Clarke Hinkle, FB (1932-41). A four-time All-Pro selection (1936, '37, '38, '41). One of the most versatile players in NFL annals, he was tough, bruising runner, fine blocker, good receiver and excellent placekicker as well as shrewd, hard-hitting linebacker. Fourth-ranking rusher in Packers' history with 3,860 yards in 1,171 carries. Was selected to NFL's All-Time Two-Way Team in 1994. Played college football at Bucknell. Named to three Pro Bowls. Born April 10, 1909, in Toronto, Ohio. Died Nov. 9, 1988, at age of 79.

PACKERS' PRO HALL OF FAMERS

1964 — Mike Michalske, G (1929-35, 1937). Also played for New York Yankees (1927-28) before joining Packers. Rated one of game's greatest guards during pro football's "two-way" era. Two-time All-Pro selection (1931 and 1935). A true 60-minute player, he was known as "Iron Mike" because of his great stamina and durability. Best asset was exceptional quickness, which made him equally effective on both offense and defense. Played college football at Penn State. Born April 24, 1903, in Cleveland. Died Oct. 26, 1983, at age of 80.

1966 — Arnie Herber, QB (1930-40). Also played for New York Giants (1944-45). Pro football's first great long passer. Won three National Football League passing titles (1932, '34, '36) and was All-Pro selection in 1932. Teamed with Don Hutson to form NFL's first feared passing combination in mid-'30s. Ranks fifth in Packer annals with 64 career touchdown passes over his 11 seasons. Tough, durable athlete and accomplished punter as well as great passer. A Green Bay native, he played college football at Regis (Denver). Born April 2, 1910, in Green Bay. Died Oct. 14, 1969, at age of 59.

1971 — Vince Lombardi, Coach and General Manager (1959-67). General Manager only in 1968. Also assistant coach for New York Giants (1954-58) and head coach of Washington Redskins (1969). Directed Packers to five NFL championships in seven years (1961-62 and 1965-66-67), a feat without precedent or parallel in pro football history. His 1966 and 1967 teams also made history by winning first two Super Bowls. Packers won nine of 10 playoff games under his leadership and overall compiled a 98-30-4 record, a glittering .758 winning percentage, as he never had a losing season. Lombardi, a guard, played his college football at Fordham, where he was one of the legendary "Seven Blocks of Granite." Born June 11, 1913, in Brooklyn, N.Y. Died Sept. 3, 1970, at age of 57.

1974 — Tony Canadeo, HB (1941-44, 1946-52). Became only the third 1,000-yard rusher in pro football history when he gained 1,052 yards in 1949. Still ranks as No. 3 ground gainer in Packers' annals with 4,197 yards in 1,025 attempts, a 4.1 average. A durable, all-purpose halfback, he was an accomplished blocker, capable passer and good receiver in addition to being a highly effective kick returner. Also played defensive back during early years of his career. Played college football at Gonzaga, where he acquired nickname of "Grey Ghost." Born May 5, 1919, in Chicago.

1976 — Jim Taylor, FB (1958-66). Also played for New Orleans Saints (1967). Rushed for over 1,000 yards five straight seasons (1960-64). Heading into '99 campaign, still is NFL's 15th ranking career rusher with 8,597 yards over his 10 seasons. Also owns league's ninth highest lifetime total of rushing touchdowns — 83. Is Packers' all-time leading ground gainer with 8,207 yards to his credit during his nine seasons in Green Bay. Had 26 career 100-yard rushing games. Played his college football at LSU. Named to five Pro Bowls. Born Sept. 20, 1935, in Baton Rouge, La.

PACKERS' PRO HALL OF FAMERS

1977 — Forrest Gregg, T (1956, 1958-70). Also played with Dallas Cowboys (1971). Drafted No. 2 in 1956. Was named All-Pro eight times (including All-Pro at both Guard and Tackle in 1965) and nine times to the Pro Bowl. Called by Lombardi the "finest player I've ever coached." Voted to NFL's 75th Anniversary Team in 1994. Holds the Packer record for durability with 187 consecutive games played. Head Coach of the Green Bay Packers 1984-87. Also served as head coach of Cleveland Browns (1975-77) and Cincinnati Bengals (1980-83). Played college football at SMU. Born Oct. 18, 1933, in Birthright, Texas.

1977 — Bart Starr, QB (1956-71). Drafted in 17th round in 1956. Became the winningest quarterback in football, directing the Packers to 6 Western Division titles, 5 world titles, 2 Super Bowl victories, and was named MVP in Super Bowls I and II. Led the league in passing in 1962, 1964 and 1966, and was named to the Pro Bowl four times. In 1972 he coached Packers' quarterbacks. Head Coach of the Green Bay Packers 1975-83. He played college football at Alabama. Born Jan. 9, 1934, in Montgomery, Ala.

1978 — Ray Nitschke, MLB (1958-72). Drafted in third round in 1958 after playing fullback at Illinois. Most Valuable Player in 1962 NFL title game vs. N.Y. Giants. Named to the NFL's All-50 Year and 75th Anniversary teams. All-Pro in 1964, 1965 and 1966; Pro Bowl 1964. Had 25 career interceptions. Born Dec. 29, 1936, in Elmwood Park, Ill. Died March 8, 1998, at age of 61.

1980 — Herb Adderley, CB (1961-69). Also played for Dallas Cowboys (1970-72). Packers' No. 1 draft choice (Michigan State) in 1961. Five-time All Pro at cornerback. Played in five Pro Bowls, four of first six Super Bowls (two with Green Bay, two with Dallas). Had 48 career interceptions (39 with Packers), ran 7 back for TDs (third-highest total in NFL history). Born June 8, 1939, in Philadelphia.

1981 — Willie Davis, DE (1960-69). Also played for Cleveland (1958-59). A 17th round draft choice, he came to Packers from Browns in 1960 trade. Became one of premier pass rushers in pro football history, winning All-Pro honors five times and selection to Pro Bowl five times. Holds all-time Packers record for career fumble recoveries (21) and is tied for second-longest consecutive game streak (162) in Green Bay annals. Helped Packers win five NFL titles during 1960s. Played college football at Grambling. Elected to Packers' Board of Directors in 1994. Born July 24, 1934, in Lisbon, La.

PACKERS' PRO HALL OF FAMERS

1981 — Jim Ringo, C (1953-63). Also played for Philadelphia (1964-67). Seventh round draft choice out of Syracuse in 1953. Went on to win All-Pro honors eight times, seven as a Packer, and played in 10 Pro Bowls, seven as a Packer. Highly durable performer, once held NFL record for most consecutive games played (183). Helped Packers win back-to-back NFL titles in 1961-62. Traded to Philadelphia in 1964. Born Nov. 21, 1931, in Orange, N.J.

1986 — Paul Hornung, HB (1957-62, 1964-66). One of the most versatile players in pro football history, he won NFL scoring title three consecutive years (1959-60-61), setting all-time league record of 176 points in 1960. Also shares league single-game playoff scoring record, 19 points. All-Pro selection two times and named to Pro Bowl twice. Averaged 4.2 yards per rush, caught 130 passes and kicked 66 field goals during nine-year career. Third ranking scorer in Packers' history with 760 points. Bonus choice (first player selected overall) in 1957 NFL draft. Played college football at Notre Dame, winning Heisman Trophy in 1956. Born Dec. 23, 1935, in Louisville, Ky.

1989 — Willie Wood, FS (1960-71). Wrote several NFL teams asking for a tryout coming out of USC in 1960 before Packers signed him as free agent. Went on to become recognized as a premier free safety, winning all-NFL honors six straight years beginning in 1963. A Pro Bowl selection eight times, he also played in six NFL championship games, helping Packers win five titles. Starting free safety for Green Bay in Super Bowls I and II, broke open a close contest in third quarter of SBI, intercepting a Len Dawson pass and returning 50 yards to the K.C. 5, triggering a 35-10 Packer victory. Had 48 career interceptions, returned for 699 yards. Won NFL title in 1962 with nine thefts and also captured a league punt return crown in 1961 with a 16.1 average. One of only six free agents to make Hall of Fame. Born Dec. 23, 1936, in Washington, D.C.

1995 — Henry Jordan, DT (1959-69). Also played for Cleveland (1957-58). Originally a fifth round draft choice of Browns, came to Green Bay in 1959 trade. Named All-Pro five straight seasons (1960-64), he also was selected to play in the Pro Bowl four times. One of team's more colorful personalities, missed only two games in his first 12 seasons. Played in seven NFL title games (including 1957 with Cleveland), plus first two Super Bowls. Had 3½ sacks in 1967 Western Conference Championship win over Rams. Played college football at Virginia. Born Jan. 26, 1935, in Emporia, Va. Died Feb. 21, 1977, at age of 42.

ALL-TIME RESULTS BY SEASON

Non-league games are indicated by an asterisk (*). Beginning with 1921, the Packers' first season in the National Football League, non-league game results are not reflected in won-lost record, as well as in seasonal totals of points forward, points against and attendance. Overtime games are indicated by the '+' symbol. The Packers' league-high 12 NFL championship seasons are highlighted in gold.

PACKERS OWN OVERTIME MARK

Over a decade-and-a-half later, Green Bay continues to own the National Football League record for most overtime games played in one season — a mark set by the club in 1983 when it was involved in five sudden death decisions, winning two while losing three. The Packers' most recent OT experience came on Oct. 14, 1996, at Lambeau Field in a Monday night game with San Francisco, one they captured in dramatic fashion when Chris Jacke drilled a 53-yard field goal just under four minutes into the extra period, ending a four-game overtime losing streak by Green Bay.

Green Bay has played in 21 total contests which have gone into overtime, standing 6-10-4 in the regular season and 1-0 in the postseason for an overall mark of 7-10-4.

The lone postseason occurrence was a historic 13-10 victory over the Baltimore Colts in a Western Conference playoff game — the first overtime game in which the Packers ever were involved — in Green Bay's Lambeau Field Dec. 26, 1965, on a 25-yard Don Chandler field goal.

In addition to regular and postseason play, the Packers have played six overtime games in preseason action. Capsules of the Packers' regular and postseason overtime games follow:

REGULAR SEASON (6-10-4)

Nov. 26, 1978-Green Bay 10, Minnesota 10, at Green Bay; Packers win toss. Both teams have possession of the ball four times.

play, Allen runs 45 yards up middle to Packers' 11. One play later, Reveiz kicks 26-yard field goal at 10:20.

Oct. 20, 1994-Minnesota 13, Green Bay 10, at Minnesota; Vikings win toss. Ismail returns kickoff 22 yards to 29. Minnesota drives 62 yards on eight plays, Reveiz kicking a game-winning, 27-yard field goal with 4:26 elapsed.

Dec. 10, 1995-Tampa Bay 13, Green Bay 10, at Tampa Bay; Buccaneers win toss. Edmonds returns kickoff 23 yards to 24. Tampa Bay drives 48 yards in seven plays, the big play being a 23-yard completion from DiIfer to Copeland to the Packers' 37. Husted kicks 47-yard field goal 3:46 into extra period.

Oct. 14, 1996-Green Bay 23, San Francisco 20, at Green Bay; 49ers win toss. Carter returns kickoff 23 yards to 22. After San Francisco fails to pick up a first down, Packers take over at their own 44. Green Bay covers only 21 yards in six plays to reach the 49ers' 35, the key play being a 13-yard completion from Favre to Beebe on third down, before setting up for a 53-yard field goal attempt. Jacke sends his kick — the longest field goal to win an overtime game in NFL history — squarely down the middle with five to 10 yards to spare at 3:41.

POSTSEASON (1-0)

Dec. 26, 1965-Green Bay 13, Baltimore 10, at Green Bay; Packers win toss. Moore returns kickoff to Packers' 22. Chandler punts and Haymond returns nine yards to Colts' 41. Gilburg punts and Wood makes fair catch at Packers' 21. Chandler punts and Haymond returns one yard to Colts' 41. Michaels misses 47-yard field goal. Packers win at 13:39 on 25-yard field goal by Chandler.

JUST FOR THE RECORD

Founded as a town team in 1919, a year when Woodrow Wilson was in the White House, the Green Bay Packers carry an overall winning percentage of .572 into the 1999 National Football League season, having played a total of 1,405 games. Over their 80 years of existence, the Packers have won 779 games, lost 578 and tied 48.

The 1,405-game total includes a record of 551-445-36 (.551) in regular-season play and a league-best mark of 22-10-0 (.688) in playoff action. In addition, the Packers went 19-2-1 (.886) playing independent football from 1919-20.

Green Bay stands 175-118-9 (.594) all-time in preseason games.

MONDAY NIGHT FOOTBALL RESULTS

Having gone 0-3 on Monday Night Football last season after a perfect 3-0 mark in 1997, the Packers make the league-maximum three appearances on ABC-TV's prime-time series for a fourth consecutive year.

Not until Week 8 of the NFL season (Nov. 1) does Green Bay show up on MNF, but surely it is a game worth waiting for as the Packers square off with the Seattle Seahawks, coached by Mike Holmgren, their own field general the last seven years, who makes his return to Titletown. Green Bay and Seattle never before have met in prime time.

The Green and Gold's final two Monday Night Football appearances of 1999 come at the homes of two fierce rivals, San Francisco and Minnesota. The Packers most certainly will have a score to settle with the 49ers on Nov. 29, having been eliminated from the playoffs in dramatic fashion last year at 3Com Park.

A lot could be on the line when the Packers travel to Minneapolis Dec. 20 to face the Vikings in the twice-annual border war. This will mark the third straight year that Green Bay tussles with Minnesota on MNF, with the visiting team having emerged victorious each time — the Packers in 1997, the Vikings in 1998.

A part of the Monday Night Football television series for the seventh consecutive season after a seven-year absence, the Packers now stand 14-15-1 on the program which consistently ranks among the nation's top 10.

For the fourth straight year, Green Bay will have a team-record four prime-time games in all. Additionally, the Packers will face division rival Tampa Bay on ESPN. The all-sports network will come to Lambeau Field Oct. 10 for a Sunday night affair.

The Packers hold a 6-5 mark on the combined ESPN/TNT prime-time series, including a 4-2 record on this year's venue, ESPN.

Even 16 years later, the Packers continue to hold the distinction of being a part of the highest scoring game in Monday night history — a 48-47 track meet with the Washington Redskins on Oct. 17, 1983, in front of 55,255 spectators at Lambeau Field. Facing the then-reigning Super Bowl champions, the Packers prevailed in a contest which featured 11 touchdowns, 11 extra points and six field goals in the final tally.

Jan Stenerud's 20-yard FG with but 54 seconds remaining decided the issue, though a final, dramatic flourish was added when the 'Skins' Mark Moseley missed a 39-yard field goal try as time expired.

The 95-point production surpassed the previous Monday Night Football scoring mark by a whopping 11 points — set Dec. 20, 1982, when San Diego outscored Cincinnati 50-34. The contest also represented the highest scoring game in the Packers' history, surpassing Green Bay's 52-35 loss at Detroit in 1951.

BIRTH OF A TEAM AND A LEGEND

On the evening of August 11, 1919, a score or more of husky young athletes, called together by Curly Lambeau and George Calhoun, gathered in the dingy editorial room of the old Green Bay Press-Gazette building on Cherry Street and organized a football team. They didn't know it, but that was the beginning of the incredible saga of the Green Bay Packers.

There had been some preliminary talk and planning and that night's decision wasn't announced until two days later, but the big step had been taken. So August 11 is as good a birthday as any.

Actually the initial spark had been struck a few weeks before during a casual street corner conversation between Curly Lambeau and George Calhoun. It was apparently one of those "Why not get up a football team?" remarks, but once they got interested they wasted no time.

FIRST THEY TALKED Curly's employer at the Indian Packing Company into putting up some money for equipment.

Because the team's jerseys had been provided by the packing company, which also permitted the use of its athletic field for practice, the club was identified in its early publicity as a project of the company. With this tie-in the name "Packers" was a natural, and Packers they have been ever since, although the corporation had practically faded out of the picture before that first season was half over.

That first season the team won 10 games and lost only one against other teams from Wisconsin and Upper Michigan. Games were played in an open field with no fences or bleachers, and interested fans "passed the hat." But the team was so successful by 1921 that Lambeau was backed by two officials of the packing plant in obtaining a franchise in the new national pro football league that had been formed in 1920. Cash customers didn't quite pay the freight and at the end of the season it had to be forfeited.

THIS WAS the first in a long series of troubles that the now famous team overcame, for in 1922 Lambeau gained other backers and bought the franchise back for $250. Troubles continued during that season. One game was rained out and the insurance company wouldn't pay off because the official amount of rain was one one-hundredth of an inch short of that required in the policy.

Another storm late in the season when the Packers were scheduled to play the Duluth Kelleys, however, proved the founding of the modern community corporation. A.B. Turnbull, general manager of the Green Bay Press-Gazette, told the Packers to play anyway. He then went out and helped organize the businessmen of Green Bay in the support of the team, and the Green Bay Football Corporation was formed.

FROM THOSE MODEST and somewhat tenuous beginnings, the Packers have gone on to earn national stature and virtual world-wide recognition by winning more championships (12) over the intervening three quarters of a century than any other team in professional football.

The fact that these achievements have come while representing a city of just around 100,000 inhabitants, in competition with the country's population giants, has endeared them to the nation's football fans, many of whom are intrigued by the David vs. Goliath concept and the Packers' unique status as a publicly-owned corporation.

INEVITABLY, PROCEDURES at Packers games have come a long way since the sandlot years of 1919-20 when the club was subsisting on the contents of George Calhoun's hat. Then there were no ushers, no cheerleaders, no band and no public address system — the latter hadn't been invented yet. There weren't even any seats at first, and it didn't cost anything to get in.

When the Packers began their existence in 1919, they played on approximately the same site as the now abandoned City (East) Stadium, but with a mighty difference. Hagemeister Park, as it was called, was just a big vacant lot with a football gridiron marked on it.

There were no gates because there wasn't any fence. Spectators just dropped off the Walnut Street streetcar and walked over to the sideline, or drove their own cars and parked about 10 yards behind the ropes stretched around the playing field.

If they felt like it they either sat in their automobiles or on top of them, but most preferred to get out and follow the play up and down the field. By moving as the play progressed, you always had a "50-yard line" location and were handy to any donnybrook that might require a little help. In fact, when things got exciting the crowd sometimes spilled right onto the field, surrounded the scrimmage in a big circle and virtually took part in every play. Teams didn't huddle in those days, or the fans would have been in that too.

When the half ended, teams grabbed blankets and adjourned to opposite end zones where they relaxed and talked over the tactics of the next half. Nothing private about those huddles. The crowd formed a ring around the players, a practice encouraged since it made a handy wind break. Fans weren't bashful about joining the discussions either, sometimes with surprising results. At least one early game was pulled out of the fire by a spectator's halftime suggestion.

In 1920 a section of stands was built — just a small bleacher with a capacity of a couple hundred — on one side of the field, and a fee charged to sit there. The next year a portable canvas fence was erected around the whole field and a regular admission charge inaugurated.

WHEN HAGEMASTER Park was dug up in 1923 to make way for East High School, the Packers shifted to the new baseball grounds out on the end of Main Street. This was called Bellevue Park because it was just east of the old Hagemaster Brewery, which was renamed the Bellevue Products Co. during Prohibition. Things were Big Time out there, with crowds of 4,000 to 5,000 storming the fences to boo the hated Chicago Bears.

The Packers used Bellevue in 1923-24, but it was obviously inadequate and too far out, lacking about every facility needed for football. Agitation to build a new stadium somewhere near the original site culminated in the erection of old City Stadium just back of the new high school.

The new plant was barely completed in time for the 1925 opening, but was an immediate success, the Bear game that year drawing a record crowd of 5,389. It was a typical small town park of its day, with wooden fences and stands on both sides between the 30-yard lines. Seating capacity was gradually increased until it seated 15,000 by 1934, with the end zones still uncovered. With the filling in of the area around the end lines the ultimate capacity of 25,000 was reached.

AFTER WORLD WAR II, City Stadium gradually faded from its once proud position as one of the favored fields in the National Football League to an inadequate and obsolete installation. As pro crowds increased it was impossible to expand the stadium any further. With limited capacity, the Packers found it increasingly difficult to schedule top opponents at home. September 29, 1957, was a proud day for Green Bay and its Packers. A million-dollar modern stadium with a seating capacity of 32,150 was dedicated. In 1961, the stadium was expanded to 38,669, to 42,327 in 1963, to 50,852 in 1965 when the name was changed to Lambeau Field, to 56,263 in 1970, and to 56,926 following the first addition of private boxes in 1985. With the building of 36 more private boxes and 1,920 club seats in the south end zone, seating was upped to 59,543 in 1990. A subsequent, 1995 expansion of 90 private boxes in the north end zone, which also included an auxiliary press box, gave the stadium a total of 198 boxes and a new capacity of 60,790.

The Packers' colorful saga, spanning 80 years, can be divided roughly into eight chapters. They take us from the "Iron Man" period of the first decade under founder Curly Lambeau to the present day, which finds Ray Rhodes presiding as the 12th head coach in the team's history.

THE IRON MAN ERA — With good financial backing, Lambeau began to pick up college stars from all over the country, plus some unknowns who were going to turn out to be "greats." And in 1929 Green Bay won the national professional football championship. It repeated in 1930 and in 1931 with a team featuring such all-time pro greats as Red Dunn, Verne Lewellen, Cal Hubbard, Bo Molenda, Jug Earp, Mike Michalske, Johnny (Blood) McNally, Bill Kern, Arnie Herber, Clarke Hinkle, Lavvie Dilweg, Tom Nash, Milt Gantenbein and Hank Bruder. Many games 12 or 13 players would go for almost the full 60 minutes. These teams were hailed all over the country as some of the greatest ever.

THE HUTSON PERIOD — Trouble flared again soon afterward. A fan fell from the stands, sued and won a $5,000 verdict and the insurance company went out of business. The Packers went into receivership and were just about to fold when Green Bay businessmen came to the rescue again, raised $15,000 in new capital and reorganized the club. About this time a rather slight, lanky end by the name of Don Hutson came to the club. From his first game on, Hutson became the terror of the league and the secret of Green Bay's next three championships. With Herber and Cecil Isbell pitching and Hutson catching anything they threw at him despite any kind of a stop-Hutson defense, Green Bay won championships in 1936, 1939 and 1944, and all during the Hutson era the Packers always finished in the first division.

RONZANI REGIME — After Hutson's retirement, Packer fortunes again went into a decline. The disastrous pro football war brought on another financial crisis after the 1949 season. In the midst of it Lambeau resigned to take a position as head coach of the Chicago Cardinals. Then began another major reorganization and rebuilding effort with Gene Ronzani of the Bears hired as head coach. Nearly $125,000 was raised in a giant stock sale all over the state. Ronzani's teams improved each of the first three seasons until 1952. The Packers were in the thick of the title chase until the last weeks of the season. In 1953 the team played erratic ball and Ronzani resigned with two games remaining on the schedule.

THE PACKERS STORY

1954, hiring Verne Lewellen, all-time Packers great, attorney and businessman, as general manager. Reaching into the college ranks for a head coach was the next step in the rebuilding plans and Lisle Blackbourn, coach of Marquette University, was signed to a contract. During the four-year Blackbourn regime, the Packers won 17 while losing 31.

McLEAN MOVES UP — Likable Ray "Scooter" McLean moved up from being an outstanding assistant coach to guide the destiny of the Packers for 1958. McLean resigned in December after a 1-10-1 record, the worst in Packer history in his lone season as head coach.

THE LOMBARDI ERA — In 1959, the Packers announced the signing of New York Giants assistant Vince Lombardi as head coach and general manager.

In his first season, Lombardi lifted the Packers to a 7-5 record and unanimously was voted 'Coach of the Year.' Then in 1960, the Packers captured the Western Division title and went on to win World Championships in 1961, 1962, 1965, 1966 and 1967. Never finishing lower than second since 1960, his teams became the standard of football excellence and the Packers franchise one of the most successful. Over a nine-year span as head coach, Lombardi's teams racked up 98 victories against 30 losses and 4 ties for a remarkable .758 winning percentage. Even more noteworthy, however, is the record of Lombardi coached teams in postseason play. In 10 division playoff and World Championship games, the Packers emerged victorious nine times.

BENGTSON PERIOD — Following the third consecutive title in 1967, Lombardi turned over the head coaching duties to Phil Bengtson and one year later announced that he was leaving Green Bay to coach and manage the Washington Redskins. Bengtson coached the Packers from 1968-1970, compiling a 20-21-1 record, and in December of 1970 resigned.

THE DEVINE DAYS — Dan Devine, one of the three most successful coaches in the nation's collegiate ranks, succeeded Bengtson as head coach and general manager in January of 1971. After settling for a 4-8-2 record during his first season, Devine and the Packers appeared on the road to new heights when 1972 produced a 10-4 record and the team's first Central Division title since 1967. But the Packers' Super Bowl hopes dissolved in the second half of '73 and they slipped to a 5-7-2 mark. They continued their recession in '74, emerging with a 6-8 record, and Devine resigned.

THE STARR TREK — The most successful field general in pro football history as Green Bay's quarterback of the '60s, Bart Starr accepted the challenge to lead the Packers out of the NFL wilderness, agreeing to a three-year contract as head coach and general manager on December 24, 1974. Starr, who had led the Packers to five world championships from 1961 through 1967, asked for "the prayers and patience of Packer fans everywhere...We will earn everything else."

Although he had to settle for a 4-10 record in the baptismal season of a massive rebuilding project, Starr gave Packers fans new hope by assembling a sound organization and restoring a positive attitude, underscored by three victories in the last five games of the 1975 season. He continued the resurgent trend in 1976, leading the Packers to a 5-9 record, highlighted by a three-game, mid-season winning streak. Major and key injuries slowed the comeback in 1977 but a strong finish produced a 4-10 mark. Hopes soared in 1978 when the Packers posted their first winning slate since 1972, an 8-7-1 record, only to be temporarily dampened in '79 by a record rash of injuries which spawned a 5-11 mark. Another injury epidemic, one which saw 27 players on injured reserve during the course of the season, struck in 1980, forcing the Packers to settle for a 5-10-1 record.

Rebounding strongly in 1981, they rallied from a disappointing 2-6 start to mount one of the most dramatic comebacks in Green Bay history, closing with a 6-2 rush (an 8-8 mark) and coming within one victory of the playoffs.

The Packers continued the upsurge in 1982, when they qualified for the playoffs for the first time since 1972 by posting a 5-3-1 record during a strike-interrupted season. They then embellished that performance by routing St. Louis 41-16 in the first game of the NFL's Super Bowl Tournament before bowing to Dallas (37-26) despite a record-setting, 466-yard offensive effort. Starr was relieved of his head coaching duties on December 19, 1983, after the Packers finished the '83 season with an 8-8 record and missed the NFL playoffs on the final week of the year.

GREGG ERA — On December 24, 1984, Starr was replaced by Forrest Gregg, a former teammate and one of the premier offensive tackles in the history of the game as a player, who had maneuvered Cincinnati into Super Bowl XVI following the 1981 season. Gregg, whose Bengals' 19-6 record over the 1981-82 seasons was the best in pro football, received a five-year contract.

THE PACKERS STORY

Gregg's prediction began to bear fruit in the second half of the 1984 season when the Packers rebounded from an injury-ridden 1-7 start to win seven of their last eight games.

Because of injury and other complications, however, the 1985 season followed the '84 script, the Packers getting off to a slow 3-6 start before mounting a strong finish to again close at 8-8 by winning five of their last seven games.

Gregg, convinced the time had come to rebuild a team which had gone 8-and-8 three years in succession and was "starting to get old" at that level, made sweeping personnel changes in 1986. The young and inexperienced Packers, their task complicated by injuries to key performers, got off to an 0-6 start, then began to mature in mid-season and went on to finish with a 4-and-12 record.

Following the 1987 season, which saw the Packers finish third in the NFC Central with a 5-9-1 record, Gregg resigned (January 15, 1988) to become head coach at his alma mater, Southern Methodist University.

INFANTE SIGNS ON — Nineteen days later (February 3), Cleveland Browns offensive coordinator Lindy Infante became the 10th head coach in Packers history. Recognized throughout the NFL as a brilliant innovator, the 47-year-old University of Florida alumnus received a five-year contract.

With turnovers and kicking problems plaguing his offense, Infante's first Packers team had to settle for a 4-and-12 record, but left fans with hopes for 1989 and the future by winning the last two games to mount a strong finish.

Building upon that positive note, Infante orchestrated a dramatic upsurge in '89, escorting the Packers to a 10-6 record — their best in 17 years — and within one game of the National Football League playoffs, spicing that turnaround with a league-record four one-point victories.

In 1990, subsequent high hopes for the team's first postseason berth in a non-strike year since 1972 evaporated when the Packers — with a contending, 6-5 record after 11 games — saw a potential playoff opportunity expire in the face of a season-ending, five-game losing streak.

The Packers' field fortunes continued to decline in 1991, the record falling to 4-12, and Infante was relieved of his duties on December 22 by new Executive Vice President/General Manager Ron Wolf, who had been hired November 27 with full authority to run the organization's football operation.

THE HOLMGREN ERA — Mike Holmgren, architect of one of the NFL's most potent attacks as offensive coordinator for the perennially successful, then four-time Super Bowl champion San Francisco 49ers, was named by Wolf to succeed Infante as the 11th head coach in Packers history on January 11, 1992. Holmgren, sought after by five other NFL clubs, received a five-year contract.

Getting his team on track after an 0-and-2 start, the former USC field general directed the Packers to a 9-and-7 record and within striking range of the playoffs. He thus became only the third head coach in Packers history to post a winning record in his first season, a record punctuated by a six-game winning streak, longest by a Packers team since 1965.

In 1993, his second season at the controls, Holmgren took his team to the next level — the playoffs — despite the loss of four starters to injuries and a nagging turf toe problem which hampered the Packers' principal offensive weapon, wide receiver Sterling Sharpe, over the last half of the season.

Surmounting these handicaps, the Green and Gold forged a second straight 9-and-7 record — against a considerably more demanding schedule — to qualify for postseason play for the first time since 1982, then posted a last-minute, come-from-behind victory over the Detroit Lions (28-24) in their first playoff assignment before falling to the repeating Super Bowl champion Dallas Cowboys (27-17) in their second, a divisional playoff.

In 1994, the Packers continued to experience success under Holmgren, staking a third consecutive 9-and-7 regular-season mark and making it to the playoffs for the second year in a row — registering both of these achievements for the first time since the memorable "Tittletown" days of the '60s.

Riding a three-game winning streak into the postseason, they parlayed a record defensive performance and a turnover-free offensive effort into a 16-12 victory over the Detroit Lions in their initial playoff game — their first home playoff game since 1983 — holding the incomparable Barry Sanders to minus-one yard rushing in 13 attempts in the process. The Packers advanced despite playing without the services of their All-Pro wide receiver Sharpe, whose brilliant Green Bay career had been ended by a neck injury diagnosed after the team's regular-season finale. As had been the case a year earlier, their postseason came to a close at Dallas in their second game, the Cowboys prevailing in a

Closing ranks with highly productive results following the loss of Sharpe, the 1995 Packers put together one of the hallmark seasons in their history. Winning six of their last seven games, they captured their first NFC Central Division championship since 1972, then made their best postseason showing in over a quarter-century, forging all the way to the National Football Conference Championship Game for the first time since 1967.

En route, they closed out the regular season with an 11-5 record — their best since 1966, when they posted a 12-2 mark in capturing the NFL title — and followed that accomplishment by dispatching the Atlanta Falcons, 37-20, in a first-round playoff at Lambeau Field.

Building upon that triumph, the Packers mounted one of the premier performances in their postseason history, formally dethroning the defending Super Bowl champion San Francisco 49ers in their own 3Com Park, 27-17. Again, however, the Packers' dreams of a third trip to the Super Bowl subsequently foundered in Dallas, where they fell to the Cowboys, 38-27, in the NFC title game, after leading 27-24 at the end of three quarters.

Putting nearly three decades of disappointment and frustration emphatically behind them, the Packers richly rewarded their long-patient faithful in 1996 with a season for the ages. Shunting aside eight of their first nine regular-season opponents, they swept to a 13-3 record and their second consecutive NFC Central Division championship, then charged through the playoffs to capture their first Super Bowl title since 1967, dispatching the New England Patriots 35-21 in SB XXXI at the Louisiana Superdome.

Displaying impressive consistency on both sides of the football, they documented their superiority, outscoring the three opponents by a substantial margin, 100 to 48, in their postseason sweep.

Appropriately enough, the first two playoff wins were registered before their ecstatic loyalists in Lambeau Field — a 35-14 triumph over the 49ers in a divisional playoff matchup and a 30-13 victory over the upstart Carolina Panthers in the NFC title game.

In annexing a 12th NFL championship, extending their own league record, the Packers joined an elite group of teams which have won three-or-more Super Bowls — the Dallas Cowboys, San Francisco 49ers, Pittsburgh Steelers, Oakland/Los Angeles Raiders and Washington Redskins.

Thirty years earlier, Green Bay had won the first two Super Bowls following the 1966 and 1967 seasons, thus becoming the first team to "repeat."

The Packers thus entered the 1997 season with an opportunity to win back-to-back Super Bowls for a second time — and came breathtakingly close to achieving their objective.

Sweeping to a second consecutive 13-3 mark, their victory total equaling a club record, they primed for the playoffs by closing out the regular season with a five-game winning streak, their second of the campaign. Having earned home-field advantage for their initial postseason test by winning a third straight NFC Central Division title, they launched their bid in workmanlike fashion, turning back Tampa Bay in divisional playoff for the third straight time in the year, 21-7, thereby padding their all-time home-field, postseason record to 12-0 and extending the longest such winning streak in pro football history.

Faced with the need to win on the road to assure a return trip to the NFL's ultimate game, the Packers proceeded to smother the 49ers on a soggy, rain-swept afternoon in San Francisco's 3Com Park a week later, holding them without an offensive touchdown en route to a 23-10 victory in the NFC Championship Game and a berth in Super Bowl XXXII at San Diego.

The latter subsequently proved to be a see-saw affair, one which found the Green and Gold trailing Denver at halftime, 17-14. Hopes of a repeat were high, however, when quarterback Brett Favre guided them 85 yards to a third touchdown and a 24-24 tie early in the fourth quarter. But the Broncos later scored with only 1:45 remaining and a last-minute Packers drive for a deadlock fell short when a Favre pass for tight end Mark Chmura was incomplete inside the Denver 20-yard line with only 28 seconds remaining, sealing a 31-24 Denver win.

A third straight trip to the Super Bowl, an entirely realistic goal at the outset, eluded the Packers in 1998, their 80th season. Historic accomplishment, however, did not. Overcoming multiple injury problems along the way, including the loss of Pro Bowl running back Dorsey Levens for nine games and center Frank Winters for the stretch run and postseason, each with a broken leg, they advanced to the playoffs for the sixth year in a row, a team record, while posting a seventh consecutive winning season.

They also set another team record by stretching their Lambeau Field winning streak to 25 games — the second-longest in NFL history — before falling to the Minnesota Vikings the night of October 5. They went on to close out the regular season with an 11-5 mark, thus equaling another team standard by posting a double-digit victory total for the fourth consecutive year (following an 11-5 record in 1995 and 13-3 marks in both 1996 and 1997). The latter was only the second such parlay in the organization's annals, the first having come 67 years earlier, recorded by team founder Curly Lambeau's triple NFL champions of 1929-32 (12-0-1 in 1929, 10-3-1 in 1930, 12-2 in 1931 and 10-3-1 in 1932).

In the wake of these considerable achievements, the Packers' season came to a dramatic and painful end in an NFC Wild Card playoff game at San Francisco on January 3, 1999, when they saw a 27-23 lead abruptly dissolve into a 30-27 49ers victory by way of a 25-yard Steve Young touchdown pass to wideout Terrell Owens, who fell across the goal line with only three seconds remaining.

Only five days later, the team's head coach of even years, Mike Holmgren, resigns to become executive vice president of football operations/general manager/head coach of the Seattle Seahawks.

THE PRESENT — Moving with his trademark decisiveness and swiftness, Wolf tabs former Philadelphia Eagles head coach (and one-time Green Bay defensive coordinator) Ray Rhodes — the only candidate he had given serious consideration to — as the 12th head coach in Packers history on January 11, 1999. The new Packers field general promises fans that Green Bay will be well-conditioned and more aggressive under his watch.

Rhodes subsequently is able to retain Sherman Lewis, the team's highly-successful offensive coordinator under the previous coaching regime, while adding Emmitt Thomas, possessor of an excellent league-wide coaching reputation, as his defensive coordinator.

- Packers defeat New England Patriots, 35-21, in Super Bowl XXXI at Louisiana Superdome in New Orleans (January 26), claim 12th NFL title.
- With the wind chill registering a frigid 0 to 10 degrees below zero during a three-hour parade through the city, an estimated 200,000 enthusiastic fans welcome Packers home from Super Bowl victory. Another 60,000 jam Lambeau Field for official program hailing the new World Champions (January 27).
- Packers extend contract of Ron Wolf as executive vice president/general manager for three additional years, through 2002 (April 8).
- Treasurer John R. Underwood reports, at annual stockholders meeting, then-record net income for Packer Corporation of $5,877,061 for fiscal 1996 (May 28).
- Work is completed on installation of new playing surface, including modern heating and irrigation systems, in Lambeau Field (June 15).
- Don Hutson, most feared pass receiver in pro football history, dies at age 84 (June 26).
- Packers establish own website, www.packers.com, on internet (July 23).
- Packers' two practice fields are named Clarke Hinkle Field and Ray Nitschke Field in honor of two of team's Pro Football Hall of Fame members, Executive Vice President/General Manager Ron Wolf announces (July 24).
- Quarterback Brett Favre signs a new seven-year contract, longest in Packers history, and one making him — at time of signing — highest-paid player in the history of professional football (July 25).
- Gross Avenue in neighboring Village of Ashwaubenton is renamed and dedicated as Holmgren Way in honor of Packers head coach (August 17). Street, poetically, intersects Lombardi Avenue.
- Largest crowd ever to see a Packers play a game in Wisconsin, 76,704, turns out to watch the Packers defeat the New York Giants in a preseason finale at Camp Randall Stadium in Madison, Wis. (August 22).
- At a special meeting, Packers' stockholders approve the issuance of additional stock for the first time since 1950 (November 13), with offering of 400,000 shares at $200 per share.
- Packers' designated national clearing house receives 55,000 phone calls concerning new stock issue within 24 hours following announcement of sale (November 14).
- Packers clinch postseason berth for record fifth straight year (December 1) with 27-11 victory over Minnesota Vikings.
- Packers capture third consecutive NFC Central Division title via 17-6 victory over Buccaneers in Tampa (December 7), earn first-round bye in playoffs and right to host divisional playoff.

- Gaining berth in NFC Championship for third straight year, Packers defeat Tampa Bay, 21-7, in divisional playoff (January 4).
- Packers earn second consecutive trip to the Super Bowl with 23-10 victory over 49ers at San Francisco in NFC Championship Game (January 11).
- Last-minute drive falls short of tie, Packers lose to Denver Broncos, 31-24, in Super Bowl XXXII at San Diego (January 25). Record, world-wide audience of 800 million, in 147 countries, views game on television.
- More than 25,000 fans turn out in Lambeau Field to welcome Packers home from Super Bowl XXXII (January 27).
- Legendary linebacker Ray Nitschke, a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame, dies in Florida at the age of 61 (March 8).
- Packers President Bob Harlan announces that stock sale, which ended March 16, yielded nearly 106,000 new shareholders, more than $24 million (March 17).
- With huge increase in number of "owners," Packers make corporate history, hold stockholders' meeting in Lambeau Field for first time in team annals (July 8). Record crowd of 18,707 attends. For the third consecutive year, Treasurer John R. Underwood reports record net income for the Packer Corporation, $6,718,628 for fiscal 1997.
- Packers travel to Japan, the team's first trip overseas in its 80-year history, defeat Kansas City Chiefs, 27-24 in overtime, in American Bowl game at Tokyo Dome (August 2).
- Packers extend regular-season, home-field winning streak to a club-record 25 games — the second-longest streak in NFL history — with 23-15 victory over Tampa Bay (September 13).

- Home-field winning streak ends at 25 against Minnesota, 37-24, on rainy Monday night (October 5).
- Packers clinch playoff berth for team-record sixth consecutive year (December 19).

1999

- Brett Favre engineers 89-yard scoring drive to give Packers 27-23 lead with 1:56 remaining in NFC Wild Card playoff game at San Francisco, but 49ers manage to score with three seconds left to pull out 30-27 victory (January 3).
- Head Coach Mike Holmgren resigns to become executive vice president of football operations/general manager/head coach of Seattle Seahawks (January 8).
- Ray Rhodes, former head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles and ex-Green Bay defensive coordinator, named 12th head coach in Packers' history (January 11).
- John Jones named senior vice president of administration, succeeding Michael Reinfeldt (February 10).
- Defensive end Reggie White, a Pro Bowl selection for a record 13 consecutive years, announces his retirement from pro football, ending one of the most distinguished playing careers in NFL history (February 15).
- Lambeau Field is named by Sports Illustrated in June as the eighth-best venue in the world to watch sports and is the only NFL stadium to make the publication's list of 20.
- Packers hold annual stockholders' meeting in Lambeau Field for second year in a row (July 7) with second-largest attendance (7,064) in team history.

TEAM INTERNET SITE: PACKERS.COM

Launched in 1997, packers.com is the official internet site of the Green Bay Packers.

The site is a valuable resource for both fans and the media, containing all of the team's official press releases, the most up-to-date depth chart and player rosters, game and cumulative statistics, plus bios of all players, coaches and key front office personnel. Audio of most press conferences also is available on packers.com.

Breaking team news is posted on the home page of packers.com simultaneously with its release to the media. Fans also can sign up for a special email list, which will give them notice of late-breaking information as well as of other special occurrences on the site.

There are many special features which are unique to packers.com, including Lambeau Cam, which allows one the opportunity to see inside the Packers' stadium 365 days a year, 24 hours a day. Other popular items on the site are weekly, in-season chats with Green Bay players; an 'Ask The Packers' section which allows fans to ask players and coaches questions, the best of which are answered on the site; and game highlights from the Packer Radio Network.

A special Kids section as well as an extensive History section, which includes a data base of every player who ever played for the team, are other popular areas of the site. Fans interested in learning about the Packers' civic endeavors can tap into the Community section.

The latest and best in officially-licensed team merchandise also can be purchased from the Packer Pro Shop, on a secured basis through the site or by going directly to packerproshop.com.

Many Green Bay fans were able to successfully utilize packers.com to purchase stock in the team when shares were offered late in 1997 for the first time in 47 years.

Packers.com is produced by Digital Magic Interactive of Green Bay in conjunction with the Green Bay Packers.

FAX ON DEMAND

The Green Bay Packers provide a fax on demand service for the benefit of media covering the team. The system, which efficiently provides updated information, is accessible 24 hours a day, seven days a week, and is updated each Monday during the season after 6 p.m. (central).

Instructions for using the fax on demand system, which can deliver press releases, rosters, statistics and selected biographies, follow:

- Dial 920/496-7779 from the handset of your fax machine.
- You will hear the following prompt: "If you know the number of the document you wish to receive, press 1. To select from a menu, press 2. If you wish to receive a complete list of all available documents, press 3."

Step 2 (to select documents)

- If you select 1:
Enter the three-digit number of the document(s) you wish to receive, if you know it.
You may select up to three documents.
After each document selection, press the star (*) key. After your last selection press the pound (#) key.
- If you select 2:
Follow the prompts.
Press 1 for schedules and rosters, press 2 for statistics, press 3 for biographies, etc.

Step 3 (to receive documents)

- To receive the document(s) you have requested, press the "start" or "receive" key on your fax machine when instructed and hang up the receiver. Your documents will be sent immediately.

Following is the fax on demand menu:

- 110 Packers schedule
- 120 NFL schedule
- 130 Packers numerical roster
- 140 Packers alphabetical roster
- 150 Packers depth chart
- 210 Packers offensive and defensive statistics

IMPORTANT NFL DATES

Annual Packer Stockholders Meeting; Lambeau Field, Green Bay

Mid-July

Training camps open. Clubs not permitted to open official preseason camp earlier than July 5. Veteran players cannot be required to report earlier than 15 days prior to club's first preseason game or July 15, whichever is later. The July 15 date is not applicable to clubs playing five preseason games. Except for quarterbacks and "injured" players, veterans cannot participate in any organized football activity for 10 days prior to mandatory reporting date. Bonus exemptions for NFL Europe League players must be designated by the start of training camp

July 15

Signing period ends at 3 p.m. CDT for Unrestricted Free Agents to whom June 1 tender was made by Old Club, and for Transition Players and Franchise Players who are eligible to receive Offer Sheets. After this date and through 3 p.m. CST on Nov. 16, Old Club has exclusive negotiating rights to these players.

July 15

On or after this date, a club that extends a player contract for its Franchise Player shall not be deemed to have utilized its Franchise Player designation for the period of the extension

August 7-9

Hall of Fame Weekend; Canton, Ohio

August 12-15

First full Preseason weekend

August 13

Drafted Rookies who have not signed with their club by this date may not be traded to any other club in 1999

August 13

Deadline for players under contract to report in order to earn a season of free agency credit

August 14-18

Deadline for club to provide written notice to certain unsigned players and the NFLPA of its intent to place them on the Exempt List if they fail to report no later than one day prior to the club's second preseason game. Any player who fails to report prior to the deadline will be ineligible to play or receive compensation for at least three games (preseason or regular season) from the time that he reports

August 31

Roster cutdown to maximum of 65 players on Active List by 3 p.m. CDT.

September 5

Exemptions granted to certain NFL Europe League players expire at this time Roster cutdown to maximum of 53 players on Active/Inactive List by 3 p.m. CDT. Remainder of NFL Europe League exemptions expire. Clubs may dress a minimum of 42 and maximum of 45 players and a Third Quarterback for each regular-season and postseason game

September 5

Simultaneously with the cutdown to 53, clubs that have players in the categories of Active/Physically Unable to Perform or Active/Non-Football Injury or Illness must take one of the following options: place player on Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform or Reserve/Non-Football Injury or Illness, whichever is applicable; ask waivers; terminate; trade; or continue to count him on Active List

September 6

After 3 p.m. CDT, clubs may establish a Practice Squad of five players by signing free agents who do not have an accrued season of free-agency credit or who were on the Active/Inactive List for less than nine regular-season games during their only Accrued Season(s). A player cannot participate on the Practice Squad for more than two seasons

September 10

All clubs are required to identify their 49-player Active List by 6 p.m. CDT on this Friday and thereafter on each Friday before a regular-season Sunday game. No later than one hour and 30 minutes prior to kickoff, clubs must identify their 45-player Active List and Third Quarterback, if any

September 11

Team Salary includes all players receiving compensation under their 1999 contracts beginning at 3 p.m. CDT. Top 51 rule is no longer in effect

September 12-13

Regular Season opens

September 13-14

Beginning on these dates, vested veterans terminated from the Active List or Inactive List (and from Reserve/Injured if the player was placed on Reserve/Injured after the beginning of the regular season) are entitled to receive, after the end of the regular-season schedule, Termination Pay pursuant to the terms of the 1993 CBA

September 28

Priority on multiple waiver claims is now based on the current season's standing

October 19

Beginning the day after the conclusion of the sixth regular-season weekend and continuing through the day after the conclusion of the ninth regular-season weekend, clubs are permitted to begin practicing players on Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform and Reserve/Non-Football Injury or Illness for a period not to exceed 21 days. Players may be activated during the 21-day practice period or until 3 p.m. CST on the day after the conclusion of the 21-day period

October 19

All trading ends at 3 p.m. CDT

October 20

Players with at least four previous pension-credited seasons are subject to the waiver system for the remainder of the regular season and postseason

PACKER RADIO NETWORK

Wayne Larrivee and Larry McCarren in 1999 begin a new era of broadcasts across the Packer Radio Network. Though both are veteran broadcasters, the two join together for the first time to bring the color and excitement of Green Bay Packers football to fans throughout Wisconsin, Upper Michigan and five more-distant states.

Larrivee, who grew up as a fan of the Packers in his native Lee, Mass., joins Green Bay's broadcast team after 14 seasons as the radio voice of the Chicago Bears (1985-98) on WGN and WMAQ Radio in Chicago. Earlier, he had done play-by-play of Kansas City Chiefs games for seven years (1978-84) on KCMO Radio in Kansas City. Known for his thorough preparation and his moderated, yet enthusiastic, call of the action, Larrivee's more-recent credits also include play-by-play of Chicago Bulls basketball on WGN-TV since 1991, Big Ten Conference football and basketball for ESPN and Raycom, the Pro Football Weekly radio program the past 13 years and Chicago Cubs baseball.

"Wayne's work speaks for itself," said Jon Schweitzer, vice president and general manager of WTMJ Radio, in making the appointment last December. "He's one of the finest play-by-play people in the country."

Highly-decorated, the 44-year-old Larrivee was named Illinois 'Sportscaster of the Year' in 1997 and is a seven-time winner of the Silver Dome Award, presented by the Illinois Broadcasters Association, for best radio football play-by-play.

A 1977 graduate of Emerson College in Boston with wide-ranging talents, Larrivee also has done play-by-play of University of Iowa football, Quad Cities (Iowa) Angels minor league baseball, University of Missouri basketball and Kansas City Kings basketball.

McCarren first joined the team's broadcasts in 1995, working the past four seasons with Jim Irwin and Max McGee. Inducted into the Packer Hall of Fame in 1992, he also is a favorite among television viewers in northeast Wisconsin. Sports director at WFRV-TV in Green Bay since 1988, he additionally serves as co-host of Inside 1265, the official television program of the Green Bay Packers. He twice has been voted Wisconsin 'Sportscaster of the Year' (1995-96) by the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association.

An iron man at center for the Packers for 12 seasons (1973-84), McCarren played in 162 consecutive games — tied for the second-longest streak in team history — helping him earn the nickname 'Rock.' He was voted to the Pro Bowl in 1982 and '83. Earlier, he had been a co-captain at the University of Illinois as both a junior and senior. McCarren, 47, originally is from Park Forest, Ill.

WTMJ Radio, which has been broadcasting the team's games since November of 1929, continues its long-standing role as the flagship station of the Packer Radio Network. That designation is set to continue well beyond the turn of the century as the two parties announced a long-term extension to their radio broadcast rights agreement early in 1995.

The Packer Radio Network is made up of 79 stations in 61 markets and nine states. A complete listing of network affiliates can be found on the ensuing page.

PACKERS' STADIUMS

Green Bay:

1919-22	Hagemeister Park
1923-24	Bellevue Park
1925-56	City Stadium
1957-present	Lambeau Field (known as City Stadium until 1965)

1934-51	State Fair Park
1952	Marquette Stadium
1953-94	County Stadium

THE LAMBEAU FIELD STORY

Venerable Lambeau Field, the longest tenured facility in the National Football League, now is in its fourth decade of operation. Having undergone a number of major alterations in its 42 years of existence, including numerous seating additions to reach its current capacity of 60,890, the structure has become one of the most recognized and envied locales in all of professional sports, a fact recognized this year when Sports Illustrated named it the eighth-best venue in the world to watch sports — and the lone NFL stadium to make the magazine's list of 20.

In recent years it also has become one of the toughest places to play in the National Football League. Since 1992, Ron Wolf's first full season as general manager of the Packers, Green Bay holds an impressive 42-5 regular-season record at Lambeau, plus a 5-0 mark in the playoffs, for an overall record of 47-5 (.904). Even more imposing is the fact that the Packers have won 44 of their last 46 games in Green Bay (including the five postseason victories).

In the midst of going nearly four full seasons at home without a defeat — prior to a 1998 Monday night loss to Minnesota, their last setback at Lambeau had come in the 1995 season opener — the Packers established the second-longest home winning streak, 25 games, in National Football League history. Only the Miami Dolphins of 1971-74 have won more consecutive regular-season games at home (27).

Though filled with many modern fan amenities — from its 198 private boxes and 1,920 club seats to its technologically-advanced sound system to its two relatively new, end zone scoreboards, each with a Sony JumboTron color replay board — Lambeau still maintains a nostalgic and intimate feel to it with totally unobstructed sightlines. Permeated by history, tradition and mystique, the view from inside can be awe-inspiring.

Erected in 1957, the structure was dedicated as City Stadium on September 29 of that year — a day which saw Green Bay topple the hated Chicago Bears, 21-17 — during ceremonies attended by then-Vice President Richard M. Nixon and National Football League Commissioner Bert Bell. It later was renamed Lambeau Field in 1965 following the death of E.L. "Curly" Lambeau, founder and first coach of the Packers.

Originally built at a cost of $960,000, an amount shared equally by the Packer Corporation and the City of Green Bay, the facility was financed by way of a bond issue which received 2-to-1 voter approval in a municipal referendum conducted April 3, 1956.

Since that time, seating additions — all of them underwritten by the Green Bay Packers, Inc. — have increased stadium capacity from its original 32,150 to 38,669 in 1961, to 42,327 in 1963, to 50,852 in 1965 and to 56,263 in 1970. Construction of the initial 72 private boxes in 1985 swelled capacity to 56,926, and a 1990 addition of 36 boxes and the 1,920 theatre-style club seats (in the south end zone on either side of the scoreboard) moved that number to 59,543.

The seventh — and most recent — seating addition occurred in 1995, when a $4.7-million project put 90 more private boxes in the previously open north end zone, first giving the stadium the feel of being a complete "bowl." Also that year, just prior to the start of the season, an ultra-modern Turbosound Flashlight Loudspeaker System was put into place at the north end of Lambeau. The new audio configuration, installed at a cost of $210,000, provides highly intelligible sound throughout the stadium while minimizing reverberation off the glass of the premium seating areas.

Installed in the spring of 1997 was a new natural grass surface with a specially-designed gravel drainage system which effectively can handle up to 15 inches of rain per hour, as well as irrigation and radiant heating systems. The new heating system, which replaced the 30-year-old heating coils installed by former Packers coach Vince Lombardi, includes over 30 miles of radiant heating pipe and is capable of maintaining a root zone temperature of over 70 degrees, thus making it possible for the natural grass to continue growing throughout the winter months.

The stadium earlier had been upgraded in 1993 with the initial installation of a $1.7-million Sony JumboTron color replay board in the north end zone. Complemented in 1996 by a new $3.5-million scoreboard project, the two scoreboards at Lambeau now rival any in the NFL, encompassing a complete listing of game score, down and distance, ball location, time of game, yardage figures and out-of-town scores with greater visibility. The larger of the two new boards, 208-feet long and 40-feet high, extends across the north end zone, while the south end zone is home to a scoreboard measuring 164-feet long and 38-feet high. In addition to the matrix portions, each complete scoreboard includes a 20-by-26 foot replay board, the original north end zone screen having been moved to the south end zone and replaced by a similar Sony replay board.

Also prominent within the stadium are the names of the 19 Packers players and coaches who have been elected to the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio, which are permanently displayed on the green walls between floors of the stadium's private boxes, on both sides of the stadium. All 12 of the team's championship years (1929-30-31, 1936, 1939, 1944, 1961-62, 1965-66-67, 1996) additionally are emblazoned above the club seats in the south end zone.

With the completion of the recent scoreboard and field projects, the Packers organization has spent over $50 million on improvements to the stadium, club administration building and training facilities over the past 18

Unique and uncomparable, Lambeau Field now is wholly owned by the City of Green Bay, retirement of the original $960,000 indebtedness having been celebrated at a mortgage burning ceremony in May of 1978.

Sold out on a season-ticket basis since 1960, the team maintained two separate ticket packages after moving all of its games to Green Bay starting with the 1995 season. 'Gold' ticket holders (made up primarily of former Milwaukee season patrons) have a three-game package consisting of the annual Midwest Shrine preseason contest plus home games two and five of the regular season. 'Green' season customers (made up of original Green Bay ticket holders) have a seven-game package consisting of the annual Bishop's Charities preseason game in addition to the remaining six regular-season contests.

Ticket prices for the 1999 season are as follows: end zone seats (sections 0-8 and 31-38) $37; seats between the 20-yard lines (sections 15-24) $46; other sideline seats (sections 9-14 and 25-30) $41; private box tickets $50; and club seats $108.

Located on the southwest edge of Green Bay and surrounded on three sides by the village of Ashwaubenon, the stadium is available for public tours daily during the months of June through August except on Packer game days, as well as the day before and after games. Special groups (25 or more people) can arrange for tours between May 1 and Nov. 15. The Packer Hall of Fame (888/442-7225) can provide further information on tours.

STOCK HISTORY

Long coveted, shares of stock in the Green Bay Packers were sold to fans all across America late in 1997 and early in 1998 during a limited time offering, the first such sale held in 47 years. A total of 111,031 persons (representing 4,746,901 shares) now can lay claim to an ownership interest in the franchise.

While shares of stock do include voting rights, the redemption price is minimal, no dividends are ever paid, the stock cannot appreciate in value and there are no season ticket privileges associated with stock ownership. No shareholder is allowed to own more than 200,000 shares, a safeguard to ensure that no one individual is able to assume control of the club.

There now have been four stock sales in the 80-year history of the team. The first, in 1923, saw local merchants raise $5,000 by selling 1,000 shares for $5 apiece, with a stipulation at that time that the purchaser also had to buy at least six season tickets.

The second, in 1935, raised $15,000 in new capital after the corporation had gone into receivership. At that point, the non-profit corporation Green Bay Football Corporation was reorganized as the Green Bay Packers, Inc., the present company, with 300 shares of stock outstanding.

The third, in 1950, came on the heels of founder Curly Lambeau's 30-year dominion, when the club's officers arranged to amend the corporation's bylaws to permit the sale of up to 10,000 total shares of stock (opening up more than 9,500 shares for purchase), to limit the number of shares that any individual could own and to increase the number of directors from 15 to 25.

The response to the '50 drive was inspiring, with people from all across Wisconsin, as well as former Green Bay residents living in other states, coming forward to buy the $25 shares of stock. Roughly $50,000 was raised in one 11-day period alone. Reportedly, one woman from a farm near Wrightstown, Wis., showed up at the team's offices with $25 worth of quarters in a match box. A total of about $118,000 was generated through this major stock sale, helping to put the Packers on a sound financial basis once again.

The most recent stock sale added 105,989 new shareholders and raised more than $24 million, monies which are earmarked either for improvements to Lambeau Field or the team's contribution to the cost of building a new stadium. Priced at $200 per share, 120,010 shares were purchased during the 17-week sale, which ended March 16, 1998.

With National Football League support of the plan already in hand, the existing 1,940 shareholders overwhelmingly voted to amend the articles of the corporation on November 13, 1997, authorizing the Packers to sell up to one million shares to raise funds for capital improvements, and received a 1,000 to 1 split on their original shares. Fans immediately were able to call a special toll free phone number or tap into the team's internet site for information on how to buy the 400,000 shares made available to the public.

The initial response to the stock offering was staggering. In the first 11 days of the sale, roughly one-third – or $7.8 million – of the total amount transacted was sold. Paid orders poured in at a rate of 3,500 per day during this early period, generating about $700,000 each day. The sale hit its high point during the first week of December as fans purchased shares as holiday gifts.

Shares of stock were purchased by citizens from all 50 states, in addition to fans in Guam and the U.S. Virgin Islands. Over half (or roughly 64,300) of the shares sold during the most recent offering were bought by Wisconsin residents, followed by inhabitants of Illinois (9,600), Minnesota (4,300), California (3,700), Florida (2,900), Michigan (2,800), Texas (2,500) and Ohio (2,000).

Today, an annual meeting of stockholders is held in July – the 1999 meeting was conducted July 7 inside Lambeau Field. As a means of running the corporation, a 45-person board of directors is elected by the stockholders. Each year, 15 positions come up for election, each individual being voted in for a three-year term. The board of directors in turn elect a seven-member Executive Committee (officers) of the corporation, consisting of a president, vice president, treasurer, secretary and three members-at-large. The president is the only officer who receives compensation, the balance sitting gratis.

Shares of stock cannot be re-sold, except back to the team for a fraction of the original price. Limited transfer of shares (ie., to heirs and relatives) is permissible.

Based on the original 'Articles of Incorporation for the (then) Green Bay Football Corporation' put into place in 1923, if the Packers franchise ever were to be sold, after the payment of all expenses any remaining monies would go to the Sullivan-Wallen Post of the American Legion in order to build "a proper soldier's memorial." This stipulation was enacted to ensure that the club remained in Green Bay and that there could never be any financial enhancement for the shareholder. The beneficiary was changed from the Sullivan-Wallen Post to the Green Bay Packers Foundation on the basis of a shareholder vote at the November, 1997, meeting.

MEDIA INFORMATION

CREDENTIALS: All credential requests should be directed to Lee Rummel, Executive Director of Public Relations. Requests may be sent via email (martinp@packers.com), FAX (920/496-5712) or U.S. mail (P.O. Box 10628, Green Bay, WI 54307-0628). Credentials will not be mailed, unless the requesting outlet provides a Federal Express or UPS number, and should be picked up in person at the Packers' public relations office. Credentials not obtained prior to game day will be left at Press Will Call — Gate 26 (north side). The will call booth opens three hours prior to kickoff.

PHOTO CREDENTIALS will not be issued to free-lance photographers unless on a specific assignment from an accredited organization. Credentials no longer are provided to "grips" due to on-field space limitations.

RAY RHODES PRESS CONFERENCES: Head Coach Ray Rhodes regularly will hold four weekly press conferences during the regular season: Mondays at 11:30 a.m., Wednesdays at 11:45 a.m. and Fridays immediately following practice — all in the basement auditorium of the team's administration building — as well as at the conclusion of each game. Post-game news conferences at home games also will be held in the auditorium.

During training camp, Rhodes will be available out on the practice field each day following the morning workout.

Any other requests for time with Head Coach Ray Rhodes, as well as any queries for an interview with an assistant coach, should be directed to a member of the Packers' public relations department.

PLAYER AVAILABILITY: During the regular season, the locker room is open for player interviews five days a week. On Monday, the locker room is open for 30 minutes upon completion of the players' workout. On Wednesday and Thursday, the locker room is open from 12:15-1:00 p.m. and for up to one-half hour following practice, beginning 10 minutes after its finish. On Friday, the locker room opens 20-30 minutes after the end of practice for a half-hour period. At the conclusion of all games, the locker room will be opened following the NFL's standard "cooling off" period. The locker room will be closed on the players' "off" day (generally Tuesday) and on Saturday.

The locker room is closed during training camp.

Any requests to interview players other than at the aforementioned times should be directed to a member of the Packers' public relations department.

CONFERENCE CALLS: The Packers' public relations department will arrange a conference call with the head coach and a key player of the opposing team each week during the regular season. These conference calls will be made from the media work room, located in the basement of the team's administration building, and generally will be held on Wednesday.

PRACTICE FIELD ACCESS: All practices will be open to the media throughout training camp. Please check with the Packers' public relations department regarding access to practice once the regular season begins.

PRESS ROOM PHONE: The general press room phone number is 920/496-5707.

PRESS BOX PHONES: "Co-op" phones are made available to media in both press boxes at Lambeau Field. If dedicated service is desired, within the state of Wisconsin call Ameritech at 800/660-3000. Out-of-state media can order dedicated phone service by calling 800/447-7738. Please contact Don Raddatz seven to 10 days prior to the game at 920/496-7728 or by FAX at 920/739-4735 regarding any instrument needs.

GAME DAY FAX SERVICE: Telesports FAX is the Green Bay Packers' provider of FAX service for all media at home games. Service can be ordered by contacting John Dodds at 414/347-1502 (H) or 414/276-2601 (W) (mailing address: 1009 North Jackson, #608; Milwaukee, WI 53202). FAX service fees generally are the NFL's standard league-wide charge of $25.

POOL REPORTERS: As assigned by the Professional Football Writers of America (PFWA), the Green Bay pool reporter for the 1999 season is Tom Silverstein of the Milwaukee Journal Sentinel. Pete Dougherty of the Green Bay Press-Gazette is the alternate.
